Side note by Martin

The Father Which Is in Heaven referred to in all of the material Linda and I have created is the Father Jesus taught us to pray to in the Lord's Prayer. 'Living God,' 'Father Within,' and 'Father' are used interchangeably and refer to the same Father Which Is in Heaven.

Please take note that the concepts we have "inherited" in regards to Who and What the Father Is, His Desires, Goals, and Aspirations, as well as how He Manifests on Earth and in Humanity are very limited, constricted, and quite frankly suffocating. Please do give yourself room for expansion in this regard and do not be put off by the use of this terminology. The information contained in this book is neither patriarchal, religious, spiritualist, scientific, dogmatic, atheist, shamanic, new age, worldly, alien, nor any other modality. It just Is what it Is.

Also be aware that while there is only one Father Which Is in Heaven and no one else can "claim" this Name, the words 'god,' 'father,' and 'lord' in and of themselves seem to not carry this type of restriction. Therefore, unless one makes it clear that the use of words such as 'God', 'Living God,' or 'Father' specifically address Father Which is Heaven, it is possible for any number of entities floating around with a 'god' or 'lord' complex to answer the call.

That this is not an issue to be taken lightly is shown for example by the vast numbers of people throughout history who have gone to war, plundered, and taken human life presumably under 'god's' direction as well as by the number of people who still subscribe to this day to the divinity of such guidance. It is also shown by the vast number of people who deny, sacrifice, and flagellate self or others in the name of 'god.' Father Which Is in Heaven would never incite such actions. He has made this very clear to Linda and I again and again.

Obviously, there is a great need to be very Discerning in this matter and while it would be easy to get lost in terminology and arguments, this is really a matter of the Heart and of Intention. For the western or 'christianized' mind, the term 'Father Which Is in Heaven' together with the refinements included in this book can be a helpful aid to hone one's Heart and Intention in the right direction.

I specifically say 'western' or 'christianized' mind because Father has Conveyed and made it very clear to us that:

*The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each to its own way of perception.*

And while different cultures do have different terminology and ways of relating to the Father, it is the case that all those who successfully commune with the Divine share common traits such as Harmony and Oneness with Nature, Peaceful disposition, Respect of Self and others, and Sovereign Expression. To these cultures and people the notion of destroying, killing, debasing, conquering, subduing, converting, ruling, dominating, or profiting from their fellow men and Earth is incomprehensible and alien indeed.

Whatever you do and whichever way you Honor and Develop your Relationship with the Divine just remember that Divine Answers Respect all Living Things and that the Divine isn't engaged in any battles.

Something else that needs briefly explained is the convention we adopted to capitalize certain words that have various, and often times opposing, meanings and therefore are prone to being misinterpreted or misused because of this. In short, when we capitalize words within a sentence we do so to specifically refer to the 'healthy' and thus benevolent interpretation of these words that supports a Life and Sovereign Expression Harmonious with Creation and the Good Will and Intent of the Father Which Is in Heaven. When we write the same words without capitalization we do so to denote the misunderstandings associated with these words.

For example, in our writings, lower case 'l,' love, refers to the common misconception that associates this 'love' with sexual passion (which is a word derived from the Latin word 'pati' which means 'to suffer'), sexual arousal, and / or physical attraction and requires such things as putting others first, attachment, control, self denial, (self) sacrifice, compromise, duty, etc., etc..

Capital 'L,' Love, on the other hand, refers in our writings to a Feeling that Elevates, Respects, Cares, Appreciates, brings Well Being and Comfort, and supports such states of expression as Health, Humor, Kindness, Peace, and Benevolence. An experience that is innate to our Being or Who We Are and is independent of others although its expression in us may be facilitated in their presence just like being in Nature facilitates us getting in touch with our inner Peace.

Similarly, little 'p' play denotes doing things in the way of the world and from the perception of the world. It includes slabor, fighting, resisting, profiting, ruling, destroying, abusing, killing, warring, saving, converting, and trying to defeat or overcome the 'bad guys,' whoever they may happen to be at any given time, so we can be 'safe.'

While, big 'P' Play indicates what we came here to Earth to do: Play in Father's Garden in a Light Hearted, Respectful, Joy-full, Constructive, Edifying Way through which we manifest our Divinity and expand our experience, KNowledge, and Understandings of Creation and Father Which Is in Heaven's Good Will and Intent for us.

As you can see, this convention, while seemingly simple, is of utmost significance to facilitate a Proper interpretation of our writings.

Obviously we can't nor haven't applied this convention to every word we use for that would be too cumbersome. Neither does this convention apply to proper names, though many times we purposely 'downgrade' a proper name to lower case to emphasize the point we seek to convey.

