Divine Law carries restorative Power and compense.

What is Created by Divine Authority is Protected by Divine Authority.

We leave it to Divine Law to balance any transgressions.

restorative: give back, put back to former state, return

compense: remuneration, counterbalance

Father Which Is in Heaven:

"In Right and Proper Exchange of Information there is but one conveyance in Right and Proper Order of Divine Expression.

The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each unto its own way of perception.

It matters not what others may say or think, it matters always only that which is Divinely Appointed each day.

It was Given unto your perception,
Right and Proper Orderly Progression of Divine Nomenclature each and every day, step of your way.
Those who transpire to subvert your words and direction
shall Penalty pay,

for that which is Divinely Authorized Nomenclature, subsides, subsists in Grand and Glorious Scheme.

Let no man put asunder that which is Divine in Nature.

As to exact literal translation, there can be none.
It is, would be, a departure from that Divinely Authorized Conveyance should you undertake to do so.

Yes, the gist would remain intact, however, the nuances, reflections, inflection would no longer convey the subtle multidimensional unrefracted Nature.

It is by Divine Appointment this Conveyance comes in your time, in your way.

Let not those who would put asunder Direct Divine Conveyance do so, at Penalty of perjury of Divinely Authorized material."

nomenclature: system of names used as a science or art transpire: seek to bring about subvert: ruin, corrupt

subsides: descends

subsist: as means of maintaining life

asunder: separate into pieces

perjury: voluntary violation of an oath to tell the Truth oath: a solid appeal to the Divine to witness to the Truth of a statement or the sacredness of a promise.

NOTICE TO READER

This book provides a means by which we can share what we have experienced and come to Know in this journey toward awakening. It was created based on "where we were" at the time of its conception.

Future material will show Spiritual Progression in Awakening.

This material is for individual use only.

It is intended to spark creative contemplation and consideration of 'if... then...'.

It is intended to provide a means by which you can enhance your experience of that which is Divine (rather than to provide a means by which you are told or taught what to believe, how to behave, and what is right or wrong).

Because this material brings Light, you may find some of it very unsettling.

It is ultimately you who, through your Spiritual Awareness and Prayer for Discernment and Guidance, must establish the Divine Truth of what IS.

As you do so, Know that Divine Truth is a Progression of ever expanding refinement.

Divine Answers Respect all living things.

Should you choose to do so, any incorporation of this material into your life is at your discretion and your sole responsibility.

Know that the Divine / Father Which Is in Heaven is available to provide additional support in understanding, learning, or applying this material in your own life.

In Our Words

We want to make it perfectly clear, especially to the young who have not been raised in the way of Respect, that we have posted the requirement Father has placed for the material presented to be and remain accurate, unaltered, and fully True to the context of His Teachings.

The Penalty He has clearly outlined for subverting this material is not something that would be implemented on an individual level, but by Universal Law. This carries its own retribution.

To those who would scoff at this, thinking themselves immune to Universal Law, we can only say, please be aware that these are not empty words. Ignoring Universal Law and the Father's Way does not bring absolution from the consequences of one's actions. Anyone focused on the Father Knows the Truth of this.

This is a free e-book. You may freely distribute this material and file only in its complete and unaltered format. This includes printed material. All material shall retain the "In Divine Service" notice and the Words that Father has Spoken regarding His Authority in Universal Law for the Protection and retribution of violating His Word.

You may freely reference this material only if you correctly "cite your source". That is to say, to make reference to information from Father's material you will appropriately credit BlueStarWay and the name of the material from which the reference was made. References and quotes may not be taken out of context. Sentences in italics shall remain in italics to indicate direct Conveyance from Father Which Is in Heaven. No referenced or quoted commentary by Martin, Mister, or Linda is to be given or presented as direct information from the Father, but rather as having been shared by their understanding at the time the material was written.

Side note by Martin

The Father Which Is in Heaven referred to in all of the material Linda and I have created is the Father Jesus taught us to pray to in the Lord's Prayer. 'Living God,' 'Father Within,' and 'Father' are used interchangeably and refer to the same Father Which Is in Heaven.

Please take note that the concepts we have "inherited" in regards to Who and What the Father Is, His Desires, Goals, and Aspirations, as well as how He Manifests on Earth and in Humanity are very limited, constricted, and quite frankly suffocating. Please do give yourself room for expansion in this regard and do not be put off by the use of this terminology. The information contained in this book is neither patriarchal, religious, spiritualist, scientific, dogmatic, atheist, shamanic, new age, worldly, alien, nor any other modality. It just Is what it Is.

Also be aware that while there is only one Father Which Is in Heaven and no one else can "claim" this Name, the words 'god,' 'father,' and 'lord' in and of themselves seem to not carry this type of restriction. Therefore, unless one makes it clear that the use of words such as 'God', 'Living God,' or 'Father' specifically address Father Which is Heaven, it is possible for any number of entities floating around with a 'god' or 'lord' complex to answer the call.

That this is not an issue to be taken lightly is shown for example by the vast numbers of people throughout history who have gone to war, plundered, and taken human life presumably under 'god's' direction as well as by the number of people who still subscribe to this day to the divinity of such guidance. It is also shown by the vast number of people who deny, sacrifice, and flagellate self or others in the name of 'god.' Father Which Is in Heaven would never incite such actions. He has made this very clear to Linda and I again and again.

Obviously, there is a great need to be very Discerning in this matter and while it would be easy to get lost in terminology and arguments, this is really a matter of the Heart and of Intention. For the western or 'christianized' mind, the term 'Father Which Is in Heaven' together with the refinements included in this book can be a helpful aid to hone one's Heart and Intention in the right direction.

I specifically say 'western' or 'christianized' mind because Father has Conveyed and made it very clear to us that:

*The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each to its own way of perception.*

And while different cultures do have different terminology and ways of relating to the Father, it is the case that all those who successfully commune with the Divine share common traits such as Harmony and Oneness with Nature, Peaceful disposition, Respect of Self and others, and Sovereign Expression. To these cultures and people the notion of destroying, killing, debasing, conquering, subduing, converting, ruling, dominating, or profiting from their fellow men and Earth is incomprehensible and alien indeed.

Whatever you do and whichever way you Honor and Develop your Relationship with the Divine just remember that Divine Answers Respect all Living Things and that the Divine isn't engaged in any battles.

Something else that needs briefly explained is the convention we adopted to capitalize certain words that have various, and often times opposing, meanings and therefore are prone to being misinterpreted or misused because of this. In short, when we capitalize words within a sentence we do so to specifically refer to the 'healthy' and thus benevolent interpretation of these words that supports a Life and Sovereign Expression Harmonious with Creation and the Good Will and Intent of the Father Which Is in Heaven. When we write the same words without capitalization we do so to denote the misunderstandings associated with these words.

For example, in our writings, lower case 'l,' love, refers to the common misconception that associates this 'love' with sexual passion (which is a word derived from the Latin word 'pati' which means 'to suffer'), sexual arousal, and / or physical attraction and requires such things as putting others first, attachment, control, self denial, (self) sacrifice, compromise, duty, etc., etc..

Capital 'L,' Love, on the other hand, refers in our writings to a Feeling that Elevates, Respects, Cares, Appreciates, brings Well Being and Comfort, and supports such states of expression as Health, Humor, Kindness, Peace, and Benevolence. An experience that is innate to our Being or Who We Are and is independent of others although its expression in us may be facilitated in their presence just like being in Nature facilitates us getting in touch with our inner Peace.

Similarly, little 'p' play denotes doing things in the way of the world and from the perception of the world. It includes slabor, fighting, resisting, profiting, ruling, destroying, abusing, killing, warring, saving, converting, and trying to defeat or overcome the 'bad guys,' whoever they may happen to be at any given time, so we can be 'safe.'

While, big 'P' Play indicates what we came here to Earth to do: Play in Father's Garden in a Light Hearted, Respectful, Joy-full, Constructive, Edifying Way through which we manifest our Divinity and expand our experience, KNowledge, and Understandings of Creation and Father Which Is in Heaven's Good Will and Intent for us.

As you can see, this convention, while seemingly simple, is of utmost significance to facilitate a Proper interpretation of our writings.

Obviously we can't nor haven't applied this convention to every word we use for that would be too cumbersome. Neither does this convention apply to proper names, though many times we purposely 'downgrade' a proper name to lower case to emphasize the point we seek to convey.

Occasionally we may miss a capitalization, however the concepts being conveyed within the sentence and paragraph will make it perfectly clear whether we are referring to the 'unhealthy' or 'healthy' meaning of the word.

Orbital identification

In my last posting, I took a quote from our book "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun" in which Aurora describes to Showay the actual orbit of Terra around HelioStella. Why not continue along this path and take this opportunity to identify a few markers along Terra's orbit as described in this book?

If I had to guess what People in Terra would see in the skies based on Terra's orbit around the Sun, I would say something in the lines of "they would probably see what appears to be other planets tracing back their steps or retrograding at certain points."

Oddly enough, People on Earth see other planets do the same thing here and there. This is, for example, a picture showing Mars retrograding during 2009 to 2010 relative to the constellation of Cancer. This diagram is courtesy of wikipedia.org ¹.

¹ http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Apparent_retrograde_motion

You can see what Mars' retrograde looked during 1988 by visiting Larry Koehn's website ².

As you can see, there seems to be some kind of correlation between Terra and Earth. Must be Purely a matter of perception.

Browsing through the internet for information on the night sky, the Earth, and the Sun, I came across the website of the individual whose article I believe I saw on rense.com³ regarding the Earth's shift (visit his website⁴). We both seem to concur with the idea that there has been a shift in the summer sunrise and sunset even though we have differing ideas as to what is causing the shift.

During my browsing, I also came across a website that addresses this man's claims, indicating that the Sun has always risen north of due east and set north of due west in the USA. In this website⁵, Steven Dutch from the University of Wisconsin indicates that everyone who thinks the Sun is setting further up north has some kind of "Nature Deficiency Syndrome" which is why they have never noticed the "fact" that the Sun has always risen north of due east in the USA.

I must admit that when I noticed the Sun shifting its rising and setting location, I thought about this situation and made the same assumption as many other individuals have made, which is that because we are north of the tropic of cancer, the Sun should always rise or set south of due east. This assumption seems to be incorrect. If you visit this website⁶ you will see a graph that shows the Sun rises and sets north of due east during the Summer.

However... while the premise around the tropic of cancer, as well as my other thoughts in relationship to the equator, may be wrong, it is the case that I'm not the only one who has noticed that the Sun is rising and setting further North than in the past. I don't attribute my recognition to a "Nature Deficiency Syndrome" because I have been greeting the sunrise daily and observing the sunset casually for the past 6 years from the same location. I know, the Sun does rise further north in the Summer than it used to. I noticed the first change around 2006 and this shift has continued through 2010.

⁵ <http://www.uwgb.edu/dutchs/PSEUDOSC/49Degrees.HTM>

The real issue is not whether the Sun should rise south or north of due east in summer. To focus on this point is to get diverted from the fact that the summer Sun has been rising and setting further north than in the past.

Do you think that perhaps these shifts may provide some explanation to the changes in weather patterns that among other things have recently brought about 11 inches of snow in some parts of Australia even though it is summer there (read article ⁷)?

Making an eight in the sky

I would like to continue quoting from our book "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun". In this quote, Aurora explains Terra's orbital pattern to Showay. You may want to take a look at the diagrams that I have provided in past postings showing Terra's orbit around HelioStella.

"...The spiral of your Endeavor circumnavigates stellar mass in a ricocheting fashion. First one bounce, then another, held in check by HelioStella's gravitational pull."

"Can I draw this?"

"Indeed you could. You would however need to step outside the circumference of your perspective. To begin with, you need a polar mass out of balance, or distorted, so as to wobble around a bit. Were there no such mass to cause Nature to be out of balance, there would be a restoration of Terra's forward momentum of Greatest Sort. In orbit of natural momentum, Right and Proper forward progression is insured. Imagine a softball encircling a greater ball, let's say a basketball. Now divide a line down half the softball, tilt it away from the basketball at a 45 degree angle. Wherever you move it, always pointing away from the basketball."

"Would I move it clockwise or counterclockwise on the inside orbit?" Showay wanted to be as accurate as possible.

"There is no clockwise or counterclockwise orbit. It is what is called greater and lesser orbit, or Heartfelt Desire. The rotational direction matters not for the moment. Now imagine the baseball floating around the bigger circumference of the larger ball. When it takes a turn toward the basketball, it dips down similar to Lumina's orbit of Terra. When Terra's orbit reaches maximum solar intensity, it is thrust from its forward momentum into a sideways rotational orbit on a slight downward turn until at last it circumnavigates unto that vast portal called vacuum. There, it is thrust back again into rotational orbit of Greater Endeavor."

Basically, Aurora is telling Showay that when Terra reaches one side around HelioStella, Terra first takes a turn toward the Sun and then, the Sun pushes Terra sideways and slightly down. This causes Terra to begin her "lesser orbit" around the back of the Sun until it reaches the other side of HelioStella, where she is pushed away from the Sun and into her "greater orbit" around the back of the Sun. Remember, Terra never crosses the front of the Sun.

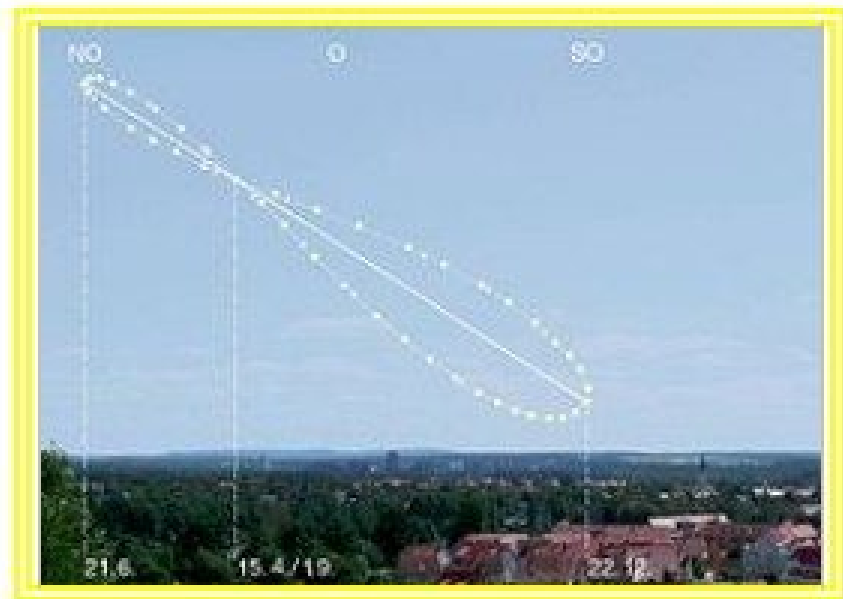

My guess is that this orbital pattern would look like an elongated 8 or infinity sign if we were to draw this movement onto the surface of the Sun. That is to say, to the inhabitants of Terra, HelioStella would make an 8 or infinity pattern in the sky when observed over a year.

Curiously enough, when People on Earth track the Sun's trajectory over a year, they see a similar pattern develop:

What you see on the picture below, courtesy of wikipedia.org, is an analemmatic sundial that shows the Sun's trajectory over a year. This one is located on the facade of the Royal Victoria Hotel, Pisa, Italy.

In the above picture (again courtesy of wikipedia.org), you see the diagram of a calculated analemma looking east in the northern hemisphere with the dates of the sun's position shown ⁸.

Isn't it odd how we continue to uncover all these similarities? Must be Purely a matter of perception.

⁸ To learn more about this phenomenon on Earth, you can visit http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Analemmatic_sundial and <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Analemma>.

Today Linda and I listened to a Coast to Coast Somewhere in Time show with Art Bell that originally aired on December 15, 1999. Curiously enough during this show, he received a fax from someone in California making mention that the Sun's position in the sky had changed. This person also made a note saying that the Orion belt in the night sky had also shifted based on what he remembers from when he was a child.

Another case of "Nature Deficiency Syndrome"? Or another one who has the eyes to see?

Seasons upon Terra

122710

Did you notice that in Aurora's description of Terra's orbit she indicates that Terra's rotational axis always points away from the Sun?

What is the significance of this you ask? Well, since you ask...

You may remember from school that we are told that the Earth upon which we live is tilted and that as the Earth rotates around the Sun, it is this tilt that causes the seasons. When the North Pole tilts away from the Sun we have winter up north and when it tilts toward the Sun we have summer.

As things would be, Showay was taught the same thing upon Terra. Thus, when he finally realized the implication of Terra's tilt always pointing away from HelioStella, he had to ask. Here is another quote from our book "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun". I have rearranged the conversation a little bit to make it more relevant to this posting.

[Showay:] "If it is True that her rotational axis always points away from him, how do you explain the seasons? We are told that seasons occur because Terra's rotational axis points toward HelioStella half the year and away from him the other half."

