"In Right and Proper Exchange of Information there is but one conveyance in Right and Proper Order of Divine Expression.

The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each unto its own way of perception.

It matters not what others may say or think, it matters always only that which is Divinely Appointed each day.

It was Given unto your perception,

As to exact literal translation, there can be none.
It is, would be, a departure from that Divinely Authorized

Yes, the gist would remain intact, however, the nuances,

Side note by Martin

The Father Which Is in Heaven referred to in all of the material Linda and I have created is the Father Jesus taught us to pray to in the Lord's Prayer. 'Living God,' 'Father Within,' and 'Father' are used interchangeably and refer to the same Father Which Is in Heaven.

Please take note that the concepts we have "inherited" in regards to Who and What the Father Is, His Desires, Goals, and Aspirations, as well as how He Manifests on Earth and in Humanity are very limited, constricted, and quite frankly suffocating. Please do give yourself room for expansion in this regard and do not be put off by the use of this terminology. The information contained in this book is neither patriarchal, religious, spiritualist, scientific, dogmatic, atheist, shamanic, new age, worldly, alien, nor any other modality. It just Is what it Is.

Also be aware that while there is only one Father Which Is in Heaven and no one else can "claim" this Name, the words 'god,' 'father,' and 'lord' in and of themselves seem to not carry this type of restriction. Therefore, unless one makes it clear that the use of words such as 'God', 'Living God,' or 'Father' specifically address Father Which is Heaven, it is possible for any number of entities floating around with a 'god' or 'lord' complex to answer the call.

That this is not an issue to be taken lightly is shown for example by the vast numbers of people throughout history who have gone to war, plundered, and taken human life presumably under 'god's' direction as well as by the number of people who still subscribe to this day to the divinity of such guidance. It is also shown by the vast number of people who deny, sacrifice, and flagellate self or others in the name of 'god.' Father Which Is in Heaven would never incite such actions. He has made this very clear to Linda and I again and again.

Obviously, there is a great need to be very Discerning in this matter and while it would be easy to get lost in terminology and arguments, this is really a matter of the Heart and of Intention. For the western or 'christianized' mind, the term 'Father Which Is in Heaven' together with the refinements included in this book can be a helpful aid to hone one's Heart and Intention in the right direction.

I specifically say 'western' or 'christianized' mind because Father has Conveyed and made it very clear to us that:

*The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each to its own way of perception.*

And while different cultures do have different terminology and ways of relating to the Father, it is the case that all those who successfully commune with the Divine share common traits such as Harmony and Oneness with Nature, Peaceful disposition, Respect of Self and others, and Sovereign Expression. To these cultures and people the notion of destroying, killing, debasing, conquering, subduing, converting, ruling, dominating, or profiting from their fellow men and Earth is incomprehensible and alien indeed.

Whatever you do and whichever way you Honor and Develop your Relationship with the Divine just remember that Divine Answers Respect all Living Things and that the Divine isn't engaged in any battles.

Something else that needs briefly explained is the convention we adopted to capitalize certain words that have various, and often times opposing, meanings and therefore are prone to being misinterpreted or misused because of this. In short, when we capitalize words within a sentence we do so to specifically refer to the 'healthy' and thus benevolent interpretation of these words that supports a Life and Sovereign Expression Harmonious with Creation and the Good Will and Intent of the Father Which Is in Heaven. When we write the same words without capitalization we do so to denote the misunderstandings associated with these words.

For example, in our writings, lower case 'l,' love, refers to the common misconception that associates this 'love' with sexual passion (which is a word derived from the Latin word 'pati' which means 'to suffer'), sexual arousal, and / or physical attraction and requires such things as putting others first, attachment, control, self denial, (self) sacrifice, compromise, duty, etc., etc..

Capital 'L,' Love, on the other hand, refers in our writings to a Feeling that Elevates, Respects, Cares, Appreciates, brings Well Being and Comfort, and supports such states of expression as Health, Humor, Kindness, Peace, and Benevolence. An experience that is innate to our Being or Who We Are and is independent of others although its expression in us may be facilitated in their presence just like being in Nature facilitates us getting in touch with our inner Peace.

Similarly, little 'p' play denotes doing things in the way of the world and from the perception of the world. It includes slabor, fighting, resisting, profiting, ruling, destroying, abusing, killing, warring, saving, converting, and trying to defeat or overcome the 'bad guys,' whoever they may happen to be at any given time, so we can be 'safe.'

While, big 'P' Play indicates what we came here to Earth to do: Play in Father's Garden in a Light Hearted, Respectful, Joy-full, Constructive, Edifying Way through which we manifest our Divinity and expand our experience, KNowledge, and Understandings of Creation and Father Which Is in Heaven's Good Will and Intent for us.

As you can see, this convention, while seemingly simple, is of utmost significance to facilitate a Proper interpretation of our writings.

Obviously we can't nor haven't applied this convention to every word we use for that would be too cumbersome. Neither does this convention apply to proper names, though many times we purposely 'downgrade' a proper name to lower case to emphasize the point we seek to convey.

Occasionally we may miss a capitalization, however the concepts being conveyed within the sentence and paragraph will make it perfectly clear whether we are referring to the 'unhealthy' or 'healthy' meaning of the word.

Insufficiencies – An illustration

Yesterday, as Linda was going through some old archived magazines, I saw an issue of the "New Mexico Magazine" (June 2001) with the title "Horse Power" on its cover. So I picked it up and began reading an article titled "Spanish barbs". What I read was so insane, that I thought it would make an excellent example of why, as Father has explained, "doing good" and "restoring the earth" are insufficient.

The article was about various isolated bands of wild mustang horses that had been roaming free for about 400 years in New Mexico, that is until one guy took photographs of them and decided he needed to verify the accuracy of a claim made by a rancher that these animals were descendants from the original Spanish horses brought by the Spanish to the Americas. This set in motion a series of events that included rounding these animals up, sucking blood from them for DNA testing, selling some of them off, and displacing some of them into secret preserves where they could "remain wild and breed". Preserves which by the way would require securing 106,000 acres.

Why this madness? Here are some quotes from the guy in charge of all of this: "There's interest now in trying to preserve things like that. And to preserve it, we have to identify it." "Every day we loose a little bit of what our heritage is, but this is one way I know to preserve it."

Never mind that these horses had been able to live free and wild on their own for about 400 years, that is until someone decided they needed to be identified and preserved.

Need more be said why "doing good" and "restoring the earth" are insufficient desires?

Correction to today's posting.

I realized later today that I was probably incorrect in saying that the isolated bands of wild mustang horses had been roaming undisturbed for 400 years. Yes, they succeeded in remaining wild and free, but I don't know if the "undisturbed" part is accurate.

The article does say that up through the 1950's, cattle ranchers have killed thousands of wild mustangs in the Southwest and that prior to that, these horses had almost been annihilated by slaughter to control Indian mobility and to "preserve" grazing land for cattle. Another case in point why "doing good" is insufficient desire.

So I went ahead and deleted the word "undisturbed" from my prior posting to end the inaccuracy.

Of course, the above would seem to justify the need to "preserve" these animals, but was it really necessary to trap them, suck their blood for testing, sell some of them off, and separate the herd further by taking horses to "secret" reservations so they could remain free? I don't think so. Once in a reservation, as Native Americans can attest, you loose your freedom. History shows that those who control the reservations take it upon themselves to also control the population of those reservations. History shows that once these horses multiply above a preset number considered to be "sustainable" for the reservation, they will be killed for sports or trapped and sold for slave labor. How can you then say this is done to preserve their Freedom?

What could have been an alternative? Let them be. They have been doing well on their own. And if there was fear that ranchers may start killing these horses again or that the selling of ranches to developers could affect them, why not simply make an agreement with the current owners of the lands where these horses roam, to not encroach upon certain designated areas? Why not simply add a stipulation to the land contracts that would restrict developers from touching those designated areas should the land be sold in the future?

It is possible to do things differently in a way that actually supports Freedom upon the Land and this is what we are doing when we choose the Father Way.

Make your own kind of music – part 2

10/05/10

In my post “Make your own kind of music”¹ I made a reference to a song by Mama Cass in which she sings about making “your own kind of music... even if nobody sings along”. In this same song, she sings that “you are going to be lonely, the loneliest kind of lonely”.

Well, it seems appropriate to clarify that this is the case when you try to sing your own “special song” but do not know the Father Way or the Truth of Who you Are. Loneliness is what you get when you play in the game of the world.

My own personal experience is that as you walk in the Father Way, loneliness begins to fade until one day you wake up and realize it is completely gone. It took several years, but one day I just realized, I was no longer lonely.

In the Father Way, one learns to walk in solitude and sanctuary and this brings Peace and strength. Solitude is different than loneliness.

Loneliness is what causes people to make really stupid mistakes – at least that is what happened to me. You see yourself as empty, unwanted, unloved and as the loneliness grows deeper, you make really unhealthy choices in the thought that if you just find someone, anyone, no matter how unhealthy / destructive that person is, then it will be more bearable. Loneliness causes you to want to “be loved” because you no longer perceive you can “be the Love that you are”, it makes you dependent on others, and it makes you vulnerable to the approach of the unrighteous – unholy, who come to you pretending to befriend you when in reality they seek your destruction.

Solitude is quite different.

I once did a dictionary exploration of this word and this is what resulted from this exploration:

¹ <http://bluestarway.com/bluestarblog/index.php?post/2010/08/19/Make-your-own-kind-of-music>

Solitude is a single, unmarried person who is his own sole (Soul) owner and who has the Feeling, Posture, state of Mind of someone who, in support of the Father Desire, wears an armor of Light and Music and is equipped for the Pure-Pose of his part in the Father Plan. He lives in healthy vigor and a healthy condition of his mind. He has the resources to Live in elegance. He contemplates that which is Harmonious (sound) with the Sun.

Solitude leads to Joy and to a satisfying Life. Solitude works because it is the Father Way and the Father Way brings fulfillment and wholeness of Self as Love.

So, in the Father Way, it would be more appropriate to sing "you are going to be Joyful, the sweetest kind of Joyful".

Sanctuary

10/11/10

You may remember from the posting "Sunrise Prayers" ² that Father spoke about asking for solitude and sanctuary of our Greater Endeavor in Prayer. Having expounded on my understanding of solitude, it feels appropriate to take a look at the word "sanctuary".

In exploring the word "sanctuary", I came to the following understanding.

Sanctuary is an open sacred and holy place that has been authorized to be inviolable. It is from this place that Father's Support is received so as to successfully bring Right Action to fruition, Free from unrighteous - unholy stuff.

This is to say, that one's safety is in the open and not in the hiding. Father has been explaining this to both of us for many years now and has been Guiding us back to the open space where His Presence Abides.

There are many ways in which we hide. We may hide our Light within, we may hide amongst the unrighteous - unholy, we may descend into tunnels or enter buildings, or perhaps hide under a bed or inside a closet. Yet in the end it is this hiding that allows the unrighteous - unholy to prevail upon us. Why? Because hiding is playing. Hiding tacitly implies that the unrighteous - unholy can hurt us.

Does this then mean we go out to the open and begin blowing whistles to let everyone know where we are? No. It simply means we conduct our daytime and nighttime activities in the open or in the "garden of our being" where the Sun shines and the Father is Present.

It takes some time to Trust our Safety is in the open, thus it may take some time for us to arrive at this open space. It may also take some time to feel secure enough in the open to not go into hiding at the slightest indication of an approaching storm.

² <http://bluestarway.com/bluestarblog/index.php?post/2010/04/12/Sunrise-Prayers>

Therefore, we are prudent in our decisions and do keep ourselves away from harms way. Remember that even Jesus did not jump off the cliff just to prove his safety is in the Father. Yet at the same time, remember that Jesus was not troubled by the storm that was threatening to sink the boat he was in. He simply recognized the storm was not of the Father and affirmed the Truth.

That is to say don't go out looking for trouble thinking your self invincible and don't go into hiding when trouble shows up.

Also, do recognize that preparing and moving to a safe place is not equal to hiding. Instead, preparing and moving to a safe place is the physical manifestation of our choice to receive the sanctuary of our Greater Endeavor from which we can do that which is before us to do.

Propaganda

Linda mentioned yesterday in her blog (see "the science of deception" ³) how we both concluded that the sequel to the movie the "Da Vince Code" was just a big advertisement plug for the CERN particle accelerator and I would add, for the Illuminati and for the Vatican.

In one whole swoop or movie I should say, scientists and the Vatican were exonerated from their "sins" through confession to an academic who has no "faith in god", while the Illuminati were exonerated by "believers". This was actually done quite in the open of course, but smoothly enough that most people would perhaps not consciously realize what just took place in front of their eyes and within their brains. Let's take a look.

After all was said and done and the heroes were resting in the office belonging to the now deceased security head, we hear the scientist's confession: "what she did was criminal" followed by the exoneration: "no, no, she was just being innocent and she needs to go back to save / change the world." Nice smooth plug to ease people's mind about CERN. Now they know, scientists at CERN are a bunch of innocent people who only want to save / change the world. Phew, doesn't that make you feel better? From now on, someone who raises concerns about CERN and what is happening there is simply some brute soul that does not understand innocence, forgiveness, and the desire to "change / save the world". Never mind the omission as to whether the change is for the better or for the worse...

