Father Which Is in Heaven:

"In Right and Proper Exchange of Information there is but one conveyance in Right and Proper Order of Divine Expression.

The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each unto its own way of perception.

It matters not what others may say or think, it matters always only that which is Divinely Appointed each day.

It was Given unto your perception,
Right and Proper Orderly Progression of Divine Nomenclature each and every day, step of your way.

Those who transpire to subvert your words and direction shall Penalty pay, for that which is Divinely Authorized Nomenclature, subsides, subsists in Grand and Glorious Scheme.

Let no man put asunder that which is Divine in Nature.

As to exact literal translation, there can be none.

It is, would be, a departure from that Divinely Authorized Conveyance should you undertake to do so.

Yes, the gist would remain intact, however, the nuances, reflections, inflection would no longer convey the subtle multidimensional unrefracted Nature.

It is by Divine Appointment this Conveyance comes in your time, in your way.

Let not those who would put asunder Direct Divine Conveyance do so, at Penalty of perjury of Divinely Authorized material."

nomenclature: system of names used as a science or art transpire: seek to bring about subvert: ruin, corrupt

subsides: descends

subsist: as means of maintaining life

asunder: separate into pieces perjury: voluntary violation of an oath to tell the Truth oath: a solid appeal to the Divine to witness to the Truth of a statement or the sacredness of a promise.

NOTICE TO READER

This book provides a means by which we can share what we have experienced and come to Know in this journey toward awakening. It was created based on “where we were” at the time of its conception.

Future material will show Spiritual Progression in Awakening.

This material is for individual use only.

It is intended to spark creative contemplation and consideration of ‘if... then...’.

It is intended to provide a means by which you can enhance your experience of that which is Divine (rather than to provide a means by which you are told or taught what to believe, how to behave, and what is right or wrong).

Because this material brings Light, you may find some of it very unsettling.

It is ultimately you who, through your Spiritual Awareness and Prayer for Discernment and Guidance, must establish the Divine Truth of what IS.

As you do so, Know that Divine Truth is a Progression of ever expanding refinement.

Divine Answers Respect all living things.

Should you choose to do so, any incorporation of this material into your life is at your discretion and your sole responsibility.

Know that the Divine / Father Which Is in Heaven is available to provide additional support in understanding, learning, or applying this material in your own life.

In Our Words

We want to make it perfectly clear, especially to the young who have not been raised in the way of Respect, that we have posted the requirement Father has placed for the material presented to be and remain accurate, unaltered, and fully True to the context of His Teachings.

The Penalty He has clearly outlined for subverting this material is not something that would be implemented on an individual level, but by Universal Law. This carries its own retribution.

To those who would scoff at this, thinking themselves immune to Universal Law, we can only say, please be aware that these are not empty words. Ignoring Universal Law and the Father's Way does not bring absolution from the consequences of one's actions. Anyone focused on the Father Knows the Truth of this.

This is a free e-book. You may freely distribute this material and file only in its complete and unaltered format. This includes printed material. All material shall retain the "In Divine Service" notice and the Words that Father has Spoken regarding His Authority in Universal Law for the Protection and retribution of violating His Word.

Side note by Martin

The Father Which Is in Heaven referred to in all of the material Linda and I have created is the Father Jesus taught us to pray to in the Lord's Prayer. 'Living God,' 'Father Within,' and 'Father' are used interchangeably and refer to the same Father Which Is in Heaven.

Please take note that the concepts we have "inherited" in regards to Who and What the Father Is, His Desires, Goals, and Aspirations, as well as how He Manifests on Earth and in Humanity are very limited, constricted, and quite frankly suffocating. Please do give yourself room for expansion in this regard and do not be put off by the use of this terminology. The information contained in this book is neither patriarchal, religious, spiritualist, scientific, dogmatic, atheist, shamanic, new age, worldly, alien, nor any other modality. It just Is what it Is.

Also be aware that while there is only one Father Which Is in Heaven and no one else can "claim" this Name, the words 'god,' 'father,' and 'lord' in and of themselves seem to not carry this type of restriction. Therefore, unless one makes it clear that the use of words such as 'God,' 'Living God,' or 'Father' specifically address Father Which is Heaven, it is possible for any number of entities floating around with a 'god' or 'lord' complex to answer the call.

That this is not an issue to be taken lightly is shown for example by the vast numbers of people throughout history who have gone to war, plundered, and taken human life presumably under 'god's' direction as well as by the number of people who still subscribe to this day to the divinity of such guidance. It is also shown by the vast number of people who deny, sacrifice, and flagellate self or others in the name of 'god.' Father Which Is in Heaven would never incite such actions. He has made this very clear to Linda and I again and again.

Obviously, there is a great need to be very Discerning in this matter and while it would be easy to get lost in terminology and arguments, this is really a matter of the Heart and of Intention. For the western or 'christianized' mind, the term 'Father Which Is in Heaven' together with the refinements included in this book can be a helpful aid to hone one's Heart and Intention in the right direction.

I specifically say 'western' or 'christianized' mind because Father has Conveyed and made it very clear to us that:

*The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each to its own way of perception.*

And while different cultures do have different terminology and ways of relating to the Father, it is the case that all those who successfully commune with the Divine share common traits such as Harmony and Oneness with Nature, Peaceful disposition, Respect of Self and others, and Sovereign Expression. To these cultures and people the notion of destroying, killing, debasing, conquering, subduing, converting, ruling, dominating, or profiting from their fellow men and Earth is incomprehensible and alien indeed.

Whatever you do and whichever way you Honor and Develop your Relationship with the Divine just remember that Divine Answers Respect all Living Things and that the Divine isn't engaged in any battles.

Something else that needs briefly explained is the convention we adopted to capitalize certain words that have various, and often times opposing, meanings and therefore are prone to being misinterpreted or misused because of this. In short, when we capitalize words within a sentence we do so to specifically refer to the 'healthy' and thus benevolent interpretation of these words that supports a Life and Sovereign Expression Harmonious with Creation and the Good Will and Intent of the Father Which Is in Heaven. When we write the same words without capitalization we do so to denote the misunderstandings associated with these words.

For example, in our writings, lower case 'l,' love, refers to the common misconception that associates this 'love' with sexual passion (which is a word derived from the Latin word 'pati' which means 'to suffer'), sexual arousal, and / or physical attraction and requires such things as putting others first, attachment, control, self denial, (self) sacrifice, compromise, duty, etc., etc..

Capital 'L,' Love, on the other hand, refers in our writings to a Feeling that Elevates, Respects, Cares, Appreciates, brings Well Being and Comfort, and supports such states of expression as Health, Humor, Kindness, Peace, and Benevolence. An experience that is innate to our Being or Who We Are and is independent of others although its expression in us may be facilitated in their presence just like being in Nature facilitates us getting in touch with our inner Peace.

Similarly, little 'p' play denotes doing things in the way of the world and from the perception of the world. It includes slabor, fighting, resisting, profiting, ruling, destroying, abusing, killing, warring, saving, converting, and trying to defeat or overcome the 'bad guys,' whoever they may happen to be at any given time, so we can be 'safe.'

While, big 'P' Play indicates what we came here to Earth to do: Play in Father's Garden in a Light Hearted, Respectful, Joy-full, Constructive, Edifying Way through which we manifest our Divinity and expand our experience, KNowledge, and Understandings of Creation and Father Which Is in Heaven's Good Will and Intent for us.

As you can see, this convention, while seemingly simple, is of utmost significance to facilitate a Proper interpretation of our writings.

Obviously we can't nor haven't applied this convention to every word we use for that would be too cumbersome. Neither does this convention apply to proper names, though many times we purposely 'downgrade' a proper name to lower case to emphasize the point we seek to convey.

Occasionally we may miss a capitalization, however the concepts being conveyed within the sentence and paragraph will make it perfectly clear whether we are referring to the 'unhealthy' or 'healthy' meaning of the word.

In-Joy

First day of Summer solstice

06/18/10

As Linda has pointed out in her blog, summer solstice is early this year. Summer solstice is characterized by the days in which there is equal length of daylight before the daylight hours begin to decrease again. It is when the Sun is furthest North to our perception on Earth.

In the past, this has been said to be the tropic of cancer which is South of these United States, slightly above Cuba. This has meant in the past that the Sun would always rise from the southeast in these United States and set southwest. However things have changed.

As it has been for many weeks now, the Sun is rising northeast of Indiana and setting northwest. How do I know this? By simply looking at the Sunrise and Sunset during the days there is no scum to block this Truth. After Sunrise, the Sun will go South of Indiana only to return to the North during sunset. At the height of the day, there is only but the smallest shade cast by objects, pointing in a northerly direction.

It used to be the case that the northern garden in this house, which runs as an east to west narrow alley, could get morning Sunshine shortly after Sunrise during the summer months and always from a southerly angle. In the past, I would anticipate the Sun's northerly travel eagerly awaiting those day the garden could get some Sun. This year, that is no longer the case, the Sunrise is so far up North, that several hours have to pass before the Sun is high enough in the sky to shine upon this garden. It is quite a change, but my plants love it since it actually gives them more hours of Sunshine.

As said in the Mystical and Magical series, in Father's Way, one would have the Wisdom to see and recognize the signs of change. I consider this to certainly be a sign. Father has explained to us that Mother Earth is taking action to correct her orbit with the Sun and this certainly confirms that she is progressing in this matter. It is for us to recognize that things are changing and to take Proper action.

These pause days are a time for finishing up what remains undone from this ending Rhythm and preparing for what needs to be done this coming Rhythm, which is from the summer solstice to the fall equinox. During these pause days, contemplation and Prayer to the Father for Guidance and Direction is a Wise Choice.

Note:

See posting of December 24, 2010 for some corrections on my observations.

Trust in the Father

06/19/10

Linda and I both talked yesterday about Father's teaching regarding having Faith that the safety of each individual is with the Father and about letting go of the false responsibility the world places upon the People that it is our duty and "higher nature" to make sure others / family are safe.

The world would say that this capacity to make others more important than our own safety and walk with the Father is what distinguishes the People from animals. Father would Say that is not so.

Taking upon yourself the responsibility that is of the Father, makes everyone involved vulnerable to the unrighteous – unholy. Why? Because, rather than looking to the Father for safety and receiving it from Him, people who have falsely accepted the worldly deception look unto each other for safety and thus, by their very own choice, look away from the safety the Father would provide. How can the Father then assist people who are unwilling to look unto Him?

Recognizing this and learning to do it the Father Way is difficult enough, even when you know that everyone you care about knows to look unto the Father for safety. More difficult is when you are in a situation where you know that those you care about are making choices that are leading them to the vipers den and you know that because of where they are in their believes / choices, they are minimally receptive to Father's Safety (their very choice to answer the viper's call negates their safety in the Father).

The tendency in cases like this is to assume the "superhero" mentality and want to go out and save them... perhaps you can do or say something to change or prevent the damage that you think may come to them... for how can you live with yourself when you know what may occur to those you care and do nothing to prevent it?

Yet it is the case that in the Father Way, one learns to be at Peace in the Knowing that out of Respect and Love one can allow others to choose their own experiences and learning. If Father would have us take action, He would provide the Guidance. If there is no Guidance to take action, then it is not for us to take it upon ourselves to do something, nor is it for us to accept guilt and condemnation for Living of one a-chord with the Father.

In my particular case, Father has been Guiding me to Respectfully and gently provide some words of Wisdom and Guidance as to what the Father would have for this particular family. Yet, His Direction has not only gone unheeded but the choice was made by this family to move into the vipers den. Of course, I feel sorrow and pain to see them go there, especially since I know from experience the damage that may come unto them, but it is for me to Respect their choice and be at Peace that I have done as Father Guided. Any other action would not only be very unwelcome by them, but would place me in a vulnerable position, since I would take a false responsibility and disregard the Father Way. This very action would be an indication of lack of Faith in the Father, making it all so much worse.

Seeing this from a distance, you may recognize that in reality this entire scenario of taking responsibility for the safety of others is a trap of the unrighteous - unholy which is used to entangle those good hearted people who otherwise would not play in the unrighteous - unholy game.

As point of departure approaches, it is important for each one who Desires to Walk in the Father Way to make Peace with this understanding and to stop taking the bait / falling into this trap. Any pain, sorrow, and sense of false responsibility that surfaces is placed on the Altar of Divine Love and Power in Right and Proper Exchange for Universal Truth and Peace.

Remember that baiting and trapping is the way of tyranny.

The Way of the Father is Peace, Joy, Abundance, and Safety for all.

Trust in the Father, Safety is in Him.

When things get rough – SP 15

06/20/10

As you journey with the Father it is the case that things do get rough here and there. When the attack of those who would seek to oppress you seems at its vilest, just stand upright and have Faith in the Father and in your Desire for the Father Way.

No defense, no retaliation, no attack in return, no condemnation, no guilt, no shame... just stand upright with the Father. Ask Father for His Grace and Assistance and do your best to remain focused on Universal Truth.

"I do not play, get thee away. Get thee away ends your play."

"Lead me not unto unrighteous - unholy day / way."

"I do not covet, I do not envy, I do not insinuate my brother's desire."

"I am a man of Honor who Serves the Father."

Unto a Bright New Day the Father Way shall prevail.

Little affirmation

06/21/10

Today we received a book titled "parasites the enemy within" by Hanna Kroeger, MsD. This is a very good book to have even though it makes for unpleasant reading. In reading this book one must keep in mind that solutions are given to the problem.

On page 54, she states:

"Here are some dietary suggestions. A diet high in carbohydrates and low in protein has been found to make parasitic infections worse. When the body is in an alkaline condition the parasitic infection sets in. It is best to keep the diet slightly acidic both as a preventative measure and when treating infection. Food that can help keep the intestines acidic are apple cider vinegar and cranberry juice."

I wanted to share this with you today, because many years ago, Linda and I wrote an essay titled "Food for Contemplation" (which you can read here <sup>1</sup>) in which we presented the possibility that a high carbohydrate intake or content could make one more susceptible to these shades and shadows of darkness. This essay was written based on our own observations, contemplation, and prayer without having read anything beforehand from someone else making such an observation.

The point I want to make with this is that prayer, observation, and contemplation can and may provide information and insights that are right on target even though one may not have any science degree or have access to "scientific research".

It may be a good idea to learn to Discern and Trust in the answers that are Given in prayer, observation, and contemplation.

When the unrighteous - unholy turn deaf

06/22/10

Linda and I both have mentioned in our blogs about the People stopping participation in the game of the unrighteous – unholy.

“I do not play, get thee away. Get thee away ends your play.”

When the unrighteous - unholy turn deaf to this request and rather than stopping their play, increase the strength of the attack, they choose self annihilation. As we the People learn to be less and less susceptible to the attack and drainage of the unrighteous – unholy, they no longer can shift the consequences of their actions to us and they begin to be consumed by the very energies they engage in against the People. Obsessed by their insanity, they can't see they are being consumed by their very actions until their darkest day in which they think they will administer the final blow not realizing that they are doing it against themselves.

In your Journey with the Father, you may see this happen. Stand strong, stand upright with the Father and Know your Safety Is with the Father. As you progress and succeed in your ability to not longer play, those who seek your destruction will indeed begin to fade away. Let them go. Stay focused on your Journey with the Father and the Promise of a Bright New Day in which the door the unrighteous - unholy opened is forever dissolved and all that remains is Peace, Love as Self, Joy, Abundance, Honor, Respect, and Health.

Unto a Bright New Day we the People shall prevail in the Father Way.

Moving forward – SP 16

06/23/10

In Father's Guidance as to what needed to be done to progress in my Journey with Him and be able to live in Universal Truth, Universal Law, Universal Love, He provided the following answer:

Accurately indeed you would say that is not so of your Desire, it is however so were you to engage not tyranny of another.

In the first part of the Spiritual Swimming series, I explored the meaning of "tyranny". Now is the time to begin exploration of what it means to "engage" in tyranny.

As with all previous explorations in this matter, prepare to read many things that may make you uncomfortable yet know that the answers and solutions to do it differently are also being made available. In a way this could be likened to treating someone who has received an injury. The first step is to remove the clothing that "hides" the wound. This in itself may be a quite unpleasant thing. You don't know what you may find, and how severe the damage is. The process may itself be painful, but if the wound is to be healed, it must be done. Then comes the cleansing of the wound. Another unpleasant and perhaps painful task. And finally comes the relief from the healing balm that is applied to it. Even then, it will take some time to heal and care must be taken, during this time, to ensure the body is healing properly.

So it is with this series of Spiritual Swimming. So far we have been removing the "cover" that hides the deception and we have begun here and there to cleanse the damage with Truth. Yes, it stings and yes it would be easier to ignore it, but just as a wound shouldn't be ignored and allowed to fester, so shouldn't deception.

Let's then continue and be done with this so we can end our participation in deception and move on into a Mystical and Magical Life in the Father Way.

What is to engage?

To understand how not to engage in the tyranny of another, we need to know what types of behavior and conduct the word "engage" encompasses. For this process, I will continue to use the "New Century Dictionary of the English Language" printed by the D. Appleton-Century Company in 1938 and the "World Book Encyclopedia" printed by the Quarrie Corporation in 1938. Remember that both of these are used for educational purposes only.

Engage: [ en + pledge]

- To pledge, pawn, or stake
- To bind as by pledge, promise, contract, or oath
- To make liable; specifically to betroth
- To secure for aid, employment
- Attract or please
- Urge, persuade, or induce
- Occupy the attention or efforts of
- Entangle or involve
- Enter into conflict with
- To attach or secure
- Interlock with
- Enter into agreement
- Take employment
- To occupy one's self, become involved

Once again, many definitions seem to be self evident, but remember that not everything is what it seems. I will expound on these starting on my next posting.

To pledge, pawn, or stake – SP 17

06/25/2010

The first way to engage a tyrant is through a pledge, pawn or stake. Let's find out what this means.

Pledge:

- One who becomes bail or surety for another
- Hostage
- A piece of personal property delivered as security for the payment of a debt or discharge of some obligation, and liable to forfeiture.
- In general, anything given or regarded as a security
- Sometimes, a child as an evidence of the union or mutual love of the parents
- An assurance of support or good-will by drinking a person's health [!!]; the drinking of a health; a toast
- A solemn promise of something, or to do or refrain from doing something

Pawn:

- Something given or deposited as security, as for money borrowed
- Anything or any person serving as security

Stake:

- A stick or post
- A post to which a person is bound for execution
- Punishment of death by burning
- Post to which an animal is fastened to be baited
- To put at hazard upon the result of a game
- An interest held in something
- To furnish with necessaries or resources, originally by ways of a business venture with a view to a possible return

We are basically talking about any action that puts a person under an obligation that requires a security to be given to ensure the fulfillment of the obligation. This security can be in the form of a person, property, or a child. As outlandish as this may seem, it is the case that loan contracts do require a "co-signer" and specifically transfer the obligation of payment to future generations of the debtor should he default, that is to say his children. We live in a society in which children are commonly used as security just as if they were property that is at the disposal of parents.

While to all superfluous appearances, the grantor is a "benefactor" who provides the resources for others to accomplish their "dreams", there is an occult intent which lies hidden behind the assurance of support or good-will toward the debtor. This occult intent is the "drinking" of the debtor's health.

To drink among other things is to "imbibe and consume". To imbibe is "to take or receive into the mind". To consume is "to destroy". This is to say, that the grantor receives, in addition to the interest agreed to, the health of the debtor. As the grantor energetically imbibes or takes into his mind the debtor's health, the debtor's health is consumed and destroyed. How many stories are out there of people who lost their livelihood, health, or committed suicide because of their debts? What we have not been told is that this is part of the desired outcome of a debt based society. These are the cases in which the grantor is extremely successful in "imbibing the health" of the debtor. We speak of people who energetically feed from the situations they impose upon others. This is energetic cannibalism.

To enter into a pledge or debt is to put oneself at hazard of ending at the post to which animals are fasted to be baited / fed upon / tormented through worry. The debt collectors set loose to collect upon those who default are but the dogs which are set to attack and worry animals for sport.

Anyone who is willing to destroy a person's life for the recovery of a debt is, if not at tyrant him / her self, an instrument of tyranny.

Thus, one way to not engage someone who would tax you / consume you, is to not enter into any obligation that requires a security to ensure the fulfillment of the obligation.

Father has explained that in His Way, there would be no more than a verbal agreement between people of a like mind. Not even a handshake. A simply written outline of the agreement is also possible. This agreement is always flexible and allows for changes in circumstances. There is no pledge or security made, so if circumstances fail, there is no loss of property by the person who receives the assistance. I will say more on this under entente.

To pledge, pawn, or stake – SP 17a

07/02/10

I haven't been posting for a while because there has been a bug bugging me for a while. It seems like now that I have made the choices to get rid of it, I can see that when I addressed the topic of "pledging, pawning, or staking" I focused on only one aspect. This aspect was based on the idea of not entering into a contract in which a security is needed to fulfill the obligation.

The second aspect is simply the other side of the same coin. That is, not allowing oneself to become the pledged security or bail that is offered as a collateral or assurance of good will.

Let us refresh our memory with some definitions.

Pledge:

- One who becomes bail or surety for another
- Hostage
- A piece of personal property delivered as security for the payment of a debt or discharge of some obligation, and liable to forfeiture
- In general, anything given or regarded as a security
- Sometimes, a child as an evidence of the union or mutual love of the parents
- An assurance of support or good-will by drinking a person's health [!!]; the drinking of a health; a toast
- A solemn promise of something, or to do or refrain from doing something

Pawn:

- Something given or deposited as security, as for money borrowed
- Anything or any person serving as security

Stake:

- A stick or post
- A post to which a person is bound for execution

- Punishment of death by burning
  - Post to which an animal is fastened to be baited
  - To put at hazard upon the result of a game
  - An interest held in something
  - To furnish with necessities or resources, originally by ways of a business venture with a view to a possible return

Ok, giving special consideration to the underlined definitions, we can see that this aspect of giving or making a pledge to someone else has apparently two ways of manifesting. One is when a person is made the actual bail or security in the contract. This puts the person under obligation and thus liability to forfeiture. Where forfeiture is defined as "a transgression or crime" and that which is lost "by the commission of a crime or misdeed," thus "penalty" or "fine". The second way this manifests is in the form of a promise to do or refrain from doing something. Both seem to really be the same, but one is really more applicable to written legal contracts that can be enforced by the legal system and the other is more applicable to verbal promises made between people and which are enforced on an energetic level by means of "guilt", "abuse", "verbal threats", "false sense of obligation and duty", and the many other ways available those who practice majik.

Either way of engaging in this kind of behavior with a tyrant, turns someone into a hostage and puts someone at various kinds of hazards which are dependent on the kind of "game" that is being played. Failure in this matter can lead to many undesirable consequences not the least which include interests, punishment, baiting, and execution.

Interestingly enough, consideration of these consequences led me to think about Gandhi and Martin Luther King, both noble men whose life ended through execution. I guess this is some food for thought as to what kind of contract may have been breached to which they were a security to.

Obviously, the most recognizable way of entering in such liability is by accepting or offering it. For example, the offering or acceptance of securities is a common business practice. Many pledges are also made by people throughout their lives: to the country, the government, the military, a loved one, a friend, an organization, a sports team, a political party, a religion, and so on. Each pledge requiring a different kind of security by the person: devotion, a lifetime of servitude, a sacrifice (of life for example), and so on. And each kind of breach of contract having its own type of punishment: incarceration, payment of fines, withdrawal of love and approval, condemnation, shame, excommunication, and so on.

Of these ways of entering into such liability, the ones that need more careful consideration are the ones that are made as children. This is so mainly because these pledges have a tendency to become unconscious where they remain quite alive and active. Examples of such pledges may include accepting the responsibility for the safety or wellbeing of a parent, accepting being mommy's boy or daddy's girl, accepting the responsibility of parents, and many others which also include perhaps pledges to avenge some injustice experienced, fulfilling some plan concocted by a family member, or becoming the savior or superhero that solves all family problems to keep parents from fighting or a specific parent from abusing.

One of the things that Father has brought to my journey is the opportunity to see first hand how the unrighteous - unholy operate at various levels. There are two examples that perhaps may help you see the various aspects and consequences of promises and decisions made by a children.

There is a family Linda and I know. His mother is a fury, no question or doubt whatsoever about it. Neither in my mind nor in Linda's mind. She is lustful, manipulative, seductive, and thus practitioner of majik. It has become obvious that the relationship between him and his mother is inappropriate, which causes a lot of jealousy in his wife and thus animosity between his wife and mother. This inappropriate relationship between mother and son certainly started in childhood and carried through in his desire to marry someone who is just like his mother. The resemblance is such, that were you to see a picture of both women at around the same age, you would not be able to see the difference. Now he lives with two furies, one on a daily basis which he has learned to hate and the other one on a regular visitation basis which he still is infatuated with, not realizing that both are the same. This man has a son, which he has also learned to hate, because his wife has molded the child into this effeminate mamma's boy who is convinced his mother is unloved and that he is to be his mother's substitute lover (both of whom are patiently awaiting his father's demise). It is easy to see this man's pain and sorrow surface around his son, for he can see in his son what was done unto him. Not knowing what else to do to "turn his son into a man", he uses violence and abuse to "toughen him up", making everything so much worse. What got this man into such problem? Whatever pledges and promises he made to his mother. What can get this man out of this mess? Ending these contracts and recognizing that he is not bound to fulfill his word. (This idea of being a "man of his word" who fulfills all contracts regardless of their nature is a convenient contrivance that always works in the benefit of the unrighteous – unholy). What is his punishment for breaching the contracts made to his mother? The withdrawal of her love and approval which he never got as a child because it was used by her to manipulate him.

Another example comes from another family. In this family, the father has two step daughters who he has taken upon himself to pit against each other by using hatred, jealousy, and competition and using this "in fighting" to turn one of them into his faithful girl. The promises each of these girls are making against each other and in agreement with their stepfather may be carried for the rest of their lives. At the same time, this man, has ruined the life of his son, just as his mother ruined his by denying him the opportunity of following his musical gift and redirecting him to the military. His son, seeking full freedom from his father, entered the military too, where he met a girl who he got pregnant. Now that the child is born and the mother has been sent overseas to fulfill her pledge to defend tyranny, he has been forced to move in close to his father, so his child can be taken care of. As you can see, once again, the decisions and pledges that people make as children based on their experiences have indeed severe consequences in their lives. Again, what is the punishment for not playing? Perhaps withdrawal of love and approval, perhaps physical or verbal punishment.