Occasionally we may miss a capitalization, however the concepts being conveyed within the sentence and paragraph will make it perfectly clear whether we are referring to the 'unhealthy' or 'healthy' meaning of the word.

Movement

December 22 2014

Several days had passed since Showay 'weathered the storm of identity' and began the process of redefining himself in the Divine. Occasionally, he would allow himself to wear the skirt again so as to facilitate his receptivity and creativity. The skirt was actually very nice and simple. Light in fabric and quite colorful. Vibrant pinks, fuchsias, turquoises, and greens were used on a black background to give shape and form to various kinds of small flowers and geometrical patterns. These intense colors lifted his spirit while the flow of the skirt undulating synchronistically with the movement of his legs reminded him of tall grass dancing to the tune of a cool summer breeze. "So much more fun and rich than monotonous single colored pants..."

Today he was back at his desk tackling once again the visit to the farms. "What I need," he wrote down, "is a new term... a new term that can facilitate the understanding that what is created carries the energy and intent of those who participate in its creation. For example, the man at the organic farm who did most of the construction himself was very skilled, but what he built was lacking something and thus made the house feel impersonal to me. So what did it lack? Warmth for sure, but what else? Mobility? Flexibility? Perhaps it's the capacity to see beyond 90 degree angles..."

As he contemplated this, he had a sense of rigidity. "Too rigid you have become," were the words that came to mind. Looking within for how he felt when he visited the artist's house, he realized that part of the problem was a hardened personality or heart and that this blocked the flow of the creative energy that would impart Love, warmth, and rhythm to the creation... "in a way that is Harmonious with Nature," he noted recalling someone's observation that to work with Nature is to embrace and incorporate it's movement and gentle curves.

Much needed... long forgotten...

December 23 2014

"I'm trying to define more than just a mindset," he noted. "It's a way of perceiving and creating that transcends the intellectual rigidity of those who, like myself, have been hardened and stifled by the world. It is a way of life that incorporates all that we are missing and would nourish us so much..."

In writing these words down, Showay remembered his adventures in the Ruby Valley and realized that he was really speaking of the perception and expression of the mystical and magical in a healthy loving way. "That's what's missing. 'Cultured' people cannot experience nor comprehend this," he continued writing, "because it has been denied to us. No matter how hard we try, that reality is just not there for us to perceive. That's a reason why I have been having such difficulty identifying what I saw. It is as if it didn't exist even though we are immersed in it. All that beauty and expression is unavailable or 'inexpressible' by us... all that remains is the cold and hard intellectual expression of the rules imprinted in us."

As Showay continued his contemplation, he remembered Aurora's explanation regarding how the mystical and magical aspects of Creation were lost. "On the one hand," he continued to write, "it was because of how they have been separated from 'conventional society' and labeled into all sorts of undesirable categories and labels. On the other, because of the purposeful misdirection of these aspects into distorted ways that no longer nourish the Soul. This takes away the creative aspect of True Spiritual Expression and creates a scenario in which we deny a part of ourselves and our reality that would facilitate us so much."

Once again, Aurora's words resounded in his mind. "The mystical and magical channels are indeed open and available, for your Soul longs for the mystical and magical of your Endeavor. While fearfully observed, intrinsically and energetically InJoyable, creative magic fulfills your Endeavor. It is your greater Nature to support, nurture, and nourish the Soul. It is the much needed, long forgotten nourishment of the human endeavor."

All it takes

December 24 2014

Immersed in memories of his experience in the Ruby Valley, Showay continued to write. "I speak of a capacity to create from a soft and gentle heart, where feelings and energies flow more properly. A malleable, flexible person who can work with the natural shapes of natural objects rather than having to turn them into hard or cold angles. The capacity to convey a feeling of warmth, Love, Joy, Peace, Respect in what is created because that is the inner state during the creative process or at least because there is enough receptivity to Divine Expression - even if it's at an unconscious level."

No sooner he finished writing down these words, Showay recognized that 'sacredness' or the "expression of Divine Influence", as Aurora defined it, is indeed a very good descriptive word to use in his quest for a definition of what he saw. "The very choice of seeking to attune and work with Nature creates receptivity to Divine Influence and Presence... and conversely... being receptive to Divine Influence allows one to naturally work with Nature... all of which of course... manifests in the work."

"This is why," he continued, "the kind of creativity I'm describing can really be done by anyone at any time... no training required, all that it takes is the flexibility and willingness to interact with Nature and do what lifts us up or nourishes the Soul... and of course... to be receptive. Yes, skills are certainly beneficial, but flexibility and willingness to do it differently are an excellent start."