Then we hear the next exoneration which occurs when we are shown the recording of what happens in the Pope's room between the security officer and that priest guy. Here we learn all the Illuminati / secret society thing is just a fake dreamed up concoction by a madman. Phew, doesn't that make you feel better? This stuff ended in the past and is no longer real. The unrighteous - unholy are not fighting each other any more...

³ <http://bluestarway.com/rosenoelblog/index.php?post/2010/10/11/the-science-of-deception>

The last exoneration we are exposed to is when the head cardinal confesses to the academic hero about his imperfection and the imperfection of the human race which is the only reason why religion is imperfect. Doesn't that figure, us humans are faulty again. If it wasn't for us, religion would be perfect... So now you know, don't go around blaming religion, just blame the imperfection of humans. Phew, now we can be at peace with religion and the Vatican.

Such imperfect good hearted people... who only want the best for the rest of us...

When you CERN you don't Discern...

10/13/10

As I have explored in my posts "More on Foundation" ⁴ and "Clarification on judgment" ⁵, without the capacity to discern, one cannot differentiate between Proper and improper action. Somehow this brings to mind the image of the Titanic. I can imagine the captain being told about the icebergs and the captain saying to not worry because the Titanic is "unsinkable".

That is the kind of attitude you hear from scientists at CERN. People have issued complaints and warnings and have indicated that they do not agree with the firing of the collider, yet scientists just dismiss People's concerns and Desire for Life. Why? Because they CERN and don't Dis-cern.

Scientists say that antimatter and matter were created right after the big bang, and that it is a mystery why they can't detect any traces of antimatter. They also say that antimatter will explode upon touching matter. Why can't they see that in their "theory" the very fact that matter and antimatter were created at the same time at a 50 / 50 ratio means that immediately after the big bang, the antimatter would have come into contact with the matter and thus would have been destroyed by the resulting explosions? Because they CERN and don't Dis-cern.

Scientists say that this antimatter is the "god particle" and at CERN they are bound to capture this energy. Why would anyone, and especially those who do not believe in "god" try to imprison "god's essence"? Because they CERN and don't Dis-cern.

Scientists claim that their research is based on the innocent desire to understand how things work and to change the world. Why is it that they can't hear that we the People are not interested in them "changing" Earth ? Because they CERN and don't Dis-cern.

I just thought I would have some lighthearted fun with this.

⁴ <http://bluestarway.com/bluestarblog/index.php?post/2010/09/16/More-on-Foundation>

⁵ <http://bluestarway.com/bluestarblog/index.php?post/2010/09/17/Clarification-on-judgment>

On a more “serious” note, it is a fact that CERN is either orchestrated by darkness or death, decay, and destruction. If it is orchestrated by darkness, then the real purpose of CERN is to create a door to another universe where they can escape the consequences of their actions, just as they have done in the past. If it is orchestrated by death, decay, and destruction, then the real purpose of CERN is to generate the detonation that will ignite the Earth, Sun, and Moon at point of departure so as to create a red giant that they can use as their source of energy and nourishment. ⁶

Either way and to both groups and their many allies, etc. I say:

Unto all Righteous and Holy Day I do not play.
Get thee away ends your play in a substantive way.
Unto all Righteous and Holy Day,
I do not play, ends your play.
Unto all Righteous and Holy Day it is so.

⁶ This creation of a red giant is why death, decay, and destruction say that if we don’t “repent and let go of darkness’ way”, we will burn in “hell” forever. That is their excuse for blowing us up just as they have done to many other worlds in the past, though none to this level of destruction.

In the flow

I have been re-reading some of my previous postings and I have found them to be most uplifting. Father sure has shared some great Wisdom with us in these years.

I have had a slow start for this cycle but seems that it is time to "get in the flow". Thank You Father for the Greater Wisdom and Understanding that You will share.

Unto a Bright New Day, it is so.

Father, Father Christmas, and Mystical and Magical

10/17/10

Recently, Father explained to us how it is that we loose our Knowing of Him. This is specific to the western cultures who believe in Christmas and Santa Claus. We have no idea what kind of deception is used in other cultures to end their Knowledge of the Father.

What you say? You do believe in the Father or God? I used to think so too, that is until Father showed me different. So brace yourself for this ride.

I have spoken about the Mystical and Magical aspects of Creation and of Life. As children, this Knowledge of the Mystical and Magical is inherent and quite active, even though it is disregarded by adults as plain "child fantasies". In a way, it can be said that there is, so to speak, a "Circuitry" in our physical expression that allows us to perceive the Mystical and Magical aspects of Creation and that allows us to Know and Commune with Father Which Is in Heaven.

You may have heard people or scientists talk about humans being "wired" to believe in God. In reality, it is not that we are "wired" to believe in God as if someone just implanted some kind of program in us to make us believe in the Father whether He is real or not and thus cause some kind of mass delusion of the human race. Instead, it would be more accurate to say, that we have been Created in such a way that allows us to perceive Creator and the Truth of Creation. You cannot know Love unless you have the means to be that Love. In the same way, you cannot Know Father unless you have the means to Experience and Know the Father. Or in a more mundane example, you cannot taste food without taste buds. The taste buds are not in your body to deceive you into thinking that what you eat has flavor, but rather to allow you to taste the flavors of the food you eat.

In other words, this Mystical and Magical "Circuitry" is not there to deceive us into believing in something that does not exist, but rather to allow us to experience what does Exist and is Real. Without it we can't Know Creation just as without taste buds we can't know flavor. The problem does not arise from having this Mystical and Magical "Circuitry" but from the tampering the unrighteous - unholy have done to it.

Let's follow the story of a little boy.

As a child, this little boy's capacity to experience the Mystical and Magical was active and present to various extents, probably depending on how much his brain was affected by all the vaccinations he received at birth and the type of nourishment his mother received during his gestation. This little boy didn't just believe in the Mystical and Magical, but Knew it to be True. He knew the Mystical and Magical because he could sense and experience Father's Presence and he could see such things as fairies and guardian angels. This little boy also knew something else was going on because he could see strange beings hiding in his house or attached to people.

During this time when this little boy Knew of these things, he was introduced to the story of Christmas and Santa Claus. The story of a fat guy in a red dress that could see everything the boy did and that would bring presents at the end of the year if the boy behaved. A guy that could fly in a sleigh pulled by reindeers and place his presents under the tree after sliding down a chimney. A time of the year when candles would be lit and lights would be placed in houses and trees, turning everyday life into a magical scene.

To this little boy's innocent perception, this kind of story with the lights, presents, ornaments, and glitter fit right in with some of his Mystical and Magical Experience of Life. Therefore, this whole illusion of Santa Claus became entangled with his Mystical and Magical "Circuitry". In other words, the belief in the illusion portrayed by his parents and society at large became enmeshed with his Mystical and Magical "Circuitry". Watching Santa movies, sending letters to Santa, visiting Santa in a mall, and receiving presents portrayed to be from Santa, helped to further blur the differentiation between illusion and reality.

You must remember that at that young age, this little boy was still in touch with the Father and thus had an innate knowledge of the benign nature of Creation. He was not able to understand or conceive that anyone, much less his parents, would deceive him in such an elaborate way.

So his little life goes on until the day arrives... the day in which he is told or finally accepts that Santa Claus is fake. The day in which he realizes that he has been deceived by his parents and everyone else who participated in this sham.

This is a very shocking experience to this little boy. He feels great sorrow and pain and in his sorrow and pain makes the choice to stop believing in Santa Claus and in deception. There is a problem though this little child is not aware of. First, the illusion of Santa Claus has become enmeshed with the Mystical and Magical "Circuitry", and second, because this child does not have his Spiritual Discernment sufficiently developed, he can't recognize this. Thus, instead of just removing the deception of Santa Claus from his Mystical and Magical "Circuitry" and retaining Truth, this little boy ends his belief in the deception by shutting down the "Circuit" all together. Suddenly everything he Knew to be Real becomes a deception: Father Which Is in Heaven, fairies, guardian angels, the intangible, his Soul. In his little mind, if Santa was a deception, then everything else must be too. His parents were right when they would tell him that he was just fantasizing about things and should give it all up to become a grown up.

Everything this little boy Knew to be Truth has now been turned into a deception. The door to the Mystical and Magical has been shut. He can no longer experience his Soul, he no longer experiences the Father, he no longer see fairies and guardian angels, and even if he did, he now knows better than to believe in the deception or in the fantasy of his mind.

In a way, it is possible to say, that this little boy died that day he shut down his Mystical and Magical "Circuit". From now on, Life no longer has inherent meaning or value. He no longer Knows Truth. He becomes the "great pretender", pretending all is well. Pretending he has no pain and sorrow for having lost the Mystical and Magical Experience of Life.

From here on this boy usually has two choices: to become a believer or non believer.

- For believers, the desire for something "greater" or the Mystical and Magical is still alive even though it is no longer considered to be Real. This desire is no longer based on Truth, but rather fueled by parents and preachers who purvey the restrictive / constrictive "realm of god" which incorporates the deception of Santa Claus and oddly enough Disneyland, yet denies and condemns the Reality of a Mystical and Magical Life. This desire is also fueled through books and movies. Yet in their Hearts, believers know that these words, books, and movies come from the very same system used to deceive them into believing in Santa Claus. Thus, believers go about their lives pretending that what they are told, and what they read, and what they watch about the "intangible" and the "realm of god" is True, even though they know it is all a deception (a knowledge which by the way is accurate). Those few believers who are not satiated by the restrictive view of religion and still hold some hope of a Mystical and Magical Life, easily fall prey to the dark / distorted expression called majik which is, of course, a false depiction of Truth and Creation.

- Non-believers are those who gave up even the hope for something "greater" to exist. For them nothing is real unless it can be touched, smelled, heard, or measured with technology or the physical body. They go around pretending nothing intangible is Real and that there is no such thing as Creator. They can see how believers are being deceived by religious babble, yet do not realize that they themselves have been deceived and disconnected from Reality the day they shut down their Mystical and Magical "Circuitry".

As you probably know, this is indeed a very traumatic event for this boy. It is an event that seriously affects the rest of his life for he knows himself to be a pretender. Life no longer has meaning and in his despair he will one day do unto his children that which was done unto him.

Father has explained to us that from this damaged perception this individual would no longer be able to Experience and Trust the Mystical and Magical of Life and therefore Father.

This is where I was before this understanding from Father. Yes, I would seek the Father and yes, Linda and I would talk to Him and record His Conveyances, yet in my Heart, I could not believe in the Reality of the Father. For me, deception was real and Father was fake, just like Santa. I had more faith in the world than in the Father. Father has explained that even if He had manifested right before my eyes, I would have still doubted the veracity of what I saw and just think that I had imagined the event.

It wasn't until Father explained this and helped us understand the need to Discern and separate the deception of Santa Claus from the Mystical and Magical "Circuitry" that I was able to correct my mistake. I tossed the deception and made the choice to restore the function of my Mystical and Magical "Circuitry". Now, I could begin once again to Know the Reality of the Father and the Mystical and Magical Life. I did not receive full restoration overnight but certainly things are changing. In a way you could say my resuscitation is taking a while...

Thus, to answer Virginia's question in Truth is:

No Virginia, there is NO Santa Claus, but a man who is known as Father Christmas did walk upon the Earth. His name was Saint Nicholas and Father explained to us that this man sought to keep the Knowledge of the Father alive by giving People presents that met their need for Abundance, just as the Father does to all who look unto Him.⁷

Yes, the Mystical and Magical is True and Real.

⁷ After over 1600 years of stories and changes, the Truth of St. Nicholas actions seem to have been pretty much lost. Without Father we would have never known what gave rise to this man's actions.

A different perspective

10/18/10

Here is a different perspective on what I shared yesterday. This comes from Linda's posting "a look at christmas in July"⁸:

"A look at christmas in July

Do you have "hardwiring" in your brain regarding Christmas? Do Santa Claus, SugarPlum Fairies, Elves, Father Christmas, the christ child, god, gifts, good and bad, love, romance, warm fires (northern hemisphere), intimate exchanges, mistletoe, all connect in one continuous path? If one falls, do they all fall?

When you were a child and were told Santa Claus / Father christmas wasn't real, and fairies weren't real, and elves weren't real, did the whole circuit become "fried"? Did god or Father Which Is In Heaven become "unreal" to you? Did Love become unreal? Did the possibility you are "good" become unreal? Was all that remained a tiny sliver of hope and faith that they were real? But which were real? Was there a conflict between Santa Claus and Father Christmas, Father Which Is In Heaven and god, who receives gifts and who doesn't, a child who brought Love to the world or a child who is Love, a Person who receives romantic love or a Person who IS Love in the world?

Perhaps it is time to return our brain circuit to Truth. When we ask to be re-pathed to the original diagram (plan), we are free to experience the fullness of The Father's Presence, our expression of Love / Rapture, Truth and Goodness, perhaps even elves and fairies.

On a SunShiny Day of a cool-balmy breeze, crystal blue skies, and clouds of puffy white cotton !"

Mistake corrected

As it turns out, after a few days of contemplation, Father confirmed that He would have me continue with this blog, so here I am.

A few days ago, Father explained to us that the unrighteous - unholy have programmed / implanted in us a desire to please them above the Father and that this includes an energy that denounces the Father Way "each and every day".