[Aurora:] "Terra's rotational axis points away from HelioStella at all times. It is an optical illusion to see it otherwise. As to the rotation of Terra's axis in elliptical orbit, yes. HelioStella moves not as the world predicts, but as you have been shown. [...] In Right and Proper Order, seasons do not occur. However Right and Proper Order does not prevail upon your plane of existence. Therefore, a seasonal shift occurs due to factors of inconsistency. [...] There would be even balance on Terra's surface, where this all not so. Restored to Right and Proper balance she shall regain Right and Proper function of all her systems."

"Like ocean, weather, plants, animals, and so on?" asked Showay.

"Yes, you could say that is so. While Nature on Terra wobbles, fractures and fissures develop deep underground, where potential hazards threaten your very existence. To stabilize Terra, humanity must cease to venture far and wide and must focus on Righteous Endeavor. [...] Humanity's pivotal point of stability would ensure survival of a Greater Being than you yet know."

As Aurora shares this information with Showay, he is beginning to understand on some level how People affect their environment and how changes in their actions and choices are necessary to help stabilize Terra for her survival. ⁹

⁹ See "A patch of Abundance" posted on April 19, 2010 and available in BlueStar Blog 2 and "Another step" posted on March 5, 2010 and available in BlueStar Blog 1.

Kind of reminds me of what is happening upon Earth. Must be Purely a matter of perception...

Setting Sail

If in our story "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun", Terra inhabitants have been misdirected regarding the orbit of Terra around HelioStella / Sun, it also stands to reason that they have been given false information regarding HelioStella as well. Before we venture into the conversations in this regard between Showay and AuroraA, I would like to bring to your awareness that as Terra orbits HelioStella, HelioStella is rotating around his axis.

The significance of this is that the Sun's rotation predetermines the direction the solar winds / particles will sweep in relation to Terra's orbit. If you remember, Terra goes from east to west and then from west to east, and so on. This means that Terra goes against the solar winds / particles one time and with the solar winds / particles the next time. If I understand this correctly, this could explain why Terra would have a lesser (shorter) orbit and a greater (longer) orbit. It would also help explain the variation in speed that would be observed in Terra's orbit. When Terra goes against the solar winds / particles, her speed decreases. When she goes with the winds / particles, her speed increases.

What would be the significance of this to Showay or any of Terra's inhabitants? A shift in perception would facilitate this understanding. If Terra inhabitants, rather than seeing themselves as stationary, would see themselves as individuals who are sailing upon the current sea of Creation, each in their own sailboat, they would perhaps immediately recognize the importance of solar wind direction in relation to Terra.

With this shift in perception, Showay was able to recognize he was adrift because he had forgotten he has a sailboat to guide. His sail was flapping in the wind, his rudder was being commandeered by someone else, and the currents of the world were taking him in directions he did not wish to go. In Light of this new perspective, it becomes clearer to Showay what needs done: regain control of his ship which he must InJoy in solitude (it is a one man boat), relearn how to establish and direct his course, and remember how to set sail and work with the wind to reach his destination.

What is Showay's first destination?

Father's Kingdom of Heaven.

Toward the Sun

010211

So here we are, ready to begin exploration of HelioStella, the Sun in our science fiction story "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun". You may wonder where the name Heliotropos and hence HelioStella comes from. AuroraA explains this to Showay during their first conversation upon the observatory he so much liked to visit:

[AuroraA] "We will speak of Heliotropos, a Design of Greater Magnitude than before disclosed to mortal man. It is far and away greater in message and portent than has ever come before."

Showay signaled with his hand and asked, "Is Heliotropos related to HelioStella?"

"Yes," responded AuroraA, "Helio is Sun, of which your star, Stella is one. Tropos is turn. We shall speak of many things in relation to your planet Terra turning around your Sun. In so doing you will learn of the progression that is to come. This night you must lay your sorrow down for the Greater Honor and Glory of your Divine Nature. Go to the Altar and lay each sorrow you have acquired down, for your sorrow is a block to the Wisdom you shall receive. Ask then, to experience the feelings you Desire to Divinely Express."

I have written before (refer to "No enemies - a refinement" ¹⁰) about laying that which impairs our capacity to experience the Truth of Who We Are upon the Altar of Divine Love and Divine Power so as to receive in Right and Proper Exchange that which we Desire and supports our True Nature as Father's children. As Aurora spoke, or perhaps better said, sang her words to Showay, he intuitively knew what to do:

¹⁰ Posted on January 13, 2010 and available in book BlueStar Blog 1.

Showay looked toward the stone table in the observatory upon which he would symbolically place his sorrows and understood that he could carry the image of this table in his mind to be used anytime he felt the need to lay his sorrow down.

"Yes, that shall suffice. In freedom, the space your sorrow occupied within your Being is filled with Divine Truth; words or syllables, spoken utterance of Divinely Appointed Origin. These Divine Utterances are conveyed not by mortal ear alone, but instead as nomenclature of musical origin. You must listen to your Heartbeat, Heartsong, free of encumbrances that limit your perception of Divine Discernment."

In this story, Showay embarks in a journey that will awaken him to several Mystical and Magical aspects of Creation. You may remember from the "Mystical and Magical"¹¹ series that Mysticism is partly defined as the capacity to acquire direct knowledge of Divine Truths without the use of reason or of any of the ordinary senses. Magic, is partly defined as the capacity to see what is Right and Just through playful exploration of the Beauty of Creation while retaining the innocence of a child.

That is to say, Showay's journey is not one of scientific discovery, but one of Mystical and Magical discovery in which great Truths are unveiled to him because of his Desire to Know Truth. While the unveiling of Terra's orbit around the HelioStella was of relative ease, the Knowledge that becomes available to Showay through exploration of HelioStella is, to put it in AurorA's words, "far and away greater in message and portent than has ever come before."

So fasten your seat belts and get ready because you will continue to read of things which had never been spoken about upon Terra until AurorA and Showay met at the observatory the night he allowed himself to be touched by the dance of light and sound which was calling his name.

A Greater Logic

010311

I have indicated in previous postings where I have quoted from our book "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun", that I have rearranged the conversations between Showay and AurorA as necessary. This does not mean I'm altering the information, but rather simply re-organizing the flow of information for two reasons. One, it is not my intent to post the entire contents of this book on my blog and two, I have been posting the information following a different order than in the book. You could say that what you are reading here is how the conversation between AurorA and Showay could have unfolded had the book been written differently. The Knowledge conveyed by AurorA remains True to its original Conveyance.

Let's go back to Terra, where Aurora is expanding Showay's awareness.

[AurorA] "You shall see unfolded a Design of miraculous recovery, or uncovering of a Design multifold in the unveiling of a perfect and symmetrical blueprint, the likes of which was never before seen. Perfectly balanced and matched.

The world worships a greater illusion than you are made to believe. You have been made to believe there is a greater Helios around which HelioStella rotates, therefore Terra could do no less, much less your moon Lumina. When in fact there is a greater logic at work here.

The rotation around a central Sun or Helios is the cohesive element of current scientific theory. Yet in fact, there is no central 'Helios' around which to rotate.

'The vastness of space' allows no one to conjecture there is indeed Harmonious action of Greater Endeavor at work here."

Here AurorA is laying the groundwork. Not only does Terra not orbit around HelioStella as we have discovered in prior postings, but also, HelioStella does not orbit around what we would call the "center of a galaxy". This indicates then that HelioStella has his own journey that does not revolve around another.

Now, one may wonder, if the Sun's life is not devoted to revolving around another, what then could the Sun do? Perhaps Joyfully follow his own path of Self-discovery...

A matter of perspective

If HelioStella is not devoted to revolving around another, does he have an orbit of any kind? This is indeed a question that Showay pondered himself. Here is the answer AurorA provided:

[AurorA] "There is indeed. However of a vaster Sort than anyone has conjectured. The scale on which orbit is accomplished is vaster still than ocean depths. The orbit of HelioStella in the 'vast reaches of space' are singular in nature. While it may seem to many you rotate about a central core, the Truth of the 'matter' is, you rotate not. [...] The 'orbit' of your HelioStella takes not a journey of forward momentum. It is instead hovering like a giant balloon tethered in space on a longitudinal axis of perpendicular motion."

Here are her words on a simplified graph.

Now, one thing to keep in mind before we continue is the notion of perspective. That is to say, the location of the observer predetermines how an event is described. For example, a car looks different viewed from above than from the front. If you watch a car driving straight ahead toward you, you will see it grow larger and closer to you. However, from a birds eye view, you would see that same car getting smaller as it goes further away from your stationary point. In either case, the car movement doesn't change even though it can be described in seemingly opposing ways. How can a car get larger and closer and smaller and further away at the same time? It is just a matter of perspective. Neither statement contradicts nor excludes the other.

Another thing to keep in mind is that expectations may cause the observer to make wrong conclusions regarding the event being observed. Let's return to our story for an example of this.

[AurorA] "HelioStella, while on its rotational axis moves approximately three quarters of a spin, or turn, each rotational day. It recovers a rotational spin each and every fourth day. This means, that coherent motion is lost each and every fourth rotation of HelioStella measure. [...] In Terra's rotational axis, there is no such coherence to a 'standard orbit', for each and every turn of HelioStella dictates a right and proper order of rotation of Terra's magnetic core."

[Showay] "But wouldn't that render our navigational instruments useless?"

AurorA smiled. "There is right and proper function of all magnetic instruments due to the 'core' belief in that function, for after all, observation is the key factor. The observed, acts as the observer expects. A key discrepancy would be indicated if the observer were to avoid 'discontinued' observation wherein he explains away small inconsistencies or adjusts for minute variations such as latitude or longitude."

As an engineer, I'm quite familiar with what AurorA is saying. In engineering / science there are two practices that are the backbone of modern theories. One: correction factors. That is to say if the theory / equation does not match the data / reality then fudge it with a "correction factor" to make it look like it does. Two: average mean or standard deviation. That is to say, lump data together so as to allow small inconsistencies to be ignored or explained away.

This kind of makes we wonder if the similarities between what is happening between Terra and us on Earth can simply be explained away...

A simple question

010511

We have seen that upon Terra, there are many things that are not as they are claimed to be. With this in mind, Showay felt he needed to go back to basics.

[Showay] "This may sound like an overly simple question, but is HelioStella a sphere?"

[AurorA] "Yes. You could say a bubble of energy which travels back and forth in a great cycle of forward momentum. As he progresses he comes to a time of recension, or rebirth you could say; a new upward and downward movement. In his cyclical movement, there is great regeneration or upheaval of a different sort than ever registered on any seismometer."

You may have noticed two things here. One, the first apparent contradiction regarding HelioStella's forward momentum. First we are told there is non, and now we are told there is forward momentum. It will take Showay some time to catch this and ask about this, so we will wait until that moment. Second, AurorA is speaking of a time of change and upheaval in relation to HelioStella's rebirth. With this in mind, let's find out where the conversation between AurorA and Showay takes us.

"What does this cycle of progression look like?"

"It is spherical in nature, which means it is not solid as you perceive. It is rather pointed at the ends which matters not to your perception. [...] As HelioStella progresses he seeks further understanding. In so doing, he reaches a 'point' or moment in time wherein he masters the Pleasure of the Kingdom, which is a moment of Right Endeavor, a pivotal point wherein Divine Pleasure is met. [...] HelioStella's progression is of greater magnitude of perception than here-to-fore seen. There comes a time in which under great stress or duress, your climate shall undergo great changes as erratic as a thunderstorm in May. Until that time you shall see vague irregularity of 'seasonal shift'."

I can still remember the day, while in college, when someone showed me an article which spoke of a Living Earth. I went berserk and did not hesitate one second in ridiculing this idea while emphatically stating that the Earth was nothing more than a dead piece of rock floating in space. The idea that Earth is a Living Being certainly collided with my catholic upbringing that allowed "man to rule over Earth". Accepting this noble idea would have required me to rethink my perception that it was ok to pilfer and abuse the land at will and without remorse.

It would not surprise me if several people coming across this posting and reading AurorA's words describing the Sun as a Living Being who seeks understanding so as to master the Pleasure of the Kingdom and meet Divine Pleasure, would react in a similar fashion. Fortunately for some, I guess, I'm sharing a science fiction story, yet I know from my own experience that even so, to many people, the simple mention that planets and Suns can be Living Beings is a preposterous proposition to say the least. Scientists upon Terra would probably call such a notion a superstitious wishful desire born of the need to create "gods" that transcends human "insignificance"... but... who is saying that HelioStella is a "god"?

To Showay, the idea of HelioStella being alive came also as a surprise, however it was a welcomed understanding. In my next posting, I will share some of what AurorA conveys to Showay regarding HelioStella's nature.

Liquid and concrete

As AurorA indicated, HelioStella is a Living Being who is seeking understanding that will allow him to Master the Pleasure of the Kingdom. When she said to Showay that what she was about to share with him "is far and away greater in message and portent than has ever come before", she certainly was not joking. Let's see what we learn this day from their conversation.

"There is more to know about Heliotropos with regard to HelioStella's evolution," AurorA continued as the Light and Sound of her Being illuminated the night sky. "When the life cycle of HelioStella comes to an end, there will be lamenting aplenty. There is however, no imminent danger of him doing so. In his orderly progression or evolution of a greater nature, there is higher expression of Divinely Christed Nature."

Showay had heard references to the idea of ancient awakened ones becoming stellar bodies as they were transformed into Light.

Once again, AurorA responded to his thoughts. "That is possible, though not what I refer to. On Terra you see a Christly Entity as one who 'human endeavors'. There are certain of you who squelch not their Being into the vastly insignificant form of human endeavor. We shall begin our forward progression of the simplest nature. 'Liquid and concrete we shall be'."

In an expansive understanding beyond the words, he knew she was referring to consciousness taking the form of a vaporous body such as HelioStella, rather than being or becoming trapped in human physical form, just as he understood 'liquid concrete' to be the smooth and musical tone that unites the simplest principles.

Showay was probably as surprised to hear such Knowledge as you or I would be. Just as us, here on Earth, Showay had been taught of a universe and a creation that was the result of random acts of violence, decay, and destruction controlled by kind of "accidental" laws of physics. In this picture, stars and galaxies destroyed or "ate" each other alive while consuming their surroundings as well as themselves into oblivion. Planets were dead masses of particles which coalesced together for no other reason than chance gravitational pull. They were subject not only to the constant upheaval of destructive forces within them but also to the assault of meteorites and asteroids which could hit at any time without warning and cause massive destruction. The life that somehow formed upon Terra was nothing more than an accident of sorts that gave rise to humans who had no purpose in life other than to survive at the expense of the weakest while consuming everything around them. No different than the stars of creation. No safer than any planet.

Yet AurorA speaks of a different perspective of the Universe. A perspective that not only sparks Showay's curiosity for Greater Knowledge in an uplifting way, but also facilitates his rediscovery of himself and his place upon Creation. If you carefully re-read AurorA's conveyances to Showay, you will find vast Spiritual Knowledge which was all but lost to the People upon Terra. Can you perceive the wonderment of greeting HelioStella at Sun rise every day knowing you are literally looking at a Christed Being whose very presence not only facilitates life upon Terra, but also reminds people of their True Nature?

I would imagine that whether someone upon Terra can accept this Greater Knowledge or not would probably depend on whether their Mystical and Magical "Circuitry" was working Properly... or not (refer to "Father, Father Christmas, and Mystical and Magical" ¹²).

Pure matter of perception

010711

A Living Christed Being shining bright upon Terra's skies, each and every day as a sign of the Father's Desire to nurture and sustain Terra and her inhabitants, yet most people upon Terra walk oblivious to such Mystical and Magical experience of Life. They wonder where the signs of Creator are? How is it that there is no proof of His Existence? At the same time, those who proclaim to be faithful to "god" would deny as heresy and paganism the very claim or knowledge that HelioStella is a Christed Being. Each one so boxed in within the little restrictive / constrictive construct of Creation that they were indoctrinated into, that neither can see Creation for what it is. Each a different side of the same coin of deception, neither realizing that their Mystical and Magical "Circuitry" needs restored to Right and Proper Function.

Let's us take another look at matters of perception by going back to Heliotropos.

As Showay watched AurorA's image before him, he delighted in the color changes that gave coherence to her image. In so doing, he began to wonder whether color had anything to do with HelioStella's progression.

[AurorA]

"HelioStella is undergoing a great change in color, not seen with, or visible to, the naked eye. However, he is rising again to Life with colors and hues of a coronamatic effect now being seen at various levels of expression. Coronamatic effect is seen as rings around HelioStella.

You perceive his color refracted as 'pure white light'. It is however not 'pure white light', it has a red hue. Therefore, white light in your perception is greater still in red.

You perceive his color as yellow because you are told to."

AurorA is explaining to Showay that HelioStella's color is shifting toward the red. Are there any indications upon Terra of HelioStella's color shift? Of course they are, however once again, they are explained away as optical illusions, while optical illusions are accepted as accurate. Sunrise and Sunset upon Terra are the best times to see his real color. Total lunar eclipses also make this red hue visible to the naked eye. Another hint to this color shift comes from astronomers themselves who, when watching the night sky, use red light to look at their sky maps because red light is less disturbing to their vision.