Artless Creativity

December 25 2014

As the days continued to pass, Showay began feeling more and more complete with his initial attempt to define what he saw at the farms. He was sure greater understanding would unfold as his capacity to welcome his receptivity in a masculine way expanded. To facilitate this process, he would remind himself often of a good friend's advice who kindly suggested he should allow his life, or art piece, to breathe and interact with him so it could become something greater than what he had originally envisioned. "Don't stifle it or limit it... or it will become the worst piece you have ever made," she had explained.

During the past few days he had turned his attention to finding a term that could be used to identify the kind of creativity he was awakening to. While several options came to mind, such as "mystical and magical creativity" or "sacred creativity", he felt that these terms could very easily become misinterpreted and send people off on a tangent. So today, he finally decided to settle for a less evocative term, knowing that sometime in the future, he would probably find better nomenclature. His choice was: 'artless creativity'.

In elaborating upon this, he wrote:

"Creativity - in the sense of turning within to the Receptive so as to create in ways that are Divinely Inspired and can transcend worldly limitation. Where men express their creativity through their masculinity rather than a feminine persona, and women create through their femininity - both free of any restrictions or limitations imposed upon them.

Artless - in the sense that this creativity does not follow the suffocating norms and principles of acceptable artistic / societal / religious convention and false sense of superiority. Instead it acknowledges, welcomes, and embraces Nature, Heart, and Soul and therefore that which is beautiful, mystical and magical, sacred, and nourishes our Soul.

Where beauty is recognized as that which Harmonizes with Nature and therefore is simple and warms the Heart and Soul of the individual. That which transcends the intellect and awakens the sublime and noble in humanity - not unlike flowers and sunrises do.

Where the mystical and magical is identified as that which lays beyond the perceptual boundaries of conventional reality or distorted fantasies. As Aurora loosely explained: that which allows us to stop seeing ourselves as mortal and solid. That which allows us to see ourselves as able to fly, do the impossible, and talk to fairies. That space where all good things we imagine and deny in this reality are real. That which our world yearns for so much and is the much needed nourishment of the human endeavor.

Where sacred conveys the Wisdom of a willingness to welcome and receive Divine Influence and Presence in our lives and therefore to create in ways that are Harmonious with the Good Will and Intent of Creator for us to live a Joyful, Peaceful, Abundant, and Respectful Life in His Garden.

And finally, where that which nourishes the Soul is recognized as an aspect of creativity and reality which simply put, makes us feel better because it evokes warmth, comfort, and all those feelings that speak of our Divine and Innocent Nature.

Warnings

December 26 2014

In utmost gratitude for a visible HelioStella rise, Showay and Breye-yendeze greeted the day and welcomed Aurora's visit.

"As you welcome, embrace, expand, and express the creative - receptive within you," Aurora said while InJoying the morning sun-bath with her friends, "heed these warnings. First and second are as you already know. One, withhold not the nourishment of the Soul much longer than forty-five days for beyond this measure comes degradation and breaking down of that which you are. Two, it is never in your best interest to entice these spirits simply to nourish them within the garden of your Soul."

Showay was glad for her reminder. The knowledge of how important it is to regularly nourish the Soul through creativity and nourishing environments had almost dissipated from his conscious awareness. Today he understood that one way to accomplish this was by enhancing indoor environments with living plants, colors, and objects of special value and meaning to his Heart and Soul, such as crystals, stones, bells, and glass ornaments. In so doing he would bring the sense of wonder, sacredness, and magic indoors.

He was also aware that in his exploration of the mystical and magical, he would be wise to recognize and understand Right and Proper etiquette so as to ensure an enjoyable experience. For one he was aware of the need for Discernment. This recognition was accompanied with an image of a fox trying to find his way into a chicken coop. "Just because 'intangible beings' show up or want to enter my garden," he noted, "it doesn't mean I should interact with them or let them in."

Another recognition that came to mind was that these 'intangible beings' are not meant to be at his disposal nor for his satisfaction, much less to be corralled and exploited like animals. The image that accompanied this understanding was that of his childhood, when he would trap fireflies in a jar to 'enjoy' at his convenience.

This understanding was soon followed by the awareness that while it was fine for these beings to do benevolent things of their own good will and heart, it was prudent to not ask or entice them into doing 'favors' for him. He was shown that the cost he would have to pay in return for these 'favors' would be way higher than his perception would allow.

Finally, he was shown the importance of being Respectful and expecting Respect, or in other words, no fooling around with each other.

"A good start Showay," re-affirmed Aurora in her usual melodic tone. "Third is unto this, creativity nourishes not the Soul when done in degradation of Soul Nature."

An expansion

December 27 2014

"There seems to be greater understanding available regarding the third warning. Can you expand more on this?"

"As long as you are willing to breathe..." responded Aurora with a Light Hearted tone.