To denounce is to attack or condemn vehemently, to announce as a threat, or proclaim menacingly.

Last Monday I was given an Opportunity to experience this denouncing energy against the Father in full blown manifestation. As it turns out, Father was providing the Opportunity to recognize the programming that they had put in me regarding pleasing them and boy they sure did not like it. By the time this event ended, they were in the most vehement attack and condemnation against the Father. We speak of course of "non tangible" beings that manipulate the thoughts and emotions of the People so as to control their actions.

This is not the first time I had experienced something like this, however, it is the first time that I could distinctly recognize that I was being "stoked" so to speak by someone / or something outside of me. In the past, they would derail me for weeks with this, but this time, I had enough presence to get out of it within a few hours, though not before I posted that I was ending my postings. After a few days of sorting things out, I realized it is Right and Proper for me to continue blogging. I asked Father and He confirmed this.

It wouldn't surprise me if this energy that denounces the Father Way is what gets engaged in People when they hear or see Truth that will set them Free from whatever bondage has been placed upon them. It wouldn't surprise me at all, if many of the burnings and torturing the unrighteous - unholy have done through the People was instigated through this programming / implant.

Linda is developing in her blog, the understanding Father brought to us about this implant to "please and desire" the unrighteous – unholy above the Father. From my point of view and experience, this is what explains why psychologists have shown in experiments that People will inflict harm unto others when directed to do so by someone perceived to be in authority. Again, the Truth remains, it is not natural for the People to act in this way, neither is the behavior shown through these experiments an indicator of People's Nature. These experiments simply surfaced the implant / manipulation the unrighteous - unholy placed upon the People so as to control their behavior. While many have found the strength to rise above this, many others have yet to find their strength. It is for each one of us to simply recognize that this implant / programming has been put in us and to take the steps to let go of it. Refer to Linda's posting "Strength in Truth" ⁹ for more on this (she will continue this understanding in future postings).

I may elaborate some more on this topic, but not before I finish my writings on the Mystical and Magical "Circuit".

Until my next posting,

Martin

Father Desire – part 1

In my posting "Father, Father Christmas, and Mystical and Magical" I spoke about the Mystical and Magical "Circuit" that is available to each of us to experience, perceive, and know the Truth of Creation. I also explained how we are tricked into shutting this "Circuit" down and what happens when we do. Today, I will write about this from a slightly different perspective. Perhaps I should say, from the perspective of a "believer".

For the longest time (years) Father would tell me how I really did not believe in Him and how this affected my capacity to receive from Him. The first issue Father had me address was my belief that those who abused and manipulated me were more powerful than Him – after all, they were able to do what they did and of course to my perception, Father was not there to stop them. Thus dealing with this meant dealing with the anger and pain of "Father not being there" as well as with the anger and sense of abandonment that resulted from my biological father ignoring the abuse under the logic that as long as the unrighteous - unholy were focused on destroying me, he would be "safe" and out of their minds.

Father Guided me out of this mess by focusing on three issues.

1. One was mending my hurt with my biological father. This was a necessity because biological fathers are meant to be Father's representatives on Earth. Biological fathers are meant to support a child's capacity to recognize and strengthen his / her ability to commune and be sustained by the Father until the child's mind and body becomes sufficiently developed to walk in solitude in the Father Way. This means that a child's relationship with his / her biological father becomes a blueprint that establishes the relationship between the child and the Father. When a child develops grudges with his / her biological father, then this false witness and the resulting grudges are taken to the relationship with the Father. In other words, how we see and relate with our biological father is how we perceive and relate with the Father.¹⁰ This mending included learning to differentiate Father from my biological father by recognizing the many ways in which my Communion with Father had been affected by this relationship with my biological father and asking Father to restore me to Truth at those levels.

2. The second issue was to learn to recognize that Father had been with me even during the difficult times, and to recognize that He has held the Truth of who I am safe, that I may be restored to this Truth once again. One could argue why He allowed it to happen in the first place, but this has more to do with the circumstances of our choices and beliefs at any given moment. The more we look unto our parents for our safety, the less active can Father be in our lives (see "Trust in the Father"¹¹). So one has to come to terms with this and once again ask Father for restoration to Truth as we Exchange all sorrows, fears, pains on the Altar of Divine Love and Divine Power for Truth of who we are.
3. The third aspect was to recognize that the unrighteous - unholy are not "gods" who have power over Father. It was to recognize that the particular person who chose to become their instrument was not "speaking for god", so to speak, and was therefore not this all powerful, all knowing godlike person.

So for many years I diligently did my "work" on these issues, yet as Father would continue to refine my understanding of what had happened, the theme continued to be "you still go to them rather than the Father" and "you still believe in them rather than your Father". And for the longest time I couldn't get it. How could it be that after doing all that I was doing to move past these issues, Father would still say things like:

*While you implicitly believe not in your Father Desire you do indeed accurately believe in your desire for another.
Where you to exchange your believe in another, for that of your Heavenly Father...*

¹⁰ As you can imagine, this is one of the reasons why many people don't want anything to do with the idea of a "masculine" Father.

¹¹ Posted on June 19, 2010 and can be found in "BlueStar Blog Book 3".

So, it wasn't until the understanding of the Mystical and Magical "Circuit" that I started to recognize the mistakes and how to correct them. I will write about this in my next posting.

(Posting has been updated on 110210 to Properly convey refinement given by Father. See "Refinement – Mystical and Magical" ¹²)

Father Desire – part 2

In the posting "Father Desire – part 1" I explained that for the longest time Father was providing the Knowledge and Understanding that I needed to get over the idea that the unrighteous - unholy were more powerful than Him and that this particular abuser was some kind of "god like" person.

For years I did my part on dealing with these issues based on Father's Guidance, yet it still remained the case that time and time again, Father would continue to say that I would be leaning unto the unrighteous - unholy and trusting them more than Him.

Eventually, I was finally able to obtain enough clarity of mind to recognize the problem. Perseverance in my Desire for Truth yielded its rewards. The problem in a nutshell was that when I would seek the Father in private mediation, I was actually going to this image of "god" that I had. In other words, rather than Communing with Father as I thought I was during these times, I was actually seeking the advice of the unrighteous - unholy who I believed to be "god". I wanted to talk to Father, but I was certainly dialing the wrong number... and those who would answer, never cared to tell me so.

As you can imagine, this led to a lot of confusion and consternation. How could Father Say one thing through Linda and then me have this complete opposite understanding of what needed to be done?

With this understanding it made perfect sense why Father would Say I was not Trusting Him or placing Him first. I really wasn't. I was placing these false gods above the Father, not consciously realizing I was doing so. Having recognized this, I naturally stopped looking unto them and cleaned up my act. Yet shortly thereafter Father told me once again that I was still having the same problem. I still did not believe in Him or His Reality.

How could that be? Well, there was one more layer to this deception.

As I contemplated Father's Words that day regarding my "belief in another" and "not in my Father Desire", I came to understand the following:

- If I recognize that my Father Desire is natural and in me, this means that, as a child, I would have naturally and inherently Known of the Father and of my Journey upon this Earth.
- This then means that the religious idea that a child will become a lost soul if not taught of "god" and taken to church, is false. My Knowledge of Father is not due to my parent's efforts to take me to church and teach me about "god", but a result of my inherent and natural Father Desire.
- If I would have known of the Father on my own because of my Father Desire, then all these teachings about "god" and the church have to be a deception. They didn't teach me about my Father Desire and how to develop my capacity to know Father through it. Instead they drilled in me who "god" is, what he does to those who sin, and why I should not sin and go to hell when he comes down from heaven to judge me.
- This means then that I am not indebted to my parents or abuser for having introduced me to "god". As a matter of fact, what they did was divert me from the Father and cause me to accept worship to something else.
- In a strange way of sorts, the claim that the church puts out, that a child will not believe in "god" if not taught of "god" is accurate. Instead of believing in "god" children would Know of the Father, because of their Father Desire.
- Just like with fairies. Children don't believe in fairies or hope they are real. Instead, they Know they are Real because they can see them. So when Santa Claus is thrown into the picture and then taken away, children loose the fairies and the Father. All that remains is the "god" of the church.
- That is to say the "god" of the church is not the Father. To the church those who have an inherent Knowledge of the Father are pagans at best, who need converted and saved.

- Natives grew with the Knowledge of the Father and supported this Knowledge to various extends. This is why they could recognize the sacredness of Nature and of Creation and why they are now lost. Their Mystical and Magical "Circuit" has been shut down through forced assimilation by the Western culture. Their Father Desire no longer has validity. They are as lost as we are in the western world. All we both have is church verbiage and the pretense this verbiage is real.

As I wrote that day about this, I came to understand that even though my faith was real, it was indeed directed to "god" as taught to me by the church. While I had ended my perception that this unrighteous - unholy entity I was communing with was the Father, I was still retaining the basic notion of Father being the "god" as given to me by the church. Even though my perception of "god" contained some Truth of the Father as Jesus is said to have taught in the Bible, it was still based on this structure of deception, rather than on recognition of the Reality of my Father Desire. Does that make sense? I hadn't realized that in this particular instance, I needed to throw away not only the dirty water, but also the baby (pun intended). It all had to go.

As I said in my "Closure – SP 29" ¹³ posting, "we can't find our Way with the Father as long as we hold on to the ideas and preconceptions we have formed in our mind based on what others have taught us / imposed upon us. Even if there is some Truth in the deception, it all must be thrown away, for otherwise we will remain stuck in the frame of reference given to us by the unrighteous - unholy to deceive us."

So I threw it all away and for a moment things got scary. My entire "god" structure and belief system crumbled into nothingness. What was left? The lust of darkness.

I will talk about this in my next posting.

Father Desire – part 3

In my previous posting I wrote about throwing away the dirty water and the baby so as to be able to embrace the Truth of the Father. I also said that when I did this, I became aware of this intense lustful energy. The false witness of this energy being that if someone doesn't have to follow the preachings of the church, then sex, drugs, and rock and roll... well, roll.

You see, we really speak of the two groups here. On the one side there is darkness who brought lust to this Earth through the use of genetic manipulation, shades and shadows of darkness, and transmission of an artificial energy designed to elicit / solicit lustful desire in everything living. On the other side, is death, decay, and destruction who tell you that you will burn in hell if you do not repent of your sins and follow their mandates. In a way, when you get rid of one, there is still the potential to get trapped / deceived by the other.

Fortunately for me, Father had been sharing Truth and Knowledge of the two unrighteous - unholy groups upon this Earth and thus, I was able to recognize that this energy was external to me. Otherwise, I would have probably been caught in the prevalent new age deception that spiritual people are "enlightened" enough to go around having sex with any consenting adult that causes them to "light up like a Christmas tree" ¹⁵.

As I contemplated the meaning of this and began to be shown how I had been affected by this energy, I realized that it was time to also end this unexpected play with darkness. Rather than falling into the deception that it is normal to experience this lustful energy and be lustfully stoked by it, I choose to stop playing their game and closed my mind to it. (see "If it quacks like a duck, walks like a duck..." ¹⁶)

"I do not play, get thee away ends your play."

¹⁵ To quote Linda's descriptive words.

¹⁶ Posted on 08/28/2010 and available in "BlueStar Blog 3"

Father has explained to us that when we consciously make a choice to not engage in lustful energy, our body is able to simply filter it out allowing us to not be controlled or ruled by this artificial energy. This does not mean however that our bodies will no longer have a need to move accumulated energy every so often. What it means though, is that we don't confuse and entangle what Father Says is a natural bodily need, with the artificial signal broadcast to turn this energy into lust and deviate behavior.

This difference in behavior is most noticeable in native cultures that have lived in some kind isolation. From what I have read and the pictures I have seen of such people, I can tell they are not perverted or driven by lust as the Western, Asian, and African cultures are. They live simple lives with few children, and respect their environment, surroundings, and each other. They have not turned their bodies into lustful commodities nor are they plagued by inhibition / repression. This doesn't mean they have remained fully uncontaminated, but certainly lust is not a widespread disease that drives them to insane behavior.

By cleansing and "turning on" my Mystical and Magical "Circuit" I was able to recognize the Reality and Validity of my Father Desire. This in turn allowed me to identify my belief in the false witness the unrighteous - unholy had given me and to end my play in such deception. In so doing, I was then able to choose for my Father Desire to become active and present in my life. Father is no longer relegated to a false fairy story. The unrighteous - unholy are no longer "gods" that have "power" over Father. Instead, Father is becoming a Reality once again, and the reach of unrighteous - unholy is beginning to fade into nothingness. My Faith is now Properly placed in the Father. My Life is ceasing to be an intellectual pursuit and is becoming the music I'm meant to play in the orchestra of Life.

A side note for tomorrow

(By the way, I noticed today that I forgot to publish my posting "Father Desire - part 3". I have published it now so there are two new postings for today)

Linda wrote a few comments this past Friday regarding tomorrow's "holiday". It seems appropriate to make her posting "turn the treats" available this day on my blog.

It is easy to say that there is no harm in celebrating Halloween, yet careful contemplation should reveal the fallacy of such thinking. How can changing a day which was intended to cast out unrighteous - unholy energies and entities from our house and Self into a day in which people actually invite, solicit, and celebrate such entities, be harmless?