Now, that we have given some consideration to the obvious ways of engaging in such pledges, let us look at the less obvious one. This one is when a person is turned into the security of a contract without their knowing.

For example, let's say that someone wants the power and fame that they believe can be theirs by becoming a member of certain unrighteous - unholy groups which abound all over the world. They say, "well, if we give you what you want, what will you give us in return?" Payment has to be made for their services of course, but this payment is not only in the way of money, but also in the form of energy. Energy you say? Yes, not the one that comes from the electrical outlet, but the one that can be drained from humans when they are out of alignment with the Divine. We speak of the food of the unrighteous – unholy. Of course, not wanting to be the ones consumed, those who approach these groups will say: “what about feeding on my child?” or “what about feeding on this group of people?” And they will say ok, this is how you do it and what your child / the people will be bound by. And so the process begins to make the child / people agreeable to being energetically drained by them. Now, no one in their sane mind would accept becoming someone else’s food. Thus the effort to create insanity in those affected. For example, in the case of a child, the training pattern might be, “you love your mom / dad right?”, “and you would do anything for us, right?”, “and we sacrifice ourselves to give you food and shelter and schooling, right?”, “and of course wouldn’t you do the same for us?” This is followed then by the physical, sexual, and psychological abuse that will turn the child away from his Divine Nature and create the energies of pain, sorrow, lust, hatred, and so on that the unrighteous - unholy will feed upon. This abuse is specifically directed and applied when the child / people refuse to play, thus creating the understanding that “as long as one plays along there will be no abuse.” And who wants to be abused? Not recognizing that they are never really bound by this false contract, and not wanting to be drained to death, the child / people will then seek others to entrap. If they can get someone else to pay for the burden imposed upon them, that is less that is taken from them. When those who entered into the original contract realize that the agreement made is consuming them too, they will seek others to feed upon. You know what this is? A pyramid scheme! Pyramid schemes are illegal.

Now, just as this can be done on an individual level, so it can be taken to a national level. “So, you want the power and fame that comes from ruling? But you don’t want to be the one paying for the services ah? Well then what about doing this to your nation so we can feed upon the People of your land?” Then begins the national indoctrination: “you love your country right?”, and “you love the freedom you have right?”, and “do you realize how much this freedom costs?”, and “what will you do to contribute your part?”, and of course you know the drill which is followed by the physical, sexual, and psychological abuse and famine needed to turn the People away from their Divine Nature so as to create the energies of pain, sorrow, lust, hunger hatred, and so on.

One way this kind of national manipulation is clearly, yet not recognizably, enforced is through the issue of money. The government borrows money which it has to repay plus interest. How does it repay this? By issuing bonds. The reason this kind of promise is called a bond is because it is an instrument of bondage. Who gets enslaved in this process? The People of course who have to pay for these bonds through their labor, which of course is accepted because we are told People have to be productive and it is for the good of the country, and so on. Slaves and slave labor is no longer sold on an individual level on market streets. Nowadays slave and slave labor is sold on national levels through the ironically called "free market exchanges" of the world, where governments and individuals can purchase the bonds or their right to the slave labor of whatever chunk of People the contracts fall unto. This is why productivity of the "labor force" is tied up with the value of bonds and money. No one wants to acquire rights to unproductive, lazy slaves.

Here you may question how is it that this creates the energy that feeds the unrighteous – unholy? That is a valid question. Recognize the destruction of the land and the People that is caused by this need to be productive. Recognize how many reports link stress with decrease in life span. Recognize how the enslaved are no longer free to follow their Hearts in the Father Way because they have debts to pay. These and many other examples all cause conflict, sadness, sorrow, envy, lust, coveting, and so on. All energies that feed the unrighteous – unholy.

When the status quo is no longer sufficient to feed the unrighteous – unholy, then carefully planned market and economic crashes are put into place to augment the misery of the People. And when this cycle of rise and burst is no longer sufficient, then wars of various kinds are created.

The general belief is that understanding the market and its cycles is impossible because it is so complicated and because of this "invisible hand" that is quoted as being responsible for orchestrating or regulating the market. Well, I would say that all this mystery is quickly dispelled when you recognize how everything is designed to feed the unrighteous – unholy, who, by the way are the "many hands" that manipulate the market. I say "many hands" because there are after all two groups who are fighting each other, each with its own agenda and need for food.

So what can one do about all of this? Learn to “not play”. When the unrighteous - unholy come to ask for payment, one can say “no, this contract has been made in ill will and is therefore invalid”. When events come by to solicit anger, pain, sorrow, lust, and so on, rather than participating in it, one can choose to do it differently. One could lay the emotions on the Altar of Divine Love and Power in Exchange for Peace. One could learn to remain at Peace, which of course would be facilitated by proper nutrition, rest, and parasite cleansing. One could create wealth in ways that are debt free. One could begin his walk in the Father Way. Step by step reducing his physical and energetic participation in the game of the unrighteous – unholy.

Step by step unto the Father we the People shall prevail.

To make liable, specifically to betroth - SP 18

07/05/10

Another way to engage in “tyranny of another” is by becoming liable or, more specifically, betrothing a tyrant.

First let’s see what we can learn from the word liable.

Liable:

- Bound or under obligation in law or equity
- Under obligation if called to do something
- Subject, exposed, or open to something possible or likely, especially something undesirable

Again, we speak of entering into legal contracts that put someone under the rule of the unrighteous – unholy, which is, as stated by the very definition, something undesirable.

What I find interesting is that this specifically relates to the word “betroth”.

Betroth:

- To pledge one’s troth to marry

Troth:

- Faithfulness, fidelity or loyalty; especially one’s word pledged in engaging one’s self to marry
- Truth, verity

This is the second time that marriage comes out in this exploration of tyranny. First it was unveiled during the exploration of tyranny itself (see Minting this and minting that - SP 13 under Juno the adviser). Now, marriage shows up as a way to engage in tyranny. It follows from this, at least for me, that to pledge one’s troth to marry brings an undesirable exposure which puts one under obligation in law / the unrighteous - unholy. Anyone who has had a marriage license, gone through divorce, or had children, knows to a lesser or greater extent how this can affect and control their lives.

I will take this opportunity to explore this in more detail.

Marry: [< mas (mar-), male, a male]

- To unite in wedlock
- To unite intimately

“Marry” has its origins in the word “male” and thus by inference, “male” is equal to unite intimately and in wedlock. You never quite know what surprises await in this kind of exploration. This definition may explain why in society, the manhood and sexual inclinations of a man who does not have sex and does not get married is questioned. It would appear then that marriage as we know it may be a direct outcome of the death warrant voucher, which says a man’s power lies in his ability to copulate (see Oppression – SP11 <sup>2</sup> ). It may be another example of how this contract has been present and active in the world.

As Father has said, to enter into the belief and practice of showing / proving one’s male-hood through sex and marriage puts the People in an undesirable condition of bondage and obligation which requires the performance of certain duties.

Let’s find out what kind of duties this may include.

Wedlock : wed + lock

Wed: [akin to bail, security, also E. wage, gage]

- To pledge, stake, or wage
- To bind one’s self to a person in marriage

So here we go right back to the postings on “pledging, pawning, and staking” which as we saw has the intent to create situations that allows the unrighteous - unholy to energetically feed upon the People. All the lust, fights, envy, sorrow, sadness, loneliness, anger, abuse, sex, misunderstandings, and so on encountered in marriage are designed to feed the unrighteous – unholy.

It could be then said that wedlock is a pledge to lock or to bind one's self to another person through a contract called marriage. To lock is to "render inaccessible." What you may ask? Perhaps Truth of Love as Self. The Truth of who you are, the Truth of the Father, the Truth of your Endeavor upon Earth. In marriage, you pledge to put the other person first and you bind yourself to that person, therefore denying your True Nature and Communion with Father. Someone who enters into bondage, is no longer free to move around as his Heart Guides in his Walk with the Father.

There are two specific duties that are imposed as a result of marriage. One is a wage and the other is a gage. We all are well aware of the need to provide a steady wage / income and what that entails, but what about "gages"?

Gage:

- A pledge or pawn; security
- Something, as a glove, thrown down in token of challenge to combat; hence a challenge

It would appear then, that we speak of challenges and combat - both of which involve competition. It has been said in research that competition tends to bring the worst in people. Is it then any surprise that so many people get physically and emotionally hurt in marriages and that so many marriages fail? Perhaps it is not because the People are at fault per say, but because the concept of two individuals coming together into bondage is not meant to bring happiness. Bondage is failure. Putting someone else above yourself and the Father is failure. Sacrificing yourself for others is failure. Not walking your Journey with the Father is failure. Looking unto someone else to find your happiness is failure.

But what about meeting your "other half" and living happily ever after? You are your "other half." Love as Self is the Love you so desperately miss. Love as Self is an individual experience, thus the answer to your emptiness is within and with the Father. Once you find what you are looking for within, you will recognize that it is possible to live with like minded People free of this game of marriage and sex. In such a community, there would be friendship and freedom to move and do as Guided by the Father.

In the simplest terms, what is being said is that to avoid falling into the grips of tyranny, one should not engage in the tyranny of another by marrying a tyrant or by entering in a marriage contract with someone of good faith that causes the marriage to fall under the tyranny of some institution / the unrighteous - unholy.

Father has indicated that He does not expect anyone to live with a tyrant, even if the mistake was made to marry one. That is to say there is no penalty for leaving a tyrant. Of course, if someone is in a situation where children have been born of the relationship, then there is the responsibility of providing for them and teaching them of the Father Way to the best of one's ability. This would not be done out of guilt or a false sense of obligation, but rather because that is the responsibility one accepts when having children <sup>3</sup>.

For someone who is in a good relationship in marriage, then perhaps, at some point, consideration may be given with Father's Guidance, as to whether it would be appropriate to remove the institutional tyrant from the relationship. This can be done by filing for dissolution following the steps of a "do it yourself" guide. This is a friendly filing, there are no disputes or disagreements. You may be surprised how much breathing space this process can bring to a relationship. In this process one learns to transition from dependence on each other to non dependence and Trust in the Father. That is to say, in a relationship of equals each one is totally free to pursue his / her Vision with Father. The goal of the relationship is transformed from the bondage of the world, into one in which a common interest to Walk in the Father Way allows individuals to stay / come together and share their Journey as the Father Guides.

I recognize that this may sound difficult to accomplish. How can you be free of the need for another? How can you be free of depending on someone else? Well, nutrition is an excellent start. John Gray, in his book, "The Mars and Venus diet and exercise

<sup>3</sup> Child rearing does require extra attention, time, and a spiritual growth that most of us do not have. This is why, Father has Said the command to be "fruitful and multiply" was given to the plant kingdom and not to humans. While this command just "happened" to be misinterpreted by most religions, it is the case that no one has the right to bring a child into an environment that will turn him / her into an eventual "voluntary" slave of the unrighteous – unholy.

solution" actually provides nutritional guidance that allows people to become less dependent and affected by others. This particular book is a step in the right direction when you recognize that beyond his view of relationships, there is the Father Way of total and complete freedom.

Remember, one step at a time is how we learned to walk. One step at a time is how we learn to be Free again.

Remember the extra step – SP 19

07/09/10

When you get ready to end the contract in which you placed another above all else, remember to take the extra step of unlocking that which you had to “lock away”.

This is to say, remember to unlock the Truth of Who you Are, the Truth of Love as Self, the Truth of your Walk with the Father.

May you have a Lighthearted and Joyful unlocking.

Empty prayers don't work

07/10/10

One thing that I have learned in my walk with the Father is that empty prayers don't work. It does not matter how often and for how long these prayers are made, if they are not accompanied by a sincere and honest Desire to make changes and by the willingness to let go of the old ways, the prayers go unheeded.

Not too long ago, one of the southern states affected by the gulf disaster issued a day of prayer in the hopes that a miracle would happen and the spill would be ended. Of course, this did not work. Empty prayers do not work. The only reason state officials choose to declare such a day of prayer was simply because everything else had failed and they simply wanted to avert disaster. They simply wanted self preservation.

This day of prayer was not born out of a Desire to embrace a Harmonious lifestyle with Mother Earth and Creation and to make the changes that would support such a choice, but rather was born out of the need to have things returned to normal so that everyone could continue with the same old destructive ways of doing things. The politicians want to continue scamming, taxing, and controlling. The fishermen want to continue taking from the ocean, the tourist industry wants to continue feeding on tourists, and so on. Where is the change of heart? Where is the recognition that perhaps it is time to make a change not only on an individual level, but also on a state level? Where is the Desire to Say Father we recognize our mistakes, please do show us the Way to correct them?

In a way this reminds me of the passage in the Book of Enoch, where Enoch tells the fallen angels of the consequences and penalties that will befall them for their crimes against humanity. The fallen angels didn't recognize their mistakes, they didn't ask for Grace for those they affected, instead, they simply asked for mercy and deliverance for themselves. At no point was there any indication that they would change their ways now that they had been shown the impropriety of their behavior. They simply wanted to be spared the consequences of their actions so that they could continue doing the same stuff.

Rather than looking unto "god" for a miracle and an easy way out, perhaps we the People should consider turning unto Father for Guidance and Direction, and then taking action to change our own lives as He Guides. Perhaps it is time that we the People turn unto Father not out of despair when nothing else works to prevent the consequences of our actions, but because we recognize our Desire to do things differently.

Father is not in the business of doing miracles. "Miracles" is what the unrighteous - unholy will do to try to fool us into thinking they are the "Holy Ones". What good would it do to end the gulf leak only to allow everyone to return to a lifestyle that is so destructive to the Earth and the People?

Do we want change? Do we want things to be different? Do we recognize our Desire to do things differently, to live in Peace and Harmony with Mother Earth and Creation? Then we must start on a personal level, one step at a time. Not by "going green" or becoming "sustainable consumers" as the world would tell us, but by stopping our participation in the game of the unrighteous – unholy, as the Father would Guide.

Another bug

07/14/10

I have another bug bugging me. I will post again as soon as I can get past this.

In a way this is a reminder that I'm doing this blog for my own progression, for it is the case that as I contemplate and post I receive the Blessings of forward progression. Some things take slightly longer to process than others, but one thing is for sure, I'm getting all the "bugs" out of my system.

Bug has been purged

07/ 17/10

As it turns out, the bug has been purged from my system, now it will be a few days before I'm ready to continue with the Spiritual Swimming Series.

Until then, I thought I should take this opportunity to post Linda's posting for today:

"New Orleans

We have clarified today, with Father, that the New Orleans deception is an unrighteous - unholy attack. The innocent aquatic life in the Gulf is of no consequence to those who are warring on the Southern States. What would the oceanic life matter when their plan is to engulf this planet in the Red Giant explosion of our Sun?

If Universal Law were acting there would be no mass destruction of the Gulf of Mexico waters, life and habitat.

We can change all this by dedicated attention to The Father, Source and our Divine Self. Prayerful vigilance as to what IS the Divine Plan and acting accordingly will bring change. Joyful, Peaceful, Life affirming change.

On a SunShiny day with plentiful, gentle, rain on the way, All is in Divine Order !"

It does indeed take strength and Faith in the Father to know that even though the unrighteous - unholy are at play, all is in Divine Order. It is for each one of us to allow Father to do what is His to do and to stop interfering with what is His to do. Our part is to stop playing and participating in the unrighteous - unholy game and to walk in the Father Way. When each one of us does what each one of us came here to do, then nothing is left undone. Just make sure with Father what your part in His Plan is.

I have to post again

07/17/10

It seems that now that the bug has been cleared, all this enthusiasm that had been bottled up during the days I have not posted, is ready to flow. So here I find myself in front of the computer again writing...

Did you notice in the quote from Linda's post that she talked about Joy and Peace regarding how to change what is happening around and within us? The so called "natural tendency" would be to worry, sorrow, and anger because of what is happening on the Gulf. However, it is time to ask, does worrying, sorrowing, and angering solve anything? Would 6 billion people doing this, change anything for the better? The answer is a clear no. What such action does however, is feed the unrighteous – unholy. They get very happy when this happens. It allows them to feast and fill their reserves so to speak. This is to say, when we are tricked into worrying, angering, sorrowing, taking false responsibility and stressing about things, we become part of the problem because we are feeding those who are causing the problem in the first place.

So, one way to not play their game, is to choose Joy and Peace. It is to allow ourselves to remain focused on our walk with the Father and Know that Father is taking care of things. Of course, the unrighteous - unholy would tell us how "selfish" we are if we just go on with our lives without taking false responsibility and stressing about things. They will provide all this information about how disastrous things are and why we should worry about what is happening. They will constantly remind us it is "our" fault and that we should demand the unrighteous - unholy solve the problem. Why? Besides the fact that they feed on (negative) emotions, they know that if we the People stop playing their game and Properly see what is happening, then Father would be able to step in and take care of the situation.

This is to say, you want to be part of the solution and not the problem? Then you could choose Joy and Peace. You could Focus on your walk with Father and allow Father to do what is His do to. You could stop looking unto the unrighteous - unholy to solve the problem. Their answers never work, they just take the opportunity to make things worse, as BP did by using the dispersant it choose to use.

Are there other choices you can make to be part of the solution? Yes. One such choice would be to ask Father what good can come out of the Gulf situation. See Linda's posting "Turn the tide" <sup>4</sup> and my posting "A Refinement" <sup>5</sup>. When we ask Father for the Good than can come out of a situation, we give Him an Opportunity to turns things around.

As the song goes: don't worry, be happy.

With a Light-Heart, focus on your walk with Father and that which is before you to do each and every day in His Plan. In this you may see all is in Divine Order.

Patch of abundance – July update

07/18/10

As it turns out, several weeks ago, I had decided that it was time to mow my patch of abundance in the back yard. At that time, it had been storming for several days with strong winds and it all looked like a mess. Since most of the plants had gone to seed, it seemed a good time to renew the patch by mowing it down and letting it re-grow.

Looking back on that decision, it appeared to be a mistake. The mowing down of this patch of abundance coincided with the beginning of some very dry and hot weeks. While before the mowing the garden was having a low watering need, after the mowing things changed. All potted plants have been drying up in no time and even after a rain, within a few hours of sunshine, the plants begin to dry up. I have had a real difficult time keeping up with the water requirements of the garden.

Is it a coincidence that right after mowing down my patch of abundance, my garden dried out and could not retain moisture? Perhaps, but perhaps not. I do know for sure that before the mowing, the high grasses that surrounded the pots ensured proper retention of moisture as well as a provision of morning dew.

Next time, I will mow the patch of Abundance in small sections at a time.

No need to prove

07/19/10

There is no need to prove anything to anyone. Think of it this way:

A man who can see goes to a land where only the blind abide. What do you think the blind will say to this man who claims to see? Will anyone believe in what he says?

They may ask him to prove he can see using their "scientific instruments / ways", but how could he do it if none of these instruments / ways are designed to incorporate vision?

There is no thing he could do or say to convince those who don't see. Even if he tried, he would not succeed.

What if there was a group within the blind who perhaps had heard of "legends of vision" and Desired to see? Still, this man need not prove anything. All he would have to do is point the way from blindness to vision. Then, those who restore their vision would be able to see for themselves and know he spoke Truth.

In this example, we are the blind and Father is the "man" who can see. To allow the Father to show us the way from blindness to Vision is to welcome Father's Way in our lives.

The Vision to which the Father would restore us, is a reality in which we are Whole and Complete, in which we live in Peace, Joy, Abundance, Elegant Simplicity, and in which we and the Earth are Healthy and Free, restored to the original Intent of All That Is. A reality in which we know Love as Self and can hear and see once again the Presence of the Father upon Earth and in our lives.

The Beauty of the Father Way, is that one need not wait until one's Vision is fully restored to begin to see the Truth of His Guidance. Step by step, as one progresses in the Father Way, one will notice things getting better and one's foundation of Truth getting stronger. Father does not ask us to walk in blind faith. He shows us the way each and every step and does indeed provide firm footing to step upon.

May the People's Vision be restored once again to Truth.

To secure for aid – SP 20

07/20/10

So here it is, my next posting in the Spiritual Swimming series. Right now we are exploring what it is to engage or be engaged by a tyrant. A few days ago, Linda and I talked about how Father has repeatedly said to focus on Him, rather than trying to understand the deception. Yet sometimes it is the case that to “brake the spell”, one must be able to recognize what is happening. I remember many times in which I was pestered by something that would trouble and trouble me, keeping my focus away from Father. No matter what I would do, I wouldn’t be able to make a different choice. In these cases, when I would ask Father and He would show me the origin of the problem, I could then end it: “oh, I see, now I can change this.” This is sort of having the light in your room go out and you spending hours and hours flipping the switch back and forth or checking all the wiring, yet nothing changes, until someone comes along and says “have you replaced the light bulb?” “Oh, I get it.”

In this posting, I will explore how one can engage or be engaged by a tyrant by providing / securing for aid. A most innocuous activity, or is it?

Secure:

- Not liable to fail, yield, become displaced
- Also, to protect
- Fix firmly in place
- To seize and confine, as a prisoner
- To make (a creditor) sure of payment, as mortgage, bond, or the like
- To be dependent on

Aid:

- To help; assist; afford support or relief

To secure for aid in its simplest terms is an agreement or understanding (contract) made by someone who needs help / assistance / support / relief and someone who is willing to provide such help. On the surface this seems quite innocent and well intended, and perhaps it would be if this agreement was made between honest People who are free of what we call the “save the world” syndrome.

The problem arises when one of the parties to this agreement is unrighteous – unholy, serves the unrighteous – unholy, or when the parties involved have an improper understanding of what it is to provide or request assistance. In this case, we are speaking of a different scenario because for the unrighteous – unholy, offering help to the People or seeking help from the People is simply a means to entrap and gain a foothold in the lives of those affected by such actions. Any kind of agreement / contract with the unrighteous - unholy is always designed to the disadvantage of the People who by the very act of contracting with the unrighteous - unholy become imprisoned by the deception. By the time the affected People realize what has happened, it appears to be too late, for the unrighteous – unholy have become firmly fixed in place and difficult to dislodge.

Some examples follow.

One is the typical child who needs assistance to learn or do things during his developing years and who naturally looks unto his parents to provide this support. In this scenario, when the parents have a false understanding of responsibility, or when someone purposely uses the opportunity, a child may learn that his safety, help, assistance comes from parents or others, rather than from the Father. That is to say, the child is not properly educated in the knowledge that his parents are simply facilitating him until he can receive that which he needs to support his journey directly from Father. Instead, this child becomes dependent on others and learns to see the Father as a distant being who has little to no influence in his life other than perhaps judging and punishing his misbehavior.

Another example is of the farmer who somewhere in the 1900’s was deceived into believing he needed big machinery and chemical poisons to simplify his life and be more productive. At the beginning it all seemed fine and dandy and it seemed that the farmer made a good choice. However, several decades later, the Truth has become apparent. The farmer has destroyed his land and he has to go into debt to work his land. The nutritional value of the food he grows is decreasing and he can no longer harvest his own seed for next year’s planting. This system of bondage and destruction has become so ingrained and firmly fixed that many farmers can no longer think outside such a confining system. And the most ironic part of all of this is that farmers nowadays have to earn money so they can have food on his table.

In the example of the farmer, the unrighteous – unholy, in their false pretense of their “good heartedness” to “help” the People and “save the world”, promised the solution to all food problems if only the People would agree to indebt themselves so as to purchase their solution. You may have heard this kind of promise before. They repeat it time and time again, whenever they are ready to implement some new way of pilfering the People. The industrial age, the farming revolution, demo-crazy (government), genetic engineering, nuclear power, computers and technology, science, quantum physics, entangled physics, progress, and on and on. Yet it is always the case that after the glitter that accompanies their claims and solutions ends, all that remains is greater level of misery and entrapment of the People. A coincidence?

Let’s take a look at an example in which the unrighteous - unholy ask the People for assistance: “If you help us make money / attain our business goals then you can have all this and all that and live happily ever after in all the wealth you will have.” Of course they never mention that you will loose your health in the process, that you will miss the best years of your life confined (or imprisoned?) in some cubicle or office, that what you will be doing will contribute to the destruction of the Earth and enslavement of the People, that you will be kept so busy that you wont be able to do your Journey with the Father... you know, those little details that People get to ponder in their deathbed when the glitter of deception ends and they finally realize it was all for nothing.

Another classic example is the armed forces. “If you help us maintain our safety and agree to kill anyone who opposes it, then we will give you money in return... you can go to college... you will have an education... and a retirement... there will be peace on earth and a great life...” Yet has war and armies ever solved any problem other than making it possible for tyranny to kill / destroy / oppress the life of the People who love freedom? Ever heard of the “war to end all wars”? Did it? Of course not. The unrighteous - unholy tell us it is the People’s fault, but in reality it is and has always been them who have been behind every single conflict on this Earth. Conflict makes for good energetic food. All promises they offer to those who would assist them are empty, for the destruction that is brought upon the Soul and Spirit of those who participate in such deception, is far greater than anything they will receive in return, that is if they actually receive anything. Of course, we are told "free-dom is not free", which is quite an oxymoron in itself. We are told the "price of freedom is the life of those who fight to maintain it", but isn't this human sacrifice?

These kind of contracts not only occur on the "tangible" or physical level, but also on an intangible level with the "non-tangible to us" unrighteous - unholy entities. They come and whisper: "You want vengeance? You want protection? Anything else? I can help you with that too." Of course they never really tell you the cost, misery, and bondage that their help will bring to you... they just make it look all so innocent and safe... they are indeed the perfect salespeople who create great "bundled offers" that seem sooo attractive, and after all, they "care" so much for your well being... or do they?

Can you recognize the pattern of this kind of trickery behavior? Big promises (aka save the world), ignore the details, ignore the Father Way of Respect for the Earth and Humanity, indebt yourself = confinement, seizure, dependency, imprisonment, death.

Having said the above, I will now give another example of how the unrighteous - unholy work and entrap people.