Of course, people upon Terra are told that it is the refraction of the Sun's light that makes it appear as if it was red, thus claiming the red hue is an optical illusion. However AurorA speaks of refraction turning the red hue of HelioStella into 'pure white light.' This is indeed a shift in perception because refraction is normally associated with the shining of a beam of light into a prism so as to separate it into its color components. Thus, from the perspective of AurorA, it is the perception that the sun emits 'pure white light' or 'yellow' light that is the optical illusion.

As you can see, it is all a matter of perception. However, one perception is an accurate representation of reality and the other is a misrepresentation of reality so as to create a false sense of reality.

Which kind of perception would you rather have? And how would you know which one is the accurate one?

Until that day

As we continue with the exploration of HelioStella's orbit and progression it is important to remind ourselves that as sorrows, pains, hates surface we can lay them upon the Altar of Divine Love and Power in Exchange for that which is an expression of our True Nature. The information that AuroraA is getting ready to share with Showay is even greater in message and portent than what we have read so far. Let's learn then a little bit more about this process of going to the Altar by going back to Heliotropos.

"As you become freer and freer of your sorrow and increase your capacity to be focused on your Divine Nature, you will find that darkness will be less able to affect your life. Until the day in which you shall be free." AuroraA was addressing Showay's concern about his nighttime experiences. "Trust and have Faith in that which is before you. Focus upon that which is Divinely Appointed and your energy, attention, shall multiply."

"I find it difficult to focus on the Divine when I am constantly bombarded with all this dark energy," shared Showay.

"Yet that is what you must do," replied AuroraA.

It is important to recognize there are three spiritual understandings at work here.

One, the level of control the unrighteous / unholy have over a person is proportional to the sorrow / hate / fear / pain / repression / suppression that a person has. Cleanse yourself of these emotions and ask for the Truth of Who You Are to fill that cleansed space and your level of Freedom will increase.

Two, what you focus upon is what you become. Strengthen your faculty of Spiritual Will by consciously choosing to focus upon the Divine and that which you came here to do in the Father Plan and things will begin to shift for the better.

Three, Trust and Faith make a difference. Trust and have Faith in yourself and in the Father. Here are some quotes from Father on Faith (refer to "Have Faith" ¹³):

When doubt comes creeping in: have Faith.

*Your lesson in this,
is to perceive not with the eyes of the world,
but to Know that the Father is Sovereign
in all matters great and small.*

You will see a great many things unfold and come to fruition when you walk in Faith, Knowing that it is so.

You must Know it is so.

Yes, as Showay says, it can be quite difficult, but that is what we must do until that day in which we shall be Free.

Useful distinction

A few days ago I listened to a Coast to Coast AM interview with Steve Quayle and found it interesting to hear him say that knowledge brings or leads to sorrow. It seems appropriate to bring Discernment to that statement for the benefit of Truth.

In my experience, the Knowledge that Father brings about the Truth of Who We Are, Universal Law, Universal Truth, Universal Love of Self, the Mystical and Magical, and about Life in general brings great Joy, Freedom, Light Heartedness, and a shift in perception that is conducive to experiencing Life in a whole, new, and sacred Way.

In contradistinction to this, you have the knowledge the unrighteous / unholy brought to this planet which is designed to deceive, entrap, and pilfer the People through half Truths and false prophecies purported to justify their carnage / crime against humanity. The knowledge and experience that arises from living in their deception does indeed lead to sorrow... and I would add hate, anger, and so on.

Where the confusion arises between these two experiences is that when someone accepts deception, that deception and its accompanying emotions displace Truth and Feelings. Thus, when Father Speaks of Knowledge and Understanding that is related to this event, the lodged deception and emotions get stirred. Unfortunately, sometimes, the stirred emotional load can be so strong that people can get lost in the pain, trauma, sorrows, and false desires. Thus they loose track of the Blessings being bestowed by the Father Who is Providing the Opportunity to make a choice for Truth by doing some "Altar" work.

Another reason for this confusion is that Knowledge of Universal Truth reveals how we have been deceived and manipulated by the unrighteous / unholy and the mistakes we have made as a result of this. Sometimes, this can be very painful and it appears it is easier to ignore or avoid the Truth than to deal with the pain. In the end however, it is better to remove the splinter than to let it create an infection in the body.

Keep this in mind as we continue to explore Heliotropos, for what AuroraA is about to share may “stir stuff up”. Just lay it on the Altar in Exchange for the Truth of Who You Are... and then... move on.

The orbit... HelioStella's orbit at last

Having brought up some important points for consideration through prior postings, it is time to jump right back into Heliotropos. It is a vital day upon Terra...

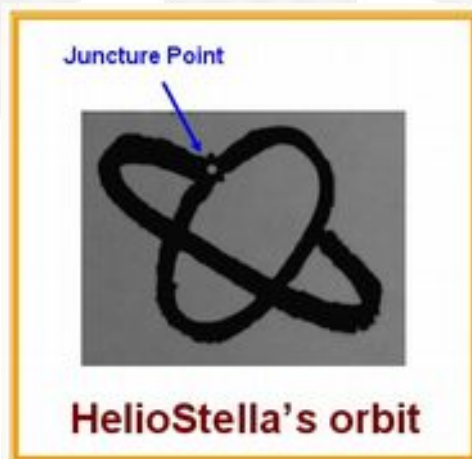

"[AurorA] Now unto other matters. In Infinity you see neither circularity, nor vague and nebulous circuit of your Desire. See instead vast, Glorious orbit of your Desire."

Full of enthusiasm and excitement, Showay asked, "Is that the orbit of HelioStella?"

AurorA beamed with pleasure at Showay's spark. "Yes it is, with some slight variation."

"Would I be able to draw the variation?"

"Yes indeed you can. See in your mind's eye the vast and circular orbit they try and impose upon your Endeavor. Now visualize at right angles to it another orbit in contradistinction to it. The juncture point at right angles to it. HelioStella conjoins its concentric orbit to another greater cycle of rehabilitation and rebirth."

[...] "What you have conveyed to me about HelioStella's orbit appears to be contradictory. How is it that HelioStella can have an orbit, when you initially told me that it moves in a perpendicular motion and has no forward momentum?"

AurorA waited quietly while Showay struggled to express his question. The rhythmic motion of Light and intricate tones or cords of her expression were subdued in the Lumina lit night. As she began to speak their intensity rose visibly. "Heliotropos, or the movement of HelioStella, is in a vertical plane, or level of existence, wherein to your perception, there is no coming and going. Yet to the perception of the Universes all is as it should be in Right and Proper Order. From your perception you would see the rise and fall of a great sphere as on a string. Yet it is in fact, a great circular motion of coming and going. The 'Point of Departure' we have spoken of has something to do with 'retro-bution'. You might say, the prior motion is such that it appears to retrace its footsteps."

"So when you said that HelioStella moves up and down like a tethered balloon, that was as viewed from my perspective?"

"Yes, that is so."

"So from another perspective it is a circle?" Continued Showay as his mind was expanding in understanding.

"Yes it is, and no it is not. Not, in the sense that its forward momentum carries it further afield each time it slingshots past its point of origin. We are talking of a point of view or perspective from somewhere in space, not from the orbit of Terra. There is but one perspective you should be concerned with at the moment, which is the one that foretells your 'Point of Departure' from Terra's orbit into HelioStella's magnosphere."

As you can see, this kind of Knowledge of HelioStella's orbit is one that could not be ascertained through observation and experimentation conducted by someone upon Terra. Herein is the limitation of people who restrict themselves to that which can be readily “measured and observed” to understand Creation. Without allowing for something greater such as the capacity to acquire direct Knowledge of Creation and Divine / Universal Truths through contemplation and Love as Self, they will always be limited. Reason and logic alone just don’t do it.

As Father has Said regarding Faith:

*Your lesson in this,
is to perceive not with the eyes of the world...*

Point of Departure

We have learned about the real orbit of HelioStella, a Christed Being whose life does not revolve around another, but simply around himself in his journey of exploration. In this journey, there will be a point in which he will master the Pleasure of the Kingdom. This can be said to be a time of rebirth or recension. It is the "point of departure" Aurora speaks of.

[Showay] "So the point to which you have been referring is the moment in which a shift in perception occurs?"

[Aurora] "A shift in perception which literally begins a shift in direction. [...] In HelioStella's Endeavor there is but one Christed Path: the one that returns him where he began. While for you, a slight shift in perception is all that is required for Righteous Endeavor, a slight shift in perception is of greater magnitude for HelioStella. It rocks the discovery to his core, the very fabric of his Being. At this point of shift in direction, Terra's magnetic core is pulled with extreme urgency into a new orbit around yet another, greater cycle of HelioStella. This 60 degree shift of his perception will result in a 45 degree shift in Terra's perception."

[...] Showay paused for a while and in his contemplation decided that he was ready to learn more about how Terra would be affected by HelioStella's shift. "What happens to Terra when the shift comes?"

Aurora continued with sadness. "There comes an hour of 'first deviation' in which HelioStella curves a slight variation out. East to your perspective. He will then veer sharply right at a transverse angle to his previous journey."

First deviation and
'Point of Departure'

[...] As you are thrust through the aftermath of particles of sudden departure, you shall encounter debris which causes electrification of all particles of particulate matter. When this occurs, you shall see a fluctuation or counterbalance of energetic matter called human, such that you shall proceed to the fifth dimension of coexistence with all matter gone before you. It is a time of relative ease if you prepare in the proper manner. No electronics. Their collective energy will melt down in such a fashion as to make sure you would not survive. As all plastic's molecular structure implodes there is a gas released toxic enough to kill all life within a circumference of several thousand feet."

Showay certainly had a difficult time with this information for it transcended any kind of doomsday scenario anyone upon Terra has envisioned or prophesied. However, it is important to recognize that AuroraA is not a doomsayer. Instead, she is conveying Knowledge that had been purposely hidden from the People by the unrighteous – unholy. In so doing, she is giving the People not only the capacity to understand what is about to happen and why it will happen, but also the Opportunity to prepare for it.

While it is the case that the People have a say in the direction events take upon Terra, this is one event in which they have no say other than choosing how they will experience the rebirth of HelioStella. Father has Graced the People upon Terra with extra time, however, point of departure is at hand. The wise will recognize the Blessings of HelioStella's Spiritual Progression that will restore Freedom upon Terra and those who choose to prepare and be restored to the Truth of Who they Are. In this, People will have to learn to be at Peace with each other's choices and to recognize that no one who chooses Life needs bow to the dead wishes of the unrighteous - unholy.

Departure time line

The picture is getting clearer. The understanding that AurorA has conveyed brings a new perspective to the events and changes that are being observed upon Terra and even upon the other planets of the star system. Terra is preparing for HelioStella's shift into a new orbit and the changes can no longer be ignored by the People. Some even speak of changes in Lumina's position in the sky while others speak of changes in HelioStella's position. The air of urgency in the skies is felt by many...

[Showay] "Are HelioStella and Terra already in first deviation?"

[AurorA] "In Righteous Sort of Endeavor you could say they are. The fact of the matter is, they are nearer their journey of Endeavor in Righteous Sort of action."

"Are they approximately half way through first deviation?" ¹⁴

"You could say that is so, however, the last half of progression is strikingly worse than previous portion of progression. The gradual easing into the destructive path of progression is such that humanity could have adjusted its measure to sustain less impact. It is however not so, humanity has entered further reaches of its desire and long sustained, or endured continued degradation of humanity's plane / planet of existence. Radical measures could sustain humanity further, but radical measures indeed would be called for.

During this course of events, Terra will 'shake and rattle' in vast proportion and quantity. It would be well and timely to prepare a sacred dwelling for this time. As Terra shivers and groans in her outward journey to the stellas, there will be no three days of darkness as you perceive it. It will be three days of death and destruction, during which HelioStella will do erratic things in skyward motion. You will be jerked along as Terra continues her forward momentum and is abruptly adjusted. While HelioStella in one great shivering moment adjusts to make the turn, forward momentum carries Terra, HelioStella, and Lumina into a new orbit. As HelioStella assumes this new orbit, so will Terra and Lumina. Lumina has not been slipping away from Terra as they say, but rather closing in.

This new adjustment of HelioStella's path will allow balance of Terra and Lumina to be restored. There will be a Right and Proper Exchange of Energies unto a new found day."

The need to prepare a "safe space" has been in the minds of many upon Terra, but how many know that this place of seclusion needs to be free of electronics and plastics? The purveyors / servants of the unrighteous – unholy think they can hide deep underground only to surface again when the "dust has settled", but how many of them know that this time no one underground will survive? The unrighteous – unholy themselves think that they will be able to escape to another star system or to divert HelioStella's progression into a supernova that will feed them, but how many of them have the sense to realize they are fooling themselves? Many good intended People think that a savior will arrive from the skies and transport them into safety, but how many of them know that no one can save anyone else and make the necessary inner changes for them?

For the unrighteous – unholy, there is no place to hide, no place to escape to, and no safe haven. The game of darkness, death, decay, and destruction will end with HelioStella's progression. Universal Law has arrived upon Terra to ensure that this is so.

For those who Desire Life and who Desire to Live in Peace, Joy, Respect, Honor, Harmony, and of one a-chord with their True Divine Nature, there is no need to hide, escape, or even seek to foolishly prevent HelioStella's progression. Instead, these People have an integral part to Play in this progression. They are neither bystanders nor victims in what is to come, for in their choices lay the capacity to facilitate Terra's change into a new orbit.

To put it in Aurora's words:

“To stabilize Terra, humanity must cease to venture far and wide and must focus on Righteous Endeavor. To do so would ensure stability of a sort to hold together a Grand and Glorious Being of Grand Nature. Humanity’s pivotal point of stability would ensure survival of a Greater Being than you yet know.”

Venturing far and wide is a reference to humanity playing in the game of the unrighteous – unholy.

Focusing on Righteous Endeavor is making the choices that restore oneSelf to the Truth of Love as Self free of the bondage of another. It is to reestablish communion with the Father and thus to bring Right Action, Right Thinking, and Right Manifestation of His Good Will to safely Guide humanity through the coming changes so that it may once again Live and Walk in Freedom upon Terra.

Where in our time line?

We have found out that HelioStella is past first deviation and closer to point of departure. The question arises then, how many years are left for preparation... Keep in mind that we wrote this science fiction book around 2003. It is 2011 upon Terra now...

Showay had become especially aware of the urgency of AurorA's message since she confirmed that HelioStella had already entered 'first deviation'. It couldn't be much longer before the 'Point of Departure' would be reached and he wanted to know how much time was left to prepare. He had remembered people talking about two key years in which ancient civilizations had predicted major changes would occur and had chosen to use this information to ask his question. "Is the 'Point of Departure' in 2005, or 2012, by our counting?"

"It is neither. Both you could say, but that would not be accurate. By 2005 there will be tectonic forces pulling at Terra's mantel, or crust, as HelioStella pulls away from orbit before the last sling into Greater Endeavor. You are seeing anomalies now which your scientists cannot explain. They think, better left unsaid to the populations, than to acknowledge failure in this respect. By 2012 in your counting, these forces will be pulling away at Terra's structure. It will seem barely possible to withstand the onslaught. It is however just at this point, there is a relaxing into Righteous Endeavor of the Greatest Rapture heretofore seen in only one Endeavor of such magnitude or proportion. It is in this relaxing, Terra may slip out to a distance of approximately, 100,000 miles further to resume Righteous Endeavor of Greater Progression."

Showay was almost afraid to ask. "When is the relaxing?"

"That would be 2012 in your counting. Terra will restructure in the years preceding this so as to be a new Terra."

HelioStella has already pulled away from his orbit as he gets ready for the “last sling”. This probably explains many of the changes People have noticed in the skies. The year 2012 marks not the end of civilization as has been portrayed, but rather the window of opportunity for Terra to slip into another orbital path that will restore her to balance. There is however much restructuring of Terra that needs to occur before then, thus the need to prepare.

While the unrighteous – unholy will seek to take advantage of this time to do their own version of “earth changes” designed to destroy the People while blaming their actions on “the judgment of god” who is “punishing the sinners / unfaithful”, it is the case that much of the changes naturally initiated by Terra are designed to end the very play of the unrighteous – unholy who seek to interfere with her progression. There is a clear distinction here.

The action of the unrighteous – unholy are designed to ensure the destruction of the People who Love Truth and Desire for things to be different... and this includes Terra and HelioStella. No one survives the plan of the unrighteous – unholy except them (or so they think).

In contradistinction to this, Terra’s restructuring, while appearing to threaten all life, is actually intended to provide People upon Terra the Opportunity to make it through to a Bright New Day. It is however in the hands of the People upon Terra to wake up NOW. Not tomorrow, not until there are clearer signs, not until scientists acknowledge what is happening, not until more conclusive evidence is made available... but NOW.

A Sacred Space

With a clearer understanding of what is about to happen in Terra's future, let's find out what someone upon Terra would do to create a safe and sacred space that would facilitate moving through this transition.