Remember my "Pure-Pose" posting? In it we learned that distorting the meaning of something so as to turn that which is intended for good into an improper use is the definition of perversion. Perversion is connected with corruption and defilement.

Perhaps this day, rather than celebrating the deception, we should take the opportunity to return to the Truth in which we make ourselves unavailable to the unrighteous - unholy by focusing on the Truth of the Father. Let it be a creative day in a way that nourishes your Soul.

Here is Linda's posting:

turn the treats

The biggest candy sale holiday is upon us. Remember that this "holiday" was intended to cast out all unrighteous - unholy energies. Somehow ! ? it has turned into a celebration of the unrighteous - unholy. And . . . there has been an increasing trend to combine / confuse it with "christmas". Not the celebration of the birth of an advanced model of The People (or is it original model ?), but the celebration of mercantile.

Changing the energy of this weekend is a matter of individual choice. Turn porch lights out and give out no candy. No "costumes", no parties. Making a focused choice to put extra attention to The Father and The Father Way will yield extra benefits. Ask The Father for Truth regarding this weekend. See what an Earth of only Divine Expression -- Living in Universal Truth -- would be. Buy your family a couple of bags of non-halloween candy, if you enjoy candy. Perhaps caramel apples or cider.

Last year I enjoyed a "blue" pumpkin from the vineyard. It was the smoothest, best tasting pumpkin / squash I have ever tasted. I have no idea what it was named or where the seed came from. It is worth looking into for your next garden. Eating a pumpkin is much more important for health and happiness than false image carving. Remember to look into the roasting of the pumpkin seeds. Some need hulling, some don't. Soup, pie, bread, cake, cookies, are all possible from one pumpkin.

Look to a great harvest weekend and stocking your pantry. Use your resources for long storing pumpkin, squash, apples, fall vegetables such as brussels sprouts, greens, beets, lettuce, nut harvesting, and persimmons.

Prepare for the Thanksgiving table as you look to The Father for revealing your Thanks-giving ceremony.

On a SunShiny day of Truth and Love, under TurquoiseBlue skies, pure air, balmy breeze, and pure rain !

Refinement – Mystical and Magical

11/01/10

Last week Father had an opportunity to explain that I have been confusing the relationship between the Mystical and Magical and the Father Desire. This is what Father Said:

*...unto all Righteous and Holy Day,
the Mystical and Magical is not your Father Way.
You could accurately say it is but the Play of the Mystical and Magical in the Father Way.*

This means that what I have been describing in this blog is the Play of the Mystical and Magical in the Father Way. Any reference to the idea that the Mystical and Magical is the Father Way, is erroneous and needs corrected by this refinement.

... you could indeed go out not to play in a mystical and magical way were you to ensure yet your Father Desire.

Father also explained that the Mystical and Magical "Circuit" is different than the Father Desire. That is to say, one can secure one's Father Desire yet not Play in a Mystical and Magical way. At the same time, one can secure the Mystical and Magical "Circuit" and not know of the Father Way.

I will be reviewing my postings titled "Father Desire" shortly to see whether I need to make further clarifications on this matter.

Father Desire Refinements

11/02/10

I have read my three posting on the “Father Desire” and found some few changes that needed made to Properly convey the refinement in understanding Father shared with me (see “Refinement – Mystical and Magical”).

The changes are as follows:

- Father Desire – part 1: last paragraph
- Father Desire – part 2: last itemized paragraph and the paragraph immediately following
- Father Desire – part 3: last paragraph

I have updated these postings accordingly.

Could it be?

11/03/10

I thought it would be fun to take a look at the word "culture" and check out the dictionary definition to see what comes out of it. Of course this is my own personal take. Nothing more, nothing less.

From the New Century Dictionary published in 1938 by the D. Appleton-Century Company, I get the following:

Culture: [< colere: see cult]

- The action or practice of cultivating the soil
- The raising of plants or animals, esp. with a view to their improvement
- Cultivation of micro-organisms
- Development or improvement by education or training

This is quite a mouthful of concepts packed into one single word. We have the cultivation of soil, the raising of plants and animals so as to improve them (read genetic engineering), the cultivation of micro-organisms such as bacteria, viruses, mold, fungus, and so on, and then we have education and training.

Apparently all goes hand in hand.

I guess you could say this explains why the "great cultures" of this world are engaged in agriculture, genetic engineering, proliferation of micro-organisms, and education. That is what "cultured" nations do. The more a nation destroys its land and soil through agriculture, the greater its capacity to genetically modify plants, animals, and yes, People, the greater its capacity to cultivate and spread mold, fungus, bacteria, viruses by creating the conditions upon the land and People that encourages their growth, and the higher the indoctrination of "its" People through education, the higher its cultural level is.

So that's it! The unrighteous - unholy and all those who support them have been trying to increase our cultural level! They have been trying to refine and enlighten us! And we just thought they were trying to kill and destroy us... silly us...how can we be so brute and not understand their "good intentions" toward us?... they are just trying to make us better... you think... maybe?... that's maybe why every so often they release a great plague upon the Earth? Just to increase our cultural level and educate us in their ways?

To paraphrase a famous astronaut: "Houston, they have a problem!" Someone lost his marbles some time ago.

Perhaps it is time to "un-cult-ivate" ourselves...

More cultural fun...

11/05/10

In my last posting I had some fun with the word "culture". Why not just take it one step further?

From the New Century Dictionary I learned that culture is defined as:

Culture: [< colere: see cult]

- The action or practice of cultivating the soil
- The raising of plants or animals, esp. with a view to their improvement
- Cultivation of micro-organisms
- Development or improvement by education or training

Common understanding says that agriculture, animal domestication, and education are what allowed cultures to develop, yet you would think that from the definition above, the growing of micro-organisms had something to do with it too.

Let's see, history teaches us that organized religion (read belief in gods) and government sprouted as a result of man's capacity to become sedentary. Before (agri)culture People freely roamed the Earth and after (agri)culture People began to pay taxes to rulers and make offerings to gods... if you ask me, something smells fishy...

By the way, did you know that one of the first things religious advocates did to control the native American population that survived the onslaught of new diseases brought by Europeans, was to "educate" them in the ways of (agri)culture?

What came first? The sickness that allowed viruses, bacteria, mold, and fungus to grow in people causing them to lose their capacity to be mobile and forcing them into a sedentary life that required the tilling of land and domestication of animals? Or was it eating the products from agriculture and domestication that brought sickness to the people and allowed viruses, bacteria, mold, and fungus to grow in them?

What came first, the chicken or the egg? Or perhaps more importantly, who was behind the creation of the chicken or the egg?

More “linguistic” fun

I thought it would be interesting to share the knowledge that is available from exploring two words of great significance to the western world: democracy and republic.

To many, these two simple words represent everything the western world is about. Thus, it seems appropriate to check it out. I’m using the same dictionary as before, “The New Century Dictionary.”

Democracy or de-mock-cracy

de

- a prefix of Latin origin, denoting primarily separation or removal, and hence deprivation, negation, or reversal mock

- to assail or treat with ridicule or derision
- to deceive, delude, or disappoint
- imitation or counterfeit

-cracy

- a noun termination meaning ‘rule’, ‘government’, ‘governing body’

Putting it all together we have that democracy is a governing body or government that is based on deprivation and thus negation or reversal of Universal Law. This type of government promotes the ridicule, assail, and derision of those who Desire to live in Freedom. It is a counterfeit of Sovereign Expression upon the land and therefore it thrives on deception and delusion. It could be said that the goal of such system is the generation of disappointment designed to, for example, promote a state of anger that leads to war and thus death, decay, and destruction.

republic or re-pub-lick

re

- see Ra
- a prefix meaning 'back', 'again'

Ra

- the great sun-god of the Egyptians

pub [abbr. of public]

- a public house
- a tavern: a place where liquors are sold to be drunk on the premises public:

- pertaining to, or affecting the people as a whole lick

- to beat, thrash, or whip, as for punishment
- overcome in a fight

Putting it all together we have that a republic is a system designed to overcome the people through the use of alcohol and flagellation. The apparent purpose of this system is to bring back the "sun-god" Ra.

It certainly seems easier to recognize how the "expanded" definition of "democracy" applies to our everyday experience of living under such system. With a little bit of thought you can also identify how the "expanded" definition of "republic" applies. For example, it can be easily argued that the western world is a punishment based society and it is probably a small minority who has escaped the beating, trashing, or whipping of their bodies as children. It can also be easily argued that for all practical purposes, the western world is an alcohol based society. Whether it is Europe, South, Central, or North America, you will find youth and adults alike proudly drowning in alcohol. I have been there, I have seen it, and I have experienced it.

So what about this “sun-god” thing? Well, this kind of reminds me of research done by Jim Mars and others who have uncovered that there are several secret societies that seek to institute the return of their “god” and are using government as one of the means to achieve this.

Oh, by the way... did you know that one of the ways native Americans were kept incapable of resisting the western expansionist movement was through the use of liquor and thus promotion of their drunkenness?

Ending the thief mentality

Not too long ago, Father made an interesting comment by referring to all the things He has brought to us as a treasure. To me this was actually a surprising observation. Father has indeed brought things to us, but from my perspective I never considered them to be anything close to a treasure. Father has brought us clothing, food, household items, and a few things here and there to support Soul Nourishing activities... but to call that treasure? Not in my book.

So I took this to contemplation. What did treasure mean to me? Well, the usual: gold, jewelry, diamonds, electronics, gemstones... all those things you can actually sell for lots of money. As I thought about this, it finally dawned on me that I had a thief mentality. To me, what had treasure value, were all those things that thieves or pirates would want to steal and have. I was actually seeing the world and assigning value based on this kind of mentality. Can it be exploited? Can it be sold for lots of money? Did I have to pay lots of money to get it? Does the world assign value to it?

The next step I had to deal with was fear. Once I accepted the possibility that what Father brought to us is indeed treasure, I became afraid that someone might steal it. If I see it as treasure, then someone else might see it as treasure and take it from me. That is what the unrighteous - unholy have been doing to us since their arrival, taking away everything that has had real value and leaving us at best with nothing except their worthless counterfeits and at worst empty handed.

So I have been laying all the fear and false perceptions on the Altar of Divine Love and Power in Right and Proper Exchange for Truth and the Knowledge that all is safe in the Father. I put my Trust in the Father and stop playing the unrighteous - unholy play. Father has explained that the unrighteous - unholy cannot take from us unless we consent to it. The perception that is created in the movies that the unrighteous - unholy can do whatever they want and plunder or kill anything or anyone is a plain out deception. They can't. It is only when People accept this kind of perception and "leave their door wide open" so to speak that the unrighteous - unholy can enter and plunder at will. This kind of “consent” occurs at higher dimensional levels of which People are normally not aware and is often obtained through deceit, manipulation, abuse, and even through silence or lack of action on our part to not play.

This is why we learn to become aware of what is happening at our “secondary level” and at the “fringes of our awareness” (see “Increased Awareness” ¹⁸). This is why we null and void all false contracts and false sense of responsibility / obligation toward others (see “Making the choice for Father - SP 28a” ¹⁹) . This is why we ask Father to cast the unrighteous - unholy out from us and seal the door(s) they have implanted in us. This is why we learn to recognize that we do have the Power and Authority to say “I do NOT play. Get thee away ends your play”, and that they have to obey our choice. We have a Say and that Say has to be obeyed by them.

It is important as we continue in our Journey in the Father Way to ask that energy that is assigned to us by Divine Authority NOT be available to the unrighteous – unholy. We can say we do not consent to the plunder and piracy of Divine Resources made daily available to each one of us. We can say “I do not go out to play.” We can request that the Divine Resources made available to us be only used as Divinely Appointed by the Father.

... there is not Better Way than when you go out not to play.

Progression in understanding

11/11/10

As you may have realized, my note on the right column of this blog page is accurate. My journey and thus postings are based on my capacity to progress in Father's Foundation and in understand what He Conveys. It would be nice to receive the full Truth of any given Understanding that Father shares, however until there is a shift in perception, Truth is a progression that requires refinement.

In a way, understanding Universal Truth from where we are in the world at this time and age, could be likened to looking at some natural landscape that is covered with, let's say, haze or pollution. First all you see is the pollution and perhaps some shapes here and there of what may lay under it, but that's it. All you have at this moment is a faint hint. Then, as the smoke or pollution gradually begins to lift or dissolve, you begin to notice more and more features of the landscape. Your picture begins to clear but the haze or pollution still interferes, until the moment in which all haze or pollution has been lifted and you have a crystal clear view of the landscape. Now you can see many more details. You can fully perceive the beauty of what you see, perhaps even sense the aroma of the trees and flowers.

This is how it is for us, the pollution and contamination that is in and around us interferes with our capacity to fully comprehend Universal Truth. First we get a glimpse here and there, but as we persist in our cleansing and clearing of our energy, greater Clarity becomes available to us, until the day we get the full picture.

Thus, as we walk in the Father Way, we allow and welcome the refinements that become available as we progress. Rather than getting stuck with partial understandings based on hazy views of Truth, we allow ourselves to make, as the view clears, any necessary corrections to our perception.

Clarity of Holy Vision is indeed a nice thing to receive.