Here is a message that was send to a friend of ours by his mother for his coming birthday:

"Together with my desire that you have a very beautiful day on the ---. I have wired you your gift.

I desire you the best, that all that is in the deepest of your heart be fulfilled together with your dreams and longings.

A great hug

Mom"

Now, it is very likely that to most, such a message would be interpreted as coming from quite a kind mother who wishes the best upon her son, and perhaps it would be, if it indeed came from a good hearted mother. However, what if it came from a woman that made a contract with the unrighteous - unholy and who offered her son as security for that which she would receive? (see SP 17a – page 13) What if she was carefully instructed on how to abuse her son and condition him to fall prey to certain distortions that would ensure his continual support and feeding of the unrighteous – unholy? What if the conditioning and manipulation of his son included taking information of his walk with the Father and twisting it so that as he sought to fulfill his Desire for the Father, he would be actually following an alternate plan as programmed in him by the unrighteous – unholy? What if the conditioning and manipulation included having his mother portray herself as his “other half” and something was shown to him to make him believe her claim was accurate? What if his mother had him pledge his troth to marry her (see SP 18 – page 20) and actually conducted a wedding ceremony with him in which she had him pledge a life of devotion to her? What if this manipulation was then carefully shifted to his unconscious so that he would not be aware of what happened, yet be actively affected by such pledges? What if, as he became an adult, she began visiting him in the “secrecy” of his dreams to solicit lust and remind him of his duties as her husband? Can you begin to see how the message suddenly loses its innocence?

Let’s then reread his mother’s “good wishes”:

- “I desire you the best” – of course, she wants him to succeed as he was programmed because she has a debt to the unrighteous - unholy and her son is supposed to pay for it.
- “... that all that is in the deepest of your heart be fulfilled” – her desire is indeed sincere, she wants him to succeed in fulfilling the programming the unrighteous - unholy put in his heart so he could not find his way back to the Father Who certainly would show him how he had been deceived and would show him how to be free of such insanity.
- “...with your dreams and longings.” – now she is wishing him to remember to fulfill his longing to return to his "only love", his "other half" with whom he has "dreamed" of having a beautiful life filled with lust.

- "a great hug" – what if whenever she would hug him, she would use the opportunity to surround him with dark and lustful energy and with a kind of "majik concoction" designed to infest and alter his perception of reality toward reinforcing his bondage to his mother?

Can you see how it is possible such a woman could whole heartedly and sincerely mean every single word she wrote and yet convey such deviation that is beyond comprehension?

If you notice, she also sent him money for his birthday. What if the money was indeed her offer to purchase his life? If this friend had accepted the wire transfer, he would have quite literally sold his life away and in so doing, given away Father's Grace and Protection. Soon thereafter, he would have encountered death and be awaited on the "other side" not by the Father, but by the unrighteous - unholy group who purchased his life through his mother. How could that be you say? How could she sell him away and wish him success at the same time? What if the wishing of success was simply the mechanism used to awaken his hidden programming and to make him vulnerable to accepting her offer? What if he had been able to free himself from the contracts imposed by his mother and the only way she could negotiate staying alive was by selling the life of her son unto slavery? Can you see also, how after the death of her son, which she brought upon him, she could claim martyrdom and say that even up to the end, she wished him "well" and "success"? Sounds like a Bible story...

You say this is too extreme? Perhaps, but perhaps not. Less extreme versions of this kind of insanity are conducted by parents every single day who sell their children to a lifetime of bondage to the "taxman" so that they can claim their children in their tax returns and save a few hundred dollars each year. These children are literally being offered as a security to pay for part of their parent's debt, for the "taxman" knows that the children will pay in their lifetimes more tax money than what the parents were allowed to save. Not to mention the fact that these children will continue the cycle of bondage by selling their offspring when the time comes.

Can you see how agreements / contracts with the unrighteous - unholy are always designed to the disadvantage of the People even when the claim is made it is for the People's benefit? Can you see how by the very act of accepting unrighteous - unholy help one can become imprisoned?

There is indeed a reason why Father has asked me to explore the meaning of "not engaging in the tyranny of another". Father has asked me to recognize the many levels in which the unrighteous - unholy operate and to be able to identify their patterns of deception and ways of manifestation. The exploration that I'm undertaking in this Spiritual Swimming series is indeed making this recognition possible, that I may recognize how I have been deceived by them and learn to do it differently, the Father Way.

"I do not play. Get the away. Get thee away ends your play."

It is time to end the belief that seeking or receiving the help from the unrighteous - unholy will benefit anyone. It is time to end the belief that helping the unrighteous - unholy succeed in their goals will benefit anyone.

To end the madness one must choose to walk in the Father Way of Peace, Love, Joy, Abundance, in Universal Truth, Universal Law, Universal Love, as it expresses individually in each culture.

The only way to end the unrighteous - unholy presence and all the problems and misery that their presence and ways have brought to Earth, is to stop playing their game. Their game is designed to make us feel responsible for and carry the burden of their well being – we are supposed to self sacrifice and come to their rescue so that they may live well. Their game is designed to allow them to live a "good life" at our expense.

We must see past the glitter of their false promises and the pain / sorrow of having been deceived by them.

It is time that one by one, we the People stop seeking / receiving the aid of the unrighteous – unholy. It is time that one by one, we the People stop answering the unrighteous - unholy call for aid.

It is time that one by one, we the People turn to the Father Way.

It is time that one by one, we the People let go of that which is foreign and vitiating to us and claim back that which Rightfully belongs to each one of us.

In this, one by one, the unrighteous - unholy presence will be ended.

Unto All Righteous and Holy Day let it be so.

To secure for employment – SP 20a

Let's take a look now at what it means to "secure for employment".

Once again, remember that the focus of this exploration is to unveil how the unrighteous - unholy or tyranny engage the People or how the People engage them. Thus, the focus is on the unrighteous - unholy aspects of the words so that we can recognize things for what they are and easily let them go when the time is Proper. There is indeed a Right and Proper way of conducting business. However, even though the unrighteous - unholy do conduct business in a proper way between themselves (as Father has explained to us), they have imposed upon the People a system that is designed to pilfer the People while causing the People to incur in penalties for their actions.

Secure:

- Not liable to fail, yield, become displaced
- Also, to protect
- Fix firmly in place
- To seize and confine, as a prisoner
- To make (a creditor) sure of payment, as mortgage, bond, or the like
- To be dependent on

Employment:

- Work; occupation; business

Employ:

- To make use of
- Keep busy or at work
- Also infold; include; imply

In a nutshell, unrighteous - unholy business / employment is designed to keep people busy or working so they become dependent and confined by this structure, while serving as the security of payment for the bonds issued through the government (refer to SP 17a – page 13).

It has been a while, but if you remember, during the exploration of tyranny, it was unveiled that one of the things tyranny is designed to do, is to keep people busy and employed. It is thus logical that to engage in such activity is to engage in tyranny.

Let's take a closer look at what is involved in the employment of the People.

Imply: [infol, entangle, involve: see implicate and compare to employ]

Entangle:

- Complicate
- Ensnare
- Involve in anything from which extrication is difficult
- To involve in difficulties; embarrass; perplex

Embarrass:

- To put obstacles or difficulties in the way of
- Impede, hamper
- To beset with financial difficulties
- Burden with debt
- To perplex mentally; confuse; disconcert
- To render difficult or intricate

Perplex:

- To bring into a tangled or confusingly involved condition

So here we have some of the "hidden" yet, readily discernible and recognizable, outcomes of taking unrighteous - unholy employment or self-employment: complications, obstacles and difficulties, financial difficulties, burdening with debt, and mental confusion.

This destructive, enslaving, taxing pattern of life is not just how "life is" because we the People are too greedy or debased to do it differently as the unrighteous-unholy implicate in their excuses. This pattern of life is the result of a carefully crafted system that is designed by the unrighteous – unholy and has been forced down everyone's throat under the barrel of a gun and the false promises of deception / a better life. We the People have been fighting and resisting this system since it was first implemented upon Earth several thousand years ago (with some of the latest battles fought on the north American continent by Native Americans). But of course, fighting and resisting does not work. So here we are, in the midst of systems of oppression that are literally choking the life out of the People (a most recent example being the Gulf disaster). It does not matter whether there is 100 percent employment or unemployment. It does not matter whether you call it capitalism, socialism, communism, or any other ism. The obstacles, difficulties, intricacies of life, burdens, debt will always be there as long as the unrighteous - unholy remain and we continue to engage in their ways.

All of this is designed to get People diverted / fixated away from their walk with the Father, into using their resources, energy, and creativity to solve the difficulties and complications that prevent the unrighteous - unholy from achieving their dreams of insanity. The insidiousness of this system is that those who seek employment from the unrighteous - unholy become dependent upon them for survival and thus have a vested interest in seeing the unrighteous - unholy succeed and remain in place. In this, a system is created that becomes firmly fixed (but not perpetual) upon society and which is difficult (but not impossible) to displace.

The other side of this coin is when a business owner employs a tyrant in his company or secures work from a tyrant. In so doing, the door is opened to complications, difficulties, embarrassment, and ensnarement. Many bosses are well known for their tyrannical behavior, and most people can identify a co-worker or two, who are constantly complicating things, gossiping, blaming, delaying, disturbing the work, and stabbing others behind their back. There are also many entities that offer contract work who are known for their tyrannical and ensnaring nature.

So here you have it. Perhaps it is not a coincidence that the most destructive nations on this Earth are the most industrialized. Their false promises of progress, happiness, and wealth are indeed tantalizing, causing other nations to want to emulate their behavior, yet it is the case that the People who live in industrialized nations are indeed enslaved, indebted, and sick.

Does this mean then everyone should just quit their jobs? No. The disruption that this would cause is greater than the good that would come out of it. Instead, we turn things around. We ask: "Father what good can come out of my current employment? How can the resources I receive from You, through this company (!), be Properly used to support my journey with You?"

As you shift your focus and attention back to the Father, you begin to change how you interact with co-workers and clients and you begin to end your participation in the game of the unrighteous – unholy. You begin to ask, "How can I do this differently?", "How can I conduct business in the Father Way?", "How do I stop being submissive to the tyranny of others at work without being disrespectful, without fighting back, without engaging in their game, yet standing strong in my choice to not play?"

This is done one step at a time and in the Guidance of the Father, Who will see you through your restoration to your Divine Nature.

Because this process requires strength and mental health / clarity, improving your nutrition and gently cleansing your body are always good places to begin.

The easy way and the worldly way

07/22/10

There are two ways to get rid of unrighteous - unholy activity. An easy way that works and a worldly way that kind of works.

The worldly way is characterized by the group Alcoholics Anonymous or by the church. In this kind of group you have to admit to your weak or sinful nature, you fight against the "needs of the flesh", you depend on others for support, you constantly fight a battle against temptation, and many times fall back to old behavior, because after all, you are never cured or completely free – you are "human" which supposedly is an indication of being somehow defective.

The easy way, involves nutrition. When you are nourished, your body automatically ends the unrighteous - unholy behavior that is afflicting your life. An example of this is given in John Grey's book, "The Mars & Venus Diet & Exercise Solution". Starting on page 14, he recounts his visit to the clinic of Dr. William Hitt, in Mexico. In this recounting, he tells of seeing patients come in high on heroin and cocaine and leave free from addictive cravings in 9 days. Not months, not years, not a lifetime, but 9 days! Dr. Grey indicates in this book that many of these patients were able to feel happy for the first time in their lives. I would presume thus that these patients were not required to engage in guilt, self condemnation, or any fight against their "weak" flesh. Dr. Grey also recounts how receiving treatment at this clinic changed his life.

Which way do you think is closest to the Father Way?

You may want to read Linda's posting "Useful Links" for some interesting links on this matter.

One thing in common

07/24/10

What does the TV series "V" and the "War of the worlds" have in common besides aggressive / destructive aliens? Any guesses?

The solution to get rid of them: a biological weapon. In "V" someone develops a biological weapon to save the planet. In "War of the worlds" the aliens just get infected with some kind of virus or bacteria and are wiped out. In both cases, earthlings are immune.

I could say a few things about this, but will keep it short. As I have said before, viruses and disease causing bacteria are a development of the unrighteous – unholy. The development of biological weapons is an unrighteous - unholy practice.

What these two stories do, and probably quite intentionally, is implant in people's subconscious the idea that perhaps it is a good thing to have viruses, disease causing bacteria, and biological weapons around – you know, just in case the aliens arrive... In so doing, a false subconscious perception is created that something the unrighteous - unholy have to offer or have given us, is of value and must be kept, and that therefore, we should allow the unrighteous – unholy to remain on earth just in case something worse shows up.

Father had both Linda and I address this false perception quite early in our journey. Nothing the unrighteous - unholy offer is essential for Life. On the contrary, it is designed to destroy Life. There is no benefit to the presence of the unrighteous - unholy on earth. There is no benefit to the People from anything of an unrighteous - unholy nature / origin.

The sooner we the People can see through the false pretense that the unrighteous - unholy have any value upon earth or creation for that matter, the more expedient their removal together with their deceptive promises and technologies will be.

The “cleaning” of Mother Earth is underway. Let’s do our part by doing a “home” cleaning too and recognizing that there is no value in hanging on to any unrighteous - unholy activity / behavior / thing. Let’s clean up so we may receive the Truth of Love as Self and continue in our walk with the Father in Peace, Joy, and Abundance.

To attract - SP 21

07/25/10

I have already explored the meaning of the word "attract" in SP -12a while talking about the despotic aspect of tyranny. Today, I will re-explore this word on a slightly different level.

Attract:

- To draw to one's self or itself
- Act upon by an inherent physical force compelling approach or union
- To draw by some moral force or influence
- Invite, allure, win

Force:

- Strength or power
- Strength for war
- Physical coercion; violence; specif., in legal use, unlawful violence offered to persons or things [Martin's note: as if there is such a thing a lawful violence]
- Power to influence or control
- Ravish or violate
- Compel (a player) to play so as to make known the strength of his hand

Draw

- To cause to come in a particular direction as by a pulling force
- Lead or take along
- Take in as by sucking or inhaling
- Disembowel (a fowl, a condemned person, etc.)
- Levy or call (on) for money, supplies, etc.
- Make demands; make a formal written demand, as for money due or on deposit

Attraction is then the use of a person's energy to physically and morally coerce, violate, influence, and control someone else. The purpose of this is to allow the person doing the "attracting" to trick the target into accepting the levy / demand / cal for money or supplies. That is to say, love, attention, service, body or whatever else "satisfies" the hunger / lust / need of that person.

This kind of behavior is specifically active during the time in which people solicit each other so as to fulfill the need to end the loneliness and / or comply with the "moral" obligations of society which compels men and women to marry and have children by a certain age, lest they be found defective or unworthy. "You are still single? You haven't found anyone? You are not having children?"

In society this behavior is called "dating". What is the end goal of this behavior? To win. To win what you may ask? Let's find out.

Win: [labor, strive, suffer]

- To succeed by striving or effort
- To get by efforts, through labor, competition, or conquest
- Often to persuade to love or marriage, or gain in marriage

The purpose of using attraction is then to persuade someone to love (which is really lust or sex) or to marriage. That is of course the entire object of dating: to get laid or to find someone to marry. However, as many have found out, this "dating game" does not work and often times results in mistakes and mismatches that lead to a lot of misery and pain, not the least of which is the braking of people's heart. This is indeed cruelty.

That this "dating game" is designed for failure and pain should be apparent by that which defines the meaning of the word "attraction": force, coercion, violation, levy, demand; and by the word "win": strive, suffer, competition, conquest. These are all antagonistic behaviors.

Strive:

- To contend in opposition or antagonism
- Contend in fight, battle, or any violent conflict
- Exert one's self or endeavor vigorously
- To contend in rivalry or vie, as with a competitor

Contend:

- To struggle in opposition
- To make vigorous efforts
- Compete
- To strive in debate; dispute earnestly, argue

While people may think all is innocence and beauty, that they are so blessed to have the attention from another who is "interested" in them, in reality, they are setting themselves for failure because of the behavior that is involved in this.

Let's look briefly at two descriptive words found in the definition of "attract": invite and allure.

Invite:

- To ask, in a kindly, courteous, or complimentary way, to come or go to some place, gathering, entertainment, etc.
- Attract, allure, or tempt

Of course it usually starts with a kind introduction or "friendly" request to go somewhere. Yet it is still the case that the word "invite" is directly related to attracting, alluring, and tempting; all of which are driving forces behind the initial solicitation.

Tempt:

- To try or test; hence, to put to the test or proof in a venturesome way
- Act presumptuously toward, risk provoking, or provoke
- To try to dispose or incite, or assail with enticements, esp. to evil

Many who have been involved in the "dating game" know of this either because they have experienced it, done it to others, or both. The testing to see if someone is ready, the venturesome / adventurous advances or insinuations or activities, the provocation, and the enticement.

Allure:

- Tempt by inherent charm
- Appeal to invitingly or seductively

From the exploration in SP 12a, we know that to charm is to use spells or incantation and thus majik. This explains why People get infatuated.

Seduce:

- To lead or draw away, as from one's chosen course, accepted principles, faith, allegiance, etc., by persuasions or inducements

Here we have one of the reasons why this kind of behavior has been introduced by the unrighteous – unholy, because it is designed to lead or draw away the People from their chosen course, the accepted principles of right and wrong, and their Faith in the Father / Creator. When I speak of “course, principles, faith”, I speak of that which is the Truth of who People are and of what People came here to do in the Father Way.

What about the longing to find your other half? This is a noble Desire which indeed can be fulfilled when you understand that the “other half” is a part of who you are. You are looking for yourself and it is possible to reclaim this part of yourself that is “missing”. The Father Way leads to this. This restoration to wholeness, Love as Self, is part of this walk with the Father.

What about the loving feelings that two honest people experience “toward” each other, especially at the beginning, that changes their perception of the world into a most wonderful experience where everything seem right once again? These are indeed noble feelings. They are moments during which people have the opportunity to experience the Love that they are. Father calls them moments of Transcendence which in our lack of understanding, we attach to mortal experience.

*It availeth you not to struggle in the world,
when the Father is but a moment away.*

*You seek not to dishonor or disservice that which has come before, yet you seek not for Righteousness sake.
This means that while it availeth you not,
you seek to Honor that which dishonors you.*

Shift your focus / perception but slightly, just slightly and all will be well.

To please – SP 21a

07/26/10

Let us now take a look at why the act of “pleasing” is related to engaging in tyranny.

Please: [compare to plea, placid, and placate]

- To be agreeable, or give pleasure or satisfaction
- Act to the pleasure or satisfaction of

When it relates to engaging in tyranny, pleasing is related to two words: plea, and placate.

Plea:

- A suit or action at law
- A defendant’s answer to a legal declaration or charge
- That which is alleged, urged, or pleaded in defense or justification

The first aspect of pleasing another within the context of tyranny is related to the position the “pleaser” takes, which is that of a defendant who needs to be found agreeable so as to not elicit the ill temper of another and be found guilty of “transgression” which would result in vindictive behavior.

Placate:

- To appease, pacify: as to placate an angry or offended person

Pleasing inherently requires a sense of helplessness, powerlessness, and submission to another’s will. It is done in fear of retaliation. This means a “pleaser” does all he or she can do to pacify, appease, or placate the person who is seen as having the power to inflict harm, whether through verbal or physical abuse / action.

Ill temper, anger, shouting, threatening, coercion are all behaviors designed to turn People into “pleasers”. When People feel helpless and are afraid of retaliation, tyrants get to pretty much run the show, something which gives them “satisfaction”.

A person who has become a pleaser will display himself as being agreeable with what is being asked of him, but has a tendency to “bad mouth” the tyrant and his situation. On and off there may be a try to assert himself over the oppressive tyrant, but that display of valor only lasts as long as things don’t get too much out of hand.

So how would you do this differently? The answer is found in the word “placid”.

Placid:

- Pleasantly calm or peaceful, or unaffected by disturbing emotions

In the Father Way, someone does not respond to tyranny in kind, neither does someone defy or challenge tyranny. Instead, one develops the capacity to remain calm and peaceful while being unresponsive to the tirades / threads of the tyrant. One remains focused on Father first asking for His Assistance. Then, if appropriate / Father Guides, one may talk about the facts of the situation. Personal opinions are unnecessary. Simply the facts of the matter so that Truth can prevail.

If the situation requires it, then it is acceptable to say something in the likes of “this is not a good time to talk about this, let’s resume the conversation when things calm down”. Then one either leaves, does something else, or if on the phone, hangs up. No need to respond in any way if the tyrant tries to entice or threaten one back into “battle”.

It is disrespectful of anyone to demand he / she be placed above your walk with the Father through any means, including threats and violence. It is disrespectful also, that you ask anyone to place you above their walk with the Father. This is to say, it is as important to stop engaging a tyrant as it is to stop being a tyrant and engaging others into unrighteous - unholy activity.

That smirk is of unrighteous - unholy origin. Time to stop playing its game.

Why is it?

07/27/10

Why is it that it is an environmental hazard to dump paints, solvents, aerosols, pesticides, plastics, electronics, and fertilizers in the trash, but not to use them?

Why do these products damage the environment once they are in the trash but not while they are being used?

Why is it that we "care" about what happens to trash disposal sites when these products are disposed in them, but not about what happens to us when they are marketed and sold to us?

Why is it illegal to dump some of these products in the trash but it is legal to use them and to manufacture them in the first place?

Why is it illegal for a company to dispose of poisonous products by dumping them upon the Earth, but it is legal for them to sell these very same products and thus allow others to do the disposing?

When a self employed person finds out that what he sell harms people, the person will stop selling the product or make changes. Why is it that corporations don't follow this principle?

Why is it that when batteries were found to be a hazard to the environment and human health, companies didn't change, and instead, continue to find new ways to create dependency on them (aka all wireless technology)?

Why is it that when plastic was found to be a hazard to the environment and human health companies didn't change, and instead, continue to find new ways to create dependency on them?

Why is it that when it was found that power plants are a hazard to the environment and human health, companies didn't change and begin to reduce the power consumption of their products?

How is it that a new product that consumes more energy than its predecessor is allowed to carry the "energy star" symbol for energy efficiency?

Many would say because of profits. But, could it be perhaps that this is just the "cover"?

As "health product" companies have shown you can make as much profit or even more, by selling healthy and environmentally conscious products. This would indicate that this is really not about the money.

Could it be that this idea of profiteering is just the excuse given to the People so as to hide the fact that these destructive companies are really an outlet of the unrighteous - unholy used to pilfer and destroy the People and the Earth?

From the same dictionary I have been using for the Spiritual Swimming series, "The New Century dictionary" by the D. Appleton-Century Company, I discovered the following:

Genius:

- The attending or controlling spirit of a place, institution, etc.
- Also, any demon or spirit, esp. a genie or jinni

It is very interesting that this aspect of the definition is given as a matter of fact. It does not say "believed to", or "thought to". It says "the attending or controlling spirit of a place, institution, etc"

So when you hear someone say that companies or institutions acquire a "life of their own", now you know what is being said.

Perhaps this unrighteous - unholy presence explains why it was found that companies behave and act like psychopaths (read article Psychopathic Organizations <sup>6</sup>).

So why is it? Perhaps this is why it is.

To urge, persuade, or induce – SP 22

07/28/10

As we continue in this exploration of what it means to engage in the tyranny of another, you may have noticed that we keep exploring words and behaviors that appear to be seemingly harmless and are well adopted in our society. Yet it remains the fact that all these words are descriptive of the word “engage” (see SP 16 – page 8). That is to say a better understanding of what it means to stop “engaging” in tyranny of another, can be obtained by exploring the meaning of many of these descriptive words. By learning to recognize this behavior, we can do three things. One is to know when someone is trying to engage us in unrighteous - unholy behavior, the other is to recognize our patterns that would engage someone else in unrighteous - unholy behavior, and the third is to be able to recognize how to do it differently.

So let's move on.

Urge:

- To push or force along
- Drive with incitement to speed or effort
- To endeavor to induce or persuade, as by entreaties or earnest recommendation
- To exert a driving or impelling force

Persuade:

- To prevail on (a person, etc.) by advice, reasons, inducement
- To induce to believe or convince

Induce: see incite

Incite:

- Syn: urge, stimulate, encourage, prompt, instigate, provoke, goad, spur, arouse, fire, induce.

To incite is to urge on to some action, either good or bad, as by working on the feelings or passions. To instigate is to spur on or incite, often in an underhand way, especially to something evil. To induce is to lead or bring to some action, condition, belief, etc. as by persuasion or influence.

The underlying factor of this kind of behavior is to compel or force someone into action through manipulation of emotions, feelings, and passions.

In other words, we speak of a disrespectful behavior, as all behavior based on tyranny or the unrighteous - unholy is. Why? Because rather than Respecting someone's choices, people who engage in "urging, persuading, inducing" use the emotions, feelings, and passions of someone so as to get them to do something they do not want to do or would not do on their own. As recognized in SP 21 (page 50), this is seduction: "To lead or draw away, as from one's chosen course, accepted principles, faith, allegiance, etc., by persuasions or inducements." Fear, threats, violence, force, lust, power, greed, hunger, love and approval, pains and sorrows, hopes, desires for peace, love, joy, abundance and even one's Desire for the Father Way can all be used to manipulate People.

This kind of behavior is NOT the Father Way. In our book "Mysteries of the Ruby Valley" <sup>7</sup>, Aurora explains the following to Showay about the Father Way:

"Do it or do it not. Choose, or choose it not. Either way, it is indeed your choice. The Father neither engages nor encourages. He simply facilitates and assists. You might take unto eternity, should you so choose. You are not forced, coerced, nor indulged. The choice is yours to make or not to make. Choose well, for the results are yours forever more."

Behavior that is designed to manipulate people into a course of action that they would not have chosen if left alone is the way of the unrighteous – unholy. This is what they do. They twist Truth and used unfulfilled needs to lead us away from our walk with the Father. This is what they did to us and why we are were we are. Thousands upon thousands of wars have been fought, untold amounts of land has been destroyed, and millions upon millions of People had to be killed and many more had to be enslaved and abused to reach the level of desolation, loneliness, malfunction, apathy, and deception of this age. The unrighteous - unholy would say we did it to ourselves, but the Truth is they used our innocence and friendly nature against us.