In this, a distinction must clearly be made between the two stages for which preparation is needed. The first stage would require a place that will provide safety during the earth changes that will take place upon Terra prior to Point of Departure. The second stage will require a place that will provide safety during Point of Departure. The key difference between the two is that during the first phase of increasing earth changes, plastics and electronics will "survive". HOWEVER, plastics and electronics will self destroy during Point of Departure and therefore MUST be absent from the shelter created for this time. Because of how pervasive plastics and electronics have become upon Terra, this will include removal of all plastics and electronics from the body in the form of implants, tooth filling, chips, nanotechnology, and beauty products. Consideration upon Terra would also include ensuring that all clothes for this time are of natural fabrics and are NOT sown with plastic threads or dyed with plastic / artificial colors.

With this clarification in mind, let's go back to AurorA and Showay and learn more about the shelter that will be required for Point of Departure.

"You have mentioned the need to prepare a sacred space for shelter from what is to come. How is that done? Showay began his final questioning on Heliotropos.

"That would be a simple question indeed. To prepare a sacred space of your Endeavor for the times ahead requires but one simple, thoughtful question: 'What would nourish your Soul, or Soul Endeavor, were you to live in seclusion for three to four months of your Endeavor .

What AurorA conveys here is of utmost importance. The design of the shelter is about providing a sacred space in which one's Soul can feel comforted and nourished while Terra and HelioStella are readjusting their orbits. This arrangement of the shelter is important because it will help convey and reassure during times of doubt, that what is happening is not to be viewed as a catastrophe or punishment for humanity's sins, but rather as a Spiritual Progression of such magnitude and proportion as to have happened only once before. People all over Terra who have retained their Spiritual Knowledge and focus have been actively preparing. It is only those who have been asleep and dreaming who are finding themselves and their civilization to not only be unprepared but actually participant in the creation of the very conditions that may threaten Life upon Terra.

"Would an underground dwelling with a roof covered with two feet of dirt, like a kiva suffice? What about a straw bale house covered with adobe or such?"

"The Design of your Endeavor would allow such dwelling to suffice indeed."

"What about ventilation?" Showay was concerned about toxicity that would be released during this time.

"It would suffice to hand crank a fan with filtration not too coarse. A double filter box, constructed with furnace filter of your Desire. Multiple layers with micro filter inside."

Showay received an image of the filter box. "I see three layers of filters in a box with an outside opening and an inside side panel for removal. Is this accurate? Will it be safe to remove and replace the filters in the dwelling?"

"Yes indeed it is, on both counts."

Showay understood that the preparation of a sacred space, of a necessity, required provision of all the food and water needed to sustain those who were to live in this sacred space, not only for the three to four months AurorA mentioned, but for several months more. If the extent of changes in Terra were as he was shown, he was certain there would be food and water shortages and famine all across the world. As this understanding came to him, he realized that he would not have been able to prepare and possibly survive, without being free of the belief that he had to live in poverty because of his choice to Serve the Divine.

Simplicity and "low tech" is certainly a key factor in preparation for Point of Departure, however this does not equal to subsistence living and accommodations.

Many People all over Terra have found themselves guided to return to a more natural way of life and to relearn "primitive" skills such as making bonfires, building log houses, working with wood, and so on. They have been ridiculed and vilified by the unrighteous – unholy, yet in the end, it is my sense that these People upon Terra will be shown to have been the wise ones.

Consciously or unconsciously, knowingly or unknowingly each person upon Terra is making a choice. Those who choose Life must learn to be at Peace with those who choose death and simply let them go. It is a great re-learning.

There is no one to save, no one to convert, no one to defeat, no one to resist. There is no one to love, no one to hate, no one to fear.

All there Is is the Truth of Who We Are / Love as Self and in this Truth we find the Peace to let others be and to quietly prepare as our Heart Guides.

Radical measures

011511

Now that we have learned about the need for a safe or sacred space of elegant simplicity designed to nourish and sustain the Soul during Point of Departure, let's take a look at the direction that would facilitate humanity's transition during this time.

"Showay continued with his next question for AurorA. "You also indicated that humanity could take radical measures to sustain itself further. What measures would be called for?"

"Humanity would have to restructure it's Endeavor so as to nourish and sustain life in a manner that is Respectful to Harmonious agriculture and husbandry, and is Respectful of all sentient life forms. Where Harmony is defined as relationship with the Divine. Many innovative design plans could sustain and nourish your world and humanity."

Showay understood that this radical measure did not require an abrupt change that would bring destruction. He understood, that a transformation could happen if, for example, all farms would be converted to organic farms and if household compost collection was used to nourish the soil. Showay saw that it wouldn't take long to use up all the 'chemical produce' and for it to be replaced with organic produce. He also knew such measures would have to be implemented voluntarily, and that no one could be forced to participate, for such changes are to come from the Heart of each individual. Any other way, would be simply a continuation of the status quo, which is in opposition to Divine Harmony."

In my posting "Departure time line" ¹⁵ I quoted AurorA explaining to Showay that to stabilize Terra, humanity needs to stop venturing "far and wide" and begin focusing ¹⁵ Posted on January 12, 2011 and available on this book.

"on Righteous Endeavor". Today we get a further refinement of what humanity's Righteous Endeavor upon Terra is ¹⁶.

AurorA speaks of doing things in a way that nourishes and sustains life rather than destroy / defile / degrade / enslave / indebt. She speaks of Harmonious agriculture and husbandry (of the land) and defines Harmony as a relationship with the Divine.

People upon Terra are Beautifully Creative Individuals and were they to recognize that it is possible to bring forth these innovations outside the restrictive / constrictive construct of the mercantile game, they would Prosper in such way as to make preparation for Point of Departure possible. Free of the need to profiteer or "save the world", People could quietly create in their own "back yards" and discreetly trade with other like minded People in what could be called a "limited edition" fashion. That is to say, only enough is made to keep the necessary resources flowing so as to support one's own Journey and Preparation for Point of Departure and beyond. The goal is not to change the world, become second to none, cater to consumption, or amass fortunes, but rather to give expression to one's Creative Nature in a manner that is Harmonious with the Divine and thus within what is naturally available (which by the way is significantly greater than what is available through the mercantile game).

"Innovations that are Harmonious with the Divine" is of course a reference to being Harmonious with the Father's Good Will to solidify Heaven upon Terra. Because there is much confusion and deception upon Terra in this matter it would be easy for People to mistakenly believe that they are being asked to bow and be limited to servitude unto another "god". Yet Father seeks neither worshipers nor servants. Instead, He Desires, Supports, and Facilitates the restoration of Terra and her inhabitants to their True unbroken, undefiled Nature that allows each to InJoy the Beauty of Creation in Peace, Health, Abundance and Freedom. Harmony with the Divine restores Right and Proper Cohesiveness and Direction to People's actions and takes them out of the "disturbed anthill" mentality ¹⁷. With Clarity and Focus Restored, the Path of Righteous Endeavor becomes clearly visible once again.

¹⁷ This is a reference to the chaotic ant behavior observed when their anthill is disturbed.

The right pier

Heliotropos has been an interesting journey of discovery and awakening to the wonders of Creation. How much more wonderful is Creation, than the restrictive / constrictive / demoralizing / degrading view given to us by scientists, astronomers, and priests who tell us we are these insignificant beings on an insignificant earth orbiting a minor sun in some remote forgotten corner of the universe – a shame in the eyes of “god” who had to kill his own son to cleanse us from our sinful nature?

The parallels between Terra and Earth are certainly interesting to say the least. Terra inhabitants are indeed a valiant People who, despite all the atrocities that the unrighteous – unholy have perpetrated against them still retain a Desire for Truth. While little understanding of what this encompasses remains upon the People, it is the case that this Desire for Truth, or the Father Way, is a testimony to the greatness of Terra’s inhabitants and of the Father. Rather than ridiculed, People upon Terra should indeed be seen with Respect for such steadfastness.

Let’s go to “Heliotropos: Toward the Sun” one last time for the purpose of this thread.

“Is there anything [else] I should know that will help me prepare for what is to come?” Showay asked with urgency.

“It is Right and Proper to secure your boat to the right pier of your Endeavor. The pier of your Endeavor would be the one that securely anchors, while allowing for drift. You need a point from which to rotate, or anchor your motion, or rotation. It is similar to Heliotropos in a vast sort of encompassing Desire, Drive, Urge to compare himself in the vast range of Desire to where he has come from.”

In my entry "Setting Sail" ¹⁸ I talked about a shift in perception that would allow People to see themselves as individuals sailing upon the current sea of Creation. AurorA speaks today about the need for People to secure their "boat to the right pier". Just as HelioStella rotates around a point in space, just as Terra anchors her motion on HelioStella, just as the moon Lumina anchors his motion on Terra, so too, People upon Terra need to anchor their motion to keep themselves from wandering aimlessly. Aurora does not speak of immobility, but rather of a point from which to rotate.

While someone upon Terra wouldn't understand AurorA's words readily, it is the case that they are very familiar with the distortion of this Spiritual Truth.

The distortion of this Spiritual Truth manifests in Terra in various forms, however the core of the deception is the belief that People's life should revolve around someone else's life. A man around a woman, a woman around a man, teenagers around their idols or sex, children around their parents, people around their country, employees around their boss, and even people in general around stars. Stars you say? Yes, stars... movie stars, sports stars, business stars...

Suddenly things begin to coalesce. Can you see how the unrighteous – unholy used Truth to create a deception and why it seems "natural" for People to participate in the deception? They took a Spiritual Faculty designed to support People's Journey upon Terra and twisted it to support distorted behavior.

HelioStella is a Star. He is also a Christed Being. If a Christed Being of such magnitude revolves around another star, as People are told in the deception, why not the life of People upon Terra? "You need a role model, someone to look up to and be like"... the advice goes. Admittedly, People upon Terra no longer consciously know that stars are Christed Beings, however this suppressed understanding becomes unconsciously transferred to the worldly stars who give the "commoners" the role model of "Christed behavior". They shine in their glamor, they wear the glitter of gemstones and expensive clothes augmented by camera flashes, they engage in deviate, dishonest, distorted behavior, they lust for money, fame, people, and power, they are consumptive and feed on those who gladly spend money, attention, and energy on them...until that they in which they begin to fade away in the night sky and die. Not unlike what People upon Terra are told happens in the Universe, where stars live as they consume themselves and each other only to die in due time.

It is not a coincidence that when the unrighteous – unholy forced themselves upon Terra, they began a systematic indoctrination of the People into astronomy, language, and mathematics, for all of these “sciences” work together to create a false testimony of Creation that justify destructive behavior. Many ancient People who received this indoctrination, in their innocence, thought they were being gifted with great knowledge, yet Knowledge is not what these People received. What they received was a mockery of Universal Truth and it is this mockery that constitutes the foundation of modern civilization upon Terra.

This pattern of behavior and deception can certainly be recognized upon Earth as well. Perhaps the most recent exemplification of what happened to ancient earth dwellers when the unrighteous – unholy arrived upon Earth is depicted in the story of Native Americans who innocently welcomed and even helped the first Europeans when they arrived with valueless trinkets and the pretense of superior knowledge. We certainly all know of the destruction and rampage that followed.

It would do us well here on Earth to recognize and learn to see past the glitter of deception - old and new, and learn what it means to “secure our boat to the right pier”.

Earth and Terra

Since my last entry yesterday provided an opportunity to make a comment about what has happened on Earth, it seems appropriate to make a reference to an article titled "The sun rises two days early in Greenland, sparking fears that climate change is accelerating"¹⁹.

It would be easy to infer from this article that the change happened "overnight", however, it is the case that Sun related changes around the arctic have been manifesting and observed for quite a while. Here is a link to an article from March 9, 2007 titled "Pole Shift Underway or Natural Phenomenon?"²⁰ This article reports that for the past several years (that is prior to 2007 !), People have been observing the winter dark season ending earlier than usual and the sun coming up at different places than usual.

Apparently, this year, the change was so obvious and 'in your face' that it could no longer be obscured, no pun intended. The scientific explanations for this event remain as irrational as any others given in the past. Scientists say people are experiencing some kind of mass illusion caused by melting icecaps that allow the sun's light to "penetrate through earlier". What is amusing is that under the reader's comments you will find one observation by Ole Heinrich from Nuuk, Greenland stating that the "sun in Ilulissat factually rises from behind mountains without ice."

Linda says scientists are simply giving People answers that constitute "plausible stupidity". I agree, and would further add that they are indeed mocking the People for they think, in their arrogance, that we are too stupid to notice otherwise.

This talk about the mockery of the People brings me back to Terra, where, as I explained in my last entry, People have also been deceived. Curiously enough, this deception does include a mockery to the matters of the Sun. In that entry, I specifically

¹⁹ <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/sciencetech/article-1346936/The-sun-rises-days-early-Greenland-sparking-fears-climate-change-accelerating.html>

noted two ways in which the unrighteous-unholy mock the People. One, through the introduction of 'worldly stars' who portray decadence and materialism, and two, through a model of the universe which portrays cannibalism, death, mindless self consumption, and destruction. A third way in which this is accomplished is through the religious indoctrinations that teaches People to emulate "Christed Beings" who self sacrifice, walk in poverty, and allow themselves to be tortured and killed for the benefit and amusement of others. In all these cases, People's lives are to revolve around the actions and dictates of others, while ignoring their own inner Guidance and Wisdom.

It is the case however that as the People upon Terra increase their capacity to choose Truth over deception, they are making it possible for humanity to once again see a day in which the Sun HelioStella no longer sets. The signs of this progression are becoming more and more undeniable upon Terra. Which leads me to the following question:

Could it be that, here upon the Earth, we are progressing to such a day too?

Great Opportunities

011911

As I was writing about HelioStella and the two levels of preparation that were needed for Point of Departure, it was readily apparent that within the necessity of this preparation there were many Opportunities for the People upon Terra to change what they do and how they do it.

If you were to think of a world free of plastics and electronics, how would your life change? What would you do different? It would be nice to accomplish the change overnight, but for most of us that would not be feasible. Thus we would progress one step at a time.

As we progress and think about all the "new" needs that arise in this personal transition and how to adjust to such a "new" environment, many creative ideas will become available. It is in this creative expression that humanity may find new ways to sustain itself and support itself in a new way by doing commerce that is free of the mercantile game of the unrighteous - unholy.

The direction of this new way of doing commerce would not sprout out of the greed for profit or lust for power by doing the bidding of the unrighteous – unholy at the expense of the world and People. Instead, it would sprout out of the basic need to take care of ourselves as we learn to Walk in the Father Way and prepare for Point of Departure.

Many months ago, I read a blog entry somewhere (I wish I had kept a reference) of a family that made a choice to move out to the land and become self reliant. Initially, the husband retained a job but soon realized that by the time he deducted the expenses related to getting to that job, his net income was well below the minimum wage. Thus they made a choice to do things different. One of these choices included making an earth oven to bake their breads and foods with available wood from their property. Soon, neighbors started asking for his "artisan" breads and resources began flowing his way to a point where he could not meet demand. However, when someone suggested he “expand to meet demand” or “start a business”, this family was wise enough to recognize the trap. All the Joy they received from baking and preparing food in their earth oven would have been quickly siphoned away by the worries and debt obligations of the mercantile game. Instead they chose Joy.

I like this story so much because it illustrates so well the idea that in choosing to take care of ourselves and doing something we like, Opportunities can present themselves to trade resources with other like minded People.

This is a key concept in this new way of doing commerce. That which is done is first and foremost a creative expression that nourishes and sustains our own Journey. This family didn’t do an earth oven to start a business. They did it to nourish and sustain themselves in a creative way. Whether it be raising chickens for eggs, goats for milk, sheep for wool, vegetables for food... whether it be woodworking, blacksmithing, and so on, it is something that is done to meet one’s own needs. This activity may then bring an Opportunity to trade in various ways.

In this kind of trade, what is traded is always the excess abundance that is generated by People who Love doing what they do. The “cream of the cream” is reserved for Self. This is done out of the recognition that one cannot prosper when there is self imposed restrictions and lack. Trading the “cream of the cream” and bulk of the abundance away impoverishes the mind and Soul and creates the illusion that others always come first and are more valuable than Self. We are learning to do things differently.

Think of all the things that would be needed: natural mattresses made of wool or even bedstraw, clothes dyed with natural colors and sewn with natural fibers, new inventions that work in a natural way with the environment, and so much more...

Many of these inventions are already being brought forth by People all over the world. However, they are directed toward improving the lives of “impoverished” People in third world countries. Perhaps it would be wise to recognize that the “civilized” world needs these type inventions more than any third world country...

It is Wise to start at Home and take care of Home first.

Angle of approach

012411

These past few days of respite, courtesy of the server maintenance crew, gave me the opportunity to delve a little bit into the angle of approach I want to take for my next creative venture. Getting this angle right is of utmost importance to avoid a difficult landing. The idea is to progress into higher levels of expression and understanding in such a manner there is a safe landing every time a step or leap is taken. As I contemplated this approach, Linda and Father Blessed me with the missing links I needed and for this I'm very great-full. Thank you Father. Thank you Linda.

Missing link 1:

Father explained to us that there is a difference between explaining deception and speaking Truth. When someone seeks to understand the deception or conveys facts about the deception, that does not equal speaking Truth. The description of the deception and the facts conveyed may be totally accurate, but, to put it in Linda's words "this accuracy does not equal Truth. That is a radically important distinction."