What you ask for is what you get 11/12/10

I thought it would be appropriate to give another example of how we can be tricked by the unrighteous - unholy into asking for something we really do not want. One example I shared recently was related to the belief that a democracy or a republic is a desirable form of government. Millions of people around the world clamor for the freedom that democracy and republic is supposed to represent yet as we have found out (see "More "linguistic" fun" - page 20), these systems are not designed to bring freedom to the people. At least not freedom as what think we understand freedom is.

In these kinds of governments, people every so often come together to elect the politicians that will do the politics of the country for the next term. Promises are made, votes are cast, and yet at the end, it never fails that people get disillusioned when they awaken to the reality that the elected politicians are no better than the ones taken out of office. These people then think there is something wrong with the system and if the system could be restored to the original intent of the "founding fathers" then all would be ok once again. But would that really be so? Would politicians really "behave" if the "system" was restored to its original "intent"?

Why don't we explore what a politician is? I will use the same "The New Century Dictionary" I have been using in the past.

Politician:

- one versed in or concerned with the science of politics or the subject of political government
- also, one skilled in political government or administration
- statesman
- more commonly, now, one who holds a political office or is occupied with political affairs
- often, one who is active in party politics, or who makes a trade of politics for party ends or personal gain

Can you see the trickery? A politician is one who engages in politics for party ends or personal gain. That this is Truly the case, is further corroborated by looking at the "synonym" section of this dictionary.

Politician, Syn.: statesman, politicaster

- Politician suggests the schemes and devices of one who engages in (especially small) politics for party ends or his own advantage; statesman, the eminent ability, foresight, and unselfish devotion to the interests of his country of one dealing with (especially important or great) affairs of state.

How the words politician and statesman can be synonymous is beyond my comprehension. A politician does what he does to further his party ends or for his own personal gain. A statesman is someone who has an "unselfish devotion" to the interests of his country. To me these words are antonyms.

As you can see, People all around the world are getting just what they are asking for. When they ask for a democracy they get a de-mock-cracy, when they ask for a republic they get a re-pub-lick. Then, they elect politicians into office...

Government works just as it has been designed to work and it does so very well. It is not the politicians who are disconnected from "reality" or the "needs" of the "people". Politicians are not concerned with people's needs. It is the People who are blind to the reality of what they are asking for.

Perhaps People need to rethink what it is they want and appropriately ask for it.

You can't ask for a system implemented by the unrighteous - unholy to oppress, control, and pilfer the People and then expect that very system to work for the benefit of the People.

What would we really want to ask for?

11/13/10

That is a good question. When Linda and I started our journey we came together with the purpose of Healing. That was our goal, to attain total and complete Healing. It took us a couple of years to reach a point in which Father was able to explain to us that Healing is not the goal. Contrary to "new age" thinking, we do not walk upon Earth to Heal our hurts. Instead we are here to do what we came here to do in our journey with Father.

Having understood this, we then asked for freedom. We wanted to be free to choose the Father and do that which was before us to do. For the longest time we asked for freedom thinking that this would allow us to choose and receive the Kingdom. Then the day came in which we finally understood that freedom is not the goal either. The need for freedom is as distorted as the need for Healing. There is no need to be free or Healed to make a choice for the Father and do that which is before us to do.

Instead, as Father explained, receiving His Kingdom is what brings Freedom and Healing. It also brings Abundance and Joy. You may remember the saying "Seek first His Kingdom and His Righteousness and all these things will be given to you as well". Well, as it turns out, this sentence in the Bible is accurate.

From the posting "Seeking Father's Kingdom" ²⁰:

the Kingdom is our Desire for Heaven made manifest and

Heaven is Right & Proper Function of our Divine Expression in a Kingly, Rightforward manner

²⁰ Posted on August 21, 2010 and available on "BlueStar Blog 3".

So, what do you think we really should be asking for? Who do you think should be the recipient of that request?

You know what this means? That perhaps the idea that we must get involved in politics, policies, fundraisers, walks against this and that, religion, crusades, greening up the world, and so on to bring about a change in the world is... you are right, nothing more than a diversion... for as long as you are kept busy with these things, you will never be asking for the right thing and all your resources and attention will be misdirected away from the Kingdom.

What else do we ask for?

Today, as I was browsing through the BlueStarWay website, I realized that it was appropriate to take a few quotes from the "Civil Unrest" notice, located on the homepage of our website, and use this to expand yesterday's posting.

As you may recall, yesterday, I wrote about seeking first the Kingdom and thus asking for restoration of our Divine Expression to Right and Proper Function. I also mentioned that all other activities such as getting involved in politics, wars, ecology, and so on are diversions intended to keep us from seeking the Kingdom.

I realize that it may be difficult to let go of the need to change the world and the false idea that we must get involved and do something before it is too late, however that is what Father is Guiding us to do. Linda and I have both written about this many times and in many ways in our blogs.

Here are a few quotes from the "Civil Unrest" notice:

Father has proposed a different, immediate response to [any] potential plan of the unrighteous-unholy.

The Father has Said through "inordinate activity of your Heartfelt Desire", the Father's Plan will prevail upon this land. Were we the People to Desire the Father's Plan to prevail, the unrighteous-unholy will indeed pass away -- not to the structures they have prepared for their survival, but indeed from this Earth.

As the People Pray and Desire for the Divine Plan to prevail, they must realize Father's Plan is one of Love, one of Peace, one of Abundance. As the unrighteous-unholy pass away, through the Desire and Prayers of the People, all violence passes away with them. All death, decay, destruction passes away with them. What remains is a land that is fresh and pure / a new Earth / a new Heaven.

While it seems as though this is "way too simple" and that the only possibility of ending the unrighteous-unholy oppression is through violent measure, it is the Truth that "the Prayer of a Righteous Person availeth much". Violence has always failed the People. When many Righteous and Holy People Pray of one a-chord for the Divine Plan upon this land / this Earth, there must of one a-chord be a passing away of all unrighteous-unholy activity.

Of course, the Divine Plan of which we speak is that of the Father Which Is in Heaven. At no point has Father indicated to us that this includes the return of a "superhero" that will deliver us from all "evil". Father does not Desire a "superhero" to rescue us, because doing so would perpetuate the false belief in weakness and helplessness that the unrighteous - unholy have inculcated ²¹ in us.

Instead, Father wants us to stand up tall and recognize the Truth of Who We Are and the Truth of Who He Is. He wants us to Know we have the Strength and Valor to say NO to the unrighteous – unholy. He wants us to Know we have the Strength and Valor to end our play in their game. He wants us to Know that our Desire for the Father is strong enough to end the presence and play of the unrighteous – unholy. He wants us to Know that our Desire for restoration to our Divine Expression and for the success of Father's Plan can and shall restore once again Heaven to Earth.

In this success our confidence in our Desire for All That Is Righteous and Holy shall be restored and strengthened.

²¹ To impress upon the mind by frequent repetition or forceful admonition.

What about others?

11/15/10

If you have read the last two postings, this is indeed a question that may have crossed your mind. If I focus on myself, ask for my restoration to Right and Proper Function of my Divine Expression, ask for the Divine Plan to succeed, and withdraw my participation in the idea that I need to help others and save the world... then what about others?

Father has been addressing the deception of "putting others first" in many ways. Linda and I have shared this in many ways too, in our blogs. Today, I will quote from the 2009 Homily given by Father and which is posted on our BlueStarWay website. Comments in brackets are my addition to the quotes.

*"You could look not to another for your sorrow endeavor to end.
Seek instead All Righteous and Holy Opportunity of your head."*

[Father is explaining that the way to end your sorrow is not by finding another or that "right one". Instead, the sorrow is ended when you seek All Righteous and Holy Opportunity of your head, which is your restoration to your Divine Expression.]

"You end not your sorrow when your conscious desire corresponds not, with your Heartfelt Desire."

[Father Speaks of aligning yourself with what you came here to do which is different than what the world taught you to want.]

*"Seek instead All Righteous and Holy Opportunity of your head through the / your utmost Desire to stay / please not another / mother of your head.
Seek instead All Righteous and Holy Opportunity while your Heartfelt Desire gone not astray, comes into Play."*

One of the most significant opposing energies, which is purported to be Right and Proper attitude of a spiritual purpose, is to place the value or welfare of another before one's Self. This deception misaligns our Heartfelt Desire, distorts our Desire, and fosters sorrow because we have then strayed from our spiritual "Design".

We are focused this day on the Way to return / be restored to Universal Truth of our Self and the Divine Plan. This means we give ourselves permission to stop the deception of putting others first, and recognize that putting / knowing one Self first is our only Hope of Spiritual full-fillment.

This concept requires Respecting all others and Honoring those who Honor the Father. This, of a necessity, says that putting one's Self first is a Righteous and Holy Perspective.

If we put our [false] desire / deception first while saying "the Divine Plan be done in our life", we create a split mind which cannot function in a Righteous and Holy Way. We have to either choose for All Righteous and Holy Opportunity to be active and present in our day or for our [false] desire to come first. We must end the false belief that free will allows the false desire we have structured through the deception in this world, to simultaneously exist in the same space that All Righteous and Holy Opportunity would occupy."

[Father has explained that the misalignment that is caused by putting others first, causes our Divinely given Energy to be misdirected to them. To do this is to play in an unrighteous – unholy way. (See "Making the choice for Father - SP 28a") ²²]

"When we engage in unrighteous-unholy activity we are "feeding" the beings of unrighteous-unholy expression. This creates deprivation, ill health, and degradation of our physical expression. Father calls this squandering. It is improper use / waste of the energy we receive, either directly from the Sun (upon the solar wind), or through the integration of His Energy in the plant material we eat. When we stop the "drain" of Divine Resources and replenish / nourish our physical body, our Soul, our potential to Know our Self is dramatically improved and progress apparent.

The mesmerizing aspect of unrighteous-unholy activity would convince a person that it is necessary to understand how the unrighteous-unholy operate. This is a deception. Knowing one Self needs to fill all space of a person's expression.

It is only through complete expression of our Divine Nature in Universal Truth that we succeed in our Spiritual Journey.”

Feelings, Abundance, and the Kingdom

11/23/10

I thought it would be fun to share the relation between Feelings, Abundance, and the Kingdom by quoting from our sci-fi book "Heliotropos: Toward the Sun".

Linda and I both differentiate between Feelings and emotions. Emotions are sensations such as fear, anger, and so on. These emotions are of unrighteous – unholy origin and thus allow shades and shadows to take control over People. When we engage in emotions, we are playing in the game of the unrighteous – unholy.

Separate from this are Feelings. Feelings are a natural expression of our True Nature and they are Love, Joy, Peace, Abundance, Harmony, and so on. To choose Feelings is to choose our True Nature and to stop the play.

With this little clarification, let's quote:

"From what you have just said, it appears there is a difference between me as a vaporous body and the thoughts of the physical body. Is this accurate?" Showay asked sensing the answer that he was about to receive would help explain why, no matter how much he had tried to control, purify, change, alter, and heal his thoughts, his experiences remained painful and his thoughts distorted.

"Showay, you are near Divine Truth. It is indeed the case that thoughts do not form your experience. It is in fact your feelings from which all Goodness flows. The events of your life flow from your feelings, rather than the worldly teaching that your feelings originate in the events."

"So what you are saying is that, if I focus on the feelings that I want to experience, rather than on the thoughts that I want to have, I will be able to bring change to my life?"

"Yes, let the feelings that speak of your Divine Nature nourish and support your journey toward a Greater Awareness. Welcome from Within the Divine feelings of Harmony, Joy, Peace, Love, Power, Abundance, Health, and Wholeness and you shall see a change for the better."

"Abundance?" asked Showay, "What does Abundance have to do with spirituality?"

"More than you think. No good or purpose, is served when you wallow in the depths of despair which the experience of poverty brings. You enter not the Kingdom from the depths of despair. It is from the heights of human expression you climb to the heights of human endeavor."

"But we are led to believe that all great masters achieved their awakening in the desert, or while experiencing the depths of despair," said Showay almost defensively.

"Your Honor and Virtue count for nothing when not used in Divine Service. When used in Divine Service, it is Right and Proper to seek and receive abundant Exchange of your Endeavor. Think not that the masters in destitute poverty prevailed. We talk not of attachment to mortal things. We talk instead of 'abundant living' which is the symbolic representation of your inner condition. To prevail upon your Endeavor, you must be free of your attachment to the belief that poverty is sign of spirituality."

2010 Giving Thanks Homily

11/24/10

Tomorrow is the time of the year in which we celebrate in Joyful Thanks Giving the Blessings that Father has Given us. Father has provided some detailed information as to how to proceed with this celebration which you can find in the 2008 Homily and 2009 Homily instructions we have posted at BlueStarWay.

Linda has also given additional information in her RoseNoel Blog. The articles are "Homily -- Giving Thanks Day preparation" and "with Love and a Song".

Happy Homily.

Did you notice?

11/27/10

Did you notice in my posting "Feelings, Abundance, and the Kingdom" that Aurora tells Showay that Feelings will nourish and support him? Here is the quote:

"...let the feelings that speak of your Divine Nature nourish and support your journey toward a Greater Awareness. Welcome from Within the Divine feelings of Harmony, Joy, Peace, Love, Power, Abundance, Health, and Wholeness and you shall see a change for the better."

This is another difference between Feelings and emotions. Feelings actually nourish and support you, while emotions consume your resources. This is probably another reason why happy people live longer and angry, sad, depressed people die sooner.