To be deceived and manipulated through words and actions that are designed to influence our perception and feelings is to be hampered in our ability to make choices that would allow us to remain upon the path of the Father Way.

So called "leaders" are expected to use this kind of behavior to manipulate People. Excellent examples of this are very well exemplified in movies, usually right before the People are being asked to do some kind of self sacrifice. That perfect speech that inflames passions and encourages People do to something that they know they should not be doing... like the one about going to the moon... just when People were realizing that something was amiss in the way things were being run... along comes this speech to incite hope back... . Yet in the end, nothing changed for the betterment of the People. Now that the spell of this speech and accomplishment has been lifted, we know we are worse off than we were before. Rather than being allowed to deal with the recognition that something had gone amiss and changes needed to be made to restore our lives to Freedom and Joy, we were persuaded into accepting the false hope that going to the moon would somehow bring this change to us and restore the nation. Our sense of pride was manipulated against us and in so doing we lost the opportunity for real change that was available at that time.

We also see this kind of behavior in "business management". Managers are expected to be able to keep the workforce "motivated". That is to say, whenever People begin to realize that what they are doing is actually boring, destructive to their Self and Creative Nature, managers are required to give encouraging speeches that get People to let go of the Self Evident Truth so as to continue to "forge on" upon a destructive lifestyle. People are given a false sense of pride for the benefit of the company... and of course, we all know that this kind of incitement only lasts so long... which is why there are so many ways to provide incentives at work. When one runs out, pick up the other and hope that you have enough to keep People working for you until it is time for them to retire or be fired.

This kind of manipulation is also seen in marketing, science, and technology, where the latest gadget is always accompanied with the false promise that it will be the one that will solve all problems and answer all needs while being forced down our throats whether we like it or not.

We also see this kind of behavior in child rearing. Tricking children into doing things they know are unhealthy for them. Using force to prevail upon them. Using coercion and manipulation to destroy their gifts, dreams, and aspirations when they do not match "orderly worldly perception". Encouraging them to become like their parents or some other "role model" rather than supporting the discovery of their own individual nature, and so on.

As you may see now, restoration to Freedom and the Father Way requires us to stop participating in this kind of behavior and manipulation. It requires that we stop allowing others to lead us astray / asway and that we stop persuading / forcing / manipulating others into choosing something that is not their chosen course of action. Note however, that this does not mean we "indulge" the unrighteous - unholy behavior of others. That is to say, if someone is acting in an unrighteous - unholy way toward us, it is not for us to let them prevail upon us, or to persuade them to make a different choice. Instead, we do not play and if appropriate (as if would be in the case of a father with his child) Truth is spoken. We stand in the Truth of the Father, the Truth of who we are, the Truth of what is happening, and we make choices based on that Truth.

To be shown Truth by the Father or to speak Truth is to allow a choice based on reality to be made. When a father speaks Truth to a child and does not play or participate in an unrighteous - unholy play, what the father is doing is first showing by example how to not play, second showing by example how to stand in the Truth of the Father, and third how to end the play of the shade and shadow of darkness that is manipulating the child's perception.

One step at a time, we continue our restoration to the Father Way.

Reference correction

07/28/10

I noticed today I incorrectly quoted the Century Company as being the publisher of the dictionary I'm using for the SP series.

The Century Company published this dictionary from 1927 to 1931. My copy was published in 1938 if I understand this correctly. From 1933 to 1938, the New Century Dictionary of the English Language was printed by the D. Appleton-Century Company. Thus the correct publisher of the dictionary I'm using is the D. Appleton-Century Company.

I made the appropriate correction in SP 1, SP 14, and SP 16.

To occupy the attention or efforts of - SP 23

07/30/10

Another way to engage in the tyranny of another is by allowing one's attention or efforts to be "occupied".

In SP 7 <sup>8</sup> it was unveiled that to "occupy the attention of" is related to the words exercising, taxing, perturbing, and worrying.

Let's see what comes out of today's exploration.

Occupy:

- To take possession of, as by invasion
- In possession and use
- To employ
- To take or hold possession
- To trade or traffic

Notice the key descriptive words: possession, employ, invasion, trade, and traffic.

In SP 10 <sup>9</sup> it was unveiled that to "take possession by force or at will" is to "seize", and that to seize is to "usurp" which is an illegal action.

In SP 10b <sup>10</sup> it was unveiled that the word "possession" actually establishes a connection between tyranny, occult powers, shades and shadows of darkness, and majikians.

In SP 20a (page 43) it was discovered how employment is designed to the detriment of the People.

Needless to say then, to allow one's attention or efforts to be "occupied" is to allow trouble to enter.

Trade:

- To exchange or give in exchange
- To accustom, habituate, or train

Traffic:

- Transportation of goods for the purpose of trade
- Trade of an illicit kind, or concerned with something that should not be traded

Invasion:

- The entrance or advent of anything troublesome or harmful
- Entrance as if to take possession
- Infringement by intrusion

Occupying someone's attention or efforts is then accomplished through illegal actions which are designed to accustom, habituate, and train the mind in ways that are illicit. These illegal actions involve the use of possessive forces and are designed to seize control of that person. For example, have you noticed how technology as made available to us tends to seize and many times consume the attention of its users? Jeff Rense has mentioned many times in his radio shows, how watching TV puts someone's brain in a sort of "trance" that bypasses protective measures that keep unwanted / undesirable information out.

There is actually quite more to this than meets the eye. Father showed Linda that the unrighteous - unholy were actually able to first enter upon Earth by "occupying the attention" of people. They created disturbances that directed people's attention toward the disturbance. Once the people's attention was directed toward the unrighteous - unholy, the unrighteous - unholy were able to "enter" through the door that was opened.

This is what they are trying to do with the particle accelerator in Europe. Scientists have admitted they are trying to find "new dimensions" but that the only way they would know they found one is if the living beings in that dimension respond to the “call” or do something that could be noticed by the scientists. In reality, this particle accelerator is darkness’ desperate effort to escape Mother Earth so as to continue their insanity somewhere else.

I know from personal experience in my dreams that this is quite tangible and real. There have been a few times in which an entity has sought to physically hurt me in my dreams. For it to do so, it first has had to grab my attention. In my dreams this shows as me being somewhere and noticing a shadow presence that puts out energy to compel me to look its way. Every time I have turned my attention toward it, it immediately gained access to hurt me. Every time I refused to turn my attention toward it, or I was simply non to it, I remained safe.

Effort: [out of + strong]

- Exertion of power, physical or mental
- A production or achievement

When the unrighteous - unholy occupy someone’s efforts, they take over the mental and physical powers / energy of that person and they begin to direct and control what that person does. Naturally, this takes the strength “out of” that person. Where does that energy go? To feed them. What does the person get in return? A little trinket or false promise at the best and nothing most of the times. The unrighteous - unholy always do uneven exchange. What value has a diploma hanging on a wall, compared to one’s life energy? Is a medal, a certificate, a plaque, a trophy really worth the life energy that was exhausted getting it? Does revenge ever fix a problem?

As you can see, it is of utmost importance to keep our attention and efforts unto the Father / Truth / Love as Self.

So you may ask again, why then do all this exploration on tyranny? That is because the door to the unrighteous - unholy has already been opened. Simply pretending that they are not here is not the answer. The problem must be corrected first. One must allow the door to be sealed and dissolved. This can only be done by People who can recognize that we are not all the distortions and behaviors that the unrighteous - unholy have put upon us. For example, as long as we think that lust, greed, anger, warring, competition, oppression, destructiveness toward fellow human and mother nature is just simply part of being human, then there is nothing to be done except to learn to live with it (which is what the unrighteous - unholy want – to think this is just how we are). However, when we recognize that these traits are not human but rather traits of inhumanity which have been implanted in us by the unrighteous – unholy, then there is a shift in perception from simply having to cope with this “sinful nature” to actually being free of this contamination and the ones who put it upon us in the first place.

The natural response of people to negate the existence of these unrighteous - unholy entities is actually based on Right and Proper behavior. Is based on the understanding that to focus upon them and accept their reality is to make them real or open a door to them. This is why so many people simply do not want anything to do with this stuff – we do not want their presence in our lives. This would be a most excellent choice were it not that the unrighteous - unholy have already found a way “in” and have already contaminated each of us individually. At this point most people are simply pretending they are not there, rather than “not opening” the door.

There is a difference between having a plant that is in such a state that no pest or disease can abide, versus having a plant that has been invaded by some pest or disease. Once this happens, ignoring the problem leads to failure. Seeing the pest or disease as Divine in Origin leads to failure. Learning to put up with it leads to failure. Believing that it is Divine Will and Intent for the plants to be diseased leads to failure. Opening more doors to other pests or diseases would only make it worse. However, recognizing the problem, choosing to not play, and taking proper corrective action does solve the problem, even when this plant is around other affected plants.

Through this Spiritual Swimming Series and other postings in my blog, we are learning to recognize the problem, to understand that it is not Divine Will and Intent for us to live with such a problem, and to know how to correct the mistake. For us this means asking Father that the unrighteous - unholy and all their ways be cast out and that the door that was implanted in us be sealed until the day it can become non / be dissolved. It also means letting go of any attachments to the distortions and false promises the unrighteous - unholy have given us. It also means shifting our attention from a place that allows the unrighteous - unholy to manipulate us to a place in which they no longer can enter or affect us. It means learning to re-turn our attention to the Father.

The goal is to re-turn to a state in which they no longer can abide in and around us. Then and only then will it be accurate for us to say, "they are bogus".

The Father Way, guns, and the armed forces

08/ 01/10

As I have spoken of the Father Way in many ways, I have indicated, as He has explained to me, that His Way is a way of Peace, Love as Self, Joy, and Abundance. I have also said, as He has explained to me, that to walk in His Way is to stop playing the game of the unrighteous – unholy.

In describing the unrighteous - unholy I have indicated, as Father has explained to me, that warring, killing, and fighting are characteristics of their behavior and not of the People's nature. I have also indicated many times, as Father has explained to me, that the solutions provided by the unrighteous - unholy will never work for us the People.

It would be easy to infer from this then, that to walk in Father's Way we must drop all guns and fully disarm. However, Father has explained to us that this is NOT the case. As long as we haven't shifted our perception to a place that allows us to walk in the full safety of the Father and from where we can stop an army with our words, there is a need for guns and armed forces. Otherwise, the unrighteous - unholy would simply see disarmament as an opportunity to attack and destroy.

Not too long ago, the United States was in negotiation for a disarmament treaty with another country. Surprisingly to us, Father spoke of this negotiation (at that time we did not know of this) and indicated that the United States should not agree to disarmament because this agreement was designed to weaken its military strength so as to allow its invasion.

Just as the amount of individual gun ownership and number of individual militia groups sends a clear message to the unrighteous - unholy groups that want to take over this land, so does the armed forces. It is however important for the armed forces to stop being used as instruments of oppression and tyranny against the People of this land and any other country. Rather than wasting people and resources fighting the quarrels between the various unrighteous - unholy factions, and creating laboratory atrocities trying to find the perfect killer soldier and weapon, the armed forces could redefine its purpose and mission to the benefit of the People. This is not just limited to protecting the People from other countries but from domestic institutions that are being used as outlets of oppression and tyranny against the People.

Just as we "civilians" must redefine the purpose of our employment from supporting the insanity of unrighteous - unholy to supporting the betterment of People, so too must the armed forces redefine its purpose of "service". There is a need to begin the transition from insanity unto sanity. The armed forces could indeed provide the "buffer zone" needed until the day the People receive the shift in perception that allows things to be different.

Remember, as you contemplate this, that your safety is with the Father. Until that day we can be in His full and complete protection, the guns and armed forces just make it easier for the unrighteous - unholy to recognize we do not play.

To entangle or involve – SP 24

08/02/10

Two other ways to engage in tyranny are: allowing oneself to become entangled or involved, or entangling or involving someone else. It goes both ways, whether you allow yourself to be engaged by a tyrant or you are the one engaging others in tyranny, you are acting in a way that is not of one a-chord with your Divine Nature. Either way, correction is needed to re-turn to the Father Way.

We have already touched upon the word “entangle” in prior postings. This time I will take a slightly different approach.

Entangle:

- Insnare
- Embarrass
- Perplex
- Complicate
- Involve in anything from which extrication is difficult

Insnare:

- To take in or as in a snare; entrap; catch

Snare:

- A device serving to entrap, entangle, or catch unawares

Embarrass:

- To put obstacles or difficulties in the way of
- Impede, hamper
- To beset with financial difficulties
- Burden with debt
- To perplex mentally; confuse; disconcert
- To render difficult or intricate

Perplex:

When you find yourself being embarrassed with obstacles and financial difficulties, you find yourself burdened with debt, mentally confused and perplexed, or in situations from which you can't easily get out, then you know tyranny is seeking to engage and entrap you or has already done so.

It has been quite amazing to see how, as I have progressed in my walk with Father, things simply just become way easier to do. While at the beginning it seemed all I did was wrong or would cause some kind of delay or unforeseen mishap, now things are different. You could say I find myself more and more "in the flow" of the Father Way, and the unrighteous - unholy are less and less able to pester me. It is significantly easier to stay with the Truth of who I am, to be focused on what is before me to do in the Father Way each and every day, and to actually succeed in receiving what Father has for me.

When you find yourself entangled, the best thing to do is stop, recognize what is happening, and realize that obstacles, difficulties, burdens, and confusion are not the Father Way. Stop playing. You have either a shade and shadow of darkness upon you, someone has or is wishing you ill will, you picked up something from someone else, or you have some "written or unwritten" contract with some unrighteous - unholy person / entity.

The best one can do is to look unto Father for Guidance and Direction. Ask to be shown what the origin of the difficulty is. If it is a shade and shadow of darkness you can tell it to "go away". It may take perseverance, assistance from herbs and flower essences, and protection from Father to succeed, but it can be done.

If it is a curse or spell, once that is shown to you, you will see that the very fact of knowing it, allows you to "not play". When you no longer allow yourself to be a target of such practices, the ill will simply will not find you or will be lifted from you. Once that happens, the ill will is automatically returned to the person who sent it, but multiplied in magnitude several times. There is no need to return fire with fire. When you don't play, they will find out that what "goes around, pours around".

If you are shown, you took upon yourself desires, needs, distortions that belong to someone else, then you simply must let that go. You can't fix or solve what does not belong to you.

If it is a "written or unwritten" contract, ask Father to show you what kind of contract you made. Recognize that all contracts made under deception are null and void from inception. Ask that by Father's Grace they be null and void and lifted from you. You ask for this, because to your perception these contracts are "valid and enforceable". That is to say, you feel obligated to comply even after you realize you made a mistake. It is difficult to stand your ground when you operate under the indoctrination that you are obligated to abide under such deception. Then, ask Father for Guidance and Direction as to what needs done to bring closure to them. If you carefully read what is being said in writing you will many times find the answer has already been provided. Just make sure you don't make the mistake of false association, that is, assuming that because one paragraph may apply, the next does also, or assuming that the words used actually mean what you think they mean.

Keep in mind that Truth is available not to fight, confront, or resist the unrighteous – unholy, but simply to bring Freedom to those who Desire it.

An interesting article

08/04/10

Today, I read an interesting article which was found by Linda. The title of the article is "America's new debtor prison: Jail time being given to those who owe"<sup>11</sup> written by Martha C. White.

In my last posting I spoke of contracts and the false perception we have that all contracts are somehow binding. In the linked article, the author writes:

"Of all of the unfair aspects of this chain of events, advocates say the most galling is that, in many cases, consumers may not even be legally responsible for the debts for which they're being jailed. In fact, the debt may not even be theirs..."

I also said that many times the answer is also provided when you know to look for it. Here is another quote from the article:

"Often, says Rhinegold, the collector doesn't even have the paperwork that would prove that existence of the debt. In these cases, the judge will dismiss the case against the debtor. All the debtor had to do was show up for their day in court."

That is to say, one could ask for the paperwork showing the existence of the debt or the contract that presumably makes one liable. This is not just a letter stating the false claim, but the actual original paperwork. I have read in the past several months that homeowners have also successfully used this method to stop the false claims against their property.

Just thought it would be beneficial to make this observation before I continue with what will be one of the last (perhaps 3) postings on this exploration of tyranny. Frankly, I'm looking forward to moving on.

To entangle or involve – SP 24a

08/08/10

Ok, let's continue. SP 24 was about the word "entangle". Today, it's all about "involving". This promises to be another one of those "who would have thought possible" postings... which you may have guessed because it has taken me several days to actually post it.

Involve:

- To roll, wrap, or shroud in something that surrounds or conceals
- Enshroud in mist, darkness, or obscurity
- To roll up on itself, wind spirally, coil
- Implicate, as in guilt or crime, or in any matter of affair
- To swallow up, engulf, or overwhelm

There are so many levels of meaning to this word that I find it difficult to not feel involved. I have contemplated for several days how to tackle this one and I will do my best to unveil what needs to be understood so the Light can shine once again.

To implicate

This one is quite simple. We speak of when someone accuses, incriminates, associates someone else in any matter. Of course, being done by the unrighteous – unholy, regardless of appearances, the claim is always false but it contains some elements of Truth which are used to make the case believable. It is a maneuver designed to shift the blame to a "scapegoat" or a way to falsely accuse someone in the hopes of destroying their life or gaining their forced servitude. Similar to what happened to Martha Stewart when she was incriminated in illicit trading activities. From what I read, she was found guilty not of participating in illegal trading activities, but of lying to the court when she was under oath. She didn't do what she was accused of, but she made the mistake of thinking that she needed to make inaccurate statements so as to protect herself.

Even when it appears that for all practical purposes the accusation is true and they may be behavior on the part of the accused that would seem to corroborate this, it is the case that there always is some twisting of the Truth or facts, or the hiding of some important piece of information that would make the hoax apparent.

In a case like this, one must indeed stand in Truth and in the Father. One must know that even though it appears that the accusation is valid, there is some way in which one is being deceived, not only by the one making the accusation, but also by one's perception. Prayer for Truth, to be shown how to proceed step by step is of utmost importance. It is possible that your perception of the situation is inaccurate because you lack certain pieces of information and that if you were to have those pieces of information you would say "wow this changes everything" or "so I didn't make a mistake", and so on.

To roll up on itself, wind spirally, coil

This one will take a leap of Faith, because what I will say is based on something Father has revealed to both Linda and I, and probably 99.99 percent of the population remains unaware of this fact.

Two images come to mind when I read this definition. First is of a serpent coiling itself around its prey before it "swallows it up". I'm sure many people could attest that this is how they feel when they are being overwhelmed and entangled into ever more complications, debts, bills, and so on.

The second image that comes to mind is that of the DNA. If you remember from school, we are told that DNA is made of two strands that come together to form a spiral which then coils upon itself.

Can you guess what I will say next? Since rolling up on itself and coiling is a descriptor of the word "involve" and this word describes how one becomes a player in the tyranny of another, then it follows that a spiraling and coiling DNA is an indication that one has become "entangled in the tyranny of another."

This is not just speculation on my part. The reason I was actually able to make this association is because many years ago, Father explained to us that DNA is not meant to spiral and coil. The exploration of the word "involve" simply brought this to Light.

The unrighteous - unholy have done many genetic manipulations to the People and many of them are being done right under our nose. Father has Said that vaccinations are used for this purpose. In addition, many plastics and other products have been linked to genetic malfunctions in the People and animals of this Earth (for example, reproductive harm and early onset of puberty). Creating genetic malfunction and defects in the People through the products we use, water we drink, air we breath, and food we eat is genetic manipulation.

So what do you do about this? Do some research and find out the kind of products that you should avoid using. Look at the labels. Do they say the product causes reproductive harm or any other kind of disease / genetic alteration?

As to the DNA the answer is to look neither to the right nor to the left, but straight ahead.

To overwhelm

Overwhelmed is how you see yourself when the unrighteous - unholy decent upon you to either destroy you or seek to enlist you in their ranks of servants.

Father has explained that, on one side, darkness will come to you in your finest hour "to befriend you not but show you their ways". Darkness does not care when you are in the pits. That is where they want you to be. However, they do care when you are succeeding in freeing yourself from their stuff because that means you could potentially wake up to their deception and show other people how to do it differently. How do they know when someone is progressing in their spiritual journey to the point they need to meddle with that person? There are two ways. First, through family and close friends. It is not a coincidence that those who desire to better their lives find the highest opposition comes from their friends and family. Second, by the light they emit. As a person grows spiritually, the light emitted increases. This can especially be seen during the night. Father explained that these triangular aircrafts that fly over cities at nighttime are used to scan areas and determine who needs to be targeted for "special consideration" which usually means they will send trouble. What can you do about this? First pray for protection, and second leave a night light on in your bedroom. The Father Way is very practical.

On the other side, death, decay, and destruction come to you in your lowest moments to "offer" you a "way out" and thus gain your support in their "fight" against the "darkness that is oppressing people". What can you do about this? Stay out of those lowest moments and if you find yourself in one such moment, make sure you don't play their game. Father is but a prayer away. Stand steadfast in your knowledge that all is well and will be well. Remember that nutrition and / or a creative activity are excellent ways to be lifted up – no need to enter into contracts or dedicate your life to "fight evil / save the world".

Before I continue, did you notice the carefully chosen expression "on the one side and on the other side"? Remember what I said about the DNA and not looking to the right nor to the left but straight ahead? Does that now make better sense? The contracts one enters into with the unrighteous - unholy get imbedded in the DNA and are then genetically passed to offspring when the parent does not correct the mistake. We call this a "genetic disease". Viruses, bacteria, and shades and shadows which are the result of contracts made with the unrighteous – unholy, are also passed from parent to child.

Father has explained this is why "alien abductions" happen along genetic lines. At one point someone in the lineage fell prey and made an agreement that subjugated that person and all future generations to these "aliens". What needs done in cases like this, is to end the contracts. Remember? All contracts made with the unrighteous - unholy are made under deception and therefore are null and void from inception. You are not obligated to pay for the "sins" of your lineage, but you do need to do the cleansing work to end any active contracts in your life. This includes removing the shades and shadows which were put upon your lineage to ensure "fulfillment" and "payment" of the so called "debt". This applies to even the so called "original sin" of "Adam and Eve". The curses that came out of that mistake were not of the Father. That is how the unrighteous - unholy justified their actions (God is punishing you). Father would have shown them their mistake and how to correct it that they be immediately restored to Truth.

To enshroud

To involve is also to plan situations designed to entrap someone by enshrouding him in a mist / darkness / obscurity which is meant to be difficult to get out of. This is designed to conceal Truth. This can of course be done on a person to person level. However I will focus on a "bigger picture".

Mist:

- A cloudlike aggregation of minute globules of water suspended in the atmosphere at or near the earth's surface
- fog or haze
- due to remoteness of time, something conceived as obscuring mental vision by enveloping the mind or veiling the character of a thing
- hazy appearance before the eyes, as due to tears or to bodily disorders

Fog:

- any darkened state of the atmosphere, or the diffused substance that causes it
- a dark mass, as of smoke
- fig. an influence or a condition that prevents clear mental perception haze:

- something appearing like a mist or obscuring the view
- to subject to rough and severe treatment
- often, to subject to abusive or ridiculous tricks

One of the ways to cause this enshrouding and concealment is by putting up a fog or haze above a person. We speak of a darkened state of the atmosphere that prevents clear mental perception and causes severe damage to the body. We speak of air pollution. It is well known that air pollution is very detrimental to the health and that the heavy metals in the air cause damage to the brain, many times altering the behavioral traits of people.

Another way this is being done is by the spraying of chemtrails in the skies and weather manipulation.

Darkness:

- absence or deficiency of light
- gloom; sorrow or trouble
- concealment; blindness

Obscure

- dark, as from want of light or illumination
- murky; dim
- enveloped in, concealed by, or frequenting darkness
- unclear to the mind or understanding

These are all descriptive of how it feels when the skies are covered with this thick film of poisonous material or when artificial storms are created.

This is to say that pollutions, chemtrails, and weather manipulation are all ways through which we the People are being engaged in the tyranny of another.

So what do we do about this? Use our creative nature to bring forth new ways of doing things. Another option is to be of one a-chord with the Father Way. Because the environment is an external manifestation of our mental state, when we are of one a-chord with the Father, the skies remain clear.

Enter into conflict with – SP 25

This is the second to last post on this exploration of what it means to engage in the tyranny of another. We have come quite some ways...

To enter into conflict is indeed a way to engage in the tyranny of another. Whether one initiates the conflict or gets involved in a conflict, one participates in the game of the unrighteous – unholy. One must remember that any behavior of the unrighteous - unholy is always designed to the detriment of the People who engage in it.

Conflict:

- To come into collision
- Clash, or be in opposition or at variance
- Fight or do battle
- Struggle for mastery

A collision is "... coming violently into contact". To clash is to "strike violently together". A battle is "a hostile encounter or engagement...". To fight is to "war against". To struggle is to "put forth violent bodily effort against an opposing force." Opposition is "resisting, combating" and "antagonism, hostility". Variance is to be "in a state of controversy, or of dissension or enmity" – it is related to the word "variant" which means "being in an altered or different form..."

Before there is conflict, there has to be an alteration from the peaceful state of the People. Would Father have altered us from our Peaceful Nature so as to allow conflict to exist? No. We really speak of the purposeful implementation of situations that are designed to alter People's perception so as to allow conflict to enter. To me this "altering" thing simply yells "coercion of nature" which is a characteristic of what majikians do.

This is to say, if you find yourself in conflict, be ware, for you are acting from an altered state of mind / nature which is not conducive to your well being and is not expressive of your True Nature. Conflict between people is unnatural.

Enter:

- Pass within
- Penetrate or pierce
- Engage or become involved
- Be admitted

Enter (continued):

- Assume the obligation of
- Take an interest or part in
- To form a constituent part or ingredient of

There are four ways then conflict can “enter” into your life:

1. when you get engaged or involved by someone else
2. when you assume the obligation of avenging some wrong, or finishing someone else's battle, or bringing justice, and so on
3. when you ask to be admitted into a conflict because you have an interest – as in “fighting for a just cause”, or entering the military
4. when you are a constituent part of it - that is to say “you” are causing it

There is one reason you become prone to entering into conflict:

1. you have been penetrated or pierced (remember the alteration?)