"That challenging?" Showay paused for a few seconds to ascertain his readiness. "Ok, let's go for it."

"Very well then. I shall use the following example: When a spiritual woman is without support as a child, there is great potential to finally succumb to rampant mortal desire of lustful expression. To those who use creative energy to nourish and sustain lustful desire of rampant sort, there comes a sort of slow death of Soul Desire. Here you have a subtle indication of the magnitude of sustaining lustful desire in your civilization at this hour."

"This explains a lot," Showay uttered while thinking of previous relationships. "I have a sense that lust and greed are but sides of the same coin and that creating in ways that elicit them also brings this death of Soul Desire."

"Heed my words Showay. Creativity nourishes not the Soul when done in degradation of Soul Nature."

To Showay's surprise, Aurora's words now conveyed a reference to the somewhat recent introduction into society of destructive definitions of art and creativity. Her words also conveyed a reference to the purposeful use of music and other creative outlets to divide generations and families, and in so doing, separate the youth from the Knowledge and Wisdom of previous generations.

"The prevalent myth of destitution and poverty surrounding struggling artists further narrows the gap to degradation of mortal Soul Endeavor."

An old trap

"Poverty... you have touched upon this before. Is there more to this?"

"Poverty indebtedness comes about your Soul when as a child there is no food."

Showay had sense that she meant not only lack of physical food, but also a lack of nutrition in food as well.

"It is an habitual pattern put upon spiritual women to sustain and nourish not their immortal Soul Endeavor," continued Aurora. "The stronger the woman, the greater the Soul Endeavor, the more nourishment needed to sustain their Endeavor. Thereby comes constant hunger of Soul Endeavor."

The information that Showay received through this conveyance was beyond reason. The first layer of understanding allowed him to recognize that starvation or malnourishment not only gives rise to emotions of darkness but also feeds this darkness and that by weakening the body, a person becomes more susceptible to darkness attack and influence. All of which weakens the Soul. In this he realized that a nourished body and Soul is necessary not only for wholeness and completeness, but also to transcend worldly limitation.

The second layer of understanding that accompanied Aurora's words troubled him, so he decided to confirm what he saw. "I get the impression, you are not just talking about women being starved or indoctrinated into starving themselves so they can fall prey to lustful expression, but that you are also speaking of a practice that was initiated thousands of years ago in oracles. A practice through which young spiritual women or prophetesses were starved under the false claim that "fasting" supports spiritual expression. Is that right?"

"It was worse... for this deed was done in pretense of service to Father of your Endeavor. To keep 'proper proportion' of figure of women to develop proclivity of child lust."

"From what I saw, these men exploited and treated these women no better than prostitutes... Not only would they take all the money and food that these women received in payment for their services, but also dressed them in sheer garments to reveal their childlike figures caused by starvation. This was done so as to initiate a connection between spiritual hunger and lust of children... all the while claiming Divine service..."

"The lust and abuse of children which has become so common now, was at that time very rare. Purposely introduced into religious ceremony through the abuse of women. Later expanded to include young men or 'altar boys'."

"Is there a way to be free of this poverty indebtedness?"

"To free your immortal Soul of this Soul degradation of poverty, you simply lay this sorrow down on the Altar of Love and Power."

A glimpse

December 29 2014

"There is one more thing to know Showay. This world was not designed to expand that which is the female principle. Man has walked upon Terra in domination to regain his sense of receptivity. While purported to honor women, native tradition held it not so. In sovereign domination man has walked that his True Nature may be regained / restored upon Terra's face. Mankind's endeavor, instead of rising him to the heights, brought him to the depths of despair, while women patiently waited, long enduring the degradation while pointing to Source, Father, All That Is. Man would not hear unless a woman possessed such great power and destruction to be his equal. Man has struggled through great degradation of his Soul. It is time to rise out of the death and destruction. There comes a time for man to restore his capacity for the receptive nature in him, thereby assuming the qualities inherently necessary for re-union. In her True Nature, women suppressed, can now be re-united."

Showay was given to understand that humanity upon Terra has been embarked upon a spiritual journey back to Creator or All That Is and that in this progression the time has arrived for men to wake up to their receptivity and put an end to Soul degradation. This choice will facilitate humanity moving above the human framework of a patriarchal world created for men to find their receptivity and where Father Which Is in Heaven is the highest human reference of a spiritual being who manifests in the world. In so doing, humanity will transition from Father Which Is in Heaven to Source, who is the Re-United or Creative - Receptive Principle.

"It is his finest hour to rise out of the decadence and decay of this world. Now is the hour to honor the fluid / flower / feminine / fairy feminine."