Emotions consume People and therefore turn People into consumers. This is why in the unrighteous – unholy way, emotions have to prevail upon the People and the land. It makes for good "economic growth". When swimming in emotions, nothing is enough to satisfy the People because they are being constantly consumed by the very emotions they are experiencing. Thus arises the insatiable need for more and more that consumes everything in sight and leads to self destruction. More of this and more of that, yet nothing fits the bill that ends the hunger for more. This is by unrighteous-unholy design. Greed, lust, anger, fear.. all keep the economy going, the stock market up, ... and politicians re-elected.

On the other hand, happy People who live immersed in the Feelings that speak of their Divine Nature are lousy consumers. As a matter of fact, they are no consumers at all. They feel nourished and satisfied and are free of the insatiable hunger that drives others to consume everything in sight. Their needs are easily met in a simple way. They are satisfied with the simple things in life. Thus, if we lived in a "happy world" we would probably see very low economic growth or perhaps even economic stability, yet everyone would be satisfied and nourished.

As you can see, the current business and economic models are incompatible with Joy, Peace, Happiness, and thus Heaven on Earth. In the unrighteous-unholy model so called "sustainability" is achieved only in two ways: reducing the population upon Earth through disease, war, sickness, and infertility or keeping parts of the world in poverty to balance out the consumptive hunger of other parts of the world.

In the Father Way, balance is achieved simply by switching from emotions to Feelings. No one needs die, be sick, be infertile, or live in poverty. Instead, we toss out the unrighteous-unholy model of living and begin to seek the Father Kingdom manifested in our own lives. Feelings arise from within us. This ends the insatiable hunger and returns us to the Blessing upon Earth that we are.

As the lines in the song go "Be happy, don't worry. Be happy".

Buying Feelings

11/28/10

Since I have been writing about Feelings, I thought it is appropriate to quote Linda in the understanding she received recently regarding Feelings and the Thanks Giving and Christmas seasons.

"This morning I realized why people participate in the Thanks Giving and Christmas shopping season even though they know better. It is because this is the season people have really been convinced in the deception that they can go out and buy the Feelings that they are missing, the Feelings that they can no longer experience as themselves. It is the empty promise of the unrighteous – unholy:

"we have taken all that from you... well here... go out and buy some... and you can get more if you want. We give you the ways and the means to do it through our mercantile game".

People don't even recognize that this is what they are trying to buy... the Feelings that they are no longer expressing.

Father is Saying be the Feelings and then you can live someplace where you surround yourself with the metaphysical expression of your Feelings / Who you Are. I have had this "yeah, but I can't do it until I'm there" attitude, but Father is Saying do it where you are. Then where you are will show Who you Are."

This understanding needs to be balanced with the recognition that for many of us, there is a transition phase from where we are right now to the moment we can live and experience our Feelings in a True and everlasting way.

What makes this transition phase different than the unrighteous-unholy way of buying our Feelings, is the shift in perception that we have received from the Knowledge Father has shared with us. With this understanding, we now shift our gears and correct our course so as to return to our Divine Expression and Plan with the Father.

Rather than things being a substitute for the Feelings we can no longer experience, the change in nutrition, the cleansing of our body, the creation of an environment that nurtures and nourishes our Soul is geared toward facilitating our capacity to experience our own Feelings.

As we nourish and nurture ourselves and we put an end to the energetic consumption caused by emotions, parasites, shades and shadows of darkness, those who feed on us, and the idea that it is spiritual to give our energy away, we become strengthened and thus capable of once again experiencing Heaven on Earth.

A side note

I may have written about this before, but it certainly seems worth repeating. There appears to be a derogatory demeanor in the way many radio show hosts and guests speak of what they call the "masses" or "sheep". These individuals ridicule the so called "herd mentality" of Americans and wonder aloud what kind of catastrophe will it take to "wake them up".

In Truth, what these individuals fail to recognize is that Americans have been under great attack on various fronts. These attacks have been designed to "numb" people and create this kind of "sheep mentality". These attacks include vaccination, chemical poisoning, bacterial, fungal, mold, and viral poisoning, as well as malnourishment, mind altering signals, fluoride, bromide, and mind altering drugs to name a few. Yet it is the case that not only have the unrighteous-unholy failed in completely subjugating the American People, but there are ever increasing number of Americans who are awakening to the need for a different way and who are preparing for the changes that are to come.

Many condemn Americans for their lack of action, yet it is the case that the failure of the unrighteous-unholy to entice Americans into battle speaks of the inherent wisdom that abides in the People that live upon this land. What is the point of taking violent action when history has proven that violence always leads to greater oppression? It is indeed the choice to not rise up in arms that continues to dwarf the unrighteous-unholy plans, for when we do not play, they cannot come out to play.

It seems appropriate to set the record straight. The American People (not to be confused with the system of de-mock-crazy) are one of the last strongholds that remain upon this Earth who have the strength and capacity to bring about a change for the better. Not through armed revolution, not through reinstatement of a more benevolent system of oppression, but rather through a new and different way that ends the play and presence of the unrighteous-unholy entities upon this Earth.

This new and different way is the Father Way (see "What would we really want to ask for?" ²³ and "What else do we ask for?" ²⁴) and until that day in which the Father Way prevails upon this land, Americans do well in keeping themselves armed and ready to stand their ground and say: "you will no longer play upon this land, get thee away, get thee away ends your play".

Way too simple?

In the posting "What else do we ask for?" there is a comment regarding people thinking that the Father Way of not playing and asking for His Plan to prevail upon this land is way too simple because it does not involve physical confrontation. I have heard Steve Quayle often rebuke and spit on the so called "lukewarms" who he claims "god" despises more than anything else. I have heard many other guests and radio talk show hosts incite people to make a choice for which group they are willing to fight and die for or regret it for the rest of their lives... they complain about and wine and ridicule the ones that are unwilling to pick arms and kill in the name of "freedom"... they often reminds us how "freedom is not free" and how many had to die and sacrifice themselves to "give us freedom"... they complain about how the new generation of "soft, lukewarm drones" will give it all away because they are so used to their "comfort".

Well, I have news for you. Choosing the Father Way of not playing is the hardest thing any single person will ever do in his / her life. It takes strength and valor to stand upright and say "I do not play." It takes strength and valor to say "I will not choose sides between darkness or death, decay, and destruction, and I shall not sacrifice myself or anyone in their name or anyone's name." It takes strength and valor to stand upright and say "get thee away, get thee away ends your play" with such Authority and Peace that the unrighteous-unholy are actually required to obey and leave. It takes strength and valor to stand up to all these dimensional entities that come to you seeking to possess, defile, and destroy you through the most subtle deceptions and skillful manipulations of your perception. It takes strength and valor to look within and face your darkest desires, deepest fears, worst nightmares, and worst mistakes and still believe in your innocence and Divine Nature. It takes strength and valor to stand upright and claim your Inheritance which is being pilfered away by the unrighteous-unholy. It takes strength and valor to say "no more" and stand for the Father Way knowing that this will cause the unrighteous-unholy to launch some of the vilest attacks ever against you. It takes strength and valor to Trust your safety is in the Father and to not play with the unrighteous-unholy even in the face of their attacks. It takes strength and valor to reach a point where you can be free of the hate toward the unrighteous-unholy and the need for vengeance and their demise. It takes strength and valor to not use their ways to try to get rid of them. It takes strength and valor to let everyone live with the consequences of their own choices. It takes strength and valor to live in Peace amidst turmoil.

The Father Way does not asks us to choose sides between darkness or death, decay, and destruction which are the two groups that have been fighting each other for thousands of years. The Father Way would simply have us step aside from their nightmare and deception and allow them to fade away into nothingness where they belong.

It is indeed wise to step aside and not take sides. It is indeed wise to not sacrifice yourself for them and their plans. It is indeed wise to not sacrifice yourself simply to implement a more benign system of tyranny.

Darkness, death, decay, and destruction are dimensional beings. Killing each other and toppling governments does nothing to end their dimensional presence and their pilfering of our Inheritance.

To end their presence we must take a different kind of action and this is what the Father Way teaches us to do. To end their presence we must stop "going out to play" with them at the dimensional levels in which they interfere with our lives. This takes strength and valor.

The Father Way does indeed restore Heaven on Earth but it certainly requires strength and valor... which is why we must "eat our spinach".

How do you know?

12/07/10

Not too long ago, Linda and I listened to Art Bell in a Coast to Coast Back in Time interview with a remote viewer. In this interview Art made the questions: "How do you know?" "How do you know that what you are experiencing is not in your head?" Specifically this question was addressed to experiencing something like Transcendent Love, taking into consideration the knowledge that scientists have been able to elicit certain experiences from people by stimulating certain parts of their brains, as well as the knowledge that the white light experience reported in near death experiences is also reported by people just before they go unconscious during their training with "g-forces".

So how do we know then that an experience is not a trickery of the mind or someone else's trickery?

This is a tough question, no question about it and there are several ways to address it.

First, a Love of Universal Truth is essential. One must Love Truth so much that one is willing to be shown not only the Truth of what is happening, but also the corrective action that needs taken.

Second, we can address this question from the perspective of the Mystical and Magical "circuit". Remember what Linda and I shared about this "circuit" and what happens when it is shut down (see "Father, Father Christmas, and the Mystical and Magical" ²⁵ and "A look at christmas in July" ²⁶)? When that "circuit" is shut down, we lose Reality and all becomes a lie or deception. So whether it is real or not it does not matter, for all gets classified as unreal. To fix this problem, one would of course restore the Mystical and Magical "circuit" to function as explained in prior postings. The interesting thing about this is that restoring this "circuit" could actually facilitate one in awakening to a greater Reality and to perceive things now considered to be unreal while at the same time ending the "reality" of deception.

Third, we can address this question from the basic need to distinguish a real experience that is based on Truth from some experience that is caused by either an electronic signal directed to one's brain, a person influencing one on an energetic level, a spell or curse cast upon one, an entity altering one's perception, some parasite wiggling or spitting in one's body causing it to misfire, or just one's own body misfiring due to, for example, a trauma or mal-nourishment.

This part of the answer requires some learning as well as asking for Spiritual Discernment, for the trickery of our senses can vary from obvious to subtle. An utmost Love for Universal Truth and a willingness to see this Truth is essential.

In this process of learning and developing Spiritual Discernment, there are several important things that need recognized.

1. First, one must realize that trauma, disease, and malnourishment, especially of the brain can severely affect one's perception and make one vulnerable to other people's energies.
2. Second, whenever someone seeks to alter one's perception, whether through a "love spell" or through more "sophisticated" technology, the underlying current is one of deception, coercion, and lack of respect. Much of the many ways this is manifested is amply explored in the "Spiritual Swimming" series
3. Third, the person or entity seeking to alter one's perception does not care what one's Journey with the Father is. All they care about is how they can coerce or entice some-one into "voluntary" slavery so they can feed on that person's energy. Said differently, they want to be placed above all else in that person's life, which includes being placed above the Father / Source / All That Is.
4. Fourth, the experience of being energetically drained can be pleasurable and appear quite spiritual. This is so because when one's energy is being taken or given away, one gets to experience the Love energy as it leaves the body mixed in with the rush of death, for after all, life energy is being lost and one is dying in the process. This is why so many people speak of how "good" it feels to give. This is also why lust entraps so many people.

5. Fifth, because unrighteous-unholy is tyrannical in nature and is disrespectful, an experience of unrighteous-unholy nature or origin tends to be persistent. It just keeps going and going trying to get one to make a choice for it. Contrary to this, that which is of Divine Origin is Respectful and thus non-oppressive. If one wishes to not follow Divine Guidance or Divine Knowledge, then that is the end of it and one is left alone. Period.

With this in mind, Father has provided this Guidance (see "If it quacks like a duck, walks like a duck..." ²⁷ and "Increased awareness" ²⁸)

It is a simple matter to Discern.

Is this matter / material of Source, or is it opposite / unlike All That Is?

When it is so, you of course Know, as a matter of hand, its origin.

Anything unlike Source belongs not in your mind or unto you.

Father / Source / All That Is will never ask of anyone to give themselves away, to support unrighteous-unholy activity, to feed others, to feed on others, to enslave themselves, or to have a meaningless life. Thus, if the experience one is having elicits the need to place someone else above all else, to worship another, to obey others, to give one's energy away, to sacrifice oneself for others, to give resources away, to place someone else's welfare above all or self, to deceive, or to take from others... if the experience leaves one drained, tired, exhausted, sleepy, exhilarated, or in a rush... if one feels mentally coerced, intimidated, worthless, weak and helpless, oppressed, or disturbed... then what is being experienced is unlike Source and it does not belong "in your mind or unto you".

When one finds that the experience one is having is unlike Source, then one has the right to say "my choice is for the Father Way. I do not play, get thee away ends your play." One can ask Father for assistance to have that energy / entity cast out and purged from one's Self and that the door that was implanted to give entrance to this energy / entity be sealed until the day it is forever dissolved.

Naturally, this process can be amply facilitated by proper nutrition and nourishment, proper gentle and natural cleansing, and by putting an end to all energetic drains and squandering. I will give additional information on how to approach getting rid of shades and shadows of darkness in my next posting.