Penetrate: [akin to inward: compare to penates]

- enter into the interior of
- to enter and diffuse itself through
- to affect and impress deeply

Penates:

- among the ancient Romans, tutelary deities of the household and of the state, worshiped in close association with the lares
- cap: a covering for the head; the topmost part

This connection to deities of some kind is unanticipated, yet is not surprising since we speak of unrighteous - unholy behavior and we know that one of the ways that the unrighteous - unholy use to alter People is through what Father calls shades and shadows of darkness.

So we speak of some kind of "entity" that has entered into a person and deeply affects and impresses that person. I say "entity" in quotation marks because this can be a virus, a bacteria, a heavy metal, a toxic chemical, a parasite, or an actual energetic being of some sort.

Pierce:

- to make a hole or opening in
- bore into or through; tunnel
- force or make a way into or through
- often to penetrate with the eye or mind
- to affect sharply with some sensation or emotion

These are just some of the ways that these "entities" can enter into a person. The end result is of course that once the "entity" is in place, it can sharply affect a person through the use of sensation or emotions.

I know that there is research from brain imaging scans which shows that violent behavior is a brain malfunction which can be taken care of with proper medication or nutrition. In this material they make kind of fun of the idea that in the past people used to think that violent people were possessed when in "reality" all they had was some sort of brain damage. I would say that perhaps the people in the past knew better than what we give them credit for. I would also say that nowadays we have just become that much more ignorant to the actual cause behind unnatural behavior. Perhaps, what the brain imaging scans show are the effects of being possessed by the shades and shadows of darkness. The accident, malnourishment, toxic exposure that "caused" the damage was simply what created the conditions needed for the "entity" to enter.

Father has explained that all conflict and animosity between people are caused by the shades and shadows of darkness that abide in them. This is why before there is conflict, there must be an alteration.

So what do you do about this? Don't play. Just because it sounds like you, feels like you, thinks like you, and smells like you it does not mean it is you. There is a way to Respectfully handle a situation and avert conflict. Ask for Father's Assistance. When someone is soliciting the conflict from you, you do your best to remain calm and answer with a soft firm voice. In a way you could liken it to giving the response of "a customer service representative" but without the lying. If needed walk away, if needed don't look at the person in the eyes (see piercing), if needed say "let's talk about this another time" and hang up or begin doing something else, or if needed change the topic of conversation. Always stay with the facts and Truth. Recognize that challenging and confronting any person is to engage – to engage is to loose. Do it differently.

Nutrition is always an excellent place to start doing it differently. As you improve your nourishment by eating fresh and energetically healthy foods, supplement with minerals and vitamins, and you increase your capacity to express Love as Self, these shades and shadows are expelled and you find that Peaceful behavior is what remains.

A message from the Sun

08/10/10

I have been contemplating much about gardening for a while and at some point have come to realize the following connection regarding the Sun and plants / seeds.

Father has explained to us that the Sun is a manifestation of His Desire to Provide sustenance and abundance for the Earth and the People. As the Sun progresses in his journey to point of departure, the energies that radiate from him change in preparation for the shift. These subtle changes of energies are then received by the Earth and her inhabitants and it is so that we receive the energies required that will naturally facilitate and support our progression with the Sun.

The connection between the Sun and health / growth / life is most recognized in the plant kingdom. When the plants receive the nourishment carried by the solar wind, they also receive the energies needed in preparation for future changes due to the Sun's progression. It is what allows plants to adapt to natural changes in the environment. This adaptation could also be considered a spiritual progression for it is made possible through the Sun's own spiritual progression. Plants do have an inherent right to freely progress in their journey and adapt as necessary to fulfill their destiny upon Earth. Whether it be to carpet the meadows with flowers, to provide shade, to provide nourishment for all natural living forms, or any other Divine Purpose they may have.

When we interfere with this process by messing with their genetics we do to them what the unrighteous - unholy do to us: keep us stuck doing the "same old stuff" over and over again.

Take for example grape vines. In the name of "wine excellence and purity" people have been cloning grape vines for centuries, denying them their natural expression and capacity to adapt and create new varieties. Many of these grape varieties have become so weakened from this cloning that they can no longer grow disease free.

Same thing with vegetables and significantly more pronounced with fruit trees which are grown in such aberrant ways that defy explanation but not justification (in their minds "they" can always justify their actions).

Could it be that this restriction that is imposed upon cultivated plants is what causes them to be disease prone in the first place? Could it be that this restriction is what causes cultivated crops to become less and less nutritious?

As their capacity to adapt is inhibited, they become less and less capable of receiving the changed energy of the Sun and thus less capable of being nourished by it. A crude example would be that of a radio permanently set to station 101 while the transmitting station is constantly shifting its frequency. As time passes by, the radio will be less and less capable of receiving a "clear signal" until the day all it can receive is noise.

Compare this to wild plants and even cultivated plants that have "escaped" to the wild. They thrive. Could it be because they can freely adapt (and are not poisoned yearly with pesticides and chemical fertilizers)?

Perhaps, we should allow cultivated plants, fruit trees, and yes, even grape vines to grow from seed once again, that they may adapt to the changes that are to come and be able to provide the nutritional support that we need during those times. Let them be freely pollinated by nature and allow new varieties to be formed as is best seen in the Eyes of the Father.

Plant some fruit trees from seeds. Plant some grape vines from seeds. Allow open pollination in your garden and why not, allow new varieties to be formed by letting your plants go to seed. Why not let nature do what is hers to do? It may take a few seasons / generations to catch up with the changes, but at least there will be freedom in the garden (or at least a corner of it).

Let's invite freedom back in our lives, one garden (/ container) at a time.

to attach or secure – SP 26

So here it is, finally, the last posting on this exploration of tyranny and perhaps 1 or 2 postings away from closure to the spiritual swimming series.

In worldly tradition we are taught the value of attaching (bonding) to people or things. Yet as you read along this posting you will probably understand why Father Says we must learn to relate in a new and different way that allows us and others to retain our own individual sovereignty and walk with the Father. The problem is not in having friends or things but in becoming attached or secured to them.

This time, rather than expounding on the meaning of these words, I will simply convey the definitions from the dictionary I have been using throughout this exploration.

Attach:

- To fasten; join or connect
- Bind by ties of affection or regard
- In law, to take (persons or property) by legal authority
- Lay hold of; seize

Bind:

- Unite as by some moral or legal tie
- Confine or restrict
- Make costive
- Constrain or oblige
- Put under legal obligation
- Indenture as an apprentice

Ties

- To bind or make fast with a cord, string, or the like drawn together and knotted, as one thing to another or two things together
- Unite in marriage

- To restrain or constrain
- Confine, restrict, or limit
- Bind or oblige, as to do something

Regard [ back, again + guard: cf. reward]

- To look upon or think of with a particular feeling
- To contemplate or view mentally

Re-ward:

- To regard
- Something given or received in return or recompense for service, merit, hardship, etc

Ward:

- The act of keeping guard or protective watch
- The act of keeping restraining watch
- Keeping charge or control by a protector or guardian
- The state of being under restraining guard or custody
- The state of being subject to feudal wardship
- A prison

Wardship

- In feudal law of an heir of a deceased tenant until of age, with control of the tenant's lands, as belonging to the lord

Affection [ see affect (1)]:

- The act of affecting or the resulting state
- Disposition or state of mind
- Inclination
- A modification
- A disease or malady

Affect (1):

- Produce an effect on
- To move in mind or feeling
- Touch

Affect (2) [see affect (1)]:

- To pretend or feign
- The act of affecting, striving after, or pretending
- Effort to present the appearance of something
- Studied or false show
- Artificiality of manner

Affecting:

- Moving
- Touching
- Pathetic

Pathetic: [ < suffer]

- Affecting or moving the feelings
- Full of pathos

Pathos: [< suffer]

- Suffering
- The quality of power, as in speech, writing, music, a scene or occurrence, etc., of rousing a feeling of pity or sympathetic sadness

Suffer:

- To undergo, experience, or be subjected to (pain, distress, injury, loss, or anything unpleasant...)
- Undergo a penalty, esp. of death
- Sustain injury, detriment, disadvantage, or loss

Secure:

- Careless, overconfident
- To seize and confine, as a prisoner
- Get hold or possession of
- Free from or not exposed to danger

Many times, we allow ourselves to become attached or seek to attach / bond to others in our need to feel "loved and accepted" as well as safe from danger and thus protected. It is easier to think things are better when we have friends, "loved ones", and things. Yet the emptiness and unfulfillment remains. Fear is still present.

Father has explained to us that "Love and Acceptance" comes freely from Him and through Him. Father has explained to us that our Safety is in Him and it is free. No strings attached. Of course, this is all obtained on an individual basis. In this knowing, we can then relate differently with each other for we no longer look unto them for something they will never be able to provide in any meaningful and enduring way.

Friendships between non needy, non deceiving, non attaching, non controlling, non demanding, safe, healthy, sane, nourished, and creative individuals who look up to the Father and walk with the Father... can you imagine such Blessings and Freedom?

What is next? – SP 27

When Father explained to me what I needed to do to begin my Journey with Him in Earnest, I was quite honestly startled. At that time I had a very naive perception of reality, the world, and people. I was into the new age belief that “we are all love” and if you just give enough love out to the people, they will respond in kind. I believed “sacrificing oneself for others” was a noble thing to do. I believed in “loving your enemy”, the wonderful nature of technology, progress, and education. And perhaps most gullibly, I believed that because I was seeking God and doing all the “right” things I picked up from church, I was on my path to “Heaven”.

Obviously, because Father Which Is in Heaven did answer my call, I am Honest in my Desire for Him, however, it was indeed very painful and stressful to have Father reveal how and by whom I had been deceived into servitude to the unrighteous – unholy while thinking I was doing His Will. It is rough to accept one has been so deceived and manipulated. It is rough to look at what one considers to be normal decent behavior and find out that it is not so normal after all. It is rough to awaken to the reality that everything we hold to be a part of life is not what it claims to be. It takes great Love for Truth to move past this. Yes, there was a lot of pain, sorrow, distress, opposition, and you name it that I had to deal with and move through, but I stood my ground in my Desire for Father and the Blessings I have received from Father are invaluable.

So what is the next step from here? For me is to continue upon my Journey with the Father. For you, it may be to make a choice to find your very own Way with the Father Which Is in Heaven.

Each one of us has his / her own Way with the Father. This is an individual experience. Yes, you may benefit from what I share in my blogs regarding my Journey, but beyond that, it is your own Journey with the Father. This is what makes this interesting and Fun and Joyful for each one. You have your own discoveries to make about Creation, you have your own creative nature to give expression through, you have your own music to Play in the orchestra of Life. Only you can find out what that is. To follow someone else's journey, is to make something external more important than what is True of your Journey with the Father. This can be likened to the mistake Adam and Eve made. Their mistake was to make what someone else said more important than what they Knew to be True for their Endeavor.

In the beginning, this journey with the Father consists of undoing or correcting the key mistakes that were made.

With each correction, we come closer to the lost Truth of our Endeavor with the Father. With each correction, it becomes easier to stand upright with the Father until the day in which restoration is complete and the final shift is made which begins a Bright New Day of Righteous and Holy Activity.

Making the choice for Father SP 28

08/15/10

In my last posting I spoke about making a choice. A choice to find your very own Way with the Father – that which you came here to do in the Father Plan for this time of transition unto a new orbit of the Sun.

This is what Father told me regarding making this choice. This is in our book “Soul Awakening”:

“To choose this Endeavor you would need but two things.

*The first of these is:
to nourish and sustain your physical being.”*

Throughout my blog I have made many references to the importance of nutrition. It is spiritual to have a strong, robust, well nourished and balanced physical body. This is what supports and facilitates your choices to walk in the Father Way. If your brain is not functioning properly because of malnourishment or damage, then that makes it that much harder to succeed.

Father has explained that the notion that spiritual people are meant to live in poverty and lack is a trap designed to hinder progression. I know, I have been there. In poverty you don't have the resources needed to buy the right food, vitamins, supplements and anything else that would support your journey. You have the stress of paying bills, making ends meet. You can't take trips to the places you need to go that would support your journey, and so on. There is no value in poverty.

It is ok to receive Abundance and resources from the Father. As a matter of fact, restoration to full Health is accompanied by an Abundance of flow. You cannot have one without manifesting the other – if you stop the flow of Abundance you hinder the proper function of your body, when you restore the proper function of your body, your Abundance flows. Therefore, it is ok to receive in Thanks Giving. It is ok for Abundance to flow your way. It may come from the garden, the forest, the river, the lake, the air. It may come through others (not to be confused with begging, borrowing, or stealing). It may come through trade. It may come through your creative expression.

Abundance is that which nourishes and sustains your well being and Journey with the Father. It is feelings of Joy, Peace, Love as Self, Harmony. It is nourishment and nutrition for the body and Soul. It is resources in various forms to allow you to do that which needs to be done in your Journey. Abundance comes from the Father and therefore it satisfies and fulfills.

Throughout my blog I have mentioned various places you can go to obtain good information about nutrition. The basics are clean food, clean water, clean air. Some references are:

- John Gray's book, "The Mars and Venus diet and exercise solution" (<http://home.marsvenus.com/>)
- Dr. Blaylock on supplementation (<http://www.russellblaylockmd.com/>)
- Dr. Fletchas on iodine intake (<http://cypress.he.net/~bigmacnc/drlechass/index.htm>)
- Hanna Kroeger on herbs and cleansing (<http://www.hannasherbshop.com/>)
- Dr. F. Batmanghelidj on water and salt (<http://www.watercure.com/> and related site <http://www.watercure2.org/>)
- Dr. James Wilson on adrenal fatigue (<http://www.adrenalfatigue.org/>)

For some additional and interesting information, you can also refer to Linda's posting "Useful Links" and my postings "Food is not medicine", "Eating fresh is better", and "Your Purpose In Life"). My next posting will be on the second "thing" that needs done to choose Father's Way.

Making the choice for Father - SP 28a

08/16/10

Now back to Father and the second "thing" to be done to succeed in choosing His Way. This is also from our book "Soul Awakening".

*The second of these is:
to make a different choice than your father / mother.*

*Your reservation is well founded in deceit, dishonor, and decay.
Seek not these things, because those they engage,
they would destroy with themselves.*

Basically, this is how it starts. People who make choices to engage in the unrighteous - unholy are consumed by it. By the time adults have children, they have already given their energy away. They no longer know how to stop giving their energy away, nor how to receive more energy from their Divine Nature, therefore, what they do is take energy from their children as well as from others, so as to stay alive a little longer. This literally gives them years of energy.

"Honor not your father and your mother in this matter, or decay and destruction shall ensue.

It is rightly your Honor to serve All That Is.

In this matter, give your energy not away by honoring them, for this pushes their destruction further away and yours closer to you.

Because you have been in the process of rebuilding your energy, people will think that this energy can be taken from you by taking away what you have. This may be especially True of parents who feel entitled to 'their' children's energy.

You are not required to Honor your parents nor anyone who comes as a thief / beggar / borrower [/lender] unto you, by giving them that which they seek to take from you [or receiving from them that which would allow you to do what you know you should not be doing]. Honor is not biological, neither is it based on worldly achievement [/ title]. Instead, Honor is based on who Honors Father unto Source and All That Is (Tri-Un). It is acceptable to only Honor those individuals who Honor the Tri-Un.

If your parents or anyone else who comes unto you, do not do so, then it is acceptable to not Honor them. At this point, you may be remembering the Bible teaching which says that you must honor your mother and father. However, we bring for your consideration, whether the original intent was to convey the need to Honor the masculine / feminine principle, or Source.”

Here is the same thing said differently. This is a quote from our book “The Peal of Bells”:

“Like a child taught to dependent be,” she affirmed, “independent no more. For “survival of the fittest” no longer applies here. Subservient children, the better to see. Without ‘sustaining drive’ of your Endeavor “children” you will always be.”

The re-united understood that AurorA was talking about how adults, or parents, who have lost the capacity to receive Divine Sustenance, have found the Divine Expression of children to be of sufficient sustaining Power to ensure their survival. Because of this, children are coerced throughout their life to continue to be the food for the darkness expressing through adults or parents. While resenting the control, these children see no way to be or become independent self sustaining Divine Expressions. On one side they are entrapped by their family, and on the other, they are entrapped by society. The need for jobs, housing, food, taxes, transportation, tiding, marriage, and eventually children, drains any additional resources they can obtain. These children either obediently seek greater sources of “income” or in rebellion, dimly perceiving Divine Expression, withdraw from participation in one form of darkness endeavor, only to become entrapped in another.

“The people who have withdrawn,” she continued, “usually end in poverty areas. Spiritual expression is dimly experienced, but there is no understanding or comprehension of how to Divinely Express outside the incredibly rigid framework imposed on humanity through society or darkness....”

“Securing a loan, is anchoring to another person.” AurorA proceeded. “These two people then have two roles from which to choose. The parental role or the child role. Most people go back and forth in a play between the two, because neither person wants to be the “food” or child to the other, and neither person, if they have any sense of Honor and Virtue, wants to be the person “feeding” on the other.

When a person is comfortable with either role they have assumed, the roles will become sustained. However, we are speaking to people of conscience who can recognize the darkness in either role...”

As you can see clearer now, freedom from tyranny does indeed start on an individual level and it starts right where you are. The exploration I did on this topic was meant to make it easier to recognize the many ways and behaviors which are used to entrap each one of us into a way of life that facilitates the feeding of the unrighteous – unholy. This cycle of poverty indebtness needs to end. Having a revolution and putting a new government in place will do nothing to accomplish this. Now you should understand why this is so. This is an individual process through which each one of us claims his / her sovereignty and right to Live Life in Freedom and Joy.

It is of utmost importance in your Journey with the Father to stop feeding the unrighteous – unholy. End the leaks and seal the holes that allows them to drain you. Initially it may be the case that the unrighteous - unholy who feed on you will get stronger while you try to figure it all out. More in to you, more out to them. However, when you stop feeding them, their capacity to prevail upon you will be diminished until it ends for good. All the false sense of responsibility and false indoctrination of what it means to be “human” are designed to make ending the feeding difficult. “What kind of child would have his parents pass away sooner because of his / her choices?” “You are supposed to take care of your parents who have done so much for you." "Without them, you wouldn't be here." "We fed you and clothed you, you owe us." "Don't you want to see your mommy or daddy live longer?" "Your supposed to be a good productive child in society." And so on...

So what do you do when you realize someone is having you for lunch? Stop what you are doing and stop playing their game. It will take strength, perhaps even more than what you think you have, but it is possible. Pray to Father for Guidance and Assistance. Say "I do not play, get thee. Get thee away ends your play." Plain and simply refuse to obey and do what is being demanded of you. Refuse to allow your energy to be taken. Stand in your choice to do it differently. This is not the same as engaging in battle. You are just not playing. Change what you are doing. Take a walk, do a creative project. Turn your focus back to Father. Use herbs, flower essences, sage, incense, singing bowls or bells to help yourself refocus and regain your strength. If you find at any time that you gave it all away, take it easy on yourself and your family. Rather than turning against yourself and your family for food, have something nourishing to eat (chocolate is a good choice because cocoa is very beneficial – it tastes bitter to them and they don't like that). Do a creative project. Take a walk. Talk to Father and ask that He replenish you and show you how to do it differently. Make a choice to not play the next time and make a choice to not feed on your family or someone else.

One way to know you are succeeding with the Father in ending all leaks and sealing all holes is when your resources from the Father flow. If you notice your resources drying out, then that is an indication that someone is blocking Father's flow to you, is draining your resources, or, you are giving your resources away. He calls this behavior "squandering of His Resources" and He does not allow it to go on unchecked. If no lasting changes are being made on your part to end the squandering, He will diminish His flow of resources to you. Father does not Desire to feed and sustain the unrighteous – unholy. This is one of the reasons why all the Abundance upon this Earth is decreasing to the point of extinction: it has all been used to feed and sustain the unrighteous - unholy and Father is bringing and end to it. This does not mean however that this trend cannot be reversed were we to being doing things differently.

Another way to find out if you are squandering your resources is by the sensation of the body. When you are being drained, you tend to be in a state of exhilaration. It is like being in a rush. You are restless, your energy is flowing fast and you may feel you can go out and conquer the world. Your right thinking is unclear and it is difficult to focus upon anything that has to do with the Father and is Right and Proper course of action. Thus, when you are being drained, you don't feel like greeting the Sun, you don't feel like Prayer or contemplating, you don't feel like eating well or being creative, and you have a lesser problem walking all over others or making decisions that negatively impact People and Earth, as well as yourself. If you look at your body, you may see yourself weak and thin. Your posture will be out of alignment. The head tends to go forward, ahead of the body, the lower back tends to arch forward, causing your belly and buttocks to protrude. You may see a smirk on your smile or shadows around your eyes. Your eyes become dark and opaque. If you focus on where the rush is you will find it is slightly "outside of your body". Your thoughts and behaviors change and you find yourself compelled to do things that otherwise you would not do. This experience may feel good, but it is because you are feeling your Life energy as it is being drained / given away mixed in with the "rush of death" for you are literally dying in the process. When the feeding stops, you may feel exhausted and weak and you may have the need to replenish your lost energy. Unfortunately, as Father has explained, many do this by taking energy from someone else (often spouse and children and many times coworkers and friends) through fights, arguments, verbal or emotional abuse, lust, ridicule, eliciting sympathetic behavior from others, and so on. Alternatively some people choose to eat. Eating would be a good choice if it was done free of guilt and in a wholesome way.

In contradistinction to this, when you succeed in keeping your energy for yourself, you will feel strong and robust, steady and peaceful. This feeling is internal, you feel the strength inside the abdomen and perhaps also inside the chest. If you look at your arms and legs, you may notice the strength. Strong legs, strong chest, strong arms. The posture of your body is upright, your lower back doesn't protrude forward and your head is on top of your body. Your eyes will clear and may even change color. Your thinking is clear and gentle - there are no oppressive thought patterns. You InJoy the morning Sun, the Prayer and contemplation, the creative expression, and you make choices that are Respectful of People and Earth, as well as yourself. This state of Joy is free from elation or excitement, and it is lasting. Rather than leaving you empty handed, it leaves you fulfilled, thus you have no need to go out and create situations designed to feed on others.

It may be difficult to recognize it at this time, but the Father Way is Light Hearted and Fun. Yes, it requires some tough choices to get started, but once that initial part is accomplished, the Healthy Fun of a Mystical and Magical Journey with the Father begins.

Closure – SP 29

08/17/10

There is indeed another Bright New Way as Father would Say that leads unto a Bright New Tomorrow.

Change needs to be made on an individual basis. When a man who knows Truth and lives as a Sovereign heads a family, then the family can live in Truth and Sovereignty. When strong families who know Truth and live as Sovereigns come together, they make a strong community. When several communities live in Truth and Sovereignty, then there is Sovereign Expression upon the land. In Sovereign Expression individuals live their life as Guided by Father Which Is in Heaven, Harmoniously with Universal Law. Where Universal Law is consciously lived and expressed, the Light of Father's Grace is Present and where Father's Grace is present, there can be no room for darkness, death, decay, or destruction.

Because change occurs first and only on an individual basis, change occurs without the need to engage anyone in the process. In this understanding of Sovereignty and thus Respect for other's choices, it is recognized that men who make this change have no inherent drive to go out to the world and impose their views upon others. It is understood that if others want to live under the rule of tyranny then that is indeed their choice.

Unfortunately, historically, the problem has not been that those who seek to live in Truth and Sovereignty force their views upon others, but that tyrants have put it upon themselves to force everyone else to live under their tyranny and to kill and destroy the land and the people who resist it. In the past, people who have intrinsically Desired to live as Sovereigns were able to do so by escaping tyranny and moving out to the West. Yet it is the case that tyranny has followed right behind and today there is nowhere to "escape". Few have indeed survived the onslaught of this tyranny as it seeks to envelop the Earth. Many believe there is indeed nothing that can be done to make a difference or change the outcome. Apathy has become the only coping mechanism left besides violent resistance.

In looking at the past with Spiritual Discernment, it is possible to recognize that the main mistake made by those who fled tyranny was to believe they could sustain their Sovereignty without Knowledge of Universal Law and of the Father. They recognized tyranny, they understood they didn't want to live under it, but failed to make changes on an individual level that would allow them to sustain their Desire for Sovereign Expression. Thus, it was simply a matter of time before they would fall prey to the "old ways" they sought to escape from.

Tyranny can only be manifested upon those who believe in self-rule. That is to say, those who have come to believe they can sustain themselves without the need to be of one a-chord with the Father Which Is in Heaven and their Soul, and without an understanding of Who the Father Which Is in Heaven Is, how He manifests upon the Earth, and how His Grace provides the shield of protection needed to live in Sovereign Expression. While this knowledge was inherent among all some time in the not so distant past, there came a point where an abrupt change was brought upon the Earth to initiate the loss of this knowledge. Life under Universal Law and Father's Grace gradually became unavailable as people's capacity to be sustained by the Father was diminished. Natural law replaced Universal Law but it was not sufficient to sustain Sovereign Expression. As tyranny expanded, natural law was gradually replaced by the system of man made laws and beliefs we are forced to abide by in this time and space continuum. A system based on lack, competition, and the survival of one at the cost of another.

It follows then, that when an individual learns to live by Universal Law again, he will be able to sustain his Desire for Sovereign Expression once again. Father Which Is in Heaven, made this Knowledge available to us and has Guided and Directed us step by step toward first an explanation of what has happened and then an understanding of how to do it differently.

Simply stated, when one chooses to live of one a-chord with his Divine Nature and Soul, Harmoniously with Creator, one begins a Journey toward Truth and Sovereign Expression which, of a necessity, leads to the Father Who sustains Life in this Solar System and is the Voice of All That Is / Creator.

As we have seen, there are two steps that need to be taken to choose the Father Way. The first is to nourish the physical being and the second is to make a different choice than our father and mother. That is to say, we must strengthen ourselves and we must stop feeding the unrighteous - unholy even when they manifest through our parents. We must stop being "obedient children" who will do whatever it takes to gain the "love and approval" from parents or an-other. It is time to grow up and become the Honorable, Respectful, Beautiful Beings who have reclaimed their Love as Self and thus their Inheritance from the Father Which Is in Heaven. We must learn to be at Peace, while allowing every single person to live with the consequences of their actions.