Showay understood Aurora to say that as men learn to welcome their receptivity through their masculinity, they will learn to Truly Respect and Honor women in their receptivity, creativity, and femininity. In so doing, they will create a window of opportunity for women to become the powerful creative beings that they Truly are. It is through this mutual Respect and Honor that both will transcend worldly limitation and prepare for the manifestation of Source upon Terra which will usher a world of re-union between men and woman.

"I see... this is a glimpse into the fifth world..." Showay said aloud in a contemplative voice. "It seems to me that the current trend upon Terra which has been rendering androgynous children who lack clear masculine or feminine definition is some kind of misguided attempt which is finding resonance in people because they intuit the need for re-union. However, true progression requires robust men who welcome their creativity through healthy expression of their masculinity and robust women who welcome their creativity through healthy expression of their femininity. In Honoring and Respecting themselves, they learn to Honor and Respect each other. It is in this that the qualities inherently necessary for re-union are established."

"A yearning for the past is a yearning for who you were before the breakup - before separation occurred."

"I have a sense that Father Which Is in Heaven has been providing the Assistance and Guidance required to succeed in this transition. Is that right?"

"Yes indeed. In all you say, and do hold Father's Good Will and Intent near your Heart. Good Will is that which is your Father's Intent for you. His Intent is for your Blessedness, Wholeness, and Completeness out of the Consciousness / Awareness of the Love that you are. Will His Intent for you to become manifest in your Life."

*"Seek you not the Kingdom at every turn?
Then turn you within to the Receptive.
That which is within you,
which brings forth new Life is the Creativity which springs forth from Receptivity.
Harken unto your Creative Principle for the birth of a new consciousness."

Update

April 10 2016

It has been many months since I have posted an entry and many changes have happened during this time. All very unexpected.

Linda left the physical plane during 2014. An event that certainly surfaced a lot of pain, grief, and fear in me. I'm very great-full to her and Father for all the learning and Joy she brought to my Life. There is no doubt in my mind, that without her, I would have been trapped in a miserable marriage fulfilling someone else's greed and quest for self glory and aggrandizement. Never knowing True Love.

Thank you Linda for the Love that you shared with me. For awakening me to the Soft, Pliable, Gentle, Peace-full Love that leads one back to the Father and to knowing Love as Self. Thank you for your Beauty and Adventurous Spirit which allowed so many wonderful mysteries to be solved. Thank you for showing me there is indeed a Different Way and for facilitating my cleansing from the false teachings I had received. Thank you for awakening me to my Creativity and for teaching me about True Respect. Thank you for bringing me closer to my Self Divine by Nature, One Harmonious Being. Thank you for the Beauty of all that you created during you stay here. May you continue upon your Journey of Self Discovery and uncover the Truth you Desire so much. Fair well Love, you are missed indeed.

Another unexpected passing was that of a young Auracana rooster that joined Linda and I in early 2014. This young rooster taught me the importance of children having nurturing environments to develop and grow into healthy men and women. As it turns out, this rooster was raised in a brooder. Never knowing his parents. Never experiencing the Love and comfort of feeling safe under the wing of either parent. Never been taught Proper "chicken" behavior. I realized this one day when I placed him on my lap and he quickly notched himself between my arm and body. I was very surprised but greatly enjoyed placing him under my "wing" each day until his need was full-filled. Amazing indeed how much we can learn and understand of Life through so called "animals".

Rooster Ernst, our copper maran rooster who was an inspiration for the children's book "The Big Misunderstanding", also departed the physical. As difficult as it may seem to accept, this great rooster taught me much about parenting as I observed his kind and gentle behavior raising his baby chicks. This is why he made it to the cover of my book on Respect.

Regal Beauty, a copper maran hen departed the physical as well. Her teaching being more subtle and yet unidentified. Perhaps it rests in her name: how to express and manifest Beauty in a Regal manner free of enticement, seduction, and manipulation.

It is also with great sadness that I witnessed my great and beloved Pyr, Mister, depart the physical as well. He was greatly Loved by both Linda and I. He was a dog of great valor and such spiritual development as to render all worldly constructs about animals completely obsolete and useless. How empty and dark is indeed the perception of "civilized man". How much does he indeed miss in his narrow construct of "reality".

You may refer to his blog "Valiant Dog" as well as to the zazzle store to read some of his musings. Some funny, some silly, some profound, and many definitively from a doggie's perception. These he conveyed mostly through Linda but also through me as he took it upon himself to teach me how to listen, really listen, to his Spirit and the Wisdom it had. Mister, Linda, and I shared many great adventures together as we crisscrossed these United States doing Father's Bidding.

I'm glad to say that after all his requests for us to move to the land where he could roam free at last, I was able to full-fill the promise Linda and I made to him that he would see such day. And indeed, Mister and I had many wonder-full experiences together upon the land before his passing that brought us great joy and happiness.