Getting rid of shades and shadows of darkness

I have written before that shades and shadows of darkness are the many entities and "things" that the unrighteous-unholy have created to drain us of our energy and make us vulnerable to their "stuff". I have also addressed the issue of how to be free of them before. Today, I will do so a last time from a different perspective.

One way to look at how shades and shadows of darkness interfere with our lives is by looking at it from the perspective of a gardener / garden. Seeing ourselves as a garden that needs tended is very beneficial because it allows us to apply our experience of tending a garden to ourselves. If you have no experience tending a garden, then you can simply begin growing one. If your past experience with plants is that you can't grow anything, as it was for me, then that is an indicator of your internal state. As you begin to take care of yourself in the many ways described in this blog and in this particular posting, you will reestablish your capacity to not only grow plants but also see new and different ways that are actually more beneficial to nature and yourself than the traditional row gardening techniques that are so destructive and draining to the environment.

Some organic gardeners know to some extent or another that while there are various "ailments" that can affect gardens most of them can be prevented or minimized with proper nutrition and some forethought. Andrew Lopez, the "Invisible Gardener" makes this point repeatedly in his book "Natural Pest Control". Focus on raising the energy level of the garden and many of your problems will be gone. When a problem arises, still focus on increasing the nutrition / energy of the garden but if necessary take some other measures.

This is what Father has been Saying to us. To choose Father's Kingdom one must nourish oneself and end participation in unrighteous unholy play (see "Making the choice for Father SP 28 ²⁹ and SP 28a ³⁰" and "Seeking Father's Kingdom" ³¹). When a problem arises, still focus on Father's Kingdom / the Father and then of one a-chord with the Father take the necessary action you are Guided by Father to take.

So what are some of the recommended ways to increase the nutrition / energy of a garden? Nourish the soil and provide proper Sun exposure. What are some of the top ways to nourish the soil which would be applicable to our human experience? Seaweed, fish, minerals, clean water, and beneficial flora such as found in yogurt or certain types of soils. The use of herbs and spices is very beneficial too. Some are for external use and others can be brewed into teas. These are some of the herbs and spices Andrew lists to support plant health: alfalfa, balm, peppermint, basil, cayenne, chamomile, chives, coriander, curry, dill, garlic, ginger, hops, horsetail, hyssop, marjoram, mustard, nettles, oregano, parsley, rosemary, sage, thyme, and wild flowers. Other items Andrew lists as useful in the garden are: clays, essential oils, natural soaps, hydrogen peroxide, Epson salts, baking soda, vitamin D, and trace minerals to name a few.

As to Sun exposure, plants need to be exposed to the right amount of Sun for them to thrive. So it is for us. Humans are not meant to spend our lives inside buildings, hiding from the Sun as if the Sun was some kind of disease. It is the unrighteous-unholy and the shades and shadows of darkness that have a problem with the Sun, because among other things, the Sun emits ultraviolet light which is disinfecting and cleansing. As Sun loving plants wither in the dense shade, so do we wither away from the outdoors.

Next to nourishment comes taking action to remove the pests when needed. There are various ways to accomplish this depending on the type of pest one is dealing with. Water is an effective means to spray away many insects and to keep them from establishing themselves in the garden. Thus, it follows regular showers are beneficial for us too to remove whatever shades and shadows of darkness crawl on our bodies. Simply wiping oneself clean with something like diluted peppermint soap or a vinegar based herbal tea will suffice too. Other pests such as slugs can be dealt with for example by sprinkling salt on them. So too you will find that sprinkling salt over you and around your house is beneficial in removing certain pests. Other pests such as birds don't like shiny things or moving things. Thus, you may find that hanging colorful ornaments and crystals from your windows may be beneficial. Other pests can be scared away with noise. Thus you may find that ringing bells may be beneficial in removing shades and shadows of darkness or disrupting their energy. Many times pests can be also averted by planting so called companion plants. So too you may find that sprinkling certain herbs or "wearing" such herbs in a pouch may help deter pests from your energy system. A way to keep rodents and other intruders from your garden is through devices that emit certain frequencies that discourage their presence. So too you may find that the energy of Joy and Love as Self is absolutely unbearable to the unrighteous-unholy and to shades and shadows of darkness. Many viruses, molds, and fungus in plants can be dealt with the proper herbal, soap, and oil sprays. So too you may find that using these kinds of sprays on yourself and around you can be beneficial to clear the energy and support health.

You may have noticed that much of what I have listed is in line with the beliefs of our so called "superstitious ancestors" who thought they could "ward off evil with herbs, sound, and light." Perhaps they did know a few things, and it is us, who through science, have lost real knowledge.

Of course not all of our ancestor's practices may have been on mark and accurate, neither do all methods and ideas currently perceived as beneficial for the garden apply to human health. This is where we must use our Spiritual Faculty of Discernment by seeking Guidance from Father. For example, the use of manure, the use of parasite carriers, the use of worms and worm castings, the use of decay, and the belief that there are certain pests such as ants, one will never be able to get rid off certainly do not apply to us. Another idea that does not apply to us is the perception that if we grow enough food and give the shades and shadows of darkness food from this abundance, they will leave us alone.

You may laugh at these observations, but a slight contemplation will reveal how this kind of activity is actually taking place in your body. One would do well to end the idea that one's health and nourishment may diminish without the "castings" of the worms / parasites that abide in us. One would do well to end the idea that the unrighteous-unholy will leave us alone if we give them part of our abundance. One would also do well to end the idea that one must learn to live with the unrighteous-unholy or with shades and shadows of darkness. This mentality is what doctors teach and preach: "we can't cure you, but we can make it easier for you to cope with disease".

This is not the Father Way.

As you can see, much can be learned from gardening and nature. Many of the methods described above will have to be done on a reoccurring basis, just as laundry, cleaning, cooking, and washing dishes. It is just the way it is, until the day in which we have our shift in consciousness and "everything changes".

Any other ways?

12/11/10

Are there any additional ways that can support your choice for the Father? Yes indeed, glad you asked.

The yummy: chocolate. Father has said chocolate makes us "bitter" to them. Minimally processed cacao beans... even better.

The empowering: you can always say no. When you notice the unrighteous-unholy at play or wanting to come into play in your life, just say NO. If they are already at play, then ask to be shown what need in you caused you to agree to their play. Void that need and terminate the contract. "I do not play. Get thee away ends your play. This contract is null and void by Father's Grace and I'm restored to the Truth of who I am."

The sound: bells. Find some nice bells or singing bowls and "gong" your way through.

The music: the deer song. Father has said this is a very helpful song to sing. We like the version by Lisa.

The light: hang Christmas lights all year round inside your house. The colors will help your brain and nourish your need for the mystical / magical year round.

Remember... this is a Light Hearted Endeavor.

Yesterday I wrote a list of additional ways that can support one's choice for Father and today I realized I missed one. So here it is.

The sublime: flower essences and essentials oils. Both have a part to Play in one's journey.

Injoy.

Just in time

12/13/10

Having made the suggestion that herbs and flowers can be beneficial for one's choice for Father, along comes a most wonderful posting by Linda on this topic. With her permission, I'm quoting her "Rose-Lavender : Rosemary-Oregano" posting this day.

"Rose-Lavender : Rosemary-Oregano"

Have you used rosemary or oregano essential oil? Have you used lavender or rose water? Have you thought about the "essences" of these herbs?

They have time honored use for the wellness of The People. As food, herbs, oils, essences, tinctures, and so on, they have proven effective for all times and All People.

It was just recently I realized that due to the huge amount of literature available on these plants and their use I had an idea of them as either assertive, if not aggressive and passive, or associated with love.

The rosemary and oregano are touted as assertive herbs with an earthy aroma used as seasoning for robust, savory dishes. The rose and lavender are touted as gentle herbs of beauty, food delicacies, and love, while having less known healing properties.

Suddenly, one day I realized the highly effective nature of rose-lavender water on the skin. It had a gentle quality of healing, which left no room for any unrighteous - unholy action on the body.

I realized this was the action of Love on the body. It filled all "space". Where there was Love, no-thing else could abide.

It was most amazing to see this Truth in action in one's body. Love was "transformed" in my perception, from a passive experience to a highly active healing Principle of such great gentleness as to be imperceptible in its action--it just was.

On a SunShiny day of balmy breeze, turquoise blue skies, pure air, pure rain and the transformation of Love !"

A few good things to keep in mind

12/15/10

As one continues progression in the Father Way it would be beneficial to keep three things in mind so as to Discern Truth from deception:

- One, darkness has a plan to create a false kingdom on earth. This kingdom is meant to create the illusion of freedom and an “enlightened” state of living based on a “sustainable” rampage of the environment while hiding the fact that those living under such kingdom are enslaved and thus host, feed, and protect the unrighteous-unholy presence of darkness upon Earth. While their solution / kingdom may indeed seem like “heaven” when compared to the havoc they have purposely created upon Earth and the People to deviate us from the Father, it is nevertheless a deception and a false teaching that contains sufficient Truth to create the illusion of “heaven”, yet sufficient deception to keep the People separated from the Father and Universal Truth.
- Two, darkness (as well as death, decay, and destruction) are very spiritual beings and have known great Truths. Thus, they can speak in “wisdom” and may be able to do great things, yet it is in their Heart that ill will and deception abides. The end goal of what they say and do is to get us to accept deception that drives us away from Universal Truth and from the Father. It might be very subtle, but it is there.
- Three, there are people who willingly support the creation of this false kingdom and others who perhaps unknowingly do so. For example, some time ago, Linda and I heard a radio interview with three people whose ideas about the land where almost verbatim with what Father had been explaining to us. I was actually impressed with what was being said yet had some inkling here and there during the interview that certain things were not quite right. Later in the day, Linda visited their website and my “inkling” was confirmed. There was one picture of a young man with his two friends that said it all. The energies upon them were immediately recognizable and discernible to us and this made all the patterns of deception we heard during the interview clear to us. The two "serpent" people taking advantage of the spiritual man whose lineage had been infiltrated by the unrighteous-unholy and turned into a vehicle of deception. Him happily thinking he had met the ideal partners because their energies matched what his lineage had been genetically programmed to "fall for". Him unwittingly giving his energy away to them... them openly taking that which was his and claiming it as their own... and all of it done in the open, while promoting a way of life that is almost as Father would have... yet not quite there... for it contains the patterns of behavior that allow the continued presence of the unrighteous-unholy upon Earth.

With a little patience and some caution Truth will reveal itself in due time when we ask Father to show us this Truth. Are we following the path of darkness unto a false "heaven"? Are we following the path of their opposition? Are we hearing a person who purposely deceives? Are we hearing a person of good Heart who simply does not know any better and would willingly correct the mistake if he knew about it?

It has been said, "the devil is in the details". In times like this, it is indeed appropriate to "watch out" for those details and recognize them for what they are rather than simply dismiss them as irrelevancies.

It is Wise to ask Father for daily Guidance and to ask for Spiritual Discernment to be active and Present in one's life.

With a Light Heart and the strong foundation of Truth, Honor, and Integrity the Father provides, we can safely return Home.

Attaching?

Recently, Linda and I watched a newer Kung Fu type movie just for fun. Both of us used to like these type of movies because of the little spiritual kernels that would be dispersed here and there throughout the movie. You may know... the master teacher that shares his wisdom with the student...

As Linda so well put it into words: when you have nowhere to turn for Truth, nowhere to go for Truth, no one to go to for Truth, all you have left is looking to the deception with the hopes of discerning whatever Truths are being used to support the deception.

This movie we watched is case in point. At one point in the movie, we have one of the heroes who had claimed to be an "immortal", mortally wounded. In his dying bed he acknowledges he never made it to immortality and then says something in the likes of: "immortals do not attach their hearts or desires unto anyone or anything, but can you say that in doing so they have truly lived?"

We the People in our indoctrination would most certainly say "no", but Father would Say "yes". In a way you could say that is the basic understanding or learning upon which the Father Way rests: recognizing the fallacy of the romantic and heroic perception we have been given by the unrighteous-unholy that says that attaching to others is what makes us "alive and human". In fact, Father has explained to us that is when we attach to others that we no longer walk among the Living

It is from this basic recognition then, that we proceed to untangle our hearts and minds so as to restore them to their rightful, sovereign stature that allows us to return once again to the Truth of Who We Are.

Single best thing

12/17/10

Recently Father shared with us that one of the single best things one could do to improve nutrition and nourishment was to simply eat organic food. So we began the switch.

Of course, probably the first thing one notices when switching from conventional to organic produce is the price differential. However, we have noticed that it takes less food to satisfy us when we eat organic. I would guess this has to do with the higher nutritional content of organic food.

It would be a good thing if conventional farms would switch to organic means of production. Father has Said that if this were to be done and that if all household plant based waste would be composted and recycled back to the land, it would not take that long to achieve this. This is a choice each one has to make.

As it is always the case, we need not wait for others to change, we can always start with our own back yard or balcony.