"To sustain and nourish in your Endeavor of Heartfelt Desire a permanent and lasting change Free of failure, requires but a simple procedure of "exorcising" this demon from your Endeavor.

To do so would require but three things.

- First, linger no more on Heartfelt Desire failure. Seek instead Father's Kingdom.
- The second of these is your Heartfelt Desire to nourish and sustain your Endeavor by Divine Means be solidified in your Endeavor.
- The third of these is your Heartfelt Desire be aligned with Divine Will and Intent, the Radiant Energy to which you aspire."

When it comes to the Father Way, one must throw away both the dirty water and the baby. That is to say, we can't find our Way with the Father as long as we hold on to the ideas and preconceptions we have formed in our mind based on what others have taught us / imposed upon us. Even if there is some Truth in the deception, it all must be thrown away, for otherwise we will remain stuck in the frame of reference given to us by the unrighteous - unholy to deceive us.

Instead, we must look within and reawaken to our own innate knowledge of the Father Which Is in Heaven and of our Journey with Him. This is inherent in us. The world would tell us that without indoctrination we would not know "god", but in reality it is the indoctrination that disconnected us from our Knowing of the Father. Left on our own, we would not grow to be savages, but rather most wonderful, Honorable individuals who Journey with Respect and Joy upon the Earth exploring the Beauty of Creation through our own Mystical and Magical Journey with the Father.

Let us then claim back the Inheritance Father has Given Us, one person at a time.

Make your own kind of music

08/19/10

The Spiritual Swimming series has been completed and I'm quite happy that this is so. It turned out to be way more beneficial for me than I expected, however, it is time to shift the focus unto the Father Way.

Father has explained to us many times, in many ways, and over and over that He would not have us lean unto anyone or make anyone more important than our journey with Him. Each and every day, He has taught us, we are to focus only on that which is before each one of us to do, that which is our own individual communion with Self / Father, and our own individual expression of Self as Love. This is how things have been and will be once again. This is healthy, sane behavior.

Perhaps this is the reason why it does not come natural to the People to put others first or to be concerned about what happens outside the community, much less around the world. We are not meant to, because our focus is meant to be with Father.

The reason there is no "I" in team is because we are not supposed to have a "team mentality and behavior". Doing what is best for "whatever or whoever" at the expense of everyone involved is not the Way of the Father.

In the Father Way, each one grows and benefits spiritually from doing that which each one of us has chosen to do and experience on Earth. Yes, many individuals may come together for a common Purpose, but that is simply because their Journeys share something in common at that particular time. In such a case, each one has a part to Play that does not conflict with another's part. There is Harmony in Right Thinking, Right Action, and Right Manifestation of Father's Good Will and Intent. Once the goal is accomplished, each one naturally continues upon his / her Journey with the Father as is meant to be. No strings attached.

We are meant to be individuals who have an unique Journey with the Father and who are meant to Freely move as needed to accomplish this Journey with Joy, Peace, Harmony, and Abundance. That which each one of us came here to do is just for each one of us to do. When someone's part remains undone, then it remains undone. There is a song that remains unsung.

To put in the words of a song by Mama Cass: "make your own kind of music... even if nobody sings along".

Seeking Father's Kingdom

08/21/10

In my last post of the Spiritual Swimming series (SP 29 – page 102) I quoted Father explaining to us that to succeed in the choice for Him we have to seek His Kingdom. But how do you find His Kingdom when you don't know what that is?

When we asked for clarification some time ago, it was Given to us to know that:

the Kingdom is our Desire for Heaven made manifest

When we realize that what we want is the same as what Father manifests, we allow ourselves to recognize we are of one a-chord with the Father. In this, we become one with the Father.

You may be familiar with the quote from Jesus: "I and my Father are one."

Knowing what the Kingdom is, the next logical question is what is Heaven. When we asked this question, it was Given to us to know that:

Heaven is Right & Proper Function of our Divine Expression in a Kingly, Rightforward manner

Kingly:

- Pertaining or proper to a king or kings

King: [... from the root of E. kin (1)]

Kin (1):

- A group of persons descended from a common ancestor

This is to say that seeking Father's Kingdom is to manifest our Desire for Right and Proper Function of our Divine Expression in recognition of our Heritage as children of the Father Which Is in Heaven and thus befitted with all that is Proper to us: our Divine Inheritance and Heritage.

We are not the worthless, incapable, ignorant, inferior beings the unrighteous - unholy have convinced us we are so that they could steal all of our Divine Inheritance and Heritage from us. We are not beggars, we are not debtors, we are not sinners, and we are not the servants of the unrighteous - unholy.

We are Regal and Kingly in Nature and it is our Birthright to recognize this and return to our place as children of the Father Who fully manifests in our Lives when we are in Right and Proper Function of our Divine Expression.

To seek Father's Kingdom is to Desire restoration to the Truth of Who We Are, to our Love as Self, to our walk with Father as His children. It is to walk upright with the Father and to have our Inheritance and Heritage restored to us.

To seek Father's Kingdom is indeed a most wonderful thing to do.

Giving

08/22/10

Listening to Joyce Meyer speak on "giving" several years ago, I heard her suggestion about "giving" to those from whom you receive the gospel. This concept is very in line with what the church teaches: give and tithe unto others, specially "me" the church <sup>12</sup>.

If we apply her suggestion from the slight shift in which an individual has learned to hear the Father from within, then it follows that one would tithe and give to the Father and to himself. Tithing to the Father is done in the form of Thanks Giving in Joyful appreciation for that which is received. Tithing to ourselves is to stop taking our first fruits to an external altar / place / institution / individual. It is to keep our first fruits for ourselves so that we have Abundant Measure to do that which is before us to do in our Walk with the Father. In this, we no longer walk in spiritual destitution and we become responsible for our own life.

This is a teaching Father had been sharing with Linda and I for a while, but it wasn't until I listened to Joyce Meyer and had the "aha" moment, that I finally got it.

<sup>12</sup> It is interesting to note however that the church does not give freely to other churches as one pastor we met explained to us. He was in need of bibles and went to churches to ask for old bibles and their response was "buy them from us."

Moments of Freedom

08/23/10

As you progress in your journey with the Father, you will have moments of Freedom. These are Father's suggestions for these moments:

When / during moments of Freedom:

- Seek Father's Good Will to do
- Strengthen yourself in Gloriosa [All That Is]
- Pray for your reason to be restored to Right & Proper Function, that it be strengthened

Reason:

- power to think: intellect
- a sane or sound mind

I know from experience that at the beginning, these moments of Freedom are few and many times far in between. However, do your best to not play and do keep your attention on Father during the "in between Freedom times". Faith is indeed a great companion. Have Faith that because Father Said it is so, it is so.

The following is a message from the Loving Father to all who are moving toward Life and find themselves stumbling on the way:

*Choose Faith rather than failure,
Know that you have missed the mark,
pick up another and aim.
And closer, one by one,
you will find yourself to the target, until at last you are centered in All That Is.*

This is a great learning, it is a process, each adjustment brings you closer to the mark.

Father is simply conveying this information using the simile of “target practice” where you keep practicing until you hit the center mark. Target practicing is free of guilt and failure. If you miss, it simply means you need to adjust your aim / correct your focus and posture and continue practicing until you obtain the results you want.

Making a “big deal” out of things hampers your journey with the Father. If you miss the mark, no big deal. If you hit the mark no big deal. Just continue upon your walk with Father in a steady and straightforward manner, one step at a time.

Have Faith

08/26/10

This is adapted from our book "A Powerful Man".

Faith: from the Promise to fruition.

Faith is the consciousness that one holds between the time a Promise is given by the Father and the time it manifests in the world. Therefore, Faith is neither expectation, nor hope of what may or may not happen. Faith is neither based on emotions, nor feelings. Faith is based on Knowledge, the Knowledge things will manifest because Father says so, regardless of how it may be perceived by the standards of the world, regardless of other's efforts to stop His Promise from manifesting. Faith gives us the strength to continue during bad weather.

Your lesson in this, is to perceive not with the eyes of the world, but to Know that the Father is Sovereign in all matters great and small.

*Think you not the Father Knows those things you have need of?
He would that you should have
All things both great and small to make manifest His Will (and Intent) in the world.*

And so it is that you now Know what the Father's Will and Intent for you is. He wants you to allow Him to bring to you all that you need in your journey. Your part is to learn to focus on Father and to have Faith. For when you do this, you can Know how He wants to uniquely manifest in your life. In this Faith, Father assures you, you will receive all that you need in your journey Home.

All things come to those who wait.

Be aware that inherent in this promise is the concept that things will unfold in your life at the Proper time and that manifestation of His Will and Intent can be hampered by the weakness of your Faith, or your stubbornness in letting go of the old ways.

*You will see a great many things unfold and come to fruition
when you walk in Faith,
Knowing that it is so.*

You must Know it is so.

When you falter and you see that doubt comes to your mind because of the circumstances in which you find yourself, or because it appears that His Promise is not coming true, or because of the time it takes from Promise to fruition, or because of the difficulties you may be encountering, Father has some Guidance for you.

*When doubt comes creeping in: have Faith.
It is time to rise from the death and destruction.
Have Faith in the man you are.
Recognize what Faith is not, replace it with Faith without condemnation.*

Recognize when you have confused Faith or Knowledge that Father's Promise to you will manifest, with hope and expectation. Then choose to ask Father to bring back to your awareness the True meaning of Faith: the Knowing that it is so because He said it is so.

*Faith is a fragile thing.
Faith shattered leads to despair and destruction.
When all else has failed,
Faith will endure the devastation.*

Hold fast to your Faith.

As you can imagine, Father gave us this information when I was having some rough moments in my journey with Him. Holding fast to my Faith and Knowledge of my Desire for the Father has indeed seen me through all difficult times.

Words matter

08/27/10

This is from our book "A refinement":

Throughout the years, humankind has been taught that 'words are cheap' and thus have no meaning. People have learned to disregard the content and details of what is said and have become enthralled by the delivery and physical aspects of the deliverer. If the individual's 'looks' are 'acceptable' because he / she glitters and draws you in, and he or she uses all the 'right' words, then it does not matter how much deceit, lies, or darkness the message contains. The 'red flags' that are naturally raised in people's minds when they hear such darkness are generally discarded, "for how could an individual with such 'charisma', who can say all the 'right words', be someone who would lie, deceive, or serve darkness?"

This requires the opposite to be True. If the individual's physical appearance is not 'acceptable', and if he or she does not know how to use the 'right' words or deliver the 'right' message, then it does not matter how much Truth he or she may be telling. The listener disregards it all, "for how can such an individual say anything but a lie?" This perception is further strengthened by the ridicule such an individual will be subjected to by those of darkness .

This attitude is very unfortunate for humankind. In Truth, words do matter. We have said in "Life and the 'game of circularity'" that power can only be taken away with the consent of both parties. Thus, it is a requisite that those who engage darkness inform who they serve by sharing their real intent – it is like a Divine Law they must follow. This they will do with a word, an intonation, a sentence, a concept, a suggestion, an action, sharing a choice they made, something they did. This they will do while saying all the right words with the hopes, of course, that this listening party will disregard that one word or sentence that contradicted everything that was said. When the listening party ignores this warning, it tacitly says, "I have listened to what you said, but I would rather deceive myself and allow you do what you really want to do". In other words, the listening party disregards the Divine when he / she chooses to ignore the 'red flag' in his / her mind. In so doing, the listening party lets go of safety in the Divine, because permission is given to be attacked or engaged by darkness.

On an individual basis, one example may be a parent talking about how wonderful he is as a parent and then turning around and slapping his child. Or the boss who prides himself in his integrity, but then asks you to do something that goes against your values. Or a book that appears to be of the Light, but purposefully includes deceitful material. On a larger scale, it may look like a company that promotes its respect for the environment while purchasing raw material from another company that does not. Or an individual running for office who asserts he / she stands for freedom and says he / she is willing to take whatever means are necessary to stop those who oppose it. And so on.

This is why it is so important for each individual to learn to listen to what others say, convey, or do by example. By doing so, each individual can learn to quickly identify those of dark intent, so as to not give permission to be attacked or engaged by darkness in any way. "We do not share common interests, thank you." "I am not interested". "My beliefs / interests / choices do not support our friendship any longer." "I cannot do that which goes against my True Nature". "I cannot support someone that engages in such behavior, or holds such beliefs".

In the eyes of darkness, ignorance does not absolve you from your choices. In their eyes, you cannot claim that you did not know, or you did not have access to the information, and so on. The reasoning behind this, is simple. Darkness knows you have an inner Guidance that can help you Know Divine Truth, and thus make Right and Proper choices. Thus, if you disregard this Guidance, darkness interprets this as meaning that you do not wish to Know and Live by Divine Truth and thus, that your choice is to engage darkness and abide by its rules and laws.

As you begin to make different choices, darkness will try to make you fulfill all the 'agreements' you made with it in the past. Know, however, that even by worldly laws, any 'agreement' that is made under deceitful conditions is void or 'non' from its inception. Because darkness is deceitful by nature, you are never obligated to live by the 'mistakes of your past'.

If it quacks like a duck, walks like a duck...

Yesterday, when browsing through the news collected by Linda, I came across an interesting article titled: "Electromagnetic pulse can be used to disrupt morality in the human brain"<sup>13</sup>.

Basically, this article says that researches have found that magnetic pulses directed to the brain change people's moral judgments by disrupting normal brain function. That is to say, that people who would normally make sound and moral decisions can lose this capacity when affected by certain types of energies in particular parts of their brain.

With this corroboration of how moral judgment can be affected by energy that are not in tune with that which is Divine Creation:

- Could the energy that emanates from computers impair brain function in ways that negatively affect our choices? What about TV's or cell phones? What about satellite / wireless transmissions or electric power lines? Yes, some people quote research showing that no "significant" evidence links technology to brain damage, but this research is focused on brain damage. What about brain function that affects people's capacity to make sound decisions?
- What about parasites, viruses, bacteria, and nano particles that lodge themselves in our brains and body? They emanate energy because they are made of energy. Could they affect our behavior and capacity to make sound decisions?
- What about heavy metals or other chemical compounds such as plastics? These all emanate certain types of energies. Could they affect our behavior and capacity to make sound decisions?
- What about dissonant noise and music?
- What about traumatic memories or images or experiences that get lodged in people?

<sup>13</sup> http://www.naturalnews.com/029556\_electromagnetic\_pulse\_brain.html

- What about the energies emanated by disruptive buildings, cities, towns, houses?
- What about the energy emanated by cars and trucks, industries, and airplanes?
- What about the improper energy and thoughts that others direct toward us?

We speak of energies and activities that corrupt our capacity to distinguish between right and wrong. As established in my posting Pure-Pose, this is “moral defilement”. That which corrupts is that which perverts and changes from the original. That which perverts is that which distorts the meaning and leads astray by turning something to an improper use / purpose. That which is foreign is that which affects the body and sensual appetites in a way that is not normal or common, that which is alien. That which is alien is that which is unnatural, contrary to the laws of nature, inhuman, and artificial.

Can you recognize why energies / behavior / technology that impair our moral compass are of a defiling nature and thus why Father is asking us to do things differently? If not, could it be that your capacity to distinguish between right and wrong is being hampered in some way?

It is time to recognize the Truth of Who we Are. Any behavior that is not based on Honor, Respect, and Integrity is the result of some foreign / alien energy that is acting upon us and altering our natural behavior. The only reason this statement is difficult to accept is because we have been influenced by such foreign and alien energies for so long that we have come to accept them as a normal part of who we are. Yet they are as foreign and alien to us today as they were about 7,000 years ago.

Learning to recognize what is happening in our brains and minds may be facilitated by the following example:

When someone is driving down the highway and is hit by a sudden strong wind gust that pushes the car (and driver) off the road, immediate corrective action is taken by the driver to stay on the highway. The driver does not make the mistake of thinking that because the car felt like going off the road that this is what he wants. There is a clear differentiation between the response of the car to the wind gust and the driver. The driver doesn't say, “oh lets have some fun and let the wind gust take me wherever it takes me". There is a clear knowing that if he were to allow the car to go off the road or its lane, there will be damage done to the car and possible to him. The driver's focus is staying on course so as to reach the destination.

So it should be with our body / brain / mind. Just because the body / brain / mind may react to an external influence in a particular way, does not mean this is what we want to do, and it is not a representation of who we are or what we want. There needs to be a clear differentiation between the response of the body / brain / mind to a foreign / alien energy, and the "driver". You the driver would benefit from recognizing that corrective action needs to be taken whenever there is a reaction of the body / brain / mind that would take you off the road so to speak. You the driver, would benefit from recognizing that to say "oh what the heck, lets do whatever this energy wants me to do" is indeed an improper choice that will lead to damage just as a car is damaged when it goes off the road. You the driver would benefit from recognizing that the only way to fulfill your destiny in your Journey with the Father is to stay focused on staying on course with the Father. This is where all the Joy, Peace, Love as Self, Happiness, fulfillment is received.

Just because it sounds like you, feels like you, thinks like you, and smells like you it does not mean it is you.

In other words, just because it quacks like a duck, walks like a duck, and looks like a duck, it does NOT mean it is a duck.

This is what Father has to Say in this matter:

*Now is the hour
of your greatest redemption from the sorrows of the world.*

*Let not those sounds of sorrow drive you away from the Father's Good Will.
It is easily necessary / managed this day to repudiate all incoming* energies, source, signals, by simply closing your mind to such powers.

To do this you must engage a process called increased awareness.

*To be aware,
creates a buffer zone of safety and well being in which you decide what is external to your process and what is internal.*

It is a simple matter to Discern.

*Is this matter / material of Source,
or is it opposite / unlike All That Is?*

*When it is so, you of course Know,
as a matter of hand, its origin.*

*Anything unlike Source
belongs not in your mind or unto you.
It is a small matter to monitor and engage a safety valve, or safe space.*

Happy driving.

Increased awareness

08/29/10

Yesterday I shared with you Father's Teaching on recognizing the Truth that any behavior that is not based on Honor, Respect, and Integrity is the result of some foreign / alien energy that is acting upon us altering our natural behavior as children of the Father Which Is in Heaven.

I spoke of taking corrective measure whenever you become aware of an energy that would "take you off the road". Father used the words "simply closing your mind to such powers" by using "a process called increased awareness." (see prior posting)

That is to say, one must allow oneself to become aware of what is happening in one's mind. Besides the conscious level, there are two other levels at which things may be happening without our "conscious awareness". Father calls one the "fringes of your awareness" and the second "your secondary level". The things that go on at those levels can be very disconcerting to say the least and thus it is important to make changes.

*To be aware,
creates a buffer zone of safety and well being in which you decide what is external to your process and what is internal.*

The learning is to allow oneself to become aware of what is happening at those levels so one can become of one a-chord with the Father Way. How? Just ask Father to be shown what is happening at your secondary level or what is happening at the fringes of your awareness and you will be shown. Once you know what is happening, take the necessary corrective measure and focus back to the Father Way.

You need to be conscious of perceptions you have been having.

Allowing yourself to remain unconscious serves no purpose, nor the Greater End or Mean.

Whether it be the Goodness and Light or the shadow and darkness,

it matters not, should you choose to deny your perception.

*You could be hurt no more and no less.
It is only your awareness that alters.
Perhaps in the long run, more Good will be served should you fearlessly use your perception.*

As you contemplate this, be aware that to perceive and be aware of something is not the same as to engage in it. Father is not asking anyone to use awareness and perception to "prove / solidify" unrighteous - unholy existence. Instead, He is asking that we use awareness and perception to recognize what we are doing so we can stop playing and so we can allow the door(s) the unrighteous - unholy implanted in us to be sealed and dissolved. He is also asking us to use our awareness and perception to see the Truth of Who We Are and to solidify Heaven on Earth through our own individual walk with Him.

Also recognize the following Guidance from Father:

You come not closer to that which is Divine through fraudulent prayer, perception, or punishment mind.

It is not by, or through, punishment that your Divine Being be manifest.

It is Truly through that which is inherently your Goodness and Grace of Being, that you will find the Truth, or True perception you seek.

---

Be gentle with yourself regardless of what kind of unrighteous - unholy activity you realize you are engaged in at those levels. Just be gentle and remain steadfast in your choice for the Father / Truth of Who You Are.

Trust the Father and Trust the Truth of your Desire for the Father.

Gently allow yourself to return to the Father Way of the Mystical and Magical where you are of one a-chord with All That is Righteous and Holy.

Just some thoughts

08/30/10

We have been on a drought here for too many weeks. However, this time, my plants are doing ok. There has been sufficient water to take care of them. What is the difference? Could it be my un-mowed patch of abundance (see "A Patch of Abundance - July update)? Or was it just the pruning I did? Perhaps both.

I have heard listening to Blue Otter's <sup>14</sup> shows that in the south west, Native Americans can grow their food without irrigation and that how their plants fare is an indication of how well the people are doing spiritually. If the plants are drying out it means that the person tending the plants is having some difficulties on a spiritual level or is making choices that do not support his Spirit. If the plants thrive, then the person tending those plants is doing well.

I can't say I have reached a point where my plants are fully sustained without watering them (I have them growing in pots and thus cannot receive directly from Mother Earth), but their watering needs have declined compared to what it was the only time I mowed the patch of abundance.

While I haven't arrived at my destination yet, it would appear that I'm doing at least something right... after all, there was a time in my life I could not even keep indoor plants alive in my apartment...

I do not play

08/31/10

Father has spoken many times about stopping our play with the unrighteous - unholy. What is a good simile to help one get a clearer understanding of what that means?

Think about your childhood. Were you ever invited to play some game and you said no? Or did you ever invite someone to play and they said no? That's it.

Think about a more recent event where you were asked to do something and you said no, or when you asked someone to do something and they said no. That's it.

The answer is simple, but it works. That is the Father Way.

It is ok to not play and to no longer be invited to play. Focus on your walk with the Father and you will find it no longer matters that you are not invited to play.

The on / off cycle

Linda realized some time ago that sorrow is like a thick viscous oil that when allowed to enter one's body or energy system, displaces Divine Energy which can then be "skimmed off" by those who feed upon us. The more you sorrow, the less Divine Energy you have, the more filled with sorrow you are and the more hopeless you become.

As she was explaining this to me, I realized that lust is a similar kind of "liquid" if you will. Just as with sorrow, as lust enters one's body / energy system, it displaces Divine Energy which is skimmed off. This is why lust leaves us feeling "empty". The more you engage in it, the more empty you feel, the more you are filled with lust, the more depraved you become. The difference with lust is that it appears to displace or at least camouflage sorrow. That is to say, for many people, lust is a way to numb themselves to the sorrow they have allowed to enter. Lust probably does this because it is "exciting" and puts a person on a "high", but this is as detrimental as being "high" on drugs, alcohol, stress, anger, and so on. In the end, we pay the price with our lives because all these behaviors are designed to displace our Divine Energy from us, so it can be taken by others.

This is an on / off cycle of destruction. "On" on lust, "off" on sorrow, "on" on anger, and so on.

The answer? Stop allowing sorrow, lust, and other destructive "fluids" to enter into your body / energy system. Stop giving away your Divine Energy to those who solicit sorrow, lust, anger, and so on in you, for the only way you can respond in kind is by allowing these "fluids" to enter.

If you are already filled with some of this "stuff", then lay it on the Altar of Divine Love and Power in Right and Proper Exchange for Divine Energy which you will then Properly use to support Healthy, Sane, Respectful behavior. It is a learning but it can be done.

When something is missing

09/03/10

Recently, Father suggested I visit a creamery farm that raises its own milk cows on pasture and hay. The day I visited was nice and cool, with blue skies and puffy white clouds perfect to take a stroll.

After I walked around their pastures, this is what came to mind:

I'm standing in front of the land, wide open space, surrounded by dense woods. The clear land itself divided by electric fencing into pastures.

What is the purpose? There seems to be something missing. What comes to mind is Freedom. Where is the Freedom of the land to be an expression of the Plant / Herb / Flower Kingdom (knowing the Kingdom is the Desire to solidify Heaven on Earth)? Where is the Freedom of the cows? They live a purposeless life... or am I sensing the missing of that which was taken from me?

The owners of course, have a mission and vision to raise healthy grass fed cows to produce healthy products. But is this how Father would have it be? Is it how Mother Earth would have it be?

There is no room for the Mystical and Magical. The Play (capital P Play) is missing. It appears no one is Playing upon the land. No fairies, no elfins... just work.

Is what I see the peacefulness and quietness of the land or the silence of death?

This land could be teaming with Real Life in a Mystical and Magical Way. I briefly saw what it could be. Even the cows would get to Play and be nourished beyond the grass.

Spiritually bored cows, produce spiritually lacking milk.

It is indeed a great loss to not allow for the Mystical and Magical Play of Life to be a part of our lives. When Mystical and Magical Play is replaced by work, we all loose.

It is time to stop loosing and begin Living. Let's invite the Mystical and Magical of the Father Way back into our lives and begin what Father calls Righteous and Holy Play.

What is more costly?

09/05/10

During my visit to the creamery I also had an opportunity to visit the farmer's market. It was a nice casual atmosphere with several local people selling home grown produce, fruits, meats, and other products. Some prices seemed reasonable and others seemed plain and simply outrageous.

Like a dozen free range eggs for 4 to 5 dollars. Hens that are raised by the free bounty of nature and then freely lay eggs should, in a sane economy, provide the least expensive eggs. After the initial investment of getting some hens and building a chicken coop, there is no cost other than perhaps the time it takes to move the chicken coop around the land and to gather the eggs. Grains could theoretically be grown upon the land to sustain the chickens during the winter. And if you have a rooster, well, it is just a matter of time before the chickens start multiplying on their own.