As you may well perceive, I have just gone through quite some rough times, yet, I have been Given many Blessings as well. It is indeed amazing how Father can Heal such hurt as I have experienced. I'm great-full I chose to receive such Healing and stand strong in my choice for Life and Love.

I will continue writing in my blog and as a long term project, will undertake the task of making available on line many of the recordings made of Linda receiving Guidance from Father.

You will probably notice my entries becoming more "personal", for indeed I have learned the rough way, that all the "protection" I built around myself to keep myself "safe" was indeed worthless - all it accomplished was to deny me or limit the greater Joys of Life with those I have and still Love so much.

Thank you my friends for enriching my Life so much. Fare well.

With Love,

Martin

Children story

April 20 2016

Toward winter's end, I had the fortunate experience of going to a beautiful maple and cottonwood forest with some friends to gather maple sap. I have to admit that upon entering the forest I felt an immense sense of love and belonging. This feeling was so great and felt so good that, had I known how to survive in a forest, I would have never left such place.

During one of our trips to cook down the sap, I felt called to visit the last remaining "elder" maples further down from where we were. With enthusiasm I followed the almost dry creek bed unto a high bank upon which the trees stood. I had been there once before and knew which tree was calling. It was the one I kindly refer to as 'grandma maple' based on the impression I received during my first visit as I was laying on its leaning trunk. It felt like being embraced or held by a loving grandmother.

Once again, I laid on the trunk after greeting the tree and to my surprise I heard a whisper asking me to write a story about the tree. "A story about you?" "Yes, a child story." "A child story?" "Yes, that I may be remembered." The tree, which is on 'it's last leg' so to speak wanted children to know how much maples love us.

So, amazingly enough, what follows (in the next few entries) is the story that effortlessly sprang into life out of this experience.

Injoy - all my friends who have heard it liked it quite a lot...

Bunny the bunny - part 1

April 22 2016

Bunny the bunny – Maple Syrup Time

Bunny the bunny is a bunny, whose name is... Bunny.

Silly it may seem, but not all bunnies are named Bunny.

And so this story begins with Bunny the bunny waking up one morning and going outside:

"I can feel it !" said Bunny, "Maple syrup time is here !"

Without wasting a second, he went back inside, grabbed his tools and began his hike.

Hop, hop... hop, hop went Bunny the bunny hopping along the trail.

There were many maple trees sharing the forest with cottonwoods, but Bunny the bunny had only one tree in mind.

Hop, hop... hop, hop, continued Bunny along the forest.

"Here it is !" exclaimed Bunny with a Joy-full Heart.

"Wake up grandma... wake up." Bunny whispered softly to a huge maple tree. "It's time grandma ! Are you awake ?"

"Uuhaaa...", replied the maple tree as she slowly stretched her branches alongside the breeze. "Yes, my dear friend. I'm just beginning to wake up. It's warming up and winter will soon be over."

"Well grandma...? Can I tap you so I can have maple syrup this year ?" asked Bunny. All he could think of were hot pancakes drizzling with fresh syrup and butter.

"Yes my dear friend," replied a still sleepy grandma. "I made extra sap to share with you."

"How nice, how nice," sang Bunny as he hopped a little circle dance. "How nice, how nice."

Bunny the bunny - part 3

April 26 2016

Picking up his tools, he gently made a small hole in grandma's trunk and hammered an elderberry tap in place.

As soon as he hung the bucket under the tap, he heard a very familiar sound.

Dip, dip, dip... went the sap into his bucket. Dip, dip... dip.

"How nice, how nice," sang Bunny with a happy Heart. "How nice, how nice," hopped Bunny a circle dance.

Knowing it would take some time for the bucket to fill, Bunny the bunny laid next to grandma the maple tree and took a nap.

"Bunny... Bunny," whispered grandma after a while. "It's time. The bucket is full."

With a big smile Bunny got up and checked the bucket. "It is ! It's very full ! Thank you grandma. You're so kind to me."

"You're welcome my friend. You're kind to me too."

Bunny the bunny - part 4

April 28 2016

H...o...p, h...o...p, h...o...p. Bunny hopped very carefully this time. He did not want to spill a single drop.

Once inside his cottonwood house, he started a fire in his stove. "Not too hot, not too low," Bunny reminded himself. "Just right to cook the sap down all night long."

After making sure he got the fire just right, he placed the bucket on the stove and went to bed. It had been a looong day and he was sleepy already.

Every once in a while Bunny would wake up during the night and wonder: "Is it ready yet?"

With excitement he would go to the stove and check. "Noooo, not yet," he would say. "It's still too runny," and then would go back to bed.