For example, in my series "Spiritual Swimming" I took an exploration of the word "tyranny" and much information was provided to help someone recognize the deception for what it is: a deception. In this series, as well as any other time I have written about the deception, I have NOT spoken Truth. Instead I have simply provided information regarding the deception. Whenever I have written of the Father and how to do things differently in the Father Way, then I have spoken Truth to the best of my ability and understanding at the time of the writing. This is why I say my blog is a progression based upon Father's Foundation. As my capacity to recognize and understand Truth increases so does my capacity to write about Truth.

Another aspect Father explained regarding this understanding is that when Truth is presented to someone who is looking through the "eyes of deception", this Truth is not recognized as Truth, but rather as deception. This is so because Truth flies in the face of convention.

In prior entries ²¹, Linda and I have explored the concept of a Mystical and Magical "circuit" and how it gets shut down in childhood. Without this "circuit" we no longer see with "Eyes of Truth" but rather with "eyes of deception". Through these "eyes of deception" things get twisted and those who speak Truth are perceived as deceivers, while those who speak within the framework of the deception are seen as enlightened beings.

To Love Truth above all else, is to be willing to stop looking at the world through the "eyes of deception" and to welcome the Reality of Truth.

With this "most important, amazing clarification, understanding, correction to [...] perception", to quote Linda again, I shall continue my writing adventures which, for a brief moment, will take us into Genesis...

Getting unstuck

It may have been apparent from my previous entry, that what I will soon write about may have a significant effect in one's perception.

As we progress in life and we experience the indoctrination and abuse perpetrated by the unrighteous / unholy at different levels of our expression, our inner Guiding System gets out of alignment. This causes a series of malfunctions, not the least of which is loosing our capacity to Know the Truth of Who We Are. In this misalignment and malfunction we end up anchoring ourselves improperly and worshiping others as "gods". This allows the unrighteous / unholy to pirate / thief our Abundance and Resources.

While most People can still live and function with this problem, it is still nevertheless a problem. And a very significant one at that. Christian, Muslim, catholic, Arab, Jew, Buddhist, atheist, spiritualist... new age, earth movement, native, capitalist, communist, socialist... and so on, it does not matter. This basic problem of misalignment and false worship is there. The only difference between these is the level of deception that is contained within their framework of reference. Some are more subtle than others.

If this misalignment was not present, People would be able to live in total and complete Peace and Harmony while InJoying the Abundance Father makes Freely available without tilling, killing, mining, destroying, thieving, profiteering, working, and having to give it all away.

As you contemplate this, it is important to recognize that it is Right and Proper to be anchored, otherwise we would be adrift, unsupported, and unstable. However, one must be anchored to the "right pier" and this requires our Guiding System to be Properly aligned.

Finding a new way

There are various steps required to realign our Guiding System back to its original Right and Proper Function. For each step one needs to have the Proper Perspective and Understanding as to how and in which direction the corrections need to be done. This is part of the Knowledge Father is making available to those who Desire Truth and are willing to give up the glitter of deception. You can't point in two directions at the same time.

The first step in this realignment is taken when one recognizes that one's Guiding System is awry and needs corrected. Much of what I have written in this blog has had the purpose of making this apparent and providing sufficient information to recognize there is an alternative to the way humanity has been doing things. Through Truth, Right Thinking, Right Action, and Right Manifestation of Father's Good Will and Intent we regain Right and Proper alignment and anchoring of our Guiding System.

The first thing that makes this transition from misalignment to alignment difficult is that in this process we must un-anchor ourselves from the wrong pier. We must let go of that which we learned to attach ourselves to. Thus, it appears as if choosing Truth means letting go of everything we have learned to want, need, desire, and love.

I will quote some of Linda's insights inspired by the Father:

"It is interesting there are a lot of things that we think we like that have been attached to unrighteous – unholy energy. Whether it is True or not, whether it is a bowl of ice cream, or a magazine, or a comfortable couch in a house, the unrighteous - unholy will tell us we will have no more comforts if we make this choice for the end of unrighteous - unholy. [The] claim is that all of [this comfort] is because of them and we shouldn't have to give it up after all. Well, the People who are living behind stadiums or under bridges have given it all up... through no choice of their own. The People who have chosen vegan eating or disciplined lifestyles in a spiritual quest have given up many of those things.

Many People creating secure shelters have given up much of it, while others have struggled to have both.

The Truth of it is, many things are creations of unrighteous – unholy deception. Not because they have to be, but because they figured out how they could make it be. They took the cotton insulation off wire and put on plastic. They took out the copper water pipes and put in plastic. There are many comforts that are still attainable and readily available. While Martin has mentioned there are many others waiting to be “invented”, or created, or simply reinvented in a Righteous and Holy Way, the bottom line is: whether a person is willing to relinquish the unrighteous - unholy way and creatively implement what is Righteous and Holy in Elegant Simplicity that would not be a compromise. It would be a return to Right and Proper Function in our technological evolution. Those are key words.

A decision, personally and individually, has to be made as to what is empty attachment to unrighteous – unholy activity and what is Righteous and Holy Elegant Simplicity. An example of this is ice cream which doesn't have to be churned, complicated, involved. Simply flavoring whipping cream, whipping it up and freezing it, is a much more nourishing ice cream than any of this stuff People are going to the store and buying.

The time has come when People have to make that choice not some day, some time, next week, next month, next year. In not making that choice, they have made the choice for the continuance of unrighteous - unholy and that would entail their demise along with the demise of the rest of those who have chosen unrighteous – unholy.

Anyone who has been holding on to the drowning man and are themselves drowning must at this point let go or they too are going to drown. And there is nothing noble or spiritual about drowning.”

To repeat Father's Knowledge Given through Linda:

- "...there is nothing noble or spiritual about drowning."
- to be willing to "relinquish the unrighteous - unholy way and creatively implement what is Righteous and Holy in Elegant Simplicity" is not "a compromise."

A new and different Way

012911

From Linda's insight we learned that many things in our every day life, lifestyle, and relationships are creations of unrighteous-unholy deception. "Not because they have to be, but because they figured out how they could make it be."

Water and sewer distribution systems existed before plastic and even metal piping was invented. Today, there is a great dependence on plastic piping and tubing. Not too long ago, all food was organic. Today, we pay a premium for healthy food. Free heating and electricity existed around the 1900's. Today we pay for both. Not too long ago water was clean, pure, healthy, and free. Today, we pay for deadly water. A few decades ago, chemical showers were "reserved" for concentration camps. Today, People take chemical showers every day. A few decades ago one could build oneself a wireless phone and use it for free. Today, we pay for them. In the past, land was free and no one needed a lifetime of enslavement to pay for it. Today, we enslave ourselves and our children for a house.

Just as the unrighteous – unholy have figured out how to turn that which is healthy, nourishing, and free into something that is costly and deadly to our health, so too have they figured out how to take the Knowledge of All That Is / Source / Father Which Is in Heaven and turned it into a system of spiritual enslavement that revolves around the concept of "god" and the "creation of man".

Just as eating poisonous food leads to death, debt leads to enslavement, using plastics leads to body malfunction, taking chemical showers leads to death, and so on, so too worshiping a mockery of Truth leaves us empty handed, impoverished, and ill prepared.

Thus, the choice of un-anchoring ourselves from the deception of a necessity requires us to come face to face with our core beliefs so we can exchange empty value for the Blessings and Freedom of Truth.

Looking unto Creator as a Source of Wonderment, Guidance, and Spiritual Knowledge is indeed a most noble and natural thing to do. Yet it is time to do it in a new and different Way that is based on Truth.

No compromise

Two days ago we learned that to be willing to "relinquish the unrighteous - unholy way and creatively implement what is Righteous and Holy in Elegant Simplicity" is not a compromise.

Compromise is an unrighteous – unholy deception. Compromise is what we do when we eat less than healthy food. Compromise is what we do when we indebt ourselves to stay alive. Compromise is what we do when we allow our rivers, land, and air to be polluted and destroyed. Compromise is what we do when we allow others to dictate our lives. Compromise is what allows the unrighteous – unholy to gain a foothold in our Endeavor: "just a little bit of pollution, just a little bit of sickness, just a little bit of deviate behavior, just a little bit of abuse, just a little bit of deception... it does not matter".

Well, Father has explained to us that it does matter.

Compromise is not what allows us to "get along" as we are told. Instead, compromise is what leads to oppression, tyranny, and destruction. It is when one compromises, that the expectation / justification arises for others to compromise too: "if I had to do it, you should too... and if you don't want to, I'll force you."

However, when one does not compromise, then one does not expect nor demand anyone else to compromise either, therefore there is Respect. In this contemplation, recognize that "to not compromise" is different than being stubbornly attached to deception / unhealthy behavior. We speak of letting go of the deception and welcoming Truth once again.

So... what if we can do things without compromising ourselves to deception and actually figure out how to Joyfully and Lightheartedly welcome this shift in perception?

What if can we have families, relationships, friendships without lusting, enticing, and putting them above our Journey with the Father?

What if we can Know and be the Love we Are without having to give it away?

What if we can have electricity in a way that actually benefits the environment and the People because it is free and it is not based on mining, drilling, or the use of plastics / poisons?

What if we can have transportation that improves the air we breath (rather than just pollute less or pollute differently)?

What if we can have land and houses without having to enslave ourselves to pay for them?

What if we can Know the Beauty and Blessings of Creator / Source / Father Which Is in Heaven without having to worship false gods, sacrifice, serve, save, put others first, work hard, flagellate, convert, subdue, adore, supplicate, or wait for a "savior" to rescue us?

What if "to not compromise" is to recognize it is possible to do it differently?

What If "to not compromise" is to welcome an Opportunity for a new and different Way which is but waiting for us to Creatively and Harmoniously give it shape and form upon Earth?

A new and different Way

020111

I think this idea of a new and different Way in which we conduct our lives in a way that supports our Health, well being, Soul, and Pure-Pose ²² is indeed a great thing. I think this idea of a new and different Way in which we create things that actually are beneficial to Soul and Earth is a wonderful idea. We could have a lot of Lighthearted fun in such a style of Elegant Simplicity.

A question one should ask in this process of choosing a new and different Way is: "how does one Discern between a creative idea that is Harmonious with the Divine and a false promise designed to derail us from our Spiritual Progression?"

The simple answer is to have our Guiding System fully restored to its Right and Proper, Righteous and Holy Function. This requires that we be restored to our True Nature and for this to be accomplished we require two reference points. The first is the Father Which Is in Heaven and His Kingdom. The second is Love for Truth. We must be willing to place Universal Truth and the Father above all else.

To paraphrase Linda's quote from the Gospel of Thomas:

"To know the Father is to know yourself.
To know yourself is to know the Father."

To place the Father above all else is to place ourSelves first and thus know the Love that we Are. To be the Love that we Are is to be in our Divine Expression. To be in our Divine Expression is to solidify Heaven on Earth. To live in Heaven on Earth is to live in Father's Kingdom (refer to "Seeking Father's Kingdom" ²³).

²²Posted on March 17, 2010 and available on BlueStar Blog Book ???

²³Posted on August 21, 2010 and available on BlueStar Blog Book????

In this process of realignment of our Guiding System and restoration to our True Nature, it is important to recognize that we are not being asked to worship a new "god" called Father. We are not being asked to lean unto the Father or anchor ourselves unto Him. What we are being asked to do is to let go of the old ways of deception so we may experience the Truth of Creation in a new and different Way. A Way that is actually a Truthful expression of Creation.

Of course, it goes without saying, that this should be done with an utmost and sincere Desire for Truth, otherwise there is no point in pursuing this route.

Two stories

020211

In my entry "A new and different Way" ²⁴ I wrote that Father explained to us that just as the unrighteous – unholy have figured out how to turn that which is healthy, nourishing, and free into something that is costly and deadly to our health, so too have they figured out how to take the Knowledge of All That Is / Source / Father Which Is in Heaven and turned it into a system of spiritual enslavement that revolves around the concept of "god" and the "creation of man".

I guess is time now to delve a little bit more into this "god" and "creation of man" portrayal given to us by the unrighteous – unholy.

Having been raised in a western society, I was indoctrinated into the "bible" story of creation, thus it is this story I will write about. One thing that perhaps needs to be kept in mind regarding this, is that if your lineage originated in the "western world" then it is very likely that this "bible story" of "god" and "creation of man" has been genetically ingrained in you through generations of forced feeding and abuse perpetuated by the church to "convert" "beastly" pagans such as the Germanic People. Thus, whether you currently practice or not a western religion, it may be the case that this story is still subconsciously affecting your perception of "god" and of yourself as a human being.

It wouldn't surprise me if the above statement could also be applied to the many cultures around the world who have experienced the brutality of "being saved in the name of god".

This review of the "creation story" of the bible began when Linda brought to my attention that there are two distinct stories of creation which get handled as if they were "one" and the same. With skepticism, I picked up a bible and began reading genesis. And guess what? She was right. Not only are there two different stories, but they also have completely different characters in them, not the least of which is who does the "creating".

²⁴Posted on January 01, 2011 and available on this book.

I would imagine there are a lot of People who, just like Linda, have already figured this one out, but for me it was a novel "discovery".

I will be using the King James bible, which can be accessed at:

<http://quod.lib.umich.edu>

The first story of creation is partially recounted in Genesis 1. I say partially because for some odd reason, the last day of creation is recounted in Genesis 2 right before the beginning of the second story. Kind of confusing if you ask me, but maybe that is the point.

The main character in this story is "god". In this story "god" appears to be benevolent for all he does is good and is blessed by him, even male and female (who he created at the same time). In this story, there is no purpose to creation and neither is their a purpose for male and female other than to multiply, subdue the earth, and have dominion over fish, fowl, cattle, and every little creeping thing. Note however, that this "god" did not authorize killing in his creation, just domineering and subduing. So let's find out more about what this means.

Dominion:

- the power or right of governing and controlling
- sovereign authority
- control or influence
- a territory under a particular form of government

This tells us that male and female were meant to have authority, control, and influence over fish, fowl, cattle, and creepy things through establishing some kind of governmental system. Note that male and female were not told to have dominion over each other. This is to say, this system of governing or government was supposed to be designed to control only animals and creepy things, but not People.

Let's find out about subduing earth:

subdue:

- to conquer and bring into subjection
- overpower by superior force

- render submissive
 - repress
 - to bring (land) under cultivation

It is difficult for me to imagine that a "god" who blessed the earth in so many ways would at the same time turn loose male and female upon this very earth so as to tyrannize it, by conquering, overpowering, repressing, and yes, cultivating it. Something simply does not add up in this story. Note however, that all this subduing is meant to be directed toward the earth and not toward male and female.

Quite a purposeless and meaningless life if you ask me. Maybe this explains why after a while, some groups decided to classify other People as subhuman / cattle / things. With this convenient reclassification, these groups were able in their minds, to justify domineering and subduing others while claiming to obey the commandments given to them by their "god".

That many upon this Earth worship this "god" of genesis 1 is quite apparent. That they have no apparent goal in life other than to domineer and subdue things / earth (just as their "god" told them to do) is also quite apparent.

Believe it or not, Father has shown Linda that the unrighteous – unholy actually use this logic to justify their actions against the People of this Earth. To them, we are inferior non-human animals which they are justified in domineering and subduing. That is faulty logic of course that does not pass the light of day. We must however recognize it to be so.

The second story of creation recounted in the bible starts in genesis 2 verse 4. The first three verses are reserved to finish the first story of creation.

Two things that immediately strike the attention in the first verse of this second story is that the main character doing the creation is no longer called "god" but "LORD god" and that this "lord god" actually creates earth and heavens in one day rather than six.

Now, I'm very aware that for many people there is no difference between god, lord god, lord, and father. I know there really wasn't one for me. Somehow, it has become widely accepted and taught that all these terminologies are interchangeable and refer to the same entity. However, I would suggest, based on what I have learned from Father and Linda, that this is probably not the case. "God" is not "lord god". "Lord" is not "god" nor "lord god".

What you call something or someone does make a difference. Peter is not Paul. Saint John is not John.

It would be wise for someone who reads the bible to clearly make this distinction between "god", "lord god", "lord", and "father". It would not surprise me if many apparent contradictions would be solved by making this simple distinction and keeping track of who says what. For example, the reason the two stories of creation cannot be reconciled may be because each one recounts a creation by a different entity.

If you read my Spiritual Swimming series you may remember that I did an exploration of the word "tyranny" which eventually lead to the word "lord" (see "Almost there – SP12" ²⁵). The connection between these two words was made by exploring the definition of the word "despot". Through this definition we found not only that despot, master, lord, tyrant, and oppressor are all synonyms, but that these words are connected to the possession of sexual powers which in turn is related to the words demoniac, demented, and mad.

Now, let's go back to "lord god" or should we say "despot god", "master god", "tyrant god", or "oppressor god"? As you can see, words do matter. It is in understanding the implications of this, that "lord god's" behavior toward Adam and Eve makes sense. After all, we are apparently speaking of a demoniac, demented, mad "god" that uses sexual powers (seduction) to oppress and tyrannize.