I realize that economics teaches about 'economies of scale' and charging what the market can bear and so on, but that is, as many people are realizing, just plain baloney. The cost of setting up an egg factory with thousands of hens laying eggs far surpasses the cost of growing a few free range chickens. Egg factories require the indebtedness of the owners, who have to obtain loans to build the facilities, acquire the automated equipment, provide a continuous supply of food and medication to the chickens, pay all the appropriate licenses, hire the personnel, provide perhaps benefits to the personnel, figure out a way to treat the waste that such facilities produce, and probably, constantly replace the many hens that die of exhaustion, malnourishment, and disease. Of course this does not take into account the damage such factories do to the land and environment as well as to the People who eat such nutrient deficient eggs. Economies of scale really does not work as we are taught in school and college, because the larger the facility, the more destructive it becomes to the environment and the People, and the greater the indebtedness and therefore enslavement of the owners. In determining the real cost of production, the owners of the egg factories really must take into consideration the cost to their own lives, the environment, and to the Health and therefore Life of the People. If this were done correctly, it would be determined every time, that the cost of such practices is always prohibiting.

Yes, free range eggs are more valuable because they are more nutritious, while factory raised eggs are worthless because they lack real nutrition. However, this should not translate into more dollars for free range eggs and less for factory raised eggs. Why? Because coinage, whether paper or precious metal, is an instrument of labor – you have to work to get it and work as we know it, is labor (slave labor).

The more freely obtained from Nature and thus the Father, the less enslavement should be required in the form of money. While the more coercive of Nature and thus destructive in process, the greater amount of money should be required as an indicative of the cost of such practice. Money becomes then what it really is: an indicator of destructiveness, enslavement, and sickness. The more money the greater the level of destructiveness, enslavement, and sickness. This is why the United States is one of the “richest” nations as measured in money and also one of the most destructive, enslaved, and sick nations.

Were the exchange for eggs done as a trade of goods for goods, then, it would be appropriate to say, free range eggs should receive a higher trade of goods than factory eggs. Why? Because free range eggs are more valuable than factory eggs.

So in practice, this would look like this. If someone is selling eggs, they would have two prices, one is the price if the payment is made in money and the other is the price if the payment is done in an exchange of goods. For example, the exchange would be, one dollar if payment is made in cash and the equivalent of five dollars if the payment is made as a trade.

Now you may say, wait a minute. If this is the case, people will always choose to pay the lower cost of one dollar versus the trade. Well, that would be the case for some, but when you awaken to Truth and you realize that to earn the one dollar you have to enslave yourself to a job that keeps you from being able to InJoy the Freedom of Life and your own Journey with the Father in a Mystical and Magical Play, you would soon recognize that the cost of earning that one dollar is very high. That dollar was earned at the cost of you Happiness, Joy, Spiritual Growth and Health. Where you to factor in the Health cost and so on that it takes to earn money, you would soon realize that the cost far outweighs the value of the money. There is a great energetic loss or cost attached to earning money through labor.

Compare that to someone who creatively designs or does something that is Soul Nourishing, and in the process receives Happiness, Joy and full-fulfillment as he / she grows in her Spiritual Journey. You could say that in this process, there is no real cost, for the person has benefited in Health and Spirit. This benefit is Divine Increase. There is a great energetic benefit to being creative in a way that is Respectful and Harmonious to Nature.

So what is more costly? To pay one dollar in money for a dozen free range eggs or to trade the equivalent of five dollars in goods for those eggs?

Clarifications on yesterday's posting

09/06/10

There are some minor clarifications to yesterday's posting.

The first one is in regard to using money to establish the trade value of the free range eggs. How is it that I can say money is a measure of destructiveness, enslavement, and sickness and then use that same money to provide a trade value for the eggs? The answer is simple. At this point, it is the case that money is something everyone understands to one degree or another. Thus, during the transition we use money both ways. On the one hand we recognize it for what it is, and on the other, because we have learned to give it a certain value, we can use it to find a common trade ground until we learn to do it differently.

One need not assign a monetary trade value to the eggs. However, at the beginning it may be easier for some to establish such monetary trade value as a reference guide. This way the owner of the eggs has a clearer idea of what it would take to make an even trade with someone else. At the same time, the person trading for the eggs would know what is expected. Knowing the monetary value that he assigns to what he brings for trade, he then would know what is needed to make an even trade for the amount of eggs he wants.

I speak of even trade, which Father calls Right and Proper Exchange. Right and Proper Exchange or even trade is trading without profiting, for profiting is always done at the expense of those one profits from. Instead, the benefit of the trade is based on what the trade allows each person to receive. The person receiving the free range eggs receives the benefit of being nourished by highly nutritious eggs and thus supporting his Health and well being which facilitates his Spiritual Journey. That is his Divine Increase. The person receiving the goods in exchange receives whatever benefit is received from those goods. That is the Divine Increase. There is a great Peace in knowing one trades evenly with others. This practice supports the Higher Self and prevents people from becoming indebted to each other for receiving more than what is given in exchange. Instead of there being a sense of "being ripped off" or "ripping someone else of” there is a feeling of Joy and satisfaction for having made a good trade.

The second clarification I want to make is regarding the use of money itself. If money is a measure of destructiveness, enslavement, and sickness, does that mean then one should reject being paid in money? The simple answer is no. We are all walking at different stages in our walk toward Freedom. This means, some can only pay in the way of money and many others still need money to pay bills and purchase needed goods from places that do not accept anything but money. Many times, no agreement may be reached in trading goods for goods. In such cases, money would allow each party to make the exchange.

Acceptance of money is then made with the understanding that it is a resource that allows certain things to be accomplished during the transition time.

We progress one step at a time, based on where we are and where those who we exchange with are.

The Real Value

In the trading of goods, Linda reminded me when she heard my last postings, that it is not necessary to receive in Exchange for goods only that which one needs. It is possible to receive in trade something we do not need, yet can be used in trade with someone else who does have a need for it.

Some time ago, I went to a local butcher to inquire if he was willing to trade meats for our fine art photography. At that time he was not interested but he did indicate it was not uncommon for him to trade with others who provided some kind of service, like plumbers or electricians.

Let's say that a plumber would stop by and ask for an Exchange and that the butcher did not need any plumbing repairs of any kind. In this case, he could easily Exchange for future work should he have a future need or, he could use those Exchanged hours of work to go to someone else who does need some plumbing services and do an Exchange with that person using the traded "hours of work".

Of course, this could be taken a step further. One could trade for something one doesn't need but knows it can be used to trade with someone who knows he will be able to trade that very Exchange with someone else.

These examples simply serve to expand our capacity to receive in Exchange from the Father through others. The more People become receptive to receiving from the Father in such manner, the easier it becomes for Father to bring that which one needs.

Many times we have the idea that Father should simply "puff" things that we need into our reality, yet for the greater part, even though such is possible, Father does act through others who are receptive to His Will and Intent.

While it appears that there are a very few People on this Earth that are receptive to His Will and Intent, Father has said that there are more than it appears. However, there needs to be the recognition that many times we have become blind to the fact that trading in even Exchange / Right and Proper Exchange makes it possible for Father to Bless each one who participates in the trade. Why? Because by doing a Right and Proper Exchange of even value, free of profiteering, one makes a choice for the Father Way. This brings us closer to the Father and increases our capacity to receive His Blessings.

Many years ago, the van we were driving developed some transmission problems. If I remember right it lost reverse. At that time we did not have the resources to fix the van so the suggestion was to find some used car dealer who was willing to trade a reliable vehicle for the van. That was quite an ordeal. The greed that is present in such business is unbelievable. Yet we were able to find one salesman who had his own old Suburban for sale in the lot where he was employed. In talking to him, we found out that his Suburban had been sitting in the lot for months and that he urgently needed the money from the sale. Even though the owner of the lot was completely against doing any kind of business with us, this man said he would be willing to talk to us later in the day. This gave us extra time to talk to Father about the Exchange. Father explained to us that while the Suburban was not for us, I should still stop by and talk to him. So I did.

To make a long story short, I met this man later in the day and we took the Suburban for a ride. During the ride I talked to him about making the trade and he indicated that because he had lived or worked in a spiritual community some time ago, he could recognize what I was saying and that therefore, he would make the trade even though he needed the money. Because his boss was opposed to helping us, he said we would do the trade after business hours and agreed I would wait for his call. When the call came, we heard a very apologetic man saying that his boss sold the Suburban shortly after he and I had taken it for a ride. He didn't realize it, but that was exactly what was meant to happen. By choosing the Father, he allowed the Father to Bless him with the money he really needed.

During the time we were looking for a replacement vehicle we eventually stopped by a dealer who was willing to not only make the trade but give us some extra cash. He showed us the vehicles he would be willing to trade for and I proceeded to inspect them. After making the choice for one, I took it for a ride and by the time I came back, the dealer had had a change of heart. He said that just as I inspected the vehicle and took it for a ride, he decided to crunch some numbers and came to the conclusion that the trade wouldn't work for him. Needless to say, I was quite disappointed, but what amazed me more was that I was shown that this man's choice for the unrighteous - unholy would literally cost him his left leg. Fortunately for him, in the course of our conversations, he eventually changed his mind again and decided that while he would do the trade, he would not give us as much cash as originally agreed upon. We checked with Father and accepted the trade. Several years later, I stopped by his dealership again, and was glad to see he was still walking on two legs. By choosing Father to the best of his ability, Father was able to Bless him.

This is all to say, when we trade in Right and Proper manner, equal for equal, we make a choice for the Father because we do not play the unrighteous - unholy game of greed and profiteering. This choice for the Father Way brings us closer to the Father and thus facilitates our capacity to be Blessed by Him.

This is perhaps the real value of Right and Proper Exchange: it supports our Spiritual Journey and walk with the Father by bringing us closer to Him and allowing us to receive His Blessing.

Every time we choose Right and Proper Exchange, we affirm our choice for the Father Way and by our very actions we say "we do not play, get thee away. Get thee away ends your play".

A balancing act

09/09/10

Back to the farmer's market at the creamery. As I walked several times along the various stands to get an idea of what was being offered, it became obviously apparent that for the most part, all the stand owners were indeed hungry for money and were very eager to receive that money with every transaction. They were surrounded by the abundance and bounty of the land, but they were still hungry for money. Isn't that strange? Giving something of real value to receive something of no real value in exchange?

Father has explained to us that this uneven exchange creates a spiritual debt between people that eventually will have to be paid. I can't quite say I understand how this works, but Father has Said to us that it would be very beneficial if we would be willing to have all energetic debts we have incurred to others and other have incurred to us, be balanced out and paid out so to speak.

This idea of paying off energetic debts is difficult accept, especially when we are already energetically exhausted and have so little, but in the end, Father Says the benefits would be worth it, no pun intended. With all debts paid, that which we receive energetically from the Father would be ours to keep.

How is this done? By asking Father that it be so and allowing it to happen.

In this process, one must of course recognize that any debt claimed by the unholy - unrighteous is false. They are the real debtors to us for what they have taken in deceit and the worthlessness of what they have given in exchange. You must learn to recognize this so that you don't end up interfering with Father in this balancing act.

Let Father do what it is His to do.

Hunger for money

I talked yesterday about the hunger for money that was present in the farmer's market at the creamery. On one side this hunger could be understood as arising from the need to pay bills and taxes, lest tyranny stops by to seize the land. A system that imposes payment of taxes / bribes to allow the People to live upon the land and accepts only a type of currency that is not freely available from Creation, but rather only through labor, enslaves the People. Would the People selling at the market still be there if they did not have to pay bills and taxes to stay alive and keep their land?

I would say most likely not. Instead, there would be a whole different and natural system of trade in place. This system is perhaps best exemplified by home gardeners who grow their own food out of the delight and Joy that comes from doing so. In such cases, this activity is done for the Pleasure it brings and therefore, when done Properly yields such great Abundance that it exceeds the immediate and storage needs of the gardeners. What happens then with the extra Abundance? Many times, it is traded with other gardeners in the form of produce or seeds. Many times, it is freely given to neighbors, and other times, it is placed for sale primarily without a hunger for the money that will come out of it. That is to say, profiteering does not enter into the equation of such transactions, because it is not being done for the money.

Many say that the "love for money" corrupts People, but Father has given Linda and I sufficient understanding to recognize the deception in this. Underneath all the various deceptions there is a real need People have to receive resources to live. The problem arises when we look unto others to provide these resources rather than unto the Father. This problem is then compounded when that which is received does not satiate the need, but rather make it worse.

The following example may help. Let's say you go on a camping trip in the dessert and one day take a hike. You take sufficient water for your hike, but somewhere along the hike you get lost. As you wander around trying to find your way back, you run out of water and you begin to dehydrate. Eventually you run into someone and you ask that person for water. His response is, "yes I do, and I will share a gallon bottle with you if you do some work for me." Of course, your alarm signals go off but you are too thirsty, you are lost, and you know you need the water. You think a gallon should be enough to quench your thirst and leave you enough to find your way back. So you do the work, during which you did not have any water, which means you have been dehydrating at a faster rate. At the end of your work, the man shows up and gives you an empty plastic gallon bottle. Of course, you cry foul. And the man says "I gave you what I said I would, if you want the water, then you are going to have to go to this other man and he will trade you your bottle for water." So you go to this other man, ever more thirsty and he gladly takes your bottle and gives you one ounce of water in exchange. You cry foul, but the man says: "that is all you get for one plastic bottle. If you are so greedy for water, then go and get some more plastic bottles and I will give you more." So once again you are in a bind, you still need the water and you are still lost. So you go back to the first man who gladly puts you to work for more empty plastic bottles.

Would it be accurate to say in this example that your need or "love" for plastic bottles is what is corrupting you? The answer should clearly be no. Underneath that need for bottles is your thirst which needs satiated to stay alive. What corrupts is the dehydration that causes the body to malfunction and the participation in a scheme that gets you even more dehydrated before it gives you water in such a small quantity that it is not sufficient to quench your thirst.

This is how money or any type of currency works, again whether paper or precious metal. Coinage will never quench your thirst and the more you have of it, the more "dehydrated" you have become to get it and thus the more of it you need. Can you see the vicious cycle of ever increasing deprivation / depravation?

The answer would of course be for you to walk away from such a system. After all, participating in their "game" is killing you. The problem is of course you need the water and you don't know where or how to get it to stay alive until you can find your way back where you know there is Abundant water.

So what would be best? To stay in the system of bondage which gives you enough to keep you minimally alive and functioning as long as you are willing to work for them, or to just turn your back away to this system and take your chances knowing that at the most you may have two to three days to find your way or die?

Obviously most People who have lost their way and knowledge of how to receive their resources directly from Father think it is better to be enslaved and alive than dead and free.

Father has explained to us that death is certainly a deception too and thus another trap. So what does that leave us?

What it leaves us is a transition in which we learn step by step to re-awaken to the knowledge of how to get our resources directly from Father while we supplement as needed from "the system" until the day in which we are ready to fully stop our play.

In the example of the desert, you could go to the man with the water and see if you could work directly for him in exchange for water, bypassing thus the need for plastic bottles. Even better yet, you could one day recognize that even though it does not rain, water still comes from the skies in the form of morning dew. You could begin collecting such dew and begin to reduce your need for plastic bottles and perhaps even reach a point where you realize you could sustain yourself just from the dew alone and therefore not die of dehydration if you were to leave the scheme. In Freedom then you could find your way back.

The future

09/12/10

I have been saying in my postings that there is no much difference between paper money and precious metal money. Both are based on the concept that one must work to obtain it, thus creating a system of what the unrighteous - unholy would call "voluntary enslavement", which by the way, in my opinion, explains why the drafters of the Constitution authorized "voluntary enslavement". They knew involuntary slavery was quickly becoming "out of fashion" in the Americas, so a new and "legally justified" alternative was needed: conning the People into voluntary slavery. They had been doing it in Europe for centuries and now it was time to make it "legal" across the ocean. What better system than to have slaves who not only think they are free but also would demand and even fight for the right to remain enslaved and be given slave labor?

This is the basis of darkness deception: a world of deceived and voluntarily enslaved People who labor and feed them. After all, we are all consenting adults and if it is done with someone's consent then it is right to do it, right? Well, no. In Universal Law and Truth, it is unethical and immoral to deceive anyone into thinking they want enslavement and thus the ensuing depravation in their lives.

Before wild horses become "willing" servants, their Spirit has to be broken. When foals are born of these broken horses, they are immediately trained into servitude. Would it be accurate to say that any of these horses made a "voluntary" choice to become servants? Would it be accurate to say that in reproducing, these broken horses made a choice to enslave their offspring? Would it be accurate to say that in choosing to be born of broken horses, foals voluntarily chose slavery?

Common sense and sane logic would answer no to all accounts.

This is to say, just because many of the People have been slaboring for thousands of years and reproducing within a system of tyranny, does not mean the People have chosen this system voluntarily. Neither does it mean that People voluntarily choose for their offspring to continue living in such a system, even though that is what is done each and every day by the vast majority of People.

All it is, is an indication of how Truth is lost with each new generation, once someone in a lineage is deceived / forced / educated into "voluntarily" accepting the way of the unrighteous – unholy.

A better, brighter future does not rest in the hands of the children as we have been told. It is for us, the "seasoned" generations to awaken to Truth, to seek Truth, and for those who have sons and daughters, to ensure these children get to know Truth. If we don't take responsibility for our actions and for teaching our children Truth, who will? The unrighteous – unholy? Surely not.

How then, can the future and hope of Mother Earth rest upon children who do not know Truth but are raised under the deception of the unrighteous – unholy?

Whose Truth?

09/14/10

Whose Truth? That is indeed the great dilemma many face for we have been raised in a world where the idea that there is such a thing as "Truth" is some kind of old fashion thinking.

Many atrocities have been done in the name of "truth" or "god" as many would say. Witches burned, men tortured, sacred wars, eradication of pagans, destruction of native cultures, missionary trips, and so on. Yet these actions in and of themselves are an indicator that real Truth or as we have called it Divine Truth, and Father refined to Universal Truth, was not at Play, except perhaps in bits and pieces amidst great deception so as to deceive the People into accepting deception and feeling justified in their destructive actions.

There are two things we have learned from Father in our search for Universal Truth. First, that Truth is a Progression of ever expanding refinement until the day in which a shift in consciousness is received that allows us to Know the fullness of such Truth, free of "grey areas". This is to say, until that shift in consciousness, one can only understand Universal Truths with increasing accuracy as one progresses in his walk with the Father.

The second thing we learned from Father in this search for Truth is that:

*The Divine manifests in multiple ways, in multiple cultures.
It is each unto its own way of perception.*

Thus Respect for other cultures and individuals and their own way of experiencing the Divine is a natural expression of someone who lives by Universal Truth. Yet there is the recognition that within these multiple ways in which the Divine manifests there are commonalities. Different cultures that live Harmoniously with the Divine or Creation manifest Peaceful Respectful behavior, seek Harmony with the Earth and Creation, allow People to Live Freely upon the land in their own Walk, and do Respect their physical expression or body.

So whose Truth? Father would Say: Universal Truth. The Truth of Creation. The Truth that speaks of Who We Are and how to walk of one accord with Creation. The Truth that allows us to walk Freely upon the land and Play in a Mystical and Magical Earth that is benign and supportive of our Spiritual Walk. The Truth that teaches Respect for others and for Mother Earth. The Truth that makes it possible to Live in Health, Joy, Peace, Harmony, and Abundance.

Foundation

09/15/10

Today it seems that quoting Linda's post "crumbling foundation" is the thing to do. She wrote eloquently on a topic that is appropriate for my blog. Thank you Linda.

"We often feel that something somehow is wrong in our spiritual journey because of how much we do that is right by all the standards we have been taught, and yet the results are wrong. We never realize that all our "right decisions" are based on a foundation full of deception. It is a foundation full of holes, splits, fractures, cracks, all of which are empty spaces in a foundation that should be solidly based in Truth. No empty spaces, no deceptions. Yes, it does mean that deception is an empty space in our Spiritual foundation. Enough deception and we have left only a crumbling foundation. It is therefore of utmost importance to build a strong foundation in Truth through the Father. As we are attempting to maintain structure upon a crumbling foundation it seems as though our world is falling apart--tumbling--nothing seems right, everything seems as though it is about to fall apart. It is only as we Faithfully rebuild the foundation in the strength and wisdom of Truth that we may find a day has come, in which our view has become aligned, stable, and accurate. We find that we now see "another way". Rather than the world being viewed askewed, it is balanced and clear. For this we must indeed give Thanks, and in this remain Faithful to Truth, the Father Way unto Source. Maintaining a foundation in which there is no deception.

On a balmy TurquoiseBlue SunShiny day full of Love and Joy !"

More on Foundation

09/16/10

It is interesting that the exploration of my visit to the creamery and farmer's market has led me to writing about Truth and now Foundation.

The Foundation we speak of is of course the Foundation of our Being. Father has been patiently restoring Linda's and my Foundation back to Right and Proper Function. In this process, Father has explained that our Foundation is made up of three components:

Truth, Integrity, and Honor.

From the "Reader's Digest Great Encyclopedic Dictionary" printed in 1971 by The Reader's Digest Association, Inc.:

Truth

Truth:

- Conformity to fact or reality
- Conformity to the requirements of one's being or nature
- Steadfastness
- Sincerity

To have a strong Foundation in Truth, one must seek harmony or agreement with fact, reality, and one's being or nature. This fact, reality, and one's being or nature can be described by two words: steadfastness and sincerity.

Sincere: [< L. sincerus uncorrupted < sin- without + stem of caries decay]

- pure
- sound
- whole

---

When we speak of a Foundation based on Truth, we speak of a Foundation that is in harmony or agreement with a reality and nature that is free from corruption and decay. We speak of a Foundation that is Whole, Pure, and Sound (refer to the Mystical and Magical series <sup>15</sup> for an exploration of these words).

Steadfast:

- constant
- unchanging
- syn. Faithful

The fact that True Reality and Nature of Who We Are is free from corruption and decay is unchanging. Just because deception has taken our focus from a Reality and Nature free from corruption and decay into illusion, does not indicate Truth has changed or that there is no Truth free from corruption or decay.

We are Divine Beings Created Harmoniously with a Creation that is Safe, Loving, Abundant, Joyful, Peaceful, and Creative, therefore that is the Truth of our Being and Nature. We must be Faithful to this and dutifully seek to live based on this Knowledge of Reality.

Integrity

Integrity:

- uprightness of character
- the condition or quality of being unimpaired or sound
- the state of being complete or undivided

To have a strong Foundation in Integrity, one must be unimpaired and undivided. To be unimpaired is to be free of that which weakens, harms, and hurts. To be undivided is to be free of that which "split[s] us up into opposed sides" and that which takes a share of our Self so as to give it to others.

That is to say, when we have sound and complete Integrity, we act and behave in a way that is of one a-chord with Truth; the Truth of Creation and the Truth of Who We Are as Honorable, Respectful, Joyful, Peaceful individuals. We also keep that which the Father shares with us for ourselves and stop participating in a system that physically and energetically takes what is ours so as to feed the unrighteous – unholy. This means that having a strong Foundation requires then the return of that which was taken from us by the unrighteous - unholy. This is accomplished by our request to Father and Source that it be so. It is the Grace of Father and Source that shall make it so.

Honor

Honor:

- a strong sense of what is right
- keen moral judgment
- high regard, respect, or esteem

To have a strong Foundation in Honor, one must have a strong sense of what is right as well as a keen moral judgment. To do so, we must have a high regard, respect, esteem for Universal Truth and those who are an expression of such Truth as Father, Source, and of course, All That Is are.

Regard:

- to look at or observe closely or attentively
- take into account
- good wishes

Respect:

- to regard as inviolable
- to avoid intruding upon

Esteem:

- value greatly
- great appreciation

Honor is then the capacity to learn from observation and to take into account that which is learned. In other words, it is the Mystical and Magical Play of Creation and the healthy attitude of "good wishes" and thus Thanksgiving that such Play creates. This learning is then based solely on Truth and thus Reality, for otherwise, one could not have a strong sense of what is right and moral.

Honor is to regard Creation and its many manifestations as inviolable. It is to Walk upon the land with Respect and to interact with others in a manner that is not intrusive or encroaching. It is to have a great appreciation and value for Life and Creation, and thus for Self.

The Foundation upon which our Being and Experience of Creation is build is indeed a most wonderful thing.

Clarification on judgment

09/17/10

Yesterday I wrote about the Foundation of our being which is composed of Truth, Integrity, and Honor. The definition of the word "Honor" includes the understanding of having "a keen moral judgment". Since it is the case that the word "judgment" carries a lot of "emotional weight" in society it seems appropriate that I refine my understanding in this matter.

This time I will talk about both, the false and the accurate use of this word "judgment". I will use the same dictionary I used yesterday.

Judgment:

- the act of judging
- discernment
- discrimination
- a disaster or misfortune regarded as inflicted by God as punishment
- Logic The form of thought in which two terms are compared and their fitness to be joined under a given relation is affirmed or denied

Judging:

- to hear and decide in an official capacity the merits of (a case) or the guilt of (a person)

The false way

The misuse of the word judgment is based on the idea of punishment and guilt and the infliction of some kind of disaster and misfortune upon the person found guilty. On one level people believe that "God" goes around judging and condemning people for their actions and on another level, people take it upon themselves to act as "God" and go around judging and condemning others for their actions and thus inflicting imaginary

This deception is often accompanied by the belief in "self righteousness", the acquisition of resentment, anger, and hate toward those who "sin", and an air of moral superiority over others. This kind of attitude and emotions blinds people, who in their misdirected fervor, cannot see the inappropriateness of their own actions.

Father has explained to us that kind of behavior takes the focus of the person away from the Divine causing an instantaneous disconnection from the Divine and thus causing the energy of the person to be given away to the situation. This then allows the situation to become overblown, so to speak, and to rule over the person. It is a self defeating situation, which is why it was introduced by the unrighteous – unholy: as long as someone subscribes to this way of thinking and acting, he is stuck and diverted from Truth.

Many recognize the impropriety and false arrogance of this kind of behavior and not knowing any alternative decide that no one's behavior should be evaluated as to the correctness or incorrectness of that behavior. They will say there is no such thing as a wrong way of seeing things or doing things and in the context in which this conclusion is presented they are correct. However, this does not mean that their conclusion is accurate or pertinent to what is happening.

The accurate way

From my understanding of what Father has shared with Linda and I, an accurate understanding of the word "judgment" can be obtained through the word "discernment".