Bunny the bunny - part 5

April 30 2016

After what seemed to him like the longest night of his life, the Sun-Shine finally touched his eyes.

"Wake up Bunny, wake up," whispered the Sun from a distance. "It's time now."

With a smile, Bunny jumped out of bed and went to the stove. "Yes it is !" said Bunny. "The runny sap is now thick syrup. How yummy !"

In but an instant, Bunny made lots of pancakes and as he poured the still warm syrup over them, he thought:

"How nice it is to be at one with Nature."

A Play of Love

What follows is a great play of Love. It is a book on parenting which I recently developed. This book is titled:

"The littlest, tiniest, and most uncommon book on parenting"

"The littlest, tiniest, and most uncommon book on parenting" by Martin Riedel

To Begin

Welcome of the Father, my friend.

The book you are about to read [hold in your hands] is an Expression of Great Love and Gentleness. It is the unfolding of a process that began well over a decade ago - a Desire to find a way to Respect children made manifest. A Desire to support them in their Love for the Father Within.

Without the Gentle Love and Spiritual Gifts of my late wife, companion, and friend Linda Mead (WhiteRose StarFire), this book would have remained unwritten. The answer in plain sight, yet hidden by pain and anger. Unseen by my tender Heart. Thank you WhiteRose for opening my Heart to the Soft, Pliable, Malleable, and Respectful Love that allows the Father Within to become Present in one's Life. Thank you for the many years of Guidance and Direction from Father Which Is in Heaven and Source we recorded together as we journeyed across these United States in a most unusual adventure. These are the foundation of this book.

Many thanks as well to the individuals, parents, and children who not only contributed to my learning, but also helped transform theory into practice.

Thank You Father for the Gifts You shared with me. Thank You for Blessing the reader of this book by bringing her / him the Gifts You deem necessary to succeed in the most noble and tender task of parenting.

May Your children Blossom in Truth and Love,

May the Father Walk with you, Let it be so and so it shall be.

bop - To Begin - part 2

May 8 2016

As you read this book, keep in mind that what I have written only expresses how I see things at this moment and is likely to evolve with time. This expression is limited by my capacity to put into words what I see, feel, and know. Receive it Lightly. The Real Gift is not in the content of this book, but in the Blessings Father Which Is in Heaven offers you through it.

bop - To Open:

May 10 2016

The answer you have been looking for is Simple indeed. May you receive the Wisdom to recognize it, the willingness to receive it, and the Joy of living by it.

Father Which Is in Heaven:

"Now to the matters of a little girl's Love for her Father.

To Rightly define a daughter's Love for the Father Which Is in Heaven through human endeavor, is no small matter.

*See clearly and all is well.
Seek not to injure [...] small children.
Seek instead
with Crystal Clarity
the Innocent Desire to Love Father expressed in human Desire.*

Seeking to Please and Serve the Father Within brings Obedient Trust to the relationship of human father."

bop - The Heart

May 12 2016

As I understand this now based on what Father has explained to us over the years, this "obedient Trust" comes from a child's inherent understanding that his / her 'human father' or dad actually is meant to be Father Which Is in Heaven's representative on Earth.

That's right !

You may think this to be insane, but once, you knew this too and naturally believed that everything your dad did was for your own good. For after all, how could Father's representative on Earth behave in any other way than with Integrity, Respect, and Virtue while having your best interest in mind?

bop - To Heal

May 14 2016

What this means is very simple:

The way a human father interacts with (his) children will affect their perception of and relationship with the Father Within.

bop - To Heal - part 2

May 22 2016

As you read what follows, let there be no sorrows.

Let there be no guilt for what could have / should have been.

Let there be only the JOY and Thanks-Giving of an Answer found and received.

bop - With a few examples - 1

May 24 2016

When a dad is too busy to acknowledge a child or invite the child to be a part of "dad's daily endeavors", a child may conclude:

- Father / God is too busy for me
- He doesn't have time for me
- I'm not important enough in His Eyes
- He has greater concerns than my need to KNow Him and be with Him

This makes Father / God distant and unavailable. It leaves the child unworthy and insignificant.

bop - With a few examples - 2

May 26 2016

When a dad recognizes a child's need for validation and recognition but gives only empty acknowledgments, a child may conclude:

- Father / God doesn't really care
- He says he Loves me but that's a lie
- what's the point ?