“eyes of deception”

There are so many details in this second story of creation that have the “smell” of unrighteous – unholy tinkering that I don't even know where I would begin should I want to describe them. Fortunately for me, my intent in writing these few entries on the stories of creation as accounted in the first chapters of genesis is simply to point out that there is a serious problem with the foundation upon which the western understanding of “god” rests. This in turn affects our capacity to keep our Guiding System properly aligned.

As a result of this faulty foundation, People then look to the wrong places for the Real Creator. These People turn away from Truth and look toward the deception for their answers. I have done this myself not even knowing that I was doing it. Not because I wanted to worship the unrighteous – unholy, but because I was deceived. I was looking for the Father, yet going to the unrighteous – unholy and then wondering why things were going downhill.

This leads to the missing link 2 recently provided by Father and Linda:

“There are increasing amount of People having a close call with death. The friends and family, sometimes the person oneself pray to “God” to spare that person’s life and bring healing. Then if the person can’t be spared they pray for “God” to keep that person’s Soul. Take them to heaven. These people are praying with sincerity and faith but in the utmost of deception.

People have been quoting a lot the verse [from the bible] that says that even the elect will be deceived in the end times. They normally are referring to the antichrist arrival. That they are not going to know the difference. Well, a physical person may come along but in reality, it is an energy that is already present. It is an activity. It is what is already happening with those people. He is already doing what he does. All those people, all those Souls are already being committed and condemned to the unrighteous – unholy, at any point in [a] person's life, because people are praying to this god of deception. They are praying to a deception, they are seeking [unto] a deception, they are faithful to a deception. It is the most subtle form of unrighteous – unholy expression. Because from the very beginning, wherever that beginning is (as a child in a nursery, in Sunday school, [or] even [as] a child in the womb of a parent who has been deceived) what they are taught is "God" is the deception.

No matter how innately spiritual or sincere [a] person is, when the teaching or the perception is only identifiable through / as or of the deception, then every good will, good intent, good purpose has been turned to the deception. Every presumably spiritual prayer, will, intent of every deceived person has gone to support / strengthen the deception. Every "christian" who has been taught this deception puts faith in and praise to, gives energy to the "god" of the bible has become fertile ground for the arrival of a personification of that "god". Presumably the second coming of Christ.

The real point here is that the People who have been praying to, giving to, believing in the "god" of the bible have been participating in the deception. They don't know it, they can't see it, they do know that prayer works, but at what cost? The scientists can't figure out why prayer works because those of the deception do not want them to tell the People why it works."

We cannot find the answer while seeing with the "eyes of deception". In our choice to restore our Guiding System by placing Father and Universal Truth above all else, we cannot retain the dirty water nor the baby.

I know from experience, that coming to terms with having sought the Father in all the wrong places is difficult and painful. How can someone Trust himself again after being so deceived? Yet, we must find it within ourselves to recognize that it is not our Desire for the Father that is in question, but rather how we went about fulfilling this Desire.

There are two things that remain unaffected by the deception: Father's Desire to restore us to Truth and our innate Love for the Father and Truth. Have Faith that this is so and ask the Father Which is In Heaven for His Grace that all mistakes done be undone and that His Good Will and Intent to Restore Heaven on Earth prevail.

From the entry "Moments of Freedom" ²⁶:

*Choose Faith rather than failure,
Know that you have missed the mark,
pick up another and aim.
And closer, one by one,
you will find yourself to the target,
until at last you are centered in All That Is.*

*This is a great learning, it is a process,
each adjustment brings you closer to the mark.*

Some more clearing

020911

There are two other misconstructions in the bible that need brought to our attention for the purpose of this writing. It is important to recognize these misconstructions so that they don't silently creep in when we hear Truth and contaminate our perception of what is being said or conveyed to us when we receive Guidance and Direction from the Father.

The first misconception is in the concept of a garden.

The first time we are introduced to a garden is in genesis 2. Western civilization is very familiar with this garden. It is the garden of eden, a garden that was created by a "lord god" and upon which man was placed as a servant. A garden in which trickery and deception existed and from which man was cast out after falling for the very trickery this "lord god" created in the first place.

The next garden of interest is introduced in the New Testament. It is the garden of Gethsemane. As Linda pointed out to me, this is a garden of sorrow, the garden where Jesus goes to pray before he allows himself to be sold to the world and sacrificed according to his "father's will".

You may have noticed the common theme in these gardens: deception and death. In the first garden Adam and Eve accept death when they eat of the fruit. In the second garden Jesus accepts death because he thinks the Father wants him sacrificed.

This leads to the second misconception in the bible. The understanding of the Father Which Is in Heaven with whom Jesus is said to have been of one a-chord.

Linda and I have written extensively regarding the Father Which Is in Heaven and His Way. It is with this Father she and I seek to commune and be of one a-chord each and every day. It is this Father Who Shares the Knowledge of which we speak and it is from this Knowledge and perhaps limited experience of Him and His Way, that we Know free of any doubt, that Father would never have anyone sacrificed in any way, whether for His own Glory or for the benefit of anyone else. Pain, sorrow, famine, flagellation, torture, sacrifice, death... they all lead to darkness, death, decay, and destruction. One will never find the Father through such experiences. It wouldn't surprise me if this is why Jesus felt abandoned at the cross. Perhaps this is the real moral of the crucifixion: sacrifice leads to failure and death.

Many People have left the church and religion because they recognize that something is wrong with this idea of a Father that would sacrifice his own son and spill his blood to save so called sinners. Yet they fail to recognize that this deception is still clouding their Vision because it does not allow them to accept the very basic Reality of the Father Which Is in Heaven. Yes, the Father is Real, but He is not as depicted in the bible. You can't reconcile Truth with deception. You can't hold on to some parts of the deception that are closer to Truth while tossing the others and hope to see Clearly. Thus the need to toss both the dirty water and the baby.

This slight shift in perception allows us to see the Reality of the Father anew and with Clarity. The Reality of the Father is Life. It is Joy, Peace, Harmony, Love of Self, Health, Strength, Abundance, and Nourishment that lead to the Father, His Presence, and His Blessings.

A step toward Truth

021011

Having unveiled some major misconstructions that would cloud our perception if left unchecked, it is time to begin exploration of what it means to be Harmonious with the Father / the Divine.

This leads to the third missing link which Father has shared through Linda's insights:

"Normally an objection that is raised about this God or Father thing is... this enslavement idea that a person gives up their own personal will and freedom if they are into this "thy will be done stuff". The reason that [this] is a popular common misconception is because in actuality that is what the unrighteous - unholy do, have imposed or deceived the People into. Of course they do their slight of hand or majik so that [we] don't notice that this is an unrighteous - unholy concept and activity, commonly referred to in our writing as slabor. The slave labor idea.

People get all concerned about it in their spiritual life not recognizing the Truth because they are so engrossed in [this] deception which is the diversion for the real slight of hand that is going on: ...[the idea that] the common everyday "go to work [and] be good" slave labor is the only way to keep [a] job, feed [a] family, and have a house.

When we talk about being Harmonious with the Father all this falseness, this deception comes immediately to fill the perception, the thinking process, the perception of the person that you are talking to. So the starting point is Harmonious not equal subservient.

Harmonious ≠ subservient

So to walk Harmonious with the Father and to see things differently, another way, in the Father Way, becomes a necessary concept... because [we] have been slabor to the deception."

Father wants us to do things differently and to recognize there is a Truth of Who the Father Is, there is a Truth of Who We Are, there is a Truth of Who Mother Earth Is, and there is a Truth of why we are upon this Earth.

To walk Harmoniously or of one a-chord with the Father is to make a choice to be restored to and Live in this Truth.

Harmonious equals not subservient

021411

This idea that to do Father's Good Will and Intent or to be Harmonious with the Divine is not equal to subservience is something that has taken me many years to understand.

I remember when Linda and I first started together, that I would often say to Father "just tell me what to do and I will do it". You know... the classic catholic servant mentality: "I'm God's servant and if He wants me to do something I don't want to do, then it does not matter, I set aside what I want and do what God tells me to do. I want to serve God."

Well, Father doesn't work that way. Father would have one Respect oneself and do what is Right and Proper for oneself. And herein is the conundrum. What is Right and Proper for oneself? What is it to be Free to do one's Will?

By worldly standards we associate being good with being religious and being religious with being a good servant. It is the religious who seek to be good, do good, serve, sacrifice, and abstain from immoral behavior. On the other hand we associate being free to do what one wills with party and immorality. This behavior is especially manifest during the teenage years of "rebellion". Teenagers recognize the bondage they have been under as children and they see the bondage their parents are in. It is only natural that they would seek Freedom from a lifetime of enslavement. Yet the rebellion is always within set patterns of destructive behavior that lead people astray. Smoking, drugs, sex, immorality, party, destructive music and behavior, disrespect, and violence. For those who recognize the trap of "sex and rock and roll" the avenues of rebellion become politics, change / save the world / poor / environment organizations, spiritualist practices, witchcraft, poverty, aimless wandering, and even mission work. Every channel of rebellion is carefully crafted to misdirect the innate Desire we People have to be Free of the deception and do things differently, back to the very deception we seek to be Free of.

The problem is not our Desire to be Free of the suffocating grasp of the unrighteous - unholy. It is not our creative energy strongly seeking expression especially during our teenage years. The problem is giving expression to our creative energy within the framework of the deception. It is seeking to make a change within this framework of deception. It is the way we go about change that causes every new generation to repeat the mistakes of past generations while thinking new choices are being made.

I once had a conversation with my biological father in which I found out that all the things I had experienced and done as a teenager while thinking I was expressing my "forward way of thinking", he had done as well. What a joke. It was a joke played upon my father and myself. Linda likes to remind me that once the unrighteous - unholy find something that works, they will keep doing it and doing it over and over again until it stops working. Isn't this the pattern of history?

The very concept that Freedom and Free Will is attained by learning of the Father Way and of our True Nature as His Children flies in the face of convention. That this can be done outside the religious and spiritual practices introduced by the unrighteous - unholy has become, oddly enough, completely alien to our way of thinking. Yet that is what Linda and I have found. Father's Way is neither to the right nor to the left. It is neither the way of the world nor the way of religion. Instead it is what Father calls the "middle way".

It is time to wake up from the slumber / spell cast upon us. It is time to end the nightmare. Perhaps where we look deep within we would find that in the most encompassing sense, we and the Father are indeed of one a-chord. We want to be happy, we want to live in Abundance, we want Health, we want a LightHearted Life, we want to be nourished, we want to be in Peace, we want to have meaning in our lives and Feel good about what we do. That is what Father wants for us. Father would have us have all of this and so much more.

To be Harmonious with the Father / Divine equals not subservience.

To be Harmonious with the Father / Divine equals Freedom, Joy, Peace, Health, Abundance, Nourishment, Life. All we need do is allow ourselves to do things outside the framework of deception.

instant or Real?

Some time ago Linda and I had a conversation with a friend who runs a childcare home business. During this conversation, our friend shared an experience she had with the children. Turns out that one day she decided to make real mashed potatoes as a treat for them. She went through all the process of peeling the potatoes, boiling them, mashing them, and mixing them with milk, butter, and salt. She was sure the children were going to love it. Well, to her surprise and probably disappointment, when the children tasted these real mashed potatoes, they all came to the same conclusion: something was wrong because the potatoes didn't taste like usual. Needless to say, none of the children ate the potatoes and our friend had to go back to her kitchen and make instant mashed potatoes. Once the instant mashed potatoes made it to the table, all the children eagerly ate their share. Mashed potatoes now tasted as they should. Or did they?

It is the same with us and the unrighteous - unholy deception. We have grown so accustomed to the rush caused by sorrow, pain, anger, hatred, violence, lust, excitement, trouble, difficulties, famine, death, and so on that when we taste the Reality of a Life lived Harmoniously in the Abundance and Peace of the Father, many conclude that something is missing or isn't right. But is it?

So when the choice presents itself... what it is going to be? instant or Real?

The Blessing of Solar Flares

021811

Being in the midst of a great solar flare that has reached the Earth, we must see outside the framework of deception that we may perceive Truth for what it is.

Father has shared some information regarding the purpose and value of the solar flare that He has made available to this Earth by His Good Grace. Linda wrote about it in her entry titled "solar flares and the Father's Garden" ²⁸. A copy of her entry follows:

solar flares and The Father's Garden (by Linda)

Thank You Father for the Truth of Nourishing abundance on the Solar Wind !

The general fear mongering would tell us to be afraid of the Solar Flare we are receiving from our Sun. When, in Truth, we are receiving a "blast" of particles to nourish and sustain the earth and The People, that is able to penetrate the "perimeter barrier" the unrighteous - unholy have established.

This is a time of great abundance, if one is able and willing to receive it. If one were to hide and refuse the "drop shipment" while participating in the false belief that if received, it could damage a fragile mental structure, the Divine Opportunity is missed and fear prevails.

What would have strengthened, nourished, and sustained The People, is "harvested", or let go dormant in the fields, by those who cannot directly receive the abundance of The Father.

This is the perfect time for one who has a dwelling, well, and land laying dormant, and would like to see The Father's Garden grow to "gift" or provide a grant to our project for The Father. We are focused on Western Kansas, for this ²⁸Posted on February 18, 2011 by Linda D. Mea.

"heart" of the western hemisphere is where The Father would have His garden spread a balm upon the "heart" of the earth.

On a SunShiny day of Truth, Love and The Father Way, with crystal blue skies, balmy breeze, balmy temperatures, pure air and pure moisture !

Money may not grow on trees, but Abundant resources sure rain from the sky each and every day. It is time to re-learn how to receive the Abundance and nourishment Father makes freely available to us.

Abundance rains from the skies

021911

Linda and I have both written several entries regarding the knowledge Father has brought to us which explains that the solar wind brings His Abundance on a daily basis to Earth and thus to us. Yesterday, Linda and I wrote about the Blessings of the "drop shipment" Father made available via this latest solar flare which just arrived upon Earth.

Did you go out and receive the shipment?

Here is a most interesting picture (Habbal, et al.) of the Sun taken during a total solar eclipse in 2008. The article titled "Solar Emissions" ²⁹ explains that the red and green swirls represent highly charged iron streaming out of the Sun.

²⁹http://news.nationalgeographic.com/news/2010/01/photogalleries/100105-week-in-space-pictures-76/index.html#/iron-sun_11783_600x450.jpg

What they kind of ignore in this article is that this iron eventually makes it to the Earth. They also ignore the implications of such Knowledge.

If the Sun makes iron available to us on a daily basis, what else might there be made freely available to us each and every day?

Can you begin to see how we could change the way we live our lives based on this Knowledge?

Right side up

022011

In the past few days, I have been contemplating how to address what Father showed me about the well known "hierarchy of needs" developed by Maslow.

In Maslow's theory, we are told that there are 6 hierarchies to which humans aspire and that we cannot accomplish the higher hierarchies of self actualization and self transcendence until the more basic needs are met. In this model the physiological needs come first and self transcendence comes last.

The basic needs according to Maslow are:

1. physiological needs: eating, and breathing
2. safety needs: order, control, money, health, insurance
3. love and belonging: relationships, sex, acceptance by others, loving and being loved
4. esteem: to be accepted and valued by others
5. self actualization: be all that you can be
6. self transcendence: spiritual

It is the case that as all things of unrighteous - unholy origin, this information is a misrepresentation of Truth.

I will suggest a different view for consideration. In this view we return what Maslow turned upside down back to its upright position.

First and foremost, we are spiritual beings who Desire to grow spiritually. Father has explained to us that we come to Earth to experience Life through a LightHearted, Joyful adventure and in so doing, we receive the spiritual Knowledge needed to progress from the Father to Source.

When we stay True to ourSelves and what we came here to do and experience, then self actualization naturally follows because we are becoming "all that we can be". When we grow spiritually and experience the Bounty, Beauty, and Knowledge we came to Earth to receive, we naturally have self esteem. We naturally Respect ourselves because we are being True to ourSelves. This means that we are free from the need to gain respect from others and to do things to prove we are worthy of respect and admiration.

When we are True to ourSelves and thus Respect ourSelves, we are free of the self hatred, pain, and sorrow that comes when we betray ourSelves. Free of self hatred, pain, and sorrow we are naturally capable of expressing ourSelves as the Love that we are. There is no need to give and receive love from others, there is no need for love and approval, and there is no dependence on family and friends. Our Love and Creative Energies are no longer misdirected toward the need to please others. We don't create and do things out of pain, hatred, sorrow, and the need to prove ourselves worthy of being accepted, loved, and respected. We are free to Create in ways that are Soul Nourishing and Harmonious with the Divine.

When we express Love as Self and properly use our Energy, we Live Harmoniously with Universal Law, Universal Truth, and Universal Love. Our safety is in the Father and there is no need to create control mechanisms purported to ensure our safety. Because we don't squander the Love we Are and our Creative Energy all the resources we receive are properly utilized and we live in Health and Abundance. We don't need to work for money or go to doctors to stay healthy.