Sun and Earth

12/18/10

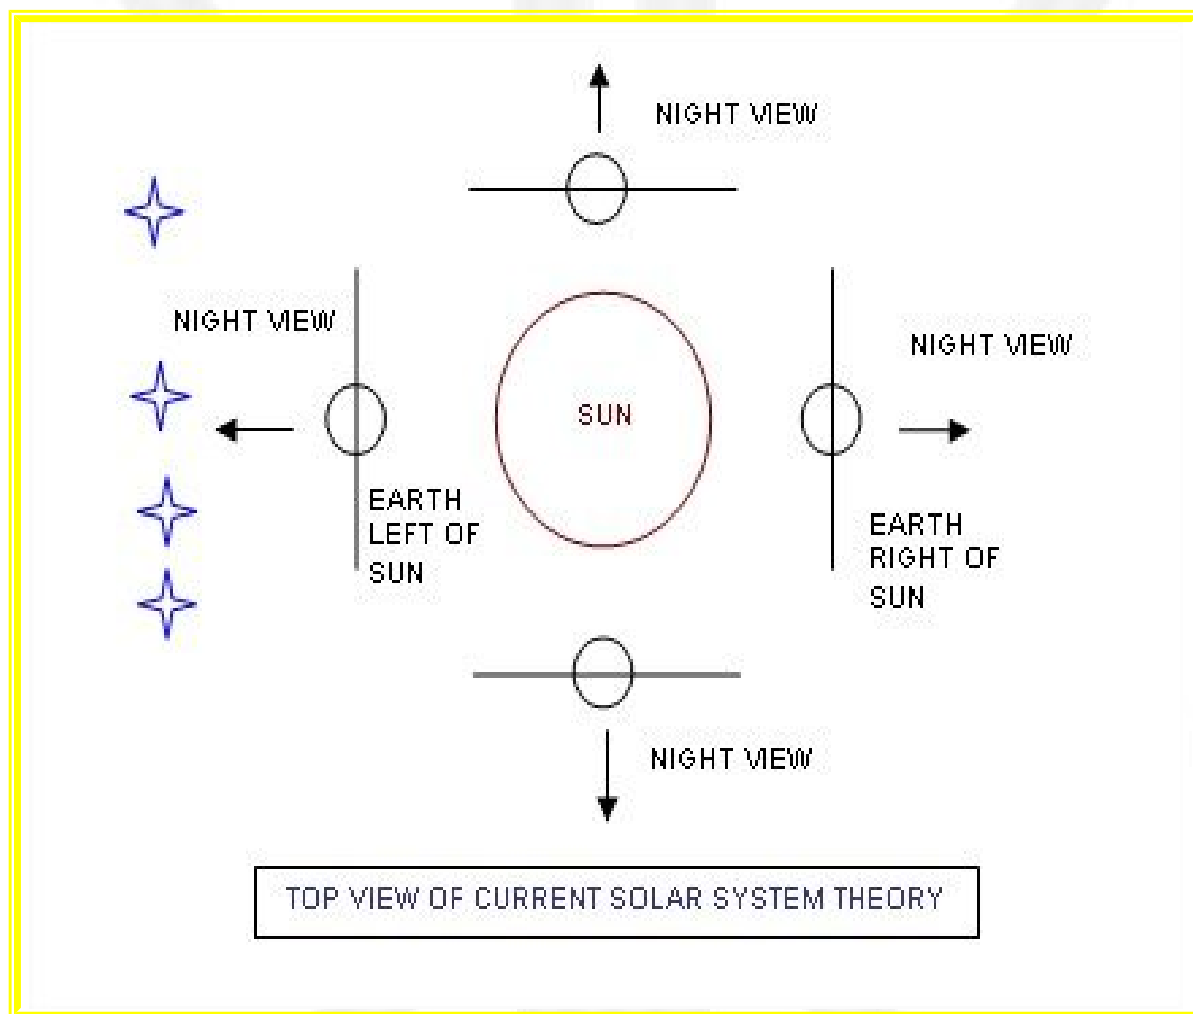

As Linda noted in today's posting, today is the first day of winter solstice. This is one of the two times in the year in which time seems to stand still so to speak and the length of daylight remains unchanged for a view days. After these pause days, daylight length will begin to increase in the Northern hemisphere once again.

As Linda noted in her posting, Father has explained to us, the current idea that the Earth goes around the Sun in some kind of elliptical orbit is quite inaccurate. Father has explained to us that the Earth actually never crosses the front of the Sun.

How can this be and where is the proof? Perhaps, the question of an acutely observant Coast to Coast AM listener will help you recognize this: "If the Earth turns around the Sun as we are told... how is it that we see the same stars all the time?"

Look at the diagram on the next page showing the current theory that says the Earth travels around the Sun. This is as viewed from the top. How can you see the same stars, as viewed from the Earth, when the Earth is on the "left" side of the Sun, than when the Earth is on the "right" side of the Sun? Night on Earth not only occurs on opposite sides of the Sun but "night" faces in a completely different direction.

My hat off to the Coast to Coast AM listener who recognized this (presumably) on his own.

Orbital questions

12/20/10

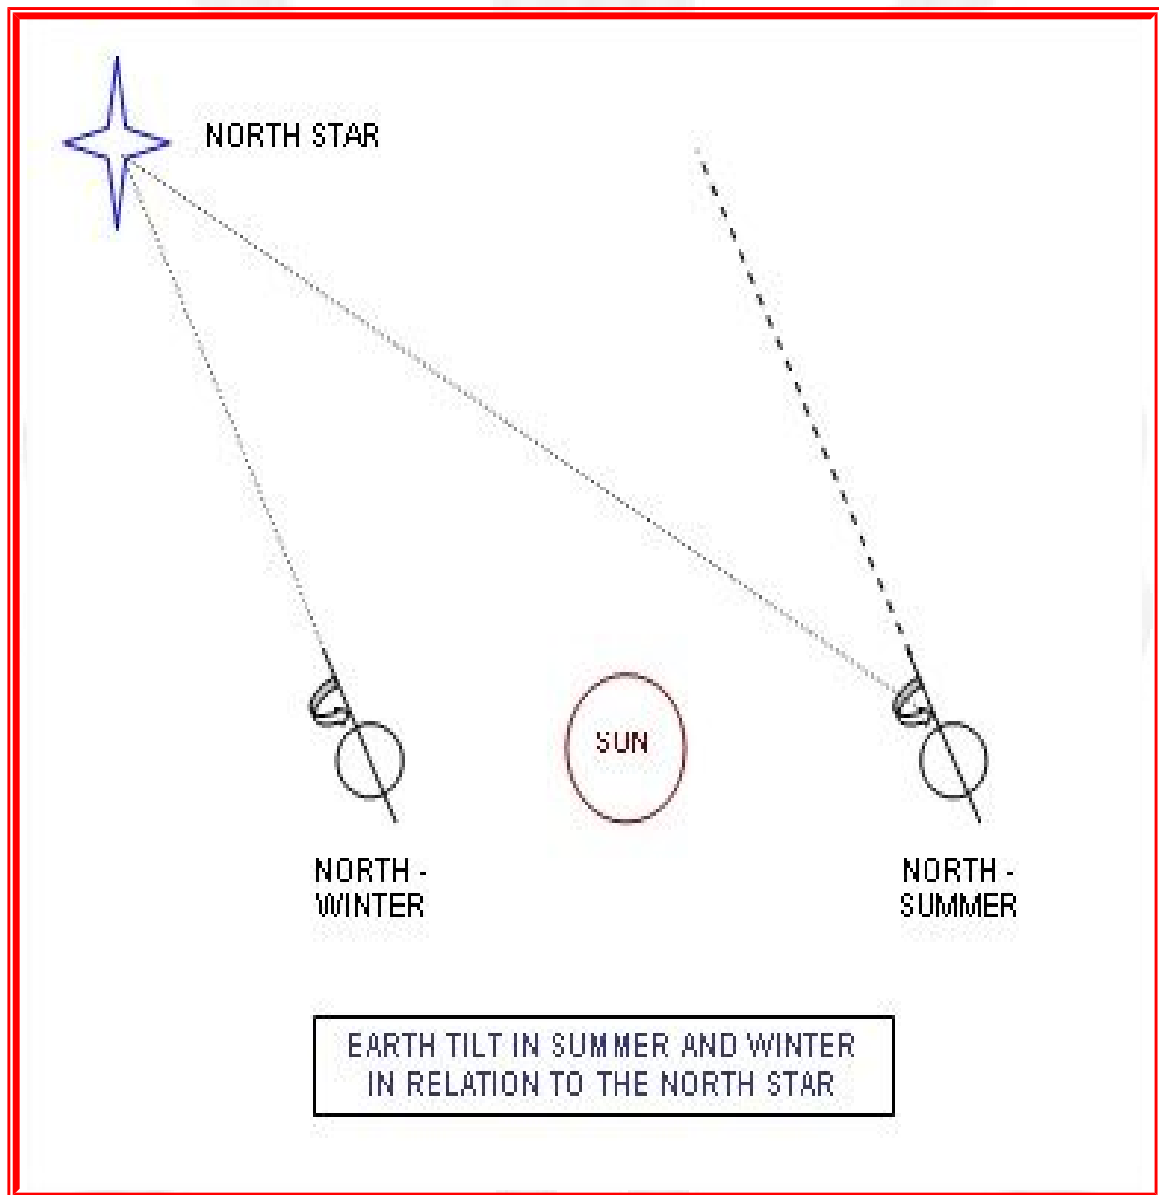

In my last posting, I wrote about Father explaining to Linda and I that the Earth does not make a full circle around the Sun as we are told it does. To facilitate this recognition, I paraphrased the question made by a Coast to Coast AM listener who wondered how it can be possible to see the same stars if we go around the Sun. Then made a little basic sketch depicting this inconsistency.

Here is another way to look at this. Now, I will make it clear that what I point out here is from the perspective of a man who certainly does not even qualify as an amateur astronomer. So here it is: if you look at a "star guide" map, you will soon find that the northern night skies revolve around one star, the North Star. In this map, it does not matter whether you follow a 24hr period of earth's rotation around its axis, or an entire year of Earth's rotation around the Sun. The North Star always remains the pivotal star around which the night sky and all constellations rotate. But how can that be if the Earth is not only said to change locations from summer to winter but maintain its tilt constant all this time?

Take a look at the diagram on the next page. In my (not to scale) diagram you can see that the tilt of the Earth during the winter points toward the North Star, making it the pivotal point of rotation for the night sky. But take a look at the Earth and its rotation axis during the summer. Can you see that if we were to follow the axis line of Earth's rotation it would not be pointing toward the North Star? How can then the North Star remain the pivotal point of the summer night skies? How is it that you can even see the North Star in the summer night sky?

I'm sure astronomers have come up with some kind of "authoritative" answer to this, perhaps similar to the one that so "clearly" explains why in their theory you can have winter when you are closer to the Sun and summer when you are furthest away.

I don't know about you, but I never remember my body getting colder when it was closer to a bonfire than when it was further away from it... Kind of makes you wonder what is going on...

Mystery solved?

12/21/10

Today is December 21st. What is the significance? Well, for one it is the “official” solstice day or beginning of winter. Many traditions celebrate this particular event which marks the beginning of a new cycle. From (approximately) now on, daylight in the north will lengthen until the longest day of summer. For two, it is the last day of the year as established by the Father in the calendar He has shared with Linda.

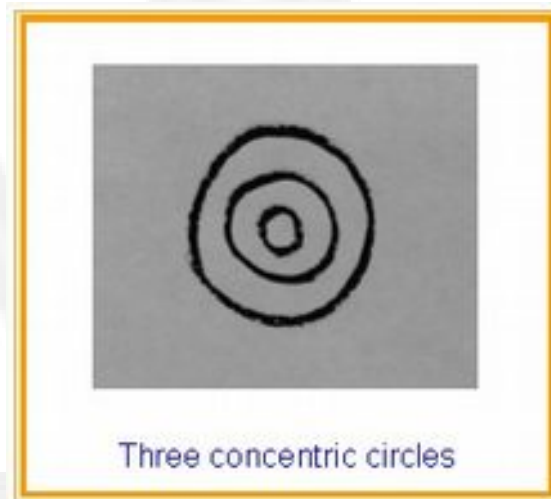

What a Better Way to celebrate this day than to post the part of the story in our science-fiction book: “Heliotropos: Toward the Sun” in which Showay finally learns about the true orbit of Terra around HelioStella.

“So the point to which you have been referring is the moment in which a shift in perception occurs?”

“A shift in perception which literally begins a shift in direction.”

Breyê-yendêze listened intensely as AurorA and Showay communicated. AurorA’s dance of light and music carried also a message for him.

“You are told Terra rotates around HelioStella in an elliptical orbit, however this is not so. In Terra’s orbit, there is a give and take with the pull of HelioStella, in and out as a yo-yo. However, Terra never travels inside HelioStella’s orbit. It appears there is a cross over, when in fact there is none. Terra’s orbit is circular to the extent you perceive it so. It is however slightly eccentric in its orbit of HelioStella’s circumference. You could draw it in this manner. Draw three concentric circles.”

"Now eliminate the outer portion of circle two where it comes in contact with the outer portion of circle three."

"Yes, you follow well. Close the corner at a clockwise rotation. It crosses behind but never in front of HelioStella's trajectory."

AurorA was watching Showay as he finished recording and drawing what he had just received. "That is precisely the Endeavor of Terra and HelioStella. On a rotational axis that encompasses all planetary rotation, there are but few discrepancies that cannot be explained herein."

Of course, this is a quote from a science fiction story... and as we say in our science fiction books, any resemblance of this material to reality is Purely a matter of perception.

Happy solstice day or should I say, happy New Year's Eve...