This makes Father empty and a child disappointed / disheartened.

bop - With a few examples - 3

May 28 2016

When a dad lies, cheats, deceives, angers, hurts, and abuses a child's obedient Trust, a child may conclude:

- Father / God can't be Trusted
- Something is wrong with me
- It's dangerous to be close to Father / God

This makes Father / God a threat and a child hurt.

bop - With a few examples - 4

May 30 2016

When a dad taints the environment with profanity, greed, disrespect, envy, toxicity, etc. rather than making it safe and sacred for the child, a child may conclude:

- Safety is not of the Father / God
- Sacredness is not of Him
- Creation is toxic, dangerous, unhealthy

This hides Father's / God's Great Loving Care for His Creation and Children, and defiles a child's nature and value.

bop - With a few examples - 5

June 1 2016

When a dad disrespects, lusts, and abuses women, men, and / or children, a child may conclude:

- Father / God is a moron / jerk
- Love is dirty and tainted

This makes Father / God undesirable and a child angry.

bop - With a few examples - 6

June 3 2016

When a child enters the age in which he / she wants to do 'everything dad does' and this is met with disdain, ridicule, ignorance, avoidance, mistreatment, rejection, etc., a child may conclude:

- I'm unworthy to be like Father / God
- My help is unwanted
- I'm a burden
- Father / God doesn't need me

This makes Father / God distant and cold, and leaves a child hopeless and purposeless.

bop - With a few examples - 7

June 5 2016

When a dad withholds love and approval so as to manipulate and control, a child may conclude:

- Father's / God's Love is conditional
- Love has to be earned
- I have to be destructive to please Father / God
- Love is controlling

This makes Father / God cold and calculating, and a child vulnerable to abusive people.

bop - With a few examples - 8

June 7 2016

When a dad is controlling / perfectionist and is intolerant of anything other than his notion of 'perfection' or 'righteousness', a child may conclude:

- Father / God is inflexible, rigid, suffocating
- He is condemning, damning, punishing
- I can't be myself - I need to deny my spiritual gifts and talents

This makes Father / God wrathful and vengeful and leaves a child fearful / submissive / obedient or angry / defiant / obedient.

bop - With a few examples - 9

June 9 2016

When a dad ridicules a child's efforts, nature, innocence, a child may conclude:

- I'm defective
- Father / God is a cynic

This makes Father / God unpleasant. and leaves a child hurt and damaged with low self esteem.

Bop ... and a few clarifications ...

June 18 2016

All children of any age require validation of their needs and experiences.

What they experience is truly just as important as what any adult experiences and many times just as, if not even more, pressing.

For example, a hungry baby cannot simply walk to the refrigerator and satiate his / her hunger.

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 1

June 20 2016

Perhaps, when children seek to emulate their dad, they are asking for validation of who they are and the value of what they have to offer.

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 2

June 22 2016

Perhaps, the stage in which children seek to emulate their dad is also an external manifestation of their Desire to be like the Father Which Is in Heaven / God and to show how much they Love and Respect Him.

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 3

June 24 2016

Perhaps, when children go through this stage without support and validation, they conclude they are something other than Father's / God's child.

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 4

June 26 2016

With their most Honest, Pure, Sacred, Selfless, and Whole-Hearted efforts to Please the Father through His representative ridiculed and taken advantage of ...

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 5

June 28 2016

... and with their most basic and Sacred need for Respect, Love, and validation unmet
...

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 6

June 30 2016

... is it any surprise children may succumb to the false witness that Father / God will never be the Real Answer to their needs?

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 7

July 6 2016

... is it any surprise, disappointed children turn away from the Father Within and begin to seek validation / love & approval / fulfillment in the world and / or religion and their many idols and false gods?

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 8

July 8 2016

Are you beginning to recognize why children may turn from obedient Trust to rebellion ?

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 9

July 10 2016

Does it surprise you now why children turn away from the Father Within ?

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 10

July 12 2016

Do you realize (as Linda once noted), that the loss of Eden was not a one time event that happened eons ago?

That in reality, it's a daily occurrence that happens every time a child turns away from the Father Within to embrace the world / religion ?

That it is an event that happens every time a child's Sacred Trust for the Father Within is broken ?

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 11

July 14 2016

Can you begin to recognize how important it is for children to have virtuous parents who are True to the Good Will and Intent of Father / God for His Children ?

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 12

July 16 2016

Contrary to indoctrinated belief,

children are NOT our future and the future is NOT in their hands.

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 13

July 18 2016

Instead,

we

– parents, adults, and elders alike –

are our children's future.

Without us creating the conditions in which our children can thrive and experience the Good Will and Intent of the Father Within for their (and our) Joy and Fulfillment, they don't stand a chance.

We are the ones that have the experience to make a difference.

bop ... and a few clarifications ... - 14

July 22 2016

This is a call to all parents, adults, and elders alike to wake up and embrace a Different Way. A Way which allows the Good Will and Intent of Father Which Is in Heaven for each of us to be Active and Present upon this Earth... this life-time...

... for our own sake ...

... and for the sake of our children.

In this, we allow the face of this Earth to be changed for good.