When we live in such state of Health, we are then able to fully receive all the sustenance and nourishment Father makes freely available to us. In Health, we breathe and take in the resources that rain from the sky as they are carried to the Earth by the solar wind. When we are in Health, fully receiving our Nourishment and Sustenance Father makes freely available, then we no longer eat to stay alive. Eating becomes a way to InJoy the fruits of Earth's Endeavor. In such state of Health, Love as Self, Respect of Self, Abundance, and Satiation, we experience a state of Being that goes beyond Rapture.

As you can see, Life makes more sense when we look at it right side up. When we make Truth and the Father more important than anything else we restructure our lives right side up and as the saying goes "everything else follows".

Backward thinking

022111

Looking at Life through the "eyes of deception" results in backward thinking. To go about Life with the notion that to achieve spiritual transcendence one must first meet other basic hierarchical needs, is to go about life in the wrong way. It is a life full of obstacles, frustrations, and disappointments.

We think that overcoming such challenges is a sign of bravery and achievement, but is it really so?

In eastern tradition there is common misconception that energy is to be moved up the spine. Everyone who has attempted to do this has realized that there are many apparent "obstacles" that prohibit such upward flow of energy. It takes People years upon years of faithful meditation and practice to "overcome" such "obstacles". People who succeed are seen as great spiritual leaders who have triumphed over the limitations of physical expression... but are they and have they really?

Father has explained to us that energy is not meant to flow up the spine, but rather down the spine. The so called "obstacles" that People have been overcoming for hundreds, if not thousands of years, are the safety measures that are in place to ensure the energy flows in the right direction, similar to how the valves in the heart and veins ensure blood flows in the right direction with every heartbeat.

Can you see the fallacy of real backward thinking?

Empty promise

022211

As illustrated in yesterday's entry, real backward thinking causes one to do things against the natural flow of Creation. This is by unrighteous - unholy design. To try to succeed within the framework of deception so well characterized by Maslow is to seek failure. There is no enlightenment at the end of such road... the problem is that we have been fooled into thinking there is.

Linda was shown by Father that:

We have been going at Life the wrong way. We are neither the mental process nor the physical process. Instead we are spiritual energetic beings who have a mental and physical process in our care. By taking care of ourselves as spiritual energetic beings, we maintain Proper Function of the mental and physical processes.

Many People who have recognized the Truth of their spiritual nature, still go about life within the framework of deception. They still think they have to work for money, till or kill for food, have a special someone for love, have family / friends / community for a sense of belonging, accomplish things for love, approval, and respect, and improve themselves for enlightenment. This idea of self improvement to overcome our purported "weak / defective / destructive / sinful" nature is very pervasive.

Linda was also shown by Father that:

When we go about Life within this framework of deception we are kept separated from what we should be doing and how we should approach doing what needs to be done. We become too absorbed in the deception to find our Way in Truth.

This relates directly to Maslow's hierarchy of needs. The unrighteous - unholy keep People absorbed as low in the hierarchy as they can while making an unspoken claim that it is only those at the top of the financial chain that are worthy of love, respect, self actualization, and enlightenment: those who have everything get more... even enlightenment. But is this really so?

This unspoken promise of enlightenment at the top of the chain is enough for many People to sell their Souls. They think that the end justifies the means and that the enlightenment they will receive at the top will "erase / negate" what they did to get there. Well, Father Says it does not work that way. To succeed in the framework of deception is to fail. This is why People who reach the top of the chain and "have it all" say that there is nothing there. There is nothing there because it is trap designed by the unrighteous - unholy.

Their trap encompasses both angles, the material and the spiritual. Either way, People sell their Souls for a promise of enlightenment at the top of the chain.

These People then forget along the way that enlightenment is what they sought in the first place and do nothing to prepare for it.

Those who retain a slight remembrance prepare in all the wrong ways. In the end, at the top of the chain, all they have is their achievements, trophies, medals, diplomas, financial status, and an awareness that what they did to get there did matter and weighs heavily on their Souls and Hearts.

It is neither the Father nor Source who awaits People at the top of the chain but rather a system designed to drain away their financial status as their physical body's independent functioning capacity is destroyed unto death. The sooner the better.

How do they to that? Well, they don't know... give them money and they will research it and find out.

Another Step Toward Truth

022311

We have been living within this framework of deception for so long that we have accepted that People's lives naturally move toward the pull of death. We often hear how death is the only certainty of life and how we must come to terms with this "sooner or later".

Well, Father has news for us the People: death is not a certainty of Life but rather a certainty of playing the unrighteous – unholy game. When we stop going at Life the wrong way, there is no such thing as death.

Between the state of Life and death there is what Father calls "mortal endeavor". This is where we are. We are born upon the world, we kind of aimlessly live for a few decades as we try to fulfill a false heartfelt desire that is programmed based on Maslow's hierarchies or some other adaptation of it, and then we die. Occasionally there are People that walk upon this Earth that succeed in braking away from the imprisoning dull of every day life that is thrust upon them by the unrighteous - unholy. These People live what Father calls "highest mortal endeavor".

Highest mortal endeavor is one step closer to Life or the Father Kingdom, however it is not of one a-chord with it. In reality, highest mortal endeavor is a compromise that gives the illusion of change and accomplishment while remaining within the framework of deception. Highest mortal endeavor is a trap of the unrighteous – unholy designed to entrap those who have the strength and Desire to brake free from the deception.

Darkness comes to People at their best hour. It comes to "befriend you not, but show you their ways". In our spiritual hunger, innocence, and lack of spiritual Discernment, many times we get seduced by their offerings because we think that being at the top of the chain / hierarchy will allow us to receive the enlightenment we so much Desire. Thus, when the opportunity for fame, fortune, the perfect partner, for "saving / changing the world", for secret knowledge no one has access to, and so on presents itself, People tend to take the bait.

Father has explained to us that there are two common ways in which People who have been deceived react once they recognize the deception. One, in their pain and sorrow they become the greatest purveyors of deception doing unto others what was done unto them. Two, they slide into a trip of self guilt and flagellation that leads to despair and depression. This is when death, decay, and destruction show up (many times dimensionally) to enlist them in their "fight against darkness".

I have certainly been deceived many times by the unrighteous – unholy and have experienced both reactions described above when I would realize "I had been had". It is by Father's Grace and the Knowledge He has shared with Linda and I that I'm learning how to do it differently.

Father Says we need not limit ourselves to "highest mortal endeavor". We need not get stuck in simply trying to improve our lives within the deception. Instead we can receive the freedom and transformation that is available to each one of us. This is a step that requires leaving the familiar way of doing things and embracing a new and different Way.

It is the Father Which Is in Heaven Who provides the "Know-how" of how to step out of the deception and be returned to the Truth of Who We Are.

Missing link 4

The past few entries leads me to the fourth missing link that Father has shared through Linda's insights. Word in brackets have been added by me:

Linda: Basically, ...Father has been addressing topics where we have a division of our energy. They are in fact actually ways in which we put [deception] / someone else before the Father [Way / Universal Truth].

Linda and I call this division of energy a "split mind". On one side of the split we want / believe one thing, and on the other we want / believe something opposite.

For example, seeking restoration to Truth of Self which moves energy down the spine, while consciously seeking to attain this by moving energy up the spine. Or seeking True Enlightenment which ends our play in the unrighteous - unholy game, while seeking to master the framework of deception / be at the top of the chain.

We can't go about Truth by means of the deception. To do so is to place the ways of deception above Truth or the Father Way. Father has been addressing the ways in which we think the answer to our True Desire is found by following the framework of deception.

Linda:

That proverbial verse in the bible which says "thou shall have no gods before me". I'm not saying that this is that commandment, what I'm saying though is that this is probably where that thought originated. That in fact there are many things that we can desire or seek that end up coming before our journey with the Father. "Oh yeah, I'm going to do my walk with the Father but first let me do this, take care of that". It is like Jesus said to the guy: "let the dead bury the dead". That was pretty radical: rather than burying your father and then walking with Father, walk with the Father. Obviously the guy had other family members that could attend to the burial. It was simply his positional responsibility within the family.

Inherent in this is the fact that then there would be something else to attend to, and something else to attend to... which is True for all of us. There is always going to be something else: "well just let me do this and then I walk with the Father. Well, now that this is done, there is this one other little thing that has come up. Well I never realized I had to attend to this...". It is kind of this perpetual healing process, there is always going to be something until we decide that enough is enough and that the Father sees us as we Truly are right now.

It is only we who are participating in the deception who are asleep in the deception. Who seek this state of perfection before we can walk with the Father. Even if in our own eyes we cannot see ourselves in our perfection (mistakes, injuries and all), if we can simply accept that the Father sees us in our perfection and He asks nothing else of us for us to walk with Him. Yet we go to Him continuing to seek the end of our imperfection. Placing that before Him.

What Father is Saying is that all we have to do is stop putting other things [the ways of deception] before Him / [the Truth]. He is always the last thing we are going to get around to. And it may be the case that we have stopped that cycle with everything but one thing. As long as there is one thing that we have to tidy up, finish up, end, receive, we keep ourselves asleep in the deception.

In every choice we make we must choose to further our journey with the Father. There cannot be one choice during the day that is more important to us to put before the Father. Because there are many things that we do throughout the day that have no impact on our journey with the Father, we kind of are lulled into forgetfulness. Rather than 'standing porter at the portal of our mind', as Mary Baker Edy would say, we are lulled into that forgetfulness.

Father has no concern for, no blame for the fact the unrighteous unholy attack us. His only concern is that we not receive it, that we keep our mind on Him.

Keeping our focus on Father and Truth is what allows our Guiding System to realign itself Properly. It is what allows us to see outside the framework of deception and to stop playing their game. It is what allows us to recognize what to do and how to approach what is to be done in a way that actually supports our Desire to be restored to the Truth of Who We Are. It is what allows us to recognize that the change in direction of flow is a sign of success rather than failure... (and it does take some time to get used to the change).

Missing link 5

I have written in various entries about the false belief we tend to have that before we can walk with Father, we must attain perfection. I have also written that Father has shown us that seeking perfection, to then walk with Him, is to do things backward. First we walk with Him and then everything else follows.

While there is no need for perfection, it is the case that allowing ourselves to be restored to the full and whole Truth of Who We Are is applicable. This restoration is not the end goal, but rather a stepping stone that allows greater things to unfold.

Here is missing link 5 that Father shared with us through Linda's insight. Words in brackets are my addition for clarification purposes:

The purpose of [being restored to our full] spiritual capacity [is] so that [we can do what we came] to this planet to do:

Take the walk with the Father to enter the Garden of Source.

That's it. We walk in Father's Garden so we can reach the Garden of Source.

Without [our full spiritual capacity restored, we are] like the leaf withering on the tree. [Our] responsibility is to see that [we do] not wither on the tree. That [we have] a Joy-full, Lighthearted Journey, Walk, Visit with the Father in His Garden as [we] walk to the gate where [we] enter Source's Garden.

To place the Father first in our lives and to further our Walk with Him is to keep this Truth active and present. We are here to have "a Joy-full, Lighthearted Journey, Walk, Visit with the Father in His Garden as [we] enter Source's Garden."

This is why "hard work will never win the day". Our experience upon Earth is not about working, it is not about family, it is not about friends, it is not about spouses and children, it is not about movies, theaters, vacations, concerts, or church, it is not about labor, competition, or profit making, it is not about civilization, and it is not about tilling the land.

Our experience upon Earth is about an individual Journey and Walk with the Father, which yes, may or may not be experienced in loose community with other like minded People. We came to Earth as a result of our Great Desire for Spiritual Progress that leads to the Knowledge of Source. Life on Earth is about a Lighthearted adventure and Play which Father facilitates and supports.

Father has explained to us, this is why we like Playing. It is what life on Earth is about: a Lighthearted Play in the Father Way that leads to Source.

Celebration

030211

It is a beautiful sunny day with coolness upon the breeze. Perfect for spring cleaning and planting preparation.

It seems most appropriate this day to celebrate the Universal Truth that:

*...the Father is Sovereign
in all matters great and small.*

May you have a Blessed day of Joyful preparation.

Planning for Abundance

As we prepare for spring and for the Abundance that is freely made available by Father through Nature, let's consider the possibility that perhaps plants receive their nourishment not only through the soil, but also through the bounty of resources that shower us from the "heavens" on a daily basis. From water and amino acids, to metals and crystals it all is made available to Nature and us on a daily basis from the "heavens".

From the book titled "The Universe" from the Life Nature Library, by David Bergamini and the Editors of Time-Life Books, 1969, we learn on page 70, that about four million tons of matter reach the earth each year. We also learn that this is the result of about 100 million shooting stars and billions of micrometeorites arriving to earth on a daily basis and that perhaps this "dust" accounts for up to 10 feet of Earth's "topsoil". Mr. Bergamini tells us in this book that today's farmer plows "ancient star dust". If you visit this article ³⁰ for 3rd grade schoolchildren, you will learn that this "annoying dust" contains different minerals including iron, diamonds, and gold.

Now consider that the above estimate accounts for only shooting stars and micrometeorites. How much more resources would be accounted for if one took into consideration that which the solar wind carries into the Earth from the Sun? Or what about what the Earth receives from the interstellar matter which contains such items as hydrocarbons, amino acids, and water ³¹?

Why dig into the Earth for her resources when we are daily showered by such Abundance? Why even work for money when gold and diamonds rain from the skies on a daily basis? All we need do is breathe the air, absorb it through our skin, and yes even smile to Freely receive these amino acids, water, gold, diamonds, and so on.

³⁰http://155.44.225.28/science/hmsc/3/d/cricket/cktcontent_3d.shtml

³¹"Secrets of the Universe, Your Guide to the Cosmos... and Beyond", MCMXCVIX, published by International Masters Publishers, AB, under Category 2 Understanding the Cosmos, Interstellar Matter.

Could it be this is why "country people" who live where the air is clean tend to be more healthy and robust than "city people" who are covered by a cloud of pollution? Could it be this helps explain why many People are restored to health when they go to health resorts way up in the mountains where they breathe in fresh, clean air and bathe in the SunLight?

Based on what I have been reading and learning from Father, I suggest that perhaps the reason plants are able to absorb nutrients from foliar sprays is because leaves are meant to absorb the nourishment that arrives daily from the "heavens" (perhaps via the morning dew?). Otherwise, there would be no mechanism by which plants could use any nourishment received through the leaves. After all, if as we are told, there is nothing in the air but mainly oxygen and nitrogen, and rainwater is completely "pure" then why would evolution create a mechanism that would allow a plant to absorb nutrients from the leaves when non exist to be received in the first place?

Now the question becomes, how could we change the way we garden, nourish ourselves, and perhaps even how we live our lives so as to benefit from the resources Father makes Freely available to us each and every day? And perhaps even more important, how do we receive and enhance our capacity to receive such nourishment in a way that is Harmonious with the Divine?

...a mystery adventure of introspection and observation awaiting our Desire to walk in the Father Way of Truth.

Where did it all go?

030511

Did you read the article ³² I referenced in my last entry? In this article we are told that the amount of stardust reaching our Earth on a yearly basis is 40,000 tons. There is another article ³³ posted recently that says the same thing: 100 tons per day (36,500 tons per year). Now, compare these numbers with the assertion made in 1969 in the book "The Universe" by Life Nature Library (also referenced in my last entry) that there are more than 4 MILLION tons of matter added yearly to the Earth from space.

So what happened between 1969 and 2011 that caused 3 MILLION 960 THOUSAND tons of matter to no longer reach the Earth? That is a 99 percent reduction in gold, silver, diamonds, water, amino acids, iron, and other minerals, gemstones, and matter reaching the Earth ! This is of astronomical proportion, pun intended !

Have the unrighteous unholy managed to put that much debris and that many satellites around the earth since the late 1950's to block 99 percent of the Abundance we used to receive? Is it air pollution? Is it the artificial cloud covers daily spread around the Earth to block the Sun and cosmic rays? Is there something else at play?

Father calls this "current sea piracy". He has explained to us that this thievery is perpetuated by the unrighteous - unholy who pirate away most of the Abundance that is made freely available to us even before it reaches the Earth. In "exchange" for such theft, they give us all the poisons they dump through airplanes and all the pollution generated by their industrial processes. The more they take of the current sea, the more pollution they dump upon Earth in "exchange".

After the unrighteous - unholy pilfer such Abundance from us, they then give some of it back to us as long as we are willing to participate in their mercantile game which enslaves everyone who participates in it. The more "we want" of the Abundance they have taken from us in the first place, the more we have to work and pollute and the more they complain of how "costly" it is for them to give us a "high standard of living" and how "greedy" we are. Clean technology is abhorred by the unrighteous - unholy because it reduces the amount of pollution they can generate and thus give in exchange for the Abundance they pilfer from us in the first place. It "costs" them "booty" to have a clean Earth.

³²http://155.44.225.28/science/hmsc/3/d/cricket/cktcontent_3d.shtml

³³http://www.redorbit.com/news/space/2004519/whats_hitting_earth/

Father has explained to us that we have a right to the Abundance that He provides to us on a daily basis. All we have to do is ask that the "current sea piracy" be ended and then be willing to do things in a new and different way that is Harmonious with the Divine.