Discernment:

- the mental power of discerning
- Syn. See Sense

Discern:

- to perceive as with sight or mind
- to recognize as separate and different
- discriminate mentally

Sense:

- sound or natural judgment

The neutrality of this behavior should be apparent and self evident. I recognize someone may get stuck by the use of the word "discriminate" in the definition. However, when one recognizes that just as with the word "judgment", there is a false way and an accurate way to "discriminate", then it is possible to move past this stumbling block.

Discriminate:

- to draw a clear distinction

So we speak of the capacity to distinguish between Truth and deception. Between that which Respects Life and that which destroys, manipulates, coerces Life. Between someone who deceives using all the words we want to hear and someone who speaks Truth which may sting like iodine stings when put on an open wound. Between that which is good for our Health and that which is destructive to our Health. Between Reality and illusion. Between that which seduces us to bondage and that which supports our Journey as Free People upon the Land. Between our Real Feelings and the energies of the shades and shadows of darkness and others that present themselves as if they were "ours".

As I quoted Father in my posting "If it quacks like a duck, walks like a duck..."<sup>16</sup>

It is a simple matter to Discern.

*Is this matter / material of Source,
or is it opposite / unlike All That Is?*

<sup>16</sup> <http://bluestarway.com/bluestarblog/index.php?post/2010/08/28/If-it-quacks-like-a-duck%2C-walks-like-a-duck...>

*When it is so, you of course Know,
as a matter of hand, its origin.*

Anything unlike Source
belongs not in your mind or unto you.

*It is a small matter to monitor and engage
a safety valve, or safe space.*

In this capacity to Discern, we can actually make the sound choice to not play. A strong foundation requires that we differentiate so we can say NO to that which is an unrighteous - unholy construct to deceive us and thus take our Inheritance and Birthright away from us.

This capacity to Discern is indeed a Spiritual Gift for which one must ask in Honesty of Heart to become present and active in one's Life. It is a Gift that must be nurtured and developed Harmoniously with Truth.

From my experience I can say that Discernment is pretty much neutral in the sense that it does not carry the emotional garbage of condemnation, hatred, punishment, and so on. It is a recognition of what is happening. Yes, there may be pain in the realization and you may become aware of hatred you have harbored toward those who hurt you, but rather than give this an outlet in the form of anger, victimhood, and need for revenge or punishment, you lay these energies on the Altar of Divine Love and Power in Right and Proper Exchange for Truth, Peace, Love as Self.

When you can Discern and speak about what is happening neutrally, free of emotions, and with a clear, sound mind and heart, you know you have succeeded in clearing your Foundation from that which pollutes, contaminates, and weakens it.

So, when you contemplate Honor, it might be beneficial to think of it as the capacity to have "a keen moral Discernment".

Another clarification

09/18/10

It seemed appropriate from yesterday to provide one more refinement in the understanding of what it means to have "a keen moral discernment." This time I will focus on the word "moral" since this is another loaded word that carries much misunderstanding, especially since it is espoused so much by those who tell us why we are going to go to hell...

By the way, I'm still using the same Reader's Digest dictionary referenced a few postings ago.

Moral:

- concerned with the goodness and badness of an action, character, disposition, etc.
- right or proper in behavior
- righteous
- sexually virtuous
- based on probability or on a general knowledge of human nature rather than on objective evidence or clear demonstration

Up until the writing of this posting, I did not know that it was possible for a word to contain such insightful definitions. These definitions not only speak of the problem and the solution, but also provide the two sides of the problem as well as the key issue around morality: sex.

The false way

On the one hand you have darkness who uses "objective evidence" and clear demonstration to tell us why we should be sexually active and why those who espouse sexual ethics are some kind of repressed individuals that refuse to accept their evidence and rather, cling to "probability" or to some "general knowledge of human nature". After all they say "look around you, everyone is doing it, even the bees have sex... and if you doubt us, here is the scientific demonstration that "proves" sex is good for you..." Of course, never mind the misery that such behavior brings to those who engage in it, such as disease, unwanted children, adoptions, abortions, overpopulation, and so on...

On the other hand you have death, decay, and destruction who claim that following the lustful ways of darkness will take us to hell where we will burn into eternity. They speak about the sinful carnal hunger of our body and why we should repress it and overcome it so we may go to heaven.

The unveiling

On the surface it would appear that darkness' claim is accurate because it is based on "objective evidence" or clear demonstration, rather than "probability" or "general knowledge of human nature". However, a closer inspection shows a different story.

Probable:

- having more evidence to the contrary, but not proof
- likely to be true or happen, but having room for doubt

To say that what is moral is based on probability is to say that it is based on what is more likely to be true because there is more evidence to its veracity. Therefore it follows that the general knowledge of human nature upon which moral conduct is based is more likely to be true than the claim of darkness.

At the same time, to say that what is moral is based on probability rather than on objective evidence or clear demonstration, is to say that objective evidence and clear demonstration ignore what is likely to be true and instead, prove as "reality" that which is false or less likely to be true. If you were to watch the movie "What the bleep to we know" you will hear a scientist admit that science has always been wrong and will always be proven wrong.

The reason we have been tricked into doubting this is because of the claim that we can't prove what is moral with "objective evidence" or demon-stration. And of course we can't, because to provide "objective evidence" we would have to deny what is more likely to be true and then accept the method of demon-stration which would really be to accept prostration to the "demon" of darkness.

Does this then make the claim of death, decay, and destruction accurate? No, not really. Yes they are correct in saying that following the ways of darkness is detrimental to our well being, but their premise that we are sinful in nature and overpowered by carnal desires which must be repressed is certainly quite inaccurate. Their premise is based on ignoring the Truth of Who We Are and instead is based on fear. Fear of ourselves, fear of God, fear of being punished for who we are, fear of going to hell.

Having clarified this, let's check out the Father Way.

The accurate way

To me there are three concepts in the definition of what "moral" is, that provide a good starting point to establish a more accurate understanding of what it means to have "a keen moral discernment". These concepts are: right or proper behavior, righteous, and virtuous.

Looking at the synonyms presented in this dictionary for the word "moral" I also find the following words appropriate: upright, just, and honest.

I will focus on the word "virtue" because it provides some interesting information:

Virtue:

- the practice of moral duties and the abstinence from immorality and vice
- sexual purity
- inherent or essential quality, power, etc.

---

Virtue is an inherent / essential quality of who we are. It follows then, that to be upright, just, honest, righteous is also inherent in us. We speak of the Truth of Who We Are.

The process of being restored to the Truth of Who We Are is a progression of increasing refinement, and yes, along this process of refinement, there will come a time for celibacy.

This process has been explained by Father as beginning with a transition from where we are right now to the understanding of what is Right and Proper. In this transition, we begin the process of awakening from the slumber of deception and of recognizing what is really True about Who We Are. Thus we begin seeking to Live by this Truth, not because we are afraid of punishment, not because we are afraid of going to hell, but rather because we recognize our Desire to Live by Truth of Who We Are.

As we begin to improve our nutrition and restore our body to its Right and Proper Function by the removal of parasites, false contracts, deception, pain, sorrow, fear, and so on, it becomes easier and easier to live by this Truth, until the day in which we are ready to have a shift in consciousness.

This shift in consciousness takes us from what is Right and Proper to what is Righteous and Holy, which will then lead to another shift until the day we are fully restored to the Truth of our Beautiful Divine Creative Nature.

You are a Divine Child of Infinite Nature clothed in your sublime Desire for Abundant Measure.

*There is in your Endeavor much more than this.
The Mystical, Magical, the strains of music you see dance before your inner eyes.
The energetic expression of a Divine Being incarnate.
Not as the fallen angels you have been told,
but as disparate Beings, Divine, Celestial in Nature.
Yes, Celestial, as being the "stuff stars are made of".*

Your potential as Divine in Nature is to return to the stars as energetic Being of Divine Origin...

Honor and Divine Clarity are your great allies in this matter.

To have then "keen moral discernment" is to have the capacity to recognize and thus the strength to choose that which supports our "return to the stars".

Entente

09/19/10

So here you have it, my visit to the creamery provided the basis from which I was able to lay out the understanding upon which Entente rests. What is Entente you may ask?

In a simple way, Entente is the coming together of individuals who Desire "Right Action, Right Expression, Right Thinking, and Right Manifestation of the Father's Good Will to do" so as to "receive and make manifest the Kingdom" in all they do. In other words, it is the coming together of individuals who Desire to give expression to their "Creative Desire of that which is in Heaven".

Said differently, Entente is the coming together of individuals who Desire Right and Proper Function of their individual and unique Divine Expression, in recognition of their Heritage as children of the Father Which Is in Heaven and thus befitted with all that is Right and Proper to them: their Divine Inheritance, Heritage, and Birthright "in a Kingly 'Right-forward' manner".

It is not however, your unique individual expression of wanton glory.

Through Entente, individuals come together to give Creative Expression to that which supports their Divine Nature and thus facilitates their potential "to return to the stars as energetic Being[s] of Divine Origin".<sup>17</sup>

In this coming together of individuals for a common Pure-Pose (see previous postings<sup>18</sup>), there needs be a shift in perception from the current notion that humans are some kind of aberration of nature and thus destructive, unless some conscious effort is taken to reduce carbon footprint, live in a sustainable way, "green up" the world, and "do good".

*Incline not your Heart to biodiversity, seek instead your Father's Good Will to do.
"Restore earth" is insufficient desire.*

Father has explained to Linda and I many times, and we both have written about it in many ways, that it is not we the People who are destructive consumers. Thus, Father's Answer to what needs to be done at this time and age is:

*Right & Proper would be your Father's Good Will to do
to bring Heaven to Earth.*

There is a big difference between people who go back to nature with the idea that they are some destructive, disruptive presence upon the Earth that must minimize the damage it does to nature, versus People who go back to nature in full awareness of their Divine Inheritance, Heritage, and Birthright as children of the Father and thus as an integral part of Nature.

*It is indeed / instead when walk you upon the land of your Endeavor in Heartfelt Gratitude for Grand Juncture / re-union of your Endeavor,
you shall see resplendent Glory.*

One last visit to the creamery – Part 1

09/22/10

There is one more aspect of my visit to the creamery that I would like to write about: the energetic interaction between people and between people and the land.

Today I will write about my experience regarding the energetic interaction between people. My next posting will be on my experience with the little festivities that they had going on that day.

As I was walking around the farmer's market seeing what was available, I was aware that there was a lot of energetic hunger which manifested in improper energetic interaction between people. This interaction manifested as energetic solicitation to entice into lust and have some kind of lustful energetic exchange.

At this point, I will mention three possible causes to explain such behavior.

2. Hunger.
3. The need for another / romance.
4. Darkness deception / attack.

Hunger

The behavioral changes that are caused by lack of nourishment are well documented and explained by John Gray in his book "The Mars and Venus diet and exercise solution". Basically, the hungrier someone is, the more attached that person becomes to others and thus the more likely it is he / she will feed on others.

Since I observed this behavior at the Farmer's Market, one could wonder, why would it be the case that People who shop at the Market are malnourished. There are several possible answers to that.

One answer may be that they are vegetarian. At this time and age, a vegetarian diet does not provide the necessary nourishment to sustain a spiritual journey. Father has explained that while it is a noble Desire to stop eating meats, our bodies do need to eat fish, chicken, turkey and yes, occasionally red meats. This is not how it was meant to be, but rather how it is now because of how far we have drifted away from Truth and how much our bodies have been altered by what the unrighteous - unholy have done to Mother Earth and us. We simply need to come to terms with this fact. To become robust and strong individuals, both physically and spiritually, there is a need to supplement with meats. This will be so until we have progressed enough in our spiritual journey to have a shift in consciousness that makes meats unnecessary.

Another reason for this malnourishment may be following improper diets that keep People physically and spiritually starved since these diets do not allow for Soul nourishing foods such as chocolate, sweets, and fats.

Another reason for malnourishment may be caused by health food fads that promote non foods such as soy (read this article <sup>19</sup>).

All this weakening of the body and Soul makes it more difficult to not leak energy. This energy can be lost through damage in the energetic or physical body, through parasitic presence, and through actions which causes the energy to be given away or to be taken away by others.

Malnourished and depleted, these individuals turn unto others for energetic food thus solidifying their "need for others".

The need for another / romance

Another reason that causes People to improperly use their energy is the perceived need for another and thus for romance. Father has explained that many People who get damaged as children because of abuse, have a tendency to seek their restoration through another by acquiring a romantic view of such kind of relationship. Stories such as Snow White, The Sleeping Beauty, and Cinderella tend to fuel such notions of being restored to an ever happy life after the prince rescues the damsel (who by the way has fallen prey to some unrighteous - unholy person).

<sup>19</sup> <http://articles.mercola.com/sites/articles/archive/2010/09/18/soy-can-damage-your-health.aspx>

As you may have perceived, this need for another gets compounded as People grow in age and become increasingly malnourished, for as we have seen above, malnourishment tends to solidify the apparent "need for others".

While there may indeed be damage that needs undone and there certainly is "something" missing in People's life, it is the case that the way we go around trying to solve this problem does not work. This explains why many never stop looking for that "special someone". When it doesn't work with the "current someone", they go on looking for the "next someone", never realizing that the problem is not "someone" but rather the idea that this emptiness and longing for what is missing can be satisfied by being with someone else.

One additional compounding factor to this need for another is the body's so called "sexual needs" which many times become stronger as one progresses spiritually. Why you may ask? Because of lack of understanding. As we cleanse and clear the energy flow in our system, more energy becomes available to us. However, when we don't know how to receive and properly utilize this energy, it gets re-routed to the so called "sexual organs" where it gets accumulated. It is this accumulated lower energy that the unrighteous - unholy use to manipulate us into thinking that what we need is to express sexually with another. Father has explained to us many times and I have written about it many times that People do not lust because they have "equipment" so to speak, but rather because the unrighteous - unholy use our energy to satiate their lustful needs through our bodies.

Darkness deception / attack

The third reason for this energetic misbehavior is plain and simple the dedicated attack of darkness upon those who begin to advance spiritually. Father has explained to us, that darkness comes to People at their finest hour, not to befriend them, but to entice them in darkness' way. What is darkness' way? Nothing more and nothing less than the act of stealing energy from others camouflaged under the idea of romance where someone takes some and gives some in return. This is lust. Lust for sex, lust for money, lust for power.

People tend to fall prey to this attack, first because they don't recognize it for what it is when it happens, second because they have been indoctrinated into thinking lust is normal and natural, third because they are malnourished and hungry, and fourth, because of the perceived need for another.

It is not a coincidence that darkness deceit is facilitated by malnourishment and the longing for that "special someone".

So, there you have, my three cents on this situation. The reason I write about it under entente, is because one must understand what is happening so to avoid the pitfalls of ignorance and deception.

It is in Truthful Knowledge, robustness, and strength that People can succeed in doing Father's Good Will to solidify Heaven on Earth.

Some ideas to address the issues listed above are:

1. Amply nourish your Self and Soul through organic foods, including meats, fats, and sweets.
2. Seal all the holes through which your energy is leaking. Much of this can be accomplished through Proper nutrition and herbal supplementation. Energetic disciplines such as Tai Chi also help by making one aware of one's own energy system.
3. Cleanse parasitic presences / entities from your body and energy system. This requires a combination of herbal mixes, lots of smiling with the eyes, ending unrighteous - unholy contracts, and ending the need to give energy away to those we either feel obliged to or attracted to.
4. Learn to Discern Truth from illusion / deception.

5. Begin to recognize that the longing you have for another, is really not for another, but for that which is missing in your Life.
  6. Recognize that that which is missing in your Life cannot be restored through a relationship with another, but can only be returned to you, by asking Father and Source that it be so.
  7. Learn to recognize darkness' enticement when it presents itself so you can say "No, I do not play. Get thee away. Get thee away ends your play."
  8. Begin to contemplate the Understanding that you can look unto the Father for your Nourishment and Sustenance and that you can learn to receive such Nourishment and Sustenance directly from Him by means of the Solar Wind.

One last visit to the creamery – Part 2

09/23/10

Yesterday I wrote about my experience regarding the energetic interaction between people. So today, I shall write about my experience with the little festivities at the creamery.

As it turned out, the creamery was having a special celebration which consisted of live music and an outdoor dinner. When I arrived at the creamery, the band was just setting up, which means I was able to do my wandering around the land in the quietness of nature. However, by the time I began my walk back to the creamery, the band began playing and it became obviously apparent to me that the noise we call music was completely out of place and quite disruptive to the energies upon the land. It was also very apparent that the crowd that began showing up for the celebration was also quite out of place. They were there because it was the trendy thing to do, as well as for the music and the alcohol.

Linda and I have observed the same phenomena in the many wineries and vineyards we have visited over the years. The live music, the alcohol, the dinner and the crowd that was there just because it was the trendy thing to do.

Of course, I presume business owners kind of “love” this because of the money that it brings to their businesses, but the question one must ask is at what price is this profit done?

A few years ago, before the digital transition, Linda and I watched a PBS special with Andrea Bocelli. During the interview he had an opportunity to speak about how he was nourished by the land in which he grew and how one time he was able to organize a concert in his home town. What he did not say, but was apparent in the way he communicated about it, was that he found the concert to be very disruptive to the land. Rather than the crowd appreciating the land and perhaps awakening their appreciation for Nature as Andrea probably expected would happen, the land was disrupted. It almost seemed as though to his perception, that event changed his home town and land forever and it was certainly for the worse.

This is to not to say that all People are disruptive to Nature, but rather that setting up a stage that brings an unnatural amount of People to the land at any given time is in and by itself very disruptive. Especially when you consider that most of them, because of their choices and how they are being influenced by the unrighteous – unholy, would otherwise have no interest whatsoever to be upon the land.

As we begin to transition into entente and doing Father's Good Will to solidify Heaven on Earth, we must take the consequences of our actions into consideration and recognize that we must be Discerning.

Insufficiencies – part 1

09/25/10

In the “Entente” (page 160) posting a few days ago, I mentioned, as Father explained to us, that “doing good” and “restoring earth” are inadequate action and therefore are not viable solutions. I shall attempt to expound on this some more this day.

“Do good” is insufficient funds

While on the onset, it appears that the desire to “do good” is a lofty and higher desire, it is the case that as we have encountered before in this blog, things are not what they seem.

When you contemplate this a little bit, you may find that this desire to “do good” is based on the desire to “please others” so as to gain their love and approval and thus feel good about ourselves. It pretty much starts when we are children and our parents tell us what is “right” and “wrong” and why we should be doing the “right” things which include doing whatever they want us to do, regardless whether it is “right” or not. As children we find that if we do what our parents tell us, we receive their approval and we feel good, if we disobey them we receive disapproval / punishment many times accompanied with a few remarks on how “bad” we are and why we should be “good”. As we grow up, we are then send to school, where “doing good” becomes pleasing teachers, getting good grades, and “fitting in” with other classmates. Otherwise, there is double the trouble, first at school and then at home. Somewhere along this time, we then begin to hear why we should be “good” people so as to please “God” and avoid his punishment.

After school and perhaps college, we then enter the workforce where we now have to be good obedient workers, good team players, and good at pleasing the boss. Again, trouble awaits if we fail in any of these aspects. If marriage comes along, then we have to be a “good spouse” and eventually, for most, a “good parent”. Otherwise there is trouble and disapproval. But that is not sufficient, because we also have to be a “good citizen”. We have to be productive, pay taxes, and quietly obey the law. Otherwise there is penalty, loss of property, and perhaps even jail time. And when we thought we had enough, our parents get old and our "duty" to be "good children" is called upon to take care of them.

So as you can see, our desire to "do good" is born out of the need to please others so as to gain their love and approval. It is also born of our need to avoid trouble and punishment.

At one time in our journey, we asked Father what takes away "good things" such as personal improvement, accomplishment, and success from our lives and Father explained to us it is this need to "do good". Here is His Answer:

*Right & Proper in your Endeavor, you would say it is not so, however,
your earnest desire to "do good" makes it so.*

Father told us that while we would not say or believe that this could be so, it is the desire to "do good" that causes things to be taken away or vanish. This is so because when we are seeking to please others to earn their love, we are giving our energy away to them. This is then manifested in the physical world as insufficient funds.

*It is you can never "do good enough".
"It's never enough to please your father of your endeavor."*

"Your desire to "earn" love of your Endeavor is never enough, for to conspire to earn love of your Endeavor is "insufficient means".

"Doing good" so as to "earn" love is never enough, because it is based on a damaged perception of ourselves and the false belief that the only way we can experience love is by getting others to find us to be "good" and thus approve of us. On one hand we give our energy away and on the other what we receive from this behavior doesn't solve the problem, thus, as time passes by, things simply get worse and we find ourselves hungrier.

What is Father's Solution to this problem?

Be the Love you are. No more, no less.

That is to say, rather than seeking to "do good", we restore our capacity to be Love as Self once again. Restored, we no longer give our energy away to please others. Restored, we are once again Harmonious with Creation and thus can receive the Means that Father makes available to us each and every day. This then satiates us and leaves us satisfied.

So what about others? Wouldn't they get angry with us? Wouldn't this get us in trouble and perhaps bring punishment to us? In this regard this is what Father has Said to us:

*"It matters not what others may say or think.
It matters always only That Which Is Divinely Appointed each day."*

That is to say, it is ok for others to get angry and disapprove. When this happens, we simply do not play their game and maintain our focus on that which is before us to do in the Father Way.

Insufficiencies – part 2

09/26/10

The second insufficiency Father Spoke to us about is the desire to restore the Earth. Today I shall expound more on this understanding.

When Father explained to us that “doing good” was the cause for insufficient funds in our Journeys, Linda asked what would bring Abundance to her Desire. This is what Father Said:

*Right & Proper would be
your Father’s Good Will to do
to bring Heaven to Earth.
“Restore earth” is insufficient desire.*

That is to say, the Way to restore the Abundance to our Lives and to Earth is accomplished through “Father’s Good Will to do to bring Heaven to Earth”, through our capacity to be of one a-chord with Father’s Good Will, and through our restoration to our Divine Nature.

While again, the desire to restore earth is a noble desire, it is the case that how we would go about accomplishing this, would be based on what we perceive to be true of the human race and of nature at this time and age without any consideration or realization to the presence of the unrighteous - unholy who are manipulating our perception. Thus this restoration would not include the purging of these unrighteous - unholy entities from our lives and from Earth. Instead, we would simply go along thinking that wars, hatred, greed, jealousy, animosity, anger, lust are just a part of human life we have to learn to deal with and perhaps at the most try to minimize by placing everyone in monitored jails called cities where every movement and every thought is monitored by some “computer” system that will alert police of potential “threats” to a “peaceful” living. At the same time, vast amounts of lands would be set aside as protected “world habitats” to which no People would have access. I say no People, because of course the unrighteous - unholy would be living freely in those “restored” natural settings while the People remain voluntarily or unknowingly enslaved in the cities.

As I have written about before, based on what Father has shared with us, darkness has its own plan to turn Earth into their heaven where we the People would serve as their servants and source of energetic food. To accomplish this, they have set out to destroy our capacity to commune with the Father and express our Divine Nature / Love as Self. Separated from the Father and thus without direct access to Universal Truth, Universal Law, Universal Love, they set to convince us that we are depraved, destructive beings from whom Earth needs to be protected. The degradation that ensued from our separation from the Divine was fueled through genetic manipulation, pollution of our environment and our bodies, creation of disease and parasites, the creation of possessive entities that would take over weakened People, and the creation of a system that is designed to ensure everyone gets abused in one way or another and everyone gets trapped in deception in one way or another.

After about 7,000 years of their presence and manipulation it is probably the rare individual who would say the People are not the brute, ignorant, animalistic, warring, lustful, and greedy beings we have been told we are. At this time, most take this kind of perception of ourselves for granted and many are reaching a point where they would simply hand over Earth on a platter to the first “being” that shows up coming from the “skies” and claims to be the “savior of the world”. Anything just to end the madness and restore peace right? Well, anything but Father’s Good Will, for that would end the plans of the unrighteous – unholy.

In a way this reminds me of the movie “The Time Machine”. The “cave dwellers” raising ignorant “nature dwellers” for food. The time traveler who shows up and discovers the “truth” and “saves” the people by destroying the “cave dwellers”. The toil and lust that now besets the “free men and women”. The time traveler taking his books to educate these ignorant men and women and to build a new civilization.

While presumably in this movie the unrighteous - unholy were “cast out”, it is the case that there remains no knowledge of any need to seek restoration to the Divine. To make matters worse, the time traveler brought with him all the virus, bacteria, parasites, and perhaps even possessive entities that he had when he left his “present” time. To him, lusting, toiling, taxes, government, schooling, agriculture, mining, science, technology, and so on, are how the world should operate and thus would proceed in his ignorance and contaminated state, to reestablish the same kind of destructive system. If we would follow the sequel of this movie through the ages, we would probably see it all repeated over and over again at nausea.

Without recognizing the need to restore ourselves to Universal Truth, Universal Law, Universal Love, without recognizing the need to restore Heaven on Earth by seeking restoration of our Being to its Divine Nature, without recognizing the need to cleanse ourselves from shades and shadows of darkness, without recognizing the need to have the unrighteous - unholy cast out from Earth and the door they used be dissolved, all of our efforts, regardless of how well intended they might be, would lead to the failure, just as the time traveler's efforts would.

As Father has Said:

"Restore earth" is insufficient desire.

Instead,

Right & Proper would be your Father's Good Will to do
to bring Heaven to Earth.

This is what will restore Abundance to our Desire and in the process restore the Earth to her Divinely Appointed Nature.

Fall equinox today?

09/27/10

Maybe or maybe not. Books tell us that it should have been on September 21st, but computer programs that determine the length of the days say that there is no day in September that has a day of equal daylight and night for this area. What does that mean? Books are not keeping up with the changes...

Based on the information we obtained from the internet, yesterday and today, come close to what could be called the equinox, so I will somewhat arbitrarily choose today as my equinox day. This means this is the last posting for this cycle and tomorrow brings a new cycle of adventure in the Father Way.

As you can see, changes are already occurring on my blog. I upgraded the software, changed some things here and there, and added or will be adding some additional features to my blog.

Happy "my" equinox.