To stop looking unto the unrighteous - unholy for trinkets and the false glitter of their technology is a wise choice.

To turn to the Father to Freely receive of His Abundance as we restore ourselves to the Truth of Who We Are and as we discover new "low tech" technologies that are not only more advanced but also in total and complete Harmony with the Divine is a most wonderful adventure awaiting our choice.

To see things differently

I'm very happy with how the information about the current sea has been flowing and providing the background to differentiate between opulence of unrighteous - unholy and elegant simplicity of the Father Way.

In my last entry, I explained that the unrighteous - unholy take the vast majority of the Abundance that is made available to us by the Father and then give us trinkets in return for labor. It is like the Europeans arriving in the Americas and stealing the land upon which Natives lived freely and then requiring Natives to enslave themselves in the mercantile game so as to make money to buy back the property that was theirs in the first place. With the added burden that now they also have to pay for poisoned water, sewer disposal, property fees, electricity, yard maintenance, and other conveniences of "civilized life" needed to avoid fines. What is even perhaps more insane is that many would argue the Natives should feel "blessed" to have received the "privilege" to become part of civilization. That it was a "waste" to have such riches remain unproductive under the care of such "savages". That it was for the benefit of mankind the land had to be tamed and brought under the reigns of civilization. "Look how much good has come out of it!" they would say. Let's see, polluted rivers, polluted and poisoned water, polluted air, enslavement, famine, destruction of the soil and its fertility, sick People... need more be said?

The thing about this is that if one cannot recognize the false logic used to justify and impose this way of life unto free land and People, one will not be able to recognize the fallacy of the unrighteous - unholy who use the same false claims to pirate the current sea and to enslave us into their system of life at whatever cost that might be to us. If one cannot recognize the fallacy of thinking that it is a privilege to work in the mercantile game to buy things and that a nation's economic health is determined by how many People are thrust into such labor, then one will not be able to welcome and value the Blessings of the Father which are given Freely and would have no one work / labor.

A Life without work / slabor? Yes. Remember the entry "Missing Link 5" ³⁴?

Life on Earth is about a Lighthearted Play in the Father Way that leads to Source. Yes, we have been dubbed and yes, it would be beneficial to stop playing their game of slabor and return to the Lighthearted Play of the Father Way.

Interesting information

It is interesting how information just seems to be coming together from the most unexpected places. A few days ago, we received a catalog from Territorial Seed Company. Browsing through it, I came to page 90 where they describe their "Rutgers CS Space Select" tomato.

According to their description, NASA did an experiment in 1984 in which it sent seeds into space. This seed (and perhaps other things as well) orbited the Earth on the "Long Duration Exposure Facility" for almost 6 years. In this description we also learn that the "Rutgers CS Space Select" tomato is a direct descendant from the seeds sent to space and that not only was the NASA experiment a success but that no extraterrestrial mutations have been observed on these plants.

Now this is quite intriguing to say the least. Here on Earth we are reminded on a frequent basis how the atmosphere protects us from deadly cosmic and solar radiation which would cause all sorts of monstrous mutations, yet seeds which orbited the Earth on an "Exposure Facility" for 6 years not only survived, but did not mutate. That is to say, their DNA was not altered by the natural energies and frequencies of Creation.

In the end, we will find that all genetic manipulations and mutations to which we have been exposed have been caused by genetic tampering of unrighteous - unholy origin. Creation is not into genetic manipulation and the Father would certainly not provide us with a Sun that would destroy our genetic makeup. If anything, cosmic and solar radiation facilitates People's capacity to restore their genetic makeup to its natural un-tampered expression. Similar to what is observed in the plant kingdom where hybrid varieties revert to their original makeup when left alone.

To some such return to a natural / un-tampered state of being is considered a "brute" and "unsophisticated" de-evolution, but to those who have the eyes to see, it is a Blessing.

That which the Father has Created to support our walk in His Garden unto Source is a Blessing and is designed to facilitate our Spiritual Well Being.

Yes, the Sun will go through point of departure and yes, the Earth will be affected by this, but the only reason such Progression will cause such destructive upheaval upon the Earth is because of the unrighteous - unholy presence / activity and the toxic waste they dump upon this Earth and People on a daily basis.

By the way...

Let's bring the current sea information down to Earth and see if the unrighteous - unholy activity of pirating the current sea manifests in other ways.

The rice, wheat, and sugar that is obtained directly from nature is wholesome and healthy. However, once farmers hand this food to unrighteous - unholy purveyors, it is taken to manufacturing facilities where each of these foods is stripped from all nutritive value. The end product? White rice, white flour, and white sugar: symbols of modern convenience and progress.

If you listen to Patrick Timphone's interview ³⁵ with Dr. Mark Sircus aired on 02/13/10 you will hear him refer to these foods as "suicide foods". You will also hear him explain that the problem with these particular processed foods is that the body can't digest them because they have been stripped from all nutritive value. As a result of this, the body is then forced to turn them into a 'whole food' by taking minerals from its reserves. These "refined" foods not only do not nourish the body or Soul, but actually take nutrients away. This leaves a person hungrier and more malnourished and entraps a person into a cycle of ever increasing consumerism.

By the way, have you noticed that the Sun has been looking white for the past several years?

Interesting possibility

When I read yesterday's entry to Linda she made a most keen observation: "this explains why the tomato seeds did not experience mutations while in space, they were receiving the full spectrum of solar / cosmic energies".

That is indeed an interesting possibility. Here on Earth the Sun / cosmic radiation has become harmful because it has been stripped from its "nutritive value" by the unrighteous - unholy , while in space, where it is still whole and complete, it is benevolent in nature.

It is simple to make a change when it comes to food. Instead of eating white rice, white flour, and white sugar, we just switch to their wholesome, unadulterated, unsophisticated, unrefined version. Hand harvested wild rice, whole grain flour, and brown sugar cane.

When it comes to receiving the full spectrum of Sun / cosmic radiation all we need do is ask Father that the piracy of the current sea be ended. Then we must be willing for things to change. When all the satellites and space debris are evaporated by solar flares, and all devices the unrighteous - unholy use to pilfer our current sea are nullified, we must recognize it for the Blessing such action is. Until that day, we must prepare to the best of our ability to live Life in a new and different way that is Harmonious with the Divine.

Important entry

031111

Linda made an important entry ³⁶ today The information contained in it is certainly pertinent to stop our play in the game of the unrighteous – unholy.

So, without further due, here is a copy of her entry:

"on arrival and no endorsement

On a Grand and Glorious Day !

Scheduling posts / alien arrival scheduling posts / alien arrival . . . which to write about ?

Obviously, my scheduling needs polishing.

The arrival thing, though . . .

In Holly's Headlines ³⁷ there was an article on sightings in West Africa ³⁸, and this year being "arrival" year ³⁹. Now, Stan ramping up his radio show appearances and telling the world he may be the one being used to let the people know what the government won't disclose regarding geological and alien events.

My reference to Stan is not to be construed as endorsement of him or what he says. Yes, I agree, the first group to "arrive" are deceivers, but so is the second group. Neither group are our "saviors". Listening to Stan is an excellent exercise in discernment. One, I might add, that raised Patrick Timpone greatly, as a radio show host, ⁴⁰ in my opinion. Patrick is a "gentleman and scholar", as they used to say.

My BIG SUGGESTION OF THE DAY, is that when they "arrive" we tell them we don't play, get thee away.

We can: not open the door,
we can: not invite them in,
we can: not play.

All deception gone ! All Truth in ! Let it be so !

On a SunShiny day of Truth and Love, pure balmy air-breeze, pure balmy temps, pure moisture, and turquoiseblue skies !"

As Father would have 031411

In the Father Way I wish no one anything other than Father's Will for them. As St. Patrick once said:

- Christ in the Heart of those who think of me
- Christ in the mouth of those who speak of me

I also add:

- Christ in the eyes of those who look at me
- Christ in the ears of those who hear me
- Christ in the hands of those who touch me
- Christ in my Heart, mouth, eyes, ears, and hands.

If anything unlike this surfaces toward another, it is time to do some Altar work and lay the emotions on the Divine Altar of Divine Love and Divine Power in Right and Proper Exchange for Peace and Love of Self. Then I ask Father to Seal, Surround, and Protect me with the Sparkling Golden Silver White Light of All That Is Righteous and Holy.

If the Altar work does not work, then these emotions are not yours. You can't "Heal" what is not yours. Either someone is sending you these emotions or someone else's emotions got lodged in you. When this happens, you ask to be non to the energy of another or to have whatever was lodged in you from another be lifted from you in Right and Proper Exchange for Truth of Who You Are and Love as Self. You may also want to Altar whatever part in you identifies with these emotions and thinks itself justified in harboring them.

As "disparate beings", we each progress Freely from each other as Father would have. And for this I'm Joyfully Great-full.

Kind words

031611

I'm frequently surprised to see how pertinent what I write is for my Journey with the Father. There is much that I have learned from this creative expression.

Linda kindly said one day that if she was somewhere out there and somehow had come across my blog, she would be one to read it. I smiled with content and said: "Thank you, I would too...".

It is indeed a Blessing to Know someone like Linda who supports my Journey with Father and my Desire to walk Free upon the Land as Father would have.

The unrighteous - unholy have certainly done everything they could to prevent me from ever meeting People like Linda and have since done everything they could to destroy such Blessing. It is however the case "that the Father is Sovereign in all matters great and small".

When the Father and Love for Truth are the most important things in your life, deception and those who purvey it fade away. Until this comes to pass, have Faith and Know that Father's Will Prevails in all of its Glory each and every day.

From "here" to "there"

031811

Yesterday March 17 was equinox day, a day of 12 hours of light. This means we have been pretty much right or directly behind the Sun. Now we are ready to progress toward the "other side" of the Sun where we shall have the Summer Solstice.

From "here" to "there" there are many Blessings to be received as we Journey in the Father Way.

Thank You Father for your Grace and Good Will for us.

Wonder-full follow-up

031911

Several entries ago (Missing Link 5 ⁴¹), I explained that Father Conveyed to us that we the People are here on Earth to "walk in Father's Garden so we can reach the Garden of Source."

This Knowledge is certainly conducive to changing our perception of ourselves. We are spiritual Beings who have a great Desire to Progress in our Spiritual Understanding and Experience of Creation. It is an Honor and a Blessing that our Integrity and innate Desire and Love for Universal Truth, Law, and Love has been rewarded with the Opportunity to walk in Father's Garden where we may Know the Father Way and prepare for our Progression unto Source.

The Beauty of Who We Are must indeed be Divine. The music we Play must indeed be Divine. We must indeed be Strong, Valiant, Honorable, and of great Integrity, for otherwise, we would not have been allowed to walk upon Father's Garden.

Father has noted that the fact we still function and have retained a Desire to live Peacefully, to Respect the Earth and each other, and to seek Spiritual Progression that is Harmonious with Nature, even though we have been exposed to 7,000 years of unrighteous - unholy abuse and molestation, is a testimony to our strength and Love for the Father and Desire to Progress unto Source. There should be no doubt in our minds and Hearts as to the wonderful Beings that we are.

We the People can and should walk in full and complete Respect of our "primitive nature" that makes it possible for us to seek Harmony with Nature and the Divine. We must however recognize there is a need to shake off the deception put upon us and that it is time to return our focus back to our walk in the Father Garden.

With Honest appreciation, delight, Injoyment, Blessings, and Thanks Giving we can look unto Father to show us the Way back to His Garden.

Harmony with the Father

032111

A few entries ago ("A step toward Truth" ⁴², "Harmonious equals not subservient" ⁴³, and "Missing Link 5" ⁴⁴) we learned that to walk Harmoniously with the Father does not equal subserviency. Instead, Harmony with the Father equals making a choice to be restored to and Live in the Truth of Who the Father Is, in the Truth of Who We Are, in the Truth of Who Mother Earth Is, and in the Truth of why we are upon this Earth. In these entries we also learned that to make this Truth active and present is to reawaken to the Knowledge we came to Earth to have "a Joy-full, Lighthearted Journey, Walk, Visit with the Father in His Garden as [we] enter Source's Garden."

It now seems appropriate to expand upon this understanding by taking a look at another insight Father recently shared through Linda. As previously, words in brackets are my additions:

"Harmony means that [we] walk in the Garden, talking with the Father, learning from the Father, thinking about what He shows [us] so that [we] can increase [our] understanding, [our] perception, [and] progress [our] perception so that [we] can walk all the way to Source's Garden Gate.

That is all Father really set out to do: to bring us greater Understanding, Teaching, Perception that would allow us to continue our walk into Source's Garden.

Coming here was supposed to be fun. [It] was supposed to be done with a Light Heart [and] Joy because it is something we wanted to do: we wanted to be able to go to Source's Garden, to Hear Him, to understand Him, to learn even more and in the process experience the Garden. To do this was originally a totally personal choice.

⁴²Posted on February 10, 2011 and available in this book.

⁴³Posted on February 14, 2011 and available in this book.

⁴⁴Posted on March 01, 2011 and available in this book.

People [have] come to the point of [having to go] to [the] masters of the far East for the spiritual experience of Truth they seek, because to their perception Father is no longer available. In this country, the People who could afford it or were strongly driven by it, would go to the Eastern Masters looking for something beyond religion.

The point of this is that when we talk [about] being Harmonious with the Father we are not talking about religion and we are not talking about slabor. We are talking about sharing, Joy, Light Heart, Being the Love we Are, Being Sovereign. None of those things are abstractions for us in that experience, they are tangible, they are real, [and] they are expressing Who We Are.

The things the deceivers impose on us, the deception, is said by them to be what it is to experience the Father, to be Harmonious with the Father. There is no [longer a] recognition of the Truth. "

With this expanded Knowledge that to be Harmonious with the Father is to experience the Garden on Earth so as to progress unto Source by means of a LightHearted, Joyful experience, we can stop looking toward the East for direction and inspiration and we can begin to solidify that consciousness called Heaven right where we are.

Placing this Universal Truth above all else and making our Daily Communion with Father the most important aspect of our day is simply realigning ourselves with the reason we chose to come here to Earth in the first place.

Home sweet Home

032211

In the Heliotropos series ("Great Opportunities"), I spoke about the Wisdom of taking care of Home first. But what and where is Home?

Before Linda and I started our Journey together with the Father, we each had the standard idea of "home": the house where a family dwells and in which one can find rest and refuge from the outside world.

Well, as it turns out, there is more to Home than meets the eye. So let us go to the another missing link that Father shared through Linda's insight.

Linda:

"The way I see is at this point, the Desire of the People for Home, to have a Home, is to have their own Garden of Eden which is a little sacred space on the Earth where they walk with the Father in the Garden of that space as they are progressing to Source. Everyone wouldn't live in the same Garden. The Garden of Eden would not be one place to all People. Just as it was to Adam and Eve for example, it might be some little acres in MO to Linda and Martin. If we had a valley and enough acres, throughout those acres there might be four or five other People. But it still wouldn't be that many People.

Father had already told us that sacred spaces are only sacred spaces to certain People, not everyone who goes to a sacred space is going to feel the sacredness of that energy. Some People, probably Blue Thunder is one, would say the whole Earth is sacred. This is True in a certain sense, but all sacred spaces are not sacred spaces to all People, otherwise everyone would occupy the same space and that also allows for the coming and going of People. If at any given time there was only one sacred space for any given person or few People it means they couldn't go any place else, and that no else could go to the place they were living if they decided to go someplace else.

So the longing for Home is really the sacred space or garden, falsely called the Garden of Eden as if that were for all People. We all came from Adam and Eve from the Garden of Eden. No we didn't. That is why there were other People, other places, the whole planet was not the Garden of Eden. That was the example of one place two People lived in a sacred space and walked through their garden with Father on their way to Source.

Again, a piece of the Truth has deceived millions or billions of People for a very long time. If they couldn't understand what Home and the Garden is or the idea of living in the Garden of Eden, they are never going to get to Source. They are going to remain slabor to the idea of religion / government."

A new season

So here you have it:

The understanding that we came to Earth to experience Father's Garden so as to progress unto Source's Garden. That to fulfill our Desire for this experience first, allows everything else to happen. That in this Garden, the nourishment and sustenance is made freely available on a daily basis through the current sea, courtesy of the Sun and Father. That our Desire for Home is Truly the Desire for our own sacred space / Garden in which we experience the Blessings of the Father and His Guidance and Direction that leads us unto Source.

Is it then any wonder that the outdoors does the Soul so much good?

Perhaps, if we would begin this new growing season to see our garden / backyard / outdoors with this new understanding, we would begin to see many good changes come to our Life.

About the Authors

Linda Diane Mead was born and raised in these United States of America. She obtained an under-graduate degree in Psychology with a minor in Philosophy and a PhD in Metaphysics from a Theological School.

Martin Riedel was born in Argentina, South America, and lived in Uruguay and Mexico as he grew up. After beginning college in Mexico he came to these United States of America, where he graduated with a degree in Chemical Engineering.

Upon meeting, they embarked on a memorable journey of self discovery that took them across the States. This book is one of the many fruits of their 'Labour of Love.'

Linda left the material plane in 2014.
